

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Yesterday was Ash Wednesday, the beginning of Lent.
A Runaway Banker will be at the opera house on Saturday evening.
The attendance at court this week was slim. No heavy cases were tried.
Mrs. Lucy Cox, who resides over Sheffer's grocery, is recovering from a severe spell of indigestion.
Fred Showers, of Bellefonte, and his sister Jennie, and her little son Frederick, left for an extended visit to Kansas, on Wednesday.
Mrs. William McClellan, of Lamb street, departed on Saturday for a visit of a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Blair Yarnell, at Snow Shoe.
A fine big baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Buer at the hospital on Friday morning, and John is now setting up the cigars and soda water.
Justice Henry Brown has improved the appearance of the interior of his shop on Bishop street by changing the partitions, which also adds to his convenience in holding court.
No one should miss the opportunity of seeing "The Runaway Banker" at the opera house next Saturday evening. This is a companion play to "The Old Homestead" and is a simple story of everyday rural life, way down east.
John Wooster, a former good citizen of Bellefonte, for the past three years just as equally good a citizen of Greensburg, Pa., is visiting his son Frank, and family, in this place. While time has piled a trio of years on John's head since he greeted his friends in Bellefonte, yet it has left no visible effects.
Harry Fulton, for several years pressman at the Democrat office, has accepted a position with the Millheim Journal, and departed last week to assume his duties. Harry is a good pressman, and fully competent to do presswork both during and after business hours—so, girls, get up to you.
Jesse Underwood, who was recently transferred from the Lewisburg branch to the main line of the Penna. Railroad, on Monday moved his household goods to Millersburg, where he and his family will reside in the future. While the friends regret to see them leave Bellefonte, yet they rejoice in the fact that Jesse is rapidly climbing to the top in railroad circles.
C. A. Weaver, now of Freeport, Pa., was in town on Tuesday, on his way to Coburn, where he expects to have a sale of some household effects and then the family will move with him to the western part of the state where he is connected with a mercantile concern and is doing well. Cal. is still interested in the old Center County and paid up his paper two years in advance to be sure that he would get the news regularly.
The ladies of the Golden Eagle sprang a surprise on Mrs. Philip Garbrick at her home in Coleville on Tuesday evening, being her birthday anniversary. About twenty-five persons were present, among whom were little Thelma and Mildred Tate, who added greatly to the success of the pleasant gathering. All present expressed themselves as having spent a most delightful evening. To Mrs. Irvin Tate is given the credit for the successful management of the affair, which was all that could be desired.
William Woodsen, a young colored boy, who has been employed at the office of Dr. Rodgers for some time, had a peculiar experience on Saturday night, last, which caused him to think for a while that the time had come for "passing in his checks." He had gone to the opera house and, to satisfy a "sweet tooth," bought some candy and placed it in a pocket in his coat where he had a quantity of lead for an indelible pencil. The result was the candy and lead joined forces, and after getting into the internal regions of his anatomy started an insurrection. He made a "purple" streak for Parry's drug store where he was given some medicine which soon relieved him.
Next Sunday morning and evening communion services will be held in the United Brethren church, in this place. Also baptism will be administered to any children who are presented at these services. On the following evening, Monday, the second quarterly conference will be held by the members of the church, after which a sermon will be delivered by the Rev. E. G. Sawyer, an evangelist, of Youngwood, Pa., which will mark the beginning of a series of evangelistic meetings in this place, to be held weekly. Rev. Sawyer is said to be an eloquent and interesting preacher, and it will be well worth your time to attend these special services. A hearty welcome is extended to all.
Mrs. Joseph J. Beizer, a pioneer resident of Spring Creek, accompanied by her niece, Miss Mary Beizer, returned home Monday, from an eight month visit to her sons, Louis and M. J. Beizer, now residents of Seattle, Washington. She also visited her sister, Mrs. Charles Woolfite, at one time a resident of our town, and now living at Grants Pass, Josephine county, Oregon. Mrs. Beizer made many side trips about the Puget Sound country and waters of the Pacific Ocean. During her visit she traveled a distance of over nine thousand miles. A few years ago, accompanied by her son, she made a tour of Europe. Few women in this part of the country have seen more of distant and foreign lands.
The "heavy" man with the Howell-Keith Stock Company, which held forth at the opera house last week, became so hefty on Saturday night about 12:30 that it required the services of Policeman Dukeman to keep him right side up. The man stopped at the Garman House and on Saturday night when the week's engagement ended here, he evidently drank too much "stage tea," which broke out in a boisterous row with his wife after all the guests of the hotel had gone to bed. The management of this hostelry were not accustomed to having "dress rehearsals" after business hours, and remonstrated with the man. He evidently did not take kindly to this, and in the argument which followed, came out second best. The police took him in charge and put him in the lock-up for the balance of the night, releasing him in the morning and allowing him to depart with the

"The Runaway Banker" at the opera house on Saturday, March 4th.
All the "horse" men in the county will be at A. C. Grove's sale on the 22nd of March, when some of those steppers will be sold at auction. He will have a nice line of other goods for sale.
On Tuesday Milton H. Willard, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Willard, arrived in Bellefonte for a visit with his parents. Mr. Willard is an electrician and has been employed on the battleship, Georgia, for a number of years. His term of enlistment having expired, he may extend his stay in Bellefonte indefinitely.
Last Thursday Reuben Welty, a farmer of Benner township, appeared before Justice Henry Brown, charged with assault and battery on Clair Franks, a boy who makes his home at the Welty residence. It appears that the boy is a township charge and was given to Mr. Welty to raise. The defendant claimed that the young man had been in the habit of taking articles out of the house and trading or giving them away. That he had on several occasions been compelled to administer chastisement for these thefts, and on the present occasion when he had been charged with striking the boy with a piece of board, the provocation warranted the whipping and he was also found down in the room for want of evidence and placed the costs on the county.

BOLD, BAD BURGLARS.

Enter Three Curtin Street Residences on Tuesday Night.
A series of robberies occurred in Bellefonte on Tuesday night or Wednesday morning, which for boldness have had few equals in the history of the town. The midnight prowlers evidently imbued with the idea that the higher one lives the more they possess, as their victims were chosen from Curtin street, one of the highest thoroughfares in the town.
One of the places entered by the robbers was the residence of Dr. J. E. Ward, and as consequence the Doctor and his wife are minus their gold watches, and between eight and ten dollars in money. The Doctor claims he is a light sleeper, but on this occasion we believe the robbers could have entered the room from the house, and he would have been none the wiser. When Mr. Ward arose on Wednesday morning he found his clothes gone from the tree in his room, where he always places them on retiring at night. He also noticed one of the drawers missing from a bureau, which impressed him as not being altogether right. Making his way down stairs, he found his clothes lying on the floor, the trouser pockets having been rifled, and eight or ten dollars in money. The bureau drawers were also found open in the dining room, with its contents strewn about. The Doctor's hat was also missing and could not be located anywhere on the premises. The robbers had gained an entrance from a dining room window, which was found hoisted, and made their exit from the house by way of the kitchen. A quantity of burnt matches were found scattered on the inside of the house, indicating that they used no lighted matches to carry on their nefarious work.
It also developed that the midnight plunderers had visited the residences of Gen. James A. Beaver and William Chambers. At the former place, Mrs. Rev. Platt and her little son were in the house, and Mrs. Beaver, and unfortunately fell victims of the unwelcome visitors. A handbag belonging to Mrs. Platt, and containing about seven dollars, was stolen, along with fifty cents of her son's money. Miss Mamie Strunk, who lives with the Beaver family also lost $1. Thomas Beaver found some of his clothes in the yard, but no money was taken. A strange coincidence is that Mr. Beaver's keys, which were in his coat pocket, containing money, papers, etc., but which were in no wise disturbed. On the Beaver lawn was also found the hat which had been taken from the Ward residence. At the Chambers house, an entrance was made by the robbers, and fortunately the inside doors were securely fastened, and thus nothing was taken.

MARRIAGES.

Gunsallus-Dunlap.
Thursday morning 23rd, J. E. Gunsallus and Miss Viola H. Dunlap, both of Warrior's Mark valley, were united in marriage at the United Brethren parsonage of Tyrone, by the pastor, Rev. T. P. Orner.
Smith-Smith.
H. W. Smith, of Bellefonte, manager of the Bald Eagle Telephone company, the Nittany Valley Telephone company, and other allied independent telephone lines, was married in Williamsport last Thursday to Miss Elizabeth Smith, his stenographer and secretary in the office of the Bald Eagle Telephone company. Their marriage came as a complete surprise to even their friends in Bellefonte. Mrs. Smith will continue to fill the position she has occupied with so much ability and satisfaction until next fall, at least.
Crane-Lawrence.
At the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. H. H. Acheson, at Fort Williams, Me., on Wednesday, February 15th, Miss Mittie Lawrence became the bride of Kennedy Crane, of Saylesville, R. I. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Crane, father of the groom. The day being his birthday, the bride and groom were present. After a brief wedding tour they will reside at Panuel, a suburb of Boston, Mass. The bride and her mother are well known in Centre county, having resided at State College for a number of years.

Does Anybody Know Her?

Monday's Altoona Tribune says: "Word was received in Bellwood on Saturday of the death of Mrs. Lulu Bruce Campbell, at Youngstown, O. Mrs. Campbell was aged 19 years. Death was caused by blood poison. Her husband, Ardell Campbell, formerly of Bellwood, and one child survive her."
An effort is being made to locate Mrs. Campbell's mother, Mrs. Lewis whose first name is known to Bellefonte friends. She is supposed to be either in Altoona or somewhere in Centre county.

Grip Makes a Mute Speak.

Miss Lizzie Grant, 47 years old, of Ephrata, Pa., lost her voice 23 years ago and could not in all these years speak above a whisper. Last week she was attacked with the grip, and upon her recovery was surprised to find that she could speak. It was the first time since 1878 that she heard her voice.
What caused the loss of her voice has been a mystery, and its recovery is just as inexplicable.

A UNIQUE LETTER.

George T. Bush, the popular statesman of this place, sent a New Year's Greeting card to one of the Japanese boys in Osaka, who had handed him a welcome postcard while he was passing through that city on his recent world tour. The following letter was just received by Mr. Bush, which, while the language is quaint and high-sounding and intent of the boy shows a good, progressive spirit, and can be well patterned after by our American boys. The letter follows:
Osaka, 15th, 1911
My Dear Mr. Bush,
I have pleasure to read the new Year's greeting which you bestowed me now. I was never expected to receive such kindness, so I am very glad. Few months ago I received a thank letter from an American, a member of the Church Tourist whom I present a welcome card last March. Hereby I am much inspired of kindness of American people. I am a Japanese young man and 22 years old, I am serving in the largest bank at Osaka, which has been obtaining the first rate reputation in the city and the president is a popular person and high cultured. While I am engaging in a busy business, I am always entertaining the best desire in my heart. Without building castles in the air, as some men do, I am doing my best to actualize my desires.
Strong body and spirit and steady hand are essential to success in business; to be well-furnished with those conditions we must put them into practice. So I am studying English at Y. M. C. A. in Osaka. I think it is better to acquire knowledge and to make a chance. On Sunday I go to a church which is in the vicinity of my house and study Bible. The teacher is an American lady. Whose native place is New York. She is cheerful and active, as in usual in American people. I like her very much. I oft hear American young men investigating Bible as an important lesson for their culture. America surpasses all other powers both in the spiritual and the material civilization.
We know there are many universities in your country and the professors are looked upon the leading light of that circle. If I could study with such scholars how glad I should be. If you continue to write me, I shall be obliged. Pray you are always well.
Yours faithfully,
NISHIMURA EIJIKICHI,
28 - Chome, Ote, Hegashiku, Osaka.

WELCOME.

Dear American Tourist:
I have pleasure to send you this letter, and to say that there is nothing to please you in Osaka. But all people in Osaka receive you heartily. Now we have rarely snow, this snow is the sign to welcome you. We hereby pray that the relations between America and Japan will become more and more closely.
Yours truly,
Bangal, Bangal.
Osaka, 6, Feb., 1910.
Eiueka, Nishimura.

OVER THE COUNTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kunes, of Blanchard, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage on Tuesday.
Harry C. Miller, of Linden Hall, moves to Centre Hall, where he has become headmaster for J. H. & S. E. Weber.
Samuel Griffith, formerly of Axemann, left on Saturday afternoon for Champaign, Ill., where he has a position in a dairy. Success to him.
Mrs. Wm. Smith and Mrs. Jonathan Ruff, of Tylersville, were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Spangler, at Tusseyville, last week, the latter being sick for some time; we hope for her speedy recovery.
The ladies of the Upper Marion Evangelical church will hold an oyster supper on Saturday evening, March 4th, at the residence of C. S. Garbrick, along the Jacksonville road. These ladies know how to prepare good supper, so you will be given a treat if you attend. Everyone invited.
Taft is consulting with the democrats relative to the extra session that is to be held April 18th. The standpatners are giving a back seat. Tariff revision will be the important work at the extra session. And the revision will be in accord with the result of the late November election—democratic, of course.
W. Frank Bradford, station agent at Centre Hall, will leave on March 11th for Philadelphia, where he will join the International Ticket Agents association for quite a pleasure trip. They will leave Philadelphia on March 17th and go by rail to Tampa, Fla., and from there by boat to Cuba where they will spend ten days or so. They will be away about three weeks.
Prof. J. C. Smith, of Greenburg, was tendered a complete surprise at his home recently by a visit from his school at Tylersville, together with the directors and their families. While Mr. Smith was absent from his home in the early part of the evening these young people took possession of the home and awaited the coming of their host, who stepped into the room without knowledge of any one being there. As soon as he could recover from the shock he bid them all welcome and tendered them the freedom of the house. The day being his birthday the school presented him with a beautiful parlor lamp.
