AARONSBURG.

John Halmone one of our up-to-date carpenters, we are sorry to say, is confined to the house for one week with a very bad cold.

On Thursday afternoon Wilmer ran his cider mill for the last time this fall. Now it is butchering, eating good sausages, pan haus and pudding, and Al Bower is the lead of it all.

Mrs. Charles Orwig, of Hartleton, is visiting her son, Walter, and family, for an indefinite time.

Ruth Swabb spent Saturday at Coburn at the home of her brother-in-law, Ezra Burd.

Ira Gramley, our fully up-to-date butcher, is busy at it every day, and will be until Christmas and later.

Mary Fisher, of Penn Hall, called at the home of Mrs. H. H. Weaver.

Michael Fiedler, of Philadelphia, spent a few days with his father, Jacob Fiedler, and family, at the farm that tickled his palate—no dinner like Aunt Beckles.

Mrs. Ralph Heinds was visiting among her many friends at State College and Bellefonte the last few weeks.

Bern to Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kerchner, at their residence here, Nov. 22, a baby girl.

Henry Bright, P. R. R. pumpman here, has resumed his position after being off duty a short time with quinsy.

Mrs. Margaret Timmons, of Bradock, is spending some time here with her friend, Mrs. Aaron Long.

R. M. McLaughlin has been chosen to fill the vacant position as track repairman caused by Claud Summers being recalled to Tyrone as fireman.

Those who attended the successful spelling bee at Chestnut Grove on Thursday night came home saying, "I love my gal, but Oh you mud."

Wm. Snyder, of East Liberty, is spending some time at his parents' home here.

Geraldine, Marie and Sue Murray, Ethel Irwin, Thomas Summers and C. F. Warner, spent Sunday among their respective friends at Runville and vicinity.

SPRING MILLS.

Among the Hunters: The hunting season closes with poor results. The Penn Hall club came home without anything they don't know what venison smells like.

The Georgesvalley party likewise came home empty handed.

The Wert club, of Brushvalley, fair fine deer and two bears. That sounds more like hunting; they all report having had a good time and deer plenty, but so many had no horns which makes difficult hunting, as they dared not shoot anything they saw.

The above hunters were honest and only shot at bucks, which the law allows.

It is reported that there were some illegal hunters out in Decker valley, as there were some hides and entrails found, and no one knew of any deer being killed in that section. Whoever does such hunting are no sportsmen, less are they law-abiding citizens. Should they ever be brought to justice they should get the full extent of the law.

The butchering season is on out no heavy porkers reported yet.

Maurice Rachau, employed by the P. R. R. in Altoona, is spending his parents' time at his home in Altoona. Mr. Rachau is one of our rising young men; he will make his mark some day.

Mother Shook, after eating her supper on Wednesday evening, became ill about an hour thereafter and in a short time was dead. Funeral on Saturday at Heckman's cemetery, Rev. J. M. Rearick, of Salona, officiating. Deceased was aged 77 years, 11 months and 11 days. Philip Shook, her husband, preceded her to the other world 22 years ago. There are four sons to mourn the loss of a mother: George, Andy, Daniel, Emanuel—all of Spring Mills.

REBERSBURG.

Mrs. Sarah Strohecker is very ill with inflammatory rheumatism.

Miss Miriam Auman, who is working at State College is spending a few days with her parents at this place.

Harry B. Weaver, who is attending school at Lewisburg, spent Thanksgiving at his home here.

Miss Ethel Harter and Emma Meyer spent a few days in Sellingsgrove at the home of Prof. E. M. Brunard.

Harry Sauers and wife, of State College, are visiting in this community. Since Harry takes great sport in hunting, he joined the merry hunters of Rebersburg while his wife visited friends in the neighborhood.

A donation was given the Lutheran minister on Thanksgiving evening by 76 of the members of the Lutheran congregation at Rebersburg. The offering served by some of the young ladies.

Miss Sallie Winkleblich, of Benovo, who has been an inmate of the Danville asylum for some years, died and was brought to Rebersburg for burial on Tuesday.

A Pastor Welcomed.

On our arrival in the Rebersburg Reformed church, a number of teams were in waiting at the station to convey our goods to the parsonage, which had been thoroughly renovated by the good ladies of the charge. No pains were spared to make us feel perfectly at home. Day by day the members assisted us in getting in running order.

Last Wednesday a carefully planned donation party was organized by the members of the Rebersburg congregation, who kept coming in until the spacious parsonage was fairly teeming with human beings. Neither did they come simply to meet and greet the new dwellers of the house, but they also brought with them a good donation.

Space would not permit us to enumerate every article that was left as a token of good will. We shall not attempt to set a money value either on the things donated for we prize them more highly than dollars and cents.

For these manifold gifts are we truly grateful; the kindness, love and good wishes which prompted give us courage as we enter upon our new work.

We pray God's richest blessing to rest on one and all and may we be drawn together for united efforts in His Kingdom, that His name may be glorified among men and that men may be saved.

SPRING CREEK—College Twp.

E. M. Houser is able to be around again after being laid up with a sprained ankle.

W. O. Dale and wife, of Lock Haven, visited friends in this vicinity last week.

GREENBURG.

Fred Siegel and wife, and William Tyson, of Nittany valley, helped Mr. N. D. Tyson to butcher on last Saturday.

E. E. Dooty started work on his new job, back of what is called Wolf's Gap.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Snyder made a flying trip to Union county last week to visit two of their sons who reside there.

On two head butchers, Messrs. Newton Wallizer and J. W. Snyder, are kept busy this week slaughtering and cutting up meat for those who are lucky enough to have it, and make sausage, liverwurst, and ponhaus.

Rev. Stauffer will preach in the Reformed church, next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Sunday School convention on the 25 inst., was well attended and considerable interest was manifested. The speakers from a distance were, Mr. Stauffer, county chairman; Prof. W. M. Klock, county secretary; and Mr. Stevenson, all of Lock Haven; John Brown, local chairman and A. Karstetter, secretary and treasurer, of Logan, Pa. The annual election of officers for the district of Sugar Valley was held at the afternoon session, and the officers were re-elected unanimously.

The revival services in the United Evangelical church are still in progress.

Venison is scarce in our town, and yet the reports are that deer are plenty. Ye hunters, what is the matter?

Mervin Thomas and family and Clair Kerstetter, all of Bellwood, came to our town with a threefold purpose as we look at it—first, to visit parents and friends; second, to do some hunting; and third, to do their fall butchering. Pretty good scheme to my way of thinking.

Daniel Glantz is busy digging a well.

The nomination of candidates for the annual election of officers in the Reformed Bible school was made last Sunday. The election will take place two weeks later.

Look for a new place of business to open in Greenburg soon.

PLUM GROVE—Union Twp. Mrs. A. P. Woodring, of Ogeola, spent Sunday with her parents here.

Charlotte Swartz, of Tyrone, is spending her Thanksgiving vacation with her aunt Mrs. Ellis Way.

Wm. Newkirk and wife, of Altoona, and Mrs. Joseph Gill, of Unionville, spent Thursday at P. B. Iddings.

John Martin is seen on our streets quite frequently. What are the attractions John? Passing pigs weighing 350 and 355. Who can beat it? (This beats Amos Garbrick, of Coleville, Ed.)

Glen Mitchell, of Ridgway, is visiting his uncle Joseph Mitchell.

ROCK VIEW—Benner Twp. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kuhn was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday evening, when their son Clement was united in marriage to Miss Miller, of Boalsburg. The ceremony was performed by the groom's brother, the Rev. Franklin Kuhn, of East Point, Tioga county, in the presence of only a few of the most intimate friends of the contracting parties. After congratulations the guests partook of a delicious wedding supper about nine o'clock the celebrations gave them a royal send-off. We all join in wishing them a happy voyage on the sea of matrimony.

Lester Peifer and lady friend, of Pittsburgh, spent Thanksgiving at the home of J. F. Hoy's.

Harvey Keller's threshing was in our view last week.

Mrs. Manda Gentzel, granddaughter of Mrs. J. F. Hoy, is spending Thanksgiving at her home here.

William Kuhn, of Pittsburgh is visiting at his parental home.

One day last week two young gentlemen from a neighboring town started on rabbit hunting, but all they secured was tea-leaves.

Misses Armelia and Ella Neese, also Ruth Benner, spent Sunday afternoon at J. S. Dale's.

John White and family visited in our view last week.

Martin Fetzer and wife, of Altoona, spent a few days among relatives and friends here recently.

Adam Walker, of Vall, spent Sunday with his brother-in-law, A. G. Walker.

William Freeze, of Snow Shoe, was a visitor among friends here one day last week.

Rev. G. A. Sparks, a former pastor of this place, preached a very able sermon in the U. B. church on last Wednesday evening.

Arthur Confer, of Bellefonte, and Miss Amber Confer, of Milesburg, spent Sunday at their respective homes here.

The N. A. C. girls, of this place, celebrated their first anniversary Saturday evening, Nov. 24, at Pownell's residence. They rendered a very suitable song which they had composed, after which they had a number of good games. The next half hour was spent in viewing the fancy work done by the N. A. C. in the past year. Refreshments were then served and all departed for home, wishing the anniversary came once a week instead of once a year.

LEMONT. Butchering is the song of the day. George Martz appears to hold the belt for large hogs—456 lbs to be beat. Will hear next week from Squire Getz.

Frank Reighard made a business trip to Altoona on Friday.

Our station agent, Philip Bradford, returned after a two weeks' hunting trip; he reports two deer for the crowd. Philip says if does are to be shot, he saw 7; so he did not get the stuck fever.

Binder Dale, formerly of this place, but now of Lock Haven, is circulating among old friends.

BOALSBURG.

Mrs. Henry Fredericks has been on the sick list the past few weeks.

Mrs. Frank Lohr and son George spent the beginning of last week with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hatley, of Anonsburg, enjoyed a few days' visit last week with their daughter, Mrs. Levin Meyers.

Rev. Charles Stover will move to this place this week, and will begin his pastoral work, as pastor to the Boalsburg church. We all wish him success in his new field. There will be service in the Reformed church Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

The entertainment in the Boal Hall, Thanksgiving evening was well attended.

A Christmas service will be given in the Reformed church on Christmas evening.

Harry Bailey left Thursday for Milton where he was married to Miss Viola Segner, who had been visiting her sister there for the past few weeks.

Another wedding from here is that of Clem Kuhn and Nora M. Miller who were married at the home of the groom's parents at Rock, near Bellefonte.

The many friends of Jacob Weber were sorry to hear of his death. His body was brought here for burial on Thursday forenoon. The services were all at his home at State College. John Weber and family, of Centre Hall; Fred Weber and family, of Huntingdon, all took dinner at their brother Samuel's home.

Quite a number around here are done butchering.

Miss Emma Alexander, of Centre Hall, is visiting her sister Mrs. Abner Murry, a visit of a week or two.

JULIAN. John Parsons is now visiting his son George, at Williamsport. He has closed his home for a time.

William Sones, of Coalport, spent a few days this week visiting relatives here.

Thos. Ake will preach in the M. E. church on Sunday morning at 10:30. There will be services in the U. B. church on Sunday evening, at 7:30 p. m., by Rev. Bradley. All are welcome.

The stork in making his rounds led two fine boys in our town—one at the home of Richard Finks and the other at the home of Edward S. Bullock.

George W. Gill has opened up his blacksmith shop and is now ready to do all kinds of work in short notice.

John Stevenson, telegraph operator at Unionville, spent Sunday with relatives in town.

Thos. M. E. church is talking of having a Christmas tree, with appropriate exercises, on Christmas eve, Saturday night, 24th.

Among those who came home to spend Thanksgiving were: Wilson and Harry Sellers, Ermitude Bricker, John Stevenson, Benner and Lester Meek, Earl Way and family, Custis Jones, Lewis Jones, Dr. and Mrs. Meek, James Bailey and wife.

Mrs. Hoy and Mrs. Thomas were called to Lovelle on Friday to attend the funeral of their aged mother, Mrs. Jones Stine.

PLEASANT GAP. A very fine rain on Monday, then it set in and snowed.

Those on the sick list at this writing are: Mrs. Henry Twitmyer and Mr. Michel Kerstetter, the latter is improving slowly.

Miss Grace Shearer, of Zion, spent a few days last week at E. E. Swartz.

Harry Swartz spent Sunday at his home.

The fair that was held for the Lutheran church was well attended. The sum of $140 was taken in.

The M. E. church of this place, expects to hold a fair at Noll's Hall on December 9th and 10th.

Mr. and Mrs. George Shearer are rejoicing over the arrival of a daughter, which came one day last week—and it came to stay.

For Selsman Edison standard photograph. Write or call on Victor I. Meyer, Bellefonte, R. F. D. No. 2.

CENTRE LINE. Centre Line has come to life again. Edgar Chronister and family, of Huntingdon Furnace, spent last Sabbath with his parents.

Preaching in the U. B. church next Sunday at 10:30.

DR. CRIPPEN HANGED.

Pays the Penalty For the Murder of His Wife. Dr. Hawley Harvey Crippen paid the penalty for the murder of his wife, Beatrice, the actress, within a few minutes of 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, November 23rd. The hanging was in Pentonville prison, London, England, where the prisoner had been confined.

The concerned man, who throughout his trial and even until Home Secretary Churchill had refused a petition for his reprieve, had maintained an imperturbable calmness, presented a fearless and unflinching front, and literally led throughout the short corridor from his cell to the scaffold.

His mental anguish had been too great to be covered up by outward bravado, and it was a broken man who was obliged to assist in the steps to the drop, upon which, once reached, the shrinking figure all but collapsed. The doomed man passed a restless night and appeared toward morning, awakened from his fitful slumber. He seemed to lose all fortitude as the end approached. A breakfast was brought to him, but he left it untouched.

His mental anguish had been too great to be covered up by outward bravado, and it was a broken man who was obliged to assist in the steps to the drop, upon which, once reached, the shrinking figure all but collapsed. The doomed man passed a restless night and appeared toward morning, awakened from his fitful slumber. He seemed to lose all fortitude as the end approached. A breakfast was brought to him, but he left it untouched.

Death is instantaneous. His face was colorless as he was escorted bareheaded to the gallows. The gruesome work was soon done. The black cap was drawn quickly over his face, the noose adjusted and the bolt drawn.

Crippen, who weighed 140 pounds, was given a drop of seven feet. Death was instantaneous.

From the time that his reprieve was refused, the physician's condition had been one of agonized mental prostration. He would see only Clara Ethel Leneve, love for whom, the crown asserted, was the compelling motive in the murder of his wife; Solicitor Norton, who made arrangements for his client and Father Carey, to whose ministrations he paid respectful attention.

The final interview with Miss Leneve was the most painful and all ready in the shadow of death, the convicted murderer made no effort to suppress his emotion upon parting with the girl. During the remainder of the day he was in a state of complete nervous collapse, retiring to his bed utterly despondent.

Following the execution the inquest required by law was held, the jury returned a verdict to the effect that the sentence of the law had been duly executed.

The proceedings were held in the prison. Dr. Wilson, an official witness of the hanging, testified that death was caused by a fracture of the vertebrae. There was no resistance or struggle on the part of the condemned man and the whole proceedings from the entrance of the cell by the executioner until Crippen was dead occupied only sixty seconds. Death was instantaneous, the physician said.

WHAT WILL THE WEATHER BE? The weather prophets are at work telling what the weather will be this winter. Bless 'em for their kindness and weather wisdom, and we get it all without price. However, pardon us, these weather prophets know as much about the weather for the coming winter as the Centre Democrat—and that is just nothing. Now, some of these prophets will hit it, others will miss it, no two giving out the same sprig of weather wisdom, hence some are sure to hit and others to miss. Now, again, any dozen of know-nothings on the subject of the weather can be called into a class, and each one note on a slip as to what the weather will be for the winter, or stretch it out to cover the summer, and they will differ just as much as the weather-wise first above mentioned—some of the latter will hit and others miss. Now again, we rise to say that only one weather prophet, the U. S. Weather Bureau, can prognosticate the weather with some degree of certainty, but only from twenty-four to thirty-six hours ahead, and eighty per cent of the prognostications of the weather forecast are found to come true. The weather bureau works upon correct scientific principles and not upon guess work—mere guess work—as do the fellows who prophesy for a year ahead, ignorant of natural philosophy, in utter darkness as to meteorological science. Goosebone groundhog, moon phases, and such like science, as basis for weather prognostication, is all the merest folly.

Physicians Galore. Bellefonte, naturally a remarkably healthy town, does not lack for able medical practitioners in line of need. The town and surrounding area within three to four miles, has a population of close on to seven thousand and to look after the health of this aggregation, we have in Bellefonte, thirteen practicing physicians. The following are the names: Drs. Harris, Selber, Dehling, Leck, Dorwath, Vantries, Hays, Kirk, Dale, Fiedt, Mrs. Schad, and Sebring. To this list we may properly add the name of Dr. Fisher of Zion, who for years enjoyed a nice practice in this vicinity and recently opened an office here. In the rooms formerly occupied as the Reeder law office.

Then there is another, of wide practice, but whose services, unlike other doctors, are absolutely free of charge, namely, Dr. Nature, who furnishes his medicines without cost, consisting of fresh mountain breezes, pure water, and pure air, and the "yarns" of field and forest.

The Nestors of the above group, for longest in practice at Bellefonte, we think would be Drs. Harris and Dehling.

To Circle the Globe on Stilts. Two German acrobats will attempt to circle the world on stilts. They will start from city hall, New York, going to the Jersey City ferry and thence they will make their way to Philadelphia. The hour of the start has not yet been decided.

The young men are Albert Marder and Hans Holedamp, until recently employed as stewards on a transatlantic liner. They hope to win a purse of $5,000 by the steamship stowaways' Verein, of Hamburg.

"We are expert still-walkers," they said, "we expect to walk eleven hours a day, and we can travel five and a half miles an hour. We will work our passage on, the ocean laps of the journey."

Saved From Awful Death. How an appalling calamity in his family was prevented is told by A. D. McDonald, of Fayetteville, N. C. R. F. D. No. 8. "My sister had consumption," he writes, "she was very thin and pale, had no appetite and seemed to grow weaker every day, as all remedies failed, till Dr. King's New Discovery was tried, and so completely cured her, that she has not been troubled with a cough since. It is the best medicine I ever saw or heard of."

For coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhage all bronchial troubles, it has not equal, 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Green's Pharmacy Co., Bellefonte, Pa.

SMALLEST SINCE 1878.

Successful gubernatorial Candidates Lead is 33,484 Votes. Official returns from all of the 67 counties of Pennsylvania show that John K. Tener has a plurality of 23,494 over William H. Berry, the smallest given a governor in Pennsylvania since 1890 when Robert E. Pattison defeated George W. Delamater by 27,060.

The complete votes were as follows: For Governor, Tener 415,611; Berry, 382,157; Grim, Democrat, 129,355; Larkin, Prohibition, 17,455.

For Lieutenant Governor: Reynolds, Republican, 429,874; Gibbons, Keystone, 307,858; Greevy, Democrat, 155,922; McConkey, Prohibition, 2,375; Cohen, Socialist, 28,879.

The vote cast for Tener was the smallest polled by any successful candidate for governor since James A. Beaver, Republican, was elected in 1880.

The total number of votes cast was 997,601, the smallest number polled since 1898.

The vote cast for Webster Grim, Democrat, was the smallest received by any Democratic candidate since David Porter in 1838, polled 127,825 against 122,321 cast for Joseph Ritter, his anti-Mason opponent.

It was because the republican party forgot its pledges and betrayed the people.

ADVERTISES FOR HUSBAND.

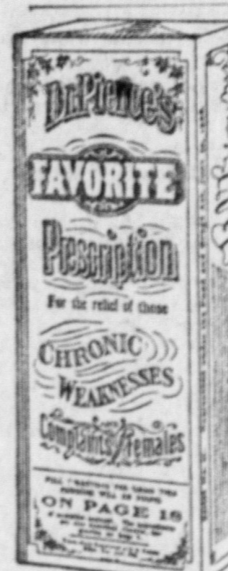

Pretty Girl Wants to Marry a Man She Has Never Seen. Miss Mary Lewis, of Wilburtha, N. J., who is twenty-four years old and surprised her friends at that place by placing advertisements in papers in that section for a husband, saying that none of her friends or acquaintances need answer.

Her name appears in the advertisements, which merely say that she desires a husband with good habits, about twenty-eight years old, who has sufficient income to keep a wife in a conservative manner.

She has received numerous answers already, but most of them are from acquaintances who know her circumstances. She declares that she wants to marry a man she has never seen, but she has assured her friends that she will wed none until she has made a full investigation as to his reputation and habits.

Rather Be Wife Than Rich. While she is willing to accept the $50,000 left her by her father's will, Miss Hattie Van Wagenen, of East New York, declared recently that she would not remain single even if she had to give up the greater part of the bequest.

The will filed leaves her the full estate, but stipulates that should she marry she is to receive only one third of it, the rest to go to charity.

Honored by Women. When a woman speaks of her silent secret suffering she trusts you. Millions have bestowed this mark of confidence on Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. Everywhere there are women who bear witness to the wonder-working, curing-power of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—which saves the suffering sex from pain, and successfully grapples with woman's weaknesses and stubborn ills.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets induce mild natural bowel movement once a day.

Advertisement for Groceries. 'We Handle Every thing in PRODUCE' and 'NOTHING is more annoying than to hear, "We are just out," or "We don't handle that article," etc., when one is ordering supplies for the table. Considerable thought and care are often exercised in this direction, and to not find what you want at your Grocer's is very provoking. Come to us. We have what you want, and everything is absolutely pure—an extra inducement for you to come here for your groceries.' SECHLER & CO. of Absolutely Pure Quality.
