

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Some half dozen sales have been added to the list in this issue of the Democrat.

Mr. and Mrs. Dr. J. L. Seibert are away on a trip to Philadelphia, both business and pleasure being combined.

John Hill, of this place, has gone to Mt. Alto sanitarium, where he and his friends hope he may find relief from his tubercular trouble.

We have information that Dr. Emerick, the Hickory Corners specialist, will be at the Brockerhoff House on Monday, March 13.

William Royer, of Tyrone, came down to "Sunday" with his family and shake up with his friends in this place. He expects to move his family and household goods to Tyrone about the 15th of the month.

The Phillipsburg Journal says: Mrs. John G. Rowe is over from Bellefonte again, coming at this time to help her mother, who with her son, Tom, are moving into the Harper house on Ninth street, just vacated by John Graffius.

We want to help the business men of Bellefonte, boom the town, and will do it in every way possible, even if they send out of town for their job printing or use rubber stamps on their stationery and never patronize the publisher. Good for evil is our motto.

Tuesday morning, Messrs. H. O. Fiedler, of Feldler, and W. F. Colyer, of Millheim, who are attending court, called at our office and kept the orders flying until they held receipts for ten subscriptions paid for various past years. You bet, they were welcome visitors.

The house on Thomas street recently purchased by Charles Moerschbacher is now undergoing extensive repairs and alterations, and the time they are finished, Mr. Moerschbacher and family will be ready to move into one of the finest and most comfortable residences on that street.

An invitation has been extended to A. Dale, Esq., of Bellefonte, to deliver the memorial address at Clearfield, Pa., on the 30th of May. Although he secured invitations from many other points, he has concluded to accept of the Clearfield invitations. We assure our neighbors that a treat is in store for them.

The big brown team of horses, which was owned by Rolly Miller, and admired by every lover of horseflesh in this community, was sold last week to A. G. Morris for use at the Hunt-Ingdon reform school. Before being taken away James Wian fitted them out with a handsome set of nickle-mounted harness.

The members of the Maccabee lodge will hold a smoker in their hall next Wednesday evening, March 15th. Considerable business will be transacted, and several candidates will be initiated, and delegates elected to the district convention, which meets at Altoona in April. All members are urged to be present.

Many of the merchants throughout the town are bemoaning a lack of business. This dullness, which comes through no fault of theirs, but simply means that when the people do not have the money they cannot buy. Agents and salesmen, who make regular visits to Bellefonte, report a general slump in business among the trade over the country.

All are invited to the Salvation Army hall on Monday evening, March 13th, at 8 o'clock to hear Major J. M. Richards, of Philadelphia. The Major is one of the Provincial Headquarters staff, and comes to Bellefonte on an inspection trip. Those who attend will not be disappointed, but trade something in store for their hearers. All are welcome.

The special meetings being conducted in the United Brethren church by Rev. Sawyer, the evangelist, are attracting considerable attention. Rev. Sawyer is a man of forceful personality, and his talks are of the kind that start men to thinking. Quite a few have already taken a different view of life, and have determined to make a new start. By all means attend the meetings—you will be given a cordial greeting.

We would call the attention of our readers to the bills displayed on the billboards in and around Bellefonte, originated and planned by the Anti-Tuberculosis Society of Pennsylvania. They read: "Bad air leads to consumption; don't crowd the sleeping and work rooms." To show the intense interest being taken in this movement, everything from the printing of the posters, expressage, boards furnished by the opera house, work done by Mr. Derr, has been done free of all charges.

Conductor W. U. Reamer and Mrs. Reamer left on Monday morning for a trip to the Carolinas and other points of the South. They expect to be gone for a period of a month or more and in that time will visit friends at Greensboro and Asheville. Mr. Reamer thinks that a vacation is a good thing for a man who sticks to his job as long as he has been lifting tickets on the Lewisburg branch. If he keeps it up a few years more, he will be eligible to go on the retired list, as he has been in the railroad service a long term of years, and is one of their most faithful and competent employees.

Our paper went to press too early last week to give an account of the fire which occurred about ten o'clock on Wednesday evening last, in the old Kline house on Spring street, owned by Dr. John P. Sebring. The flames burned a considerable portion of the roof on the rear of the house, and together with the water, caused several hundred dollars worth of damage, fully covered by insurance. The origin of the conflagration is a mystery, as the house had not been occupied for possibly two months. George Eberhart, of the Logan company, received a severe burn of the arm while in the performance of his duties.

The annual declaratory contest for the W. S. Furst prizes, took place at the Academy on Friday afternoon of last week, and proved a very interesting event. The speakers and their subjects were as follows: Francis Thomas—"The Execution of Major Andre"; Leonard Griebbaum—"The University—the Training camp of the Future"; Rutherford Reiter—"Laska"; Samuel Gentzel—"Toussaint L'Ouverture"; Melvin Locke—"The Victor of Marengo"; LeRoy Locke—"The Signing of the Declaration of Independence." Messrs. Griebbaum and Reiter were secured the first and second prizes, respectively. The judges were Rev. Frederick Barry, Clement Dale, Esq., and W. D. Zerby, Esq.

Edgar Lucas, of Tyrone, spent Sunday at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Dora Rine, on Thomas street.

John Walte, of Lock Haven, spent Sunday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Anna Walte, on Thomas street.

W. E. Keesinger and O. N. Yarnell, two of Nittany's prominent citizens, were among our callers on Saturday.

Mrs. Amanda Walte is recovering from a severe attack of neuralgia, which had kept her housed up for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Smith and little daughter Helen, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pennington, at State College.

George Glenn, one of the efficient carriers of the mail to and from the postoffice and station, is confined to his home with a severe attack of quinsy.

Al Smith, who resided on Ridge street, has moved to Buffalo Run, and Thomas Toner has moved from Reynolds Avenue to the house vacated by Mr. Smith.

J. W. DeLaney, of Hubersburg, and Grant Williams, of Clintonale, were attending to business in town on Monday and found time to pay us a pleasant call.

The weather, thus far, has been Marchey—squalls, sunshine, and snows. Monday morn showed a three inch snow, but before it lay a day, it Marched.

Miss Lida Watson, who had been employed at the Academy fraternity house for some time past, resigned her position and departed last week for her home at Clarence.

Girard Altenderfer, one of Bellefonte's young poultry experts, departed on Tuesday for Orangeville, N. Y., where he has accepted a position on a large poultry farm.

Charles Keichline has rented the apartments now occupied by the Misses Newman on High street, and with his wife will go to housekeeping there as soon as the place is vacated.

Miss Sarah McKinney who, while the late Miss Sarah Collins was living made her home with her, has taken rooms in the house of Mr. and Mrs. John Gross, on Valentine street.

G. C. Lykens moved from Scotia on Wednesday of last week, to the house he bought from the Gray estate on Curtin street. Mr. Lykens is connected with the Penn Chemical Closet Co., of Bellefonte.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Goehner and son, John David, have moved from Gap, Lancaster county to Coatesville, Chester county. Mrs. Goehner will be remembered as Miss Margaret Brachbill of this place.

Willis Wieland was this week added to the carpet department force at Joseph & Co's, store in this place. Willis is a competent and experienced hand at this business and will no doubt prove a valuable man.

The Bucknell Reserves will be here on Friday evening to try conclusions with the fast basket ball five of the Academy in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. Go and see a cracker-jack contest. Game called at 8:20.

In all probability one of the best emotional dramas ever presented at Garman's opera house will be "The Great Sunday" on March 18. It is not to be confounded with the cheap blood-and-thunder plays, with which the Henry is flooded.

Miss Helen Otto is the guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Ray, on Howard street, where she will remain until her brother, Harry Otto, and family move to the new home on Thomas street. She will continue her visit with the latter family until June.

The friends of Harry Boyer enjoyed a well prepared supper at his home on Thursday evening, in honor of his birthday. Those who were fortunate enough to be there on that day do not come oftener than once a year.

Would you steal in order to make yourself attractive in the eyes of your husband? This question is asked and answered in "The Thief," a sensational drama of human emotions produced at the Lyceum Theatre, New York, and which comes intact to the opera house, on March 13th, 1911.

Mrs. S. Cameron Burnside departed Wednesday noon for Philadelphia, where she will remain until the first of April, and then take passage on the Venezia, sailing from New York to Rome, where she expects to spend the greater part of the time while abroad.

On Friday, Ben Lucas, a brakeman in the P. R. R. yard at this place, received injuries sufficient to lay him off duty for a week or more. He was caught between two cars and squeezed about the hips, which fortunately will result in no permanent injury. He has gone to his home in Tyrone to stay until he fully recovers.

Big Jolly E. E. Beals, of Julian, was a caller at this office last Thursday, principally to arrange for some stationery for his thriving mercantile business at that place, and also to put us in his debt on his subscription account. Mr. Beals came to the big show up in that section of the county, and we hope it may never grow less.

"Domino," the versatile Unionville scribe supplies our readers this week with an interesting sketch of the Armagast school in Benner township, over which he presided fifty years ago. While it is interesting, it is remarkable how completely he recalls the many pupils that came to that "fountain of knowledge" and were abundantly rewarded.

A musical treat is in store for Bellefonte in the appearance this year of the Academy minstrels, who are booked for Friday evening, May 5th. The Academy boys have always been very successful in the black face art, and this year's performance under the direction of Mr. Armstrong, of State College, will surpass all previous efforts. Remember the date and make your plans to be there and enjoy the music and the jokes.

Mrs. Jacob Bottorf and daughter, Ruth, of Lemont, left on Monday noon for Asheville, North Carolina, where they will remain for about two weeks at the home of her son, Linn S. Bottorf, who has been located in that city for several years. He originally went there with his family for the benefit of his health, and since then has secured a permanent position with the Postal Telegraph company, as superintendent of the local office.

The Misses Anne and Caroline Valentine left this week for Philadelphia, expecting to sail immediately for the Bermudas, where they will spend the Lenten season, not intending to return to Bellefonte before Easter.

The scenic patrons were considerably disappointed last week by the failure of the Buffalo Jones pictures to arrive, but no more than Mr. Brown, as he had planned to give his patrons something unusually good. However, pictures both unique and attractive are being shown every night, in fact they seem to be getting better right along. If it's a good picture, the scenic has it.

RECENT DEATHS.

EDMISTON.—Lislie McCully Edmiston, an old and highly esteemed resident of Sandy Ridge, who has been an invalid for many years, died on Sunday at his home in that place, aged 83 years, 10 months and 23 days. The deceased was an old soldier, having served faithfully in the 110th Pennsylvania volunteers. His wife has been dead for some time, but surviving are three daughters and two sons, viz: Mrs. Joseph Catherman, Bald Eagle; Mrs. James Keith, residing near Phillipsburg; Mrs. William Woods, Morgan Run; Lisle, Jr., Sandy Ridge; and Stanley Patton. He also leaves one brother, David, and 28 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon, with interment at Osceola.

BRADLEY.—When two freight cars came violently together in the Hollidaysburg yards at Saturday, the car containing William S. Bradley was crushed to death by the impact. It is assumed that Bradley, in an effort to prevent two runaway cars from causing a wreck, stumbled or fell from his position at the brake wheel of the car. His train had entered a switch, throwing him directly between his own car and a car on an adjoining track. Bradley had been in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad company since January, 1907. He was twenty years of age, a native of Philadelphia. He was the son of Philip and Elizabeth C. Bradley, and went to Gaysport from Cambria county about a year ago, residing on Wall street, with his wife and two small children, who survive him. He was a member of the Reformed church and also a member of the Pennsylvania Railroad Relief association. Interment in Rose Hill cemetery Altoona on Wednesday. Deceased was a brother of Rev. H. H. Bradley, of near Bellefonte.

WILSON.—Mary A. Wilson, a highly respected maiden lady, of Bellefonte passed away at her home on north Allegheny street on Sunday night, aged 82 years and 5 months. Death was due to senile debility, hastened undoubtedly by a fractured hip sustained in a fall at her home about ten days ago. Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Laura Elliott and Miss Alice Wilson, who with the deceased lived together at the same residence. Mrs. ex-Gov. Curtin was also a sister. Miss Wilson was a daughter of Dr. William I. Wilson, and was born at Earleystown, Potter township. Her mother was Miss Mary Pott, a granddaughter of General James Potter. The Wilson family resided at Earleystown and later at Potters Mills, where the Doctor practiced medicine for a great many years. Funeral services were held at the late residence of the deceased on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, services conducted by Rev. Dr. Pfeiffer, of the Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. Hewitt. Interment was made in Union cemetery.

LYTLE.—Maud Gertrude Lytle, died at her home in Monroe, Mich., Wednesday, February 22nd. She was born April 16th, 1878, and was the youngest daughter of Thomas and Mary Bennett, of Port Matilda. September 15th, 1906, she was married to Thomas O. Lytle, of Half Moon, and to this union four children were born, Miss Mildred, Marie, George and Robert W. The greater portion of the young woman's married life was spent in Clearfield, but in July, 1910, she accompanied her husband to Monroe, Mich. She was a devout Christian woman, and early in life became a member of the Methodist church, with which she continued until moving to Monroe, where she united with the Evangelical church. The following brothers and sisters survive: Samuel, of Tyrone; John, of Altoona; and Henry and William, of Port Matilda. Funeral services were held Saturday, February 25th, by her pastor, Rev. Finch, who paid a glowing tribute to her as a worker in the church in the short time she had been in Monroe. Interment was made in Woodlawn cemetery.

Spring Mills Academy.

The Normal School at the Spring Mills Academy will begin April 10, 1911, and will continue for eight weeks. We recall the pleasant association we had with our last year Normal students, reviewing the record, we notice the creditable work accomplished by various attendants and now beg leave to solicit their return and bring others with them. The object of the school will be, as before, to thoroughly review the common branches and such other studies as the school will determine upon organization. For further information address U. A. MOYER, Prin. 1011 Spring Mills, Pa.

Has Millions of Friends.

How would you like to number your friends by millions as Buckler's Zittic Salve does? Its astounding cures in the past forty years made them. Its best Salve in the world for sores, ulcers, eczema, burns, boils, scalds, cuts, corns, sore eyes, sprains, swellings, bruises, cold green's Pharmacy Co.

INTERESTING MEETING.

Of the Farmer's Club of Lower Pennsylv.

Mr. Farmer did you attend the recent meeting of the Farmers' club? No, who?

At the home of Jerome Gephart, at Millheim, on Saturday afternoon, March 4th.

I had no invitation to attend. Well, maybe you did not have, but this is a farmer's club, less the organization. There are no officers to issue invitations. One of the farmers present at the meeting is asked to preside as chairman and in this way the club has been doing good work for the past twelve months. All tillers of the soil are requested and urged to attend, as they may be able to help some fellow farmer over some mighty rough pieces of farm work.

Of course, the farmers present, may not be able to tell you any new wrinkle about farming, but certainly, you have seen or will see some mistakes the other fellow is making and the object of these meetings is to make your neighbor a better farmer, and his farm more productive. To be sure, you may hear of some plans of farming that you do not believe. Yes, you doubt it. That is right—doubt much. The more you doubt, the more you think. It is the second logical thinking seasoned with the principles of nature that makes the old farm soil more productive. Mr. Farmer attend these meetings. You are asked to do only two things: first, ask questions; second, think. Here are some of the questions asked at the last meeting; can you answer them: How low would you plow for corn, six, eight or ten inches? Why do so many farmers of Central Pennsylvania plow shallow for corn? Would it not be more profitable to get the soil in such condition that you could raise better corn by plowing to eight or ten inches deep? What is that condition of the soil? What yield in corn is gained by using an adjustable furrow plow on the planter? To what depths have you found corn root growing? Why do they grow six to seven feet long horizontally at the bottom of the furrow instead of going down vertically? Why is it more profitable to haul manure dirt from the stable to the field, than to pile it up in the barnyard? Why do it this way, instead of spreading it where it has been exposed to the atmosphere five hours? How can the soil be worked so that it is never too dry to plow? If the Lancaster county farmer can grow larger crops of clover without a nursing crop, such as wheat or barley, why can't we? When is the best time to begin to work corn and potatoes—one day or one week after planting? Why will a sod yield a better crop, if well harrowed before it is plowed?

You may doubt some of the answers nature gives to these questions, but if you do, then perform an experiment—an experiment is a question put to nature. Ask nature a question and you will get a sensible answer. Watch the paper for announcement of the next meeting.

MEETING OF COUNCIL.

Council convened in an hour and a half session on Monday evening, and from its most important business transactions we sift the following: Mr. J. E. Herman, Esq., representing a committee of the Y. M. C. A., appeared before council and asked permission for the free usage of water for the proposed new swimming pool. Mr. Quirk set forth to some extent the good work that M. C. A. has done for the community. The directors of the association have had to finance and maintain it, and of the benefits to be derived from the swimming pool. He also stated that inasmuch as the association would have the added expense of providing means for heating the water and probably an extra attendant, they could not well afford to pay for the water used. The pool would require 80,000 gallons to fill it, and thus would be changed twice in a week. After some discussion the matter was held over until a future meeting.

Street committee reported minor repairs to walks at Brown Row and in front of S. E. Ray property. Water committee reported various repairs, etc., at different points in the town; Borough Engineer Meyer also submitted an inventory of all machinery, tools, etc. owned by borough. Market committee had $6.10 in collected fees to report.

Village improvement committee asked on behalf of the Civic Club, that six garbage cans be provided for the town, accompanying their request with the suggestion that a certain patent can be purchased for $15, after which any others needed may be made in Bellefonte or elsewhere on payment of $2.50 royalty per can. This can contains a bag, which when filled with refuse, can be removed and another put in. On motion council decided to buy one can as a test.

A crossing was asked for on Willowbank street, leading to the hospital property, which was granted. By motion a note for $5000 was ordered executed for 4 months to take up one of a similar amount which had fallen due on even date. A communication from W. A. Ishler was read asking for the re-appointment of water rent collector. A written request was also read from the borough auditors that all the books be turned over to them for auditing. After hearing the reading of bills, council adjourned.

ROYAL Baking Powder Economy. The manufacturers of Royal Baking Powder have always declined to produce a cheap baking powder at the sacrifice of quality. Royal Baking Powder is made from pure grape cream of tartar, and is the embodiment of all the excellence possible to be attained in the highest class baking powder. Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price, and is more economical at its price than any other leavening agent, because of the superlative quality and absolute wholesomeness of the food it makes. Mixtures made in imitation of baking powders, but containing alum, are frequently distributed from door to door, or given away in grocery stores. Such mixtures are dangerous to use in food. In England, France, Germany and some sections of the United States their sale is prohibited by law. Alum is a dangerous mineral acid, and all physicians condemn baking powders containing it. The label of alum baking powders must show the ingredients. READ THE LABEL.
