Pennsylvania Management has posted its right of way with signs warning its right of way with signs warning people against using railroad tracks as thoroughfares. Division officers have co-operated with their local newspapers in giving publicity to the awful results of trespassing. The General Managers of the different lines of the System have been un-ceasing in calling to the attention of their staff officers the necessity for showing the public that while it is Sowers and two children, Mr. and Mrs. showing the public that while it is a rare occurrence that passengers on a rare occurrence that passengers on trains suffer any injury, it is equally true that thousands of people tres-passing on railroad property in vio-lation of the law are killed every year, or are maimed for life.

Having succeeded in decreasing the practice of trespassing on its lines, the Pennsylvania System is now preparing to conduct an even more aggressive campaign during 1911. Tracks will be re-posted with warning notices, the enactment of stringent laws will be requested, and every officer and employe of the Railroad System will be asked to lend his assistance to decrease still further the number of deaths resulting from trespassing on property of the Pennsylvania System

The renewed, and diligent efforts the Pennsylvania Railroad is making to stop trespassing will be measurably influential, the Management believes, in arousing the public to a realization that in railroad accidents it is the individual who loses his life, than which there can be no greater sacri-fices. Discussing recently the dangers of trespassing, an officer of the Penn-sylvania said: "The Railroads may be penalized by payments in money, but the individual's or citizen's penalty is the supreme one of life, which, manifestly, is the highest duty of the State to protect by such legislation as will tend to prevent trespassing on railroads. Probably the public ts in-different because each individual thinks he will not be hurt, but among the other moral awakenings that are taking place, perhaps the meaning of this great sacrifice of life can be brought home."

Farmers Coming Back.

At the present time a great many farmers in this county are impressed with the possibilities of Texas, where there are large areas of farm land to be had at what are considered at-tractive prices. Already a number of families from the eastern part of the county have gone there and taken up families land. There seems to b a great boom on, and whether it is substantial or not remains to be determined in the future In this connection we wish to mention an interesting conversation had in this office recently with Mr. R. A.

Purposes of the Law.

The game commission has several ends in view in advocating such a law, the leading points being revenue and protection. It is estimated by Chief Proctector Joseph Kalfus and the members of the commission that from 100,000 to 150,000 resident hunters who reside within the Commonwealth annually frequent the hunting grounds. At $1 per head, the commissioners claim, the revenue would amount to several times the commission's biennial appropriation. This, they say, would permit all the present work to be carried on without hindrance and would allow de-sired additional game preserves, ex-tensive propagation work and other and other development of the Commission's Registered Hunters Would Be Careful

At the same time, they argue, the law would protect the game generally and would also afford protection to the hunters themselves.

It is also argued that a hunter wearing a number which is registered opposite his name at the State Capi-tol will exercise more care than is now the case and that violations of the game laws and accidental shoot-ing of persons will become less frequent.

Another Industry. That thrifty town of Mill Hall is to have another industry which means two, that is to open early in the new year. The new factory is to be creetyear. The new factory is to be creat-ed for the purpose of making tops and bottoms of grape, peach and other fruit baskets. This simple statement may appear insignificant at a glance, but there is not a day in the entire year that such things are not needed. The proprietor of this enterprise has a contract to manufacture 30.000 tops a contract to manufacture 20,000 tops and bottoms every work day for the next three years, as well as other contracts in view.

tracts in view. The proprietor of this industry is Thomas N. Stover, a well known bus-iness man of Livonia, Pa., whose practical experience in that line is recognized at his home. It is the purpose of Mr. Stover to commence the erection of a suitable building in about a week, and with favorable weather will have the factory in op-eration before spring.

Pair of Shoes?

You know very well that most shoes do not wear as well as they did ten years ago.

You know that they cost you a great deal more.

Leather men say it is because there are not enough hides; that people do not eat enough beef; and that the farmers do not raise enough cattle.

Hides are scarce enough, in all conscience, but there are other reasons when you look for them.

If you are wearing any other shoes than Endicott-Johnson shoes you are probably paying profits to four middle men before you get the shoes on your feet-the Hide Trust profit, the Tanners' profit, the Leather Jobbers' profit and the wholesale Shoe Dealers' profit. Don't you think it would pay you to buy shoes made by the only concern in the United States that tans its own leather-

The only shoe house that makes every part of the shoe on the premises and builds its shoe from the ground up, independent of all trusts-

A concern that deals directly with your home merchant and saves the middlemen's profits?

People in a great many other cities have found that it pays them.

It's no experiment.

Endicott, Johnson & Co. are not a small concern, likely to be gobbled up by some combination.

They have become the biggest manufacturers of shoes in the world-thanks to their policy of "Hide to Wearer."

Their styles are right up to the minute. They have the best designers and shoemakers in the business. They make all shapes and sizes.

An Endicott-Johnson shoe is soft and pliable to the foot; but firm and solid, retaining its shape.

One of their great specialties is the ENDWELL line-a shoe for men, that retails for $3.00 $3.50 and $4.00, looks like $4.00 to $5.00 and wears better.

They make shoes for less money than this, and for more.

They tan the leather for every shoe with the one idea of insuring the best service to the wearer.

Now it is for you to say you want this honest tannage-this solid shoemaking-this clean-cut style and high-class workmanship-all for less money than you are now paying (50a to $1.00 a pair less) and with better wear, mind you, than you have had in a shoe for the past ten years.
