

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

—“Human Hearts” next Wednesday evening.

—Another “Emigrant” skin was hung up in the “old butcher shop” this week.

—Mrs. E. F. Garman returned home from a visit of about two weeks with relatives in Williamsport.

—Mrs. Joseph Thomas, of this place, is lying seriously ill at the home of her father, Adam Fisher.

—Mrs. D. H. Hastings is spending the week with her daughter, Mrs. Ross A. Hickok, in Harrisburg.

—Mrs. Margaret Quick and Mrs. G. F. Heverly, two pleasant ladies of Millsburg, paid a visit to this office on Monday.

—Mr. Garman announces a good attraction for the opera house next Wednesday evening in “Human Hearts.”

—John Ammerman and mother, Mrs. Sarah Ammerman, spent several days last week with friends in Phillipsburg.

—Miss Mary Clark, of Tyrone, is a pleasant visitor at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Robt. Morrison, of this place.

—Remember “Wilfred the Wizard” at Petrikin Hall tomorrow, Friday night. Two hours of good fun, mystery and music.

—Mrs. N. B. Spangler returned home on Tuesday afternoon from Philadelphia, where she had gone for treatment. She is improving in health nicely.

—The sale of reserved seats for the Y. M. C. A. Star Course begins Thursday morning at 8 o'clock, at the Y. M. C. A. office. No more than six tickets will be sold to any one person.

—Barber Beck has sufficiently recovered from his fall a month ago, as to be able to resume his duties in his shop and handle his trade again. This will be good news to his many customers, as Beck was greatly missed while off duty.

—On Wednesday evening Nov. 30, the stage of the opera house will be devoted to the presentation of the popular and highly successful play “Human Hearts,” with a company of superior excellence and strength. Prices 25 to 75 cents.

—Harry Samspeil has every reason to feel proud of his “butcherin,” which took place recently at his home at Axeman. Harry had three hogs which, when dressed, weighed just $88 pounds—and that's going some. Now let's hear of some larger ones.

—Sixty boys had a big time last night at the Y. M. C. A. A friend of the association has made it possible for all the boys of the town to have a free night once a month. The ladies served refreshments and the boys are entertained in the gymnasium and lecture room.

—Byron C. Platt, of Boston, Mass., lecturer and author, will deliver a lecture in Petrikin Hall, Sunday afternoon, at 4 o'clock. Every person is invited. Mr. Platt is with the Central Lyceum Bureau and we are very fortunate in securing the services of so distinguished a lecturer.

—On Saturday Ralph Struble and Trade Parker, of this place, parted their hair nicely in the middle and started for Lamar to see two young ladies of that town. The girls were nice that Ralph and Trade never “woke up” until Monday morning when they “beat it” back to Bellefonte as quickly as possible. Oh, you kids!

—Early Monday morning the engine which operates the forced heating apparatus at the new High School building got out of commission by the breaking of the pinion in the crosshead, and for several days the pupils of that building have been enjoying a vacation. It was necessary to send away for the broken part, which has caused the delay in the school. As the different kind of weather had not been so uncomfortably cold the sessions could have gone on uninterrupted, but as it was, they were compelled to adjourn until the engine was repaired.

—On Tuesday evening about 5 o'clock while Mr. Dobbins was passing the Potter-Hoy Hardware Co. store, on High street, he in some manner stumbled and fell forward on his face, lacerating his nose and otherwise bruising himself. He was picked up where medical attendance was given him, and afterwards was taken to the hospital, from whence word has been received that he is getting along all right. Dr. Dobbins is one of Bellefonte's oldest citizens, and of late has been getting quite feeble, hence a fall of this kind could only result in a severe shock to one of his age, but it is to be hoped that nothing serious will result.

—A fair of unusual merit will be held in the Chapel of the Presbyterian church on Thursday and Friday December 1st and 2nd, 1910. It is under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society which at once insures success. The afternoon of each day—admission free; will be open for the sale of the large stock of fancy work, dolls, novelties, aprons, cake, candy, etc.—Christmas to tempt one to purchase Christmas presents at an extremely low price. An elaborate entertainment for both evenings is being prepared at which an admission price of ten cents will be charged. There will be a material difference in this most attractive feature of the Fair and no one can afford to miss seeing the little children as well as some of the best talent of the town which are to be represented on the program.

—Wednesday evening of last week while Mrs. James Noonan was on her way home at the Brant house. She stepped in a deep hole at the Brantman corner, which had been left uncovered by men who had been working on the street. The accident happened shortly after seven o'clock and Mrs. Noonan was taken at once to her home, which is just across the street, and medical aid summoned. It was found that her hip was pretty badly injured. As the interest of Mrs. Noonan through her attorney, H. C. Quigley, Esq., to seek redress from the borough. Mr. Quigley appeared at the council chamber on Monday night for the purpose of submitting the matter to that body, but as they did not meet in council, we cannot tell what will be done in the case.

—J. Finkeltine, of the Racket store, was called to New York on Monday by the death of his father.

—George Harpster and wife, of this place, hid themselves to Nitany on Tuesday to help Pop Young to butcher.

—Francis Musser, one of the efficient clerks in Montgomery & Co's store, is spending Thanksgiving in Phillipsburg.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Thomas, son Collins and daughter Augusta, of this place, were the guests of friends in Tyrone on Sunday.

—Mrs. Gladys Young, of Altoona, is spending her Thanksgiving at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Catherine Farley, in this place.

—Owing to a quorum not materializing at the meeting of council on Monday evening, that body failed to transact any business.

—Clement Dale, Esq., returned Monday from Philadelphia where he had been attending to legal business for some days.

—Announcement is made that Mr. Louis Daggett and Miss Caroline Campbell, both of Bellefonte, will be married on Monday.

—Miss Anna Garman, who had not been in Bellefonte since the family moved away four years ago, was an arrival in town today for a visit with her aunt, Mrs. Edwin F. Garman.

—Mrs. Wesley Fry, of Valleyview, departed Monday morning for Altoona where she attended the funeral of her niece, Mrs. Maggie Langdon, whose death occurred on Sunday.

—Miss Isabelle Merriman, of York, Pa., was the guest of Miss Helen Valentine and her sister, Mrs. John Blanchard, while on her way to California, where she will spend the winter with Mrs. Siegridge.

—Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Musser arrived in town on Saturday for a brief visit at the parental home of the former, Mr. Mrs. William Musser, on Lamb street. Boyd returned to his work in Altoona on Sunday, while Mrs. Musser will visit friends in Williamsport.

—Mr. and Mrs. John H. Wilson, formerly of this place but now of Altoona, are rejoicing over the arrival of a little girl which arrived at their home on Saturday morning. Mr. Wilson for a great many years was the Western Union Telegraph operator at this place.

—Blair Waite, of Halfmoon township, spent Sunday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Anna Waite, on Thonant street. The aged lady, who is suffering from a dislocated hip received from a fall at her home several weeks ago. There is not much change in her condition, and although hopes are entertained, her advanced age is greatly against her full recovery.

—The material for the new porch and steps in front of the Court House arrived, and workmen are now busily engaged in clearing away the old stone steps and floor. The new porch floor will be of marble, while handsome granite steps will lead down to the street level. A man has been hired to lay the stone, to lay the same, and just as soon as the old material is cleared away he will begin operations.

—Squire Henry Brown disposed of an alleged larceny case in short order at a hearing at his office on Tuesday. J. D. Sowers and Jacob Jackson, both of State College, appeared before the justice in which the former claimed that Jacob Jackson had gotten away with a satchel belonging to him while they were both in Bellefonte. Squire Brown after hearing the evidence, quickly disposed of the case, dividing the costs between the plaintiff and the defendant.

—A source of great annoyance to parties at the opera house who go there to enjoy a show is that of persons rising from their seats before the curtain drops on the final act. Often the climax or the best part of the play occurs at this stage, and to have your vision obscured and attention distracted by those around you rising and hurrying to the back of the house, is disgusting to say the least. Such conduct is permissible in a circus tent but not in a place of amusement like the opera house where people of refinement gather.

—Bellefonte is now in the throes of a religious revival. The Methodist brethren are holding weekly services in their church, and much interest is shown by the crowds in attendance. The United Brethren are still holding forth with their special services and results are being shown by many conversions. The Evangelical council, who have started their annual revival services which promise to develop all the old time interest. At all these meetings every one is given a hearty welcome, and it is to be hoped that good may result from the efforts of those who have the eternal welfare of mankind at heart.

Rev. Platts to Leave Bellefonte.

On Wednesday of last week Dr. J. Allison Platts, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Bellefonte, received a call from the Wilkesburg charge of that denomination to become their pastor. He accordingly left on the following day, and after a short stay at the church board of that place, and on Saturday returned home, having accepted the call. On Sunday Rev. Platts handed in his resignation to his Bellefonte congregation, which will be acted upon at a congregational meeting on Wednesday evening, November 24th, and in all probability will be accepted.

The Wilkesburg congregation has no church building at present but expects to start erecting one in a short time. The pastorate carries with it a salary of $2000, which is $500 more than Bellefonte pays. Rev. Platts will not move his family at present, owing to his not being able to secure a suitable house.

In the five years in which the Platts family have resided in Bellefonte they have endeared themselves in the hearts of our people. The Reverend is a man of rare scholarly attainments and will be greatly missed in the Ministerium.

Blessings For New Son-in-Law.

Frank A. Robbins, the circus man, whose show was in Bellefonte during the summer, and who a week ago threatened to shoot a former employe so full of holes that he would look like a sieve, has renounced. While here his daughter served as assistant treasurer of the show and Ray Andreas, of DuBois, Pa., a “candy butcher” with the aggregation fell in love with Robbins' daughter. Later they eloped and the irate father started out to kill his unwelcome son-in-law. However, he did just the opposite and has extended the paternal blessing to both. It was an exciting affair while it lasted, but the finale was lamentably weak compared with the opening.

RECENT DEATHS.

LANGDON:—Mrs. Maggie Langdon, wife of Henry Langdon, died at her home in Altoona on Sunday last. Deceased is survived by a husband and four children, and was well and favorably known in Centre county. Interment was made at Altoona.

STATTON:—Mrs. Margaret Statton, of Roto, died at the hospital at Lock Haven, Sunday of cancer. She was aged 65 years and 9 months, and is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. George Lannen, of Mill Hall, and Mrs. Harry Tressler, of Nitany Valley, also by one son, John, at home.

PINK:—Mrs. E. E. Fink died at her home in Clearfield on Monday morning after an extended illness with tuberculosis. She is survived by her husband (who is a brother of county treasurer Geo. G. Fink, of Martha) and four children. Her age was 42 years. Interment in Clearfield cemetery.

BELLIS:—Thomas Bellis, formerly of Phillipsburg, who has been identified with many Clearfield, Indiana and Cambria county coal companies, died yesterday at his residence in Altoona, of typhoid fever, with which he had been suffering for over two weeks. He was born in Buckley, North Wales, on February 2, 1851, and would have been aged 60 years were he to have lived until February 2nd next. Interment was made in the Burnside cemetery.

KANE:—John Kane, a well known citizen of Lock Haven, died at his home in that place on Monday morning, of paralysis, aged 76 years. The deceased was born at Chatham, Pa., Clinton county, and later came to Bellefonte where he learned the trade of blacksmithing with Christ Schrock, who now resides in Ohio. He was married to a daughter of Charles Brown of this place. In 1858 Mr. Kane removed to Lock Haven where he resided up to the time of his demise. He was a man who bore the respect of all who had his acquaintance, and was a consistent member of the Catholic church. He was survived by his wife and eight children: two brothers, Daniel, a former resident of Bellefonte, and Thomas, of Sioerleville, Pa., and one sister, Miss Margaret Kane, of this place, also survived. The late James Kane, who died in this place several years ago, was also a brother.

KRIDER:—George Krider died suddenly at the home of his son-in-law, John S. Fleck, in Sinking Valley, Friday afternoon of diseases incident to old age. Mr. Krider was born in Half Moon Valley, Centre county, February 20, 1831. Mr. Krider was married October 3, 1854, to Mrs. Margaret Eleanor Erdrich at Pine Grove Mills, by Rev. Moser. The first years of his married life were spent on a farm near Gatesburg, Centre county, after which he moved to Huntingdon Furnace in the spring of 1862, three years later he moved to Graysville, where he lived until he moved to Fairview in 1893, since which time he has lived a retired life. His wife preceded him to the grave in June of this year. He is survived by three daughters, three brothers, and two sisters, namely, Rev. Samuel Krider, of Johnstown; Rev. Isaac Krider, of Dunscansville, and Jacob Krider, of Gatesburg; Mrs. Catherine Strayer, of Hollidaysburg, and Mrs. John Strayer, of Gatesburg. Interment in Rose Hill cemetery, Altoona.

JUSTICE MUSSER'S TROUBLES.

Charged With Committing an Assault Upon a Young Man.

On Saturday morning Squire Brown's office was the scene of a lively hearing in which Roy L. Hall, of Millsburg, and Squire W. H. Musser, of this place, were the principals. On this occasion, instead of handing out justice, Mr. Musser was compelled to take the defensive on a charge of assault and battery which was alleged to have been committed upon the person of Roy L. Hall in Musser's office on Thursday, November 17. W. D. Zerby, Esq., represented Mr. Hall at the hearing.

It all grew out of a visit of Mr. Hall and his attorney, Col. E. R. Chambers, to Squire Musser's office on November 17th, when they called to examine the Squire's docket. The plaintiff claimed that after some hot words Squire Musser took him by the throat and shook him, and also brandished his cane over the plaintiff's head in a threatening manner. This was corroborated by Mr. Chambers, the only witness. On the other hand, Squire Musser said that the plaintiff and his attorney had no business in his office on such an errand; that the plaintiff used language unbecoming to one so young as he was; and that he simply took hold of Mr. Hall by the shoulders and gave him a push toward the door, using the cane to frighten the plaintiff.

Some choice epithets were exchanged during the hearing, and at times it looked as if some of the artillery, which Squire Brown's shop is filled, would be brought into play. Squire Musser had prepared himself on the case, and appeared at the hearing with several volumes of Blackstone to back him up. As he was made a doubt, if the occasion had demanded it, could have made one as long as the tail on Johnny's kite. Attorney Zerby did not deem it necessary to argue his side of the question, so the case was up to Justice Brown for disposal. As he the latter regretted doing so, his duty compelled him to bind Mr. Musser over on his own recognizance for the next term of court.

After this the writer will enter Justice Musser's supreme court with more caution than formerly. We never would have accused him of being really dangerous and we doubt if the Justice actually tried that he could inflict any perceptible injury or pain. Yet, we enjoy seeing Justice Musser hauled into court as he will appreciate how it feels.

If he ever gets his hooks on Browny—look out.

Teachers' Meeting.

The teachers of Gregg township met on Friday evening, Nov. 11, in the high school room at Spring Mills, in the capacity of a Teacher's Association.

Prof. U. A. Moyer was chosen president. After stating the purpose of the meeting a permanent organization was effected. A lively discussion of a uniform graduation of the township followed.

Ten of the fifteen teachers were present. A meeting will be held on Thursday evening, Dec. 1, at the same place. We extend a cordial invitation to all interested in education, our directors and teachers of other townships; and we especially desire the presence of every teacher of our own township.

ORCHARD MEETINGS LISTED.

Dates For Public Demonstrations For State Fruit Growers.

The new list of public meeting model orchards of the state department of agriculture was made public by State Economic Zoologist H. A. Surface, at which time he also announced the dates for the series of late fall meetings, which are being arranged by the division of economic zoology.

These meetings, as announced by Professor Surface several days ago, will be for the purpose of extending the practical educational work of the department of agriculture as much as possible by the public demonstrations, and also to show to the fruit growers just what can be done in this line during the cold weather of the late autumn and early winter.

During the winter after these meetings have been finished the inspectors will be busy with visits to supervision orchards, and early next spring the practical fight against the San Jose scale and other insect pests will be resumed at demonstration orchards.

Following is a list of the approaching meetings for Centre county:

December 12 and 13, Centre Hall, Centre county, in orchard of J. J. Arney, county, in orchard of G. Edwin Haupt.

December 16 and 17, Zion, Centre county, in the orchard of Howard P. Struble.

J. S. Myers, of Gatesburg, a member of the Roosevelt Hunting club which is now located in the Tussey mountains several miles from Graysville, killed a fine buck last week. The big fellow dressed 210 pounds.
