OVER THE COUNTY.

Clyde Boob, of Millheim, left Wednesday of last week for Coropollis, Pa. where he has secured employment at his trade of plasterer.

A team of horses belonging to Jacob Sherer, which was hitched at Weber's mill Centre Hall, frightened and ran away one day last week damaging the wagon to some extent.

Concrete work is gaining in popularity every day, and especially in country districts. Many farmers are contemplating making improvements this year with this modern building material.

George R. Hickernell, son of John Hickernell, of Hartleton, was elected sheriff of the county in which he resides in Nevada. He being one of only two Republicans elected in that county last fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wise, of near Penn Cave, having disposed of farm stock and implements by public sale, have moved to Penn Hall where they will live retired. Their son-in-law, William Hagen, will remain on the farm.

The senior chemists of Penna. State College left last Tuesday on an excursion, taking in the leading industrial plants of New Jersey, New York and Philadelphia. They were in charge of Profs. J. B. Churchill and J. B. Kauffman.

The Methodist congregation of State College recently tendered a reception to their pastor, Rev. James McK. Reilly, in honor of his return to that charge. The Reverend is a native of this county and is a great favorite in that community.

The Phillipsburg High school commencement exercises will this year be held on Tuesday evening, May 23rd. Miss Gladys Turnbach has been chosen valedictorian, while Miss Josephine Rhule will be the salutatorian of the class.

The interior of the Presbyterian manse at Centre Hall, has been greatly beautified lately by paint and paper. This displays a very generous inclination on the part of the congregation to minister to the comfort of their pastor.

With the view of erecting a new church, the Presbyterians of State College recently purchased the properties of John Weaver and Mrs. Webby, on Beaver avenue, on a site for the new edifice. Building operations will not be begun for several months yet.

Among the property improvements contemplated in Centre Hall, during the coming summer, will be additions to the dwelling of Mrs. Coldren and Mrs. Luce Henney. The latter expects to install a heating plant, bath room, and make other improvements on the interior.

The remains of the wife of Prof. E. C. Musser, who died at her home on Greenville, were brought to Pine Grove this morning. Rev. Saffaman, of Saturday church, officiating. She was aged 21 years and had only been married about six months.

W. M. Grove, of Spring Mills, who last year spent considerable time surveying state lands for the Forestry Department, has gone to Penfield, Clearfield county, where work of the same class is being resumed. Orris McCormick, accompanied him, who will handle the chain, thus getting in shape to do compass work.

Rev. Daubert, of the Evangelical church, the new appointee for the Nittany charge, preached his first sermon recently in the church at Clintondale, and from all reports it was very well received. The church has leased the Knarr home for the use of the pastor pending the erection of a new parsonage at Clintondale in the near future.

Mrs. Mary A. Rishel, who is one of the real daughters of the American Revolution now living, recently celebrated her 90th birthday at her home at Lamar. She is a member of the society of the D. A. R. of Bellefonte, which kindly remembered the event by a very handsome floral offering by Mrs. Dr. J. H. Huston. The aged lady is enjoying remarkably good health.

The public farm sales throughout Centre county for this spring are now about a thing of the past, only a few small ones yet to be pulled off this month. One of the most successful sales this season was that of A. C. Grove's, on the 22nd of last month. Mr. Grove started early to make preparations for a large sale, by means of generous advertising, and the results show the wisdom of his enterprise. The receipts totalled $4944.59, and did not include everything he had for sale, not including a pair of two-year-old colts as for instance, a pair of $750 was bid. Mr. Grove for which he will sell, intending to keep it for his own use. Nine horses sold at this sale ranged as follows: $302, $310.50, $287.50, $260, $201, $264, $250, $216, and $300.

To see a team of young bulls performing the work of horses in the wagon and plow, would probably suggest that farming methods were regressing. Not so, however, with Mr. Marshall, who moved from near Unionville to west of Centre Hall. Mr. Marshall is up-to-date in every way, but has a pair of bulls that are worth their weight in any horse flesh when it comes to working. When the owner moved his household effects recently those who lived along the way were very much interested in seeing the pair of bovines drawing a heavily loaded wagon with as much ease as a pair of horses would do it. The beasts performed much work for Mr. Marshall last season, and will be pressed into service this year again.

W. P. Catherman, farmer of Penn township, some time ago lost track of one of his steers. It having disappeared quite suddenly without leaving the least clue as to its whereabouts. Thinking it might have strayed from his premises, Mr. Catherman advertised his loss in one of the newspapers, but nothing came from it. A few weeks ago while hauling manure from the barnyard the body of the steer was uncovered. The supposition is that the animal had been covered by straw falling from the large stack in the yard and smothered to death. Elmer Strub, a farmer of Spring township, had a similar experience with one of his steers last fall, the animal having been missing for several weeks before it was found under a straw stack.

Forty Years in Bed.
Never was a stranger vow taken than the one which forty years since he was thirty-one—has kept Joseph Plummer, of Milton, N. H., confined to his bed. Mr. Plummer is now in a serious condition and cannot live. A paternal decree, forbidding him to marry the girl of his choice, blighted his life and heart broken, he forever gave up the world and vowed to pass his life in bed. The girl he loved is dead.

FOREIGNERS CAN'T SHOOT. Pennsylvania Game Law Upheld by Supreme Court. The state supreme court of Pennsylvania has handed down a decision that is of considerable local interest. The decision was one that upheld the superior court in its decision that the game law of 1909 making it unlawful for foreigners to carry guns was constitutional. The Allegheny county court declared the law constitutional and the Indiana county court took the opposite view. The superior court sustained the Allegheny court and the supreme court has affirmed the superior court. State Game Commissioner Kalbfus says that he believed that certain interests against the law may take the matter to the Supreme court of the United States on the ground that the law abridges the rights of aliens. It is said representatives of foreign governments at Washington, while not taking any part in the court moves already made, are watching the case. There have been a large number of guns seized and had the law been declared unconstitutional it would have stirred up a large amount of feeling among the foreigners who lost their weapons.

The University of Chicago has barred a girl student because she wears a $300 hat. Thought the higher education the rights of aliens. It is said representatives of foreign governments at Washington, while not taking any part in the court moves already made, are watching the case.

An Iowa preacher boasts of his wonderful skill in putting babies to sleep. Most preachers are successful only with adults.
