

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Mrs. W. R. Hurley spent a day last week with friends in Tyrone. Clyde Poorman, of Holt's Hollow, visited his best girl in town over Sunday. William C. Hehle Esq., was a business visitor to Lock Haven on Saturday. Edward K. Rhoads and sister, Miss Rebecca, spent the Sabbath with friends in Lock Haven. Miles Heaton and daughter, Lucretia, of Yarnell, visited friends in Bellefonte on Saturday. Our state road is a worse nuisance than the High Street bridge. Both need an explanation—are they "justified"? Mrs. John P. Harris and Mrs. Frank Warfield were guests at the home of Mrs. Letitia R. Harris, at Mill Hall, last week. Singleton Bell, one of Clearfield's leading attorneys, transacted business in Bellefonte on Wednesday of last week. Lieut. Richard Taylor, of Huntingdon, was an arrival in Bellefonte on Saturday to spend the Sabbath with his family. Dr. Coburn Rodgers has purchased a Model T Ford to use in his practice, and will dispose of his horse, buggy and harness. Rev. J. F. Kelly, formerly pastor of Runville U. B. church, was a business visitor in town for a few days. He is now located at Lonet, Pa. Rev. D. J. Davis, of Williamsport, left on the 1:25 train on Tuesday for his home after a brief visit with Rev. C. W. Winey, at the U. B. parsonage. Miss Snyder wishes to announce to her patrons that she will have on display, Friday, the 5th, exclusive models in hats and toques; also the Platts hat. The General Arthur 5-cent cigar is sold by Barber Beck. He is the only dealer who handles this famous cigar in Bellefonte. You can't buy a better cigar for the money. Miss Daisy Barnes was the guest of Mrs. J. H. Mitchell, of Tyrone, on Friday and Saturday of last week. She also attended the assembly in Prunier's hall on Friday evening at that place. John Bentley, of Pittsburg, was an arrival at Curtin on Saturday to visit his daughter, Mrs. Scott Rippey, who has been recuperating at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Edward Harper. On Tuesday Mrs. Ella Saxon moved with her family of four children to Birmingham, near Tyrone. The Saxons family for a great many years have resided in Spring Creek and will leave a host of friends who are loath to see them depart. Last Thursday H. H. Bradley moved his family and household goods from Valleyview to near the McCoy and Linn Iron works, below Bellefonte. On Sunday Bradley departed for Orviston to accept a position in the brick works. The Yeager Swing Co. shipped a carload of swings over the Bellefonte Central on Monday. The time for these articles of comfort is now at hand, and we would like to see Yeager swing has become a very popular piece of furniture. W. G. Runkle, Esq., has been confined to his room, at Philip Beezer's home, the past week, from an attack of grip and other complications. He is quite better today, but is reported as having improved. A telegram from Portsmouth, Va., on Monday, stated that Lieut. Trude Bidwell was ill with typhoid fever, in the hospital. His sister, Miss Julia Bidwell, who was here on a visit to her parents, the past few weeks, left on Tuesday to look after her brother during his illness. W. E. Keller, of Madisonsburg, was a business caller at the Democrat office on Saturday, and informed there are a number of sick horses in that section of the county which naturally inconvenience a great many farmers. The disease resembles somewhat the troublesome human ailment, gripe. W. Francis Spear resigned his position as associate editor with the Bellefonte Republican and has attracted attention to his canvass as a candidate for the democratic nomination for Recorder. He hopes to get about the county during the coming summer and will make an effort to see his many friends. He would like to receive to see him land the nomination. Boyd Spicher, on R. F. D. No. 2 from Bellefonte, purchased a Ford runabout which he will use instead of horse and buggy. In this way, he can deliver the mail in half the time, and about as cheaply as by conveyance. In many places little auto have been used to good advantage on R. F. D. mail routes. The automobile certainly is becoming a practical thing, these days. Robert J. Klinger, who for some years was one of the obliging and efficient clerks in the store of R. P. Miller & Son, has located in Lock Haven where he will go into business for himself this spring. His pleasing manner and courteous treatment won for him the lasting friendship of the patrons of that firm. While there he gained a thorough knowledge of the grocery business, and it is a safe bet for him in his new venture and his many friends wish it may be his unmeasured quantities. Landlord R. R. Randolph, of Pine Grove Mills, was in town the past week and paid us a short call. He has an optimistic view for that section, as he believes that the recent survey by civil engineers through the Seven mountains in that section means an extension of the Broad Top R. R. from Huntingdon to connect with the Bellefonte Central and the C. R. R. of Pa. at Mill Hall, which would give them a through route to the seaboard to ship coal from the Bedford and Somerset regions. It sounds plausible and hope it may come true. Last Friday if you should have asked Herman Miller, of this place, what event in his life the day brought to mind he would have told you that just forty-six years ago he stepped from the famous Andersonville prison where he had been incarcerated as a prisoner of war. Mr. Miller is one of Bellefonte's best citizens and a Civil War veteran, having entered the service when a very young man. Unfortunately he was captured and placed in that vile pen, which was many times more dangerous than the shot and shell of the enemy. At the time of his release Mr. Miller was a mere skeleton of his former self, and considerably broken down in health.

Miss Belle Kriger departed on Wednesday for her home in Williamsport. Jacob Marks was able to leave the hospital this week from his long sojourn with appendicitis. Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Morris were the guests of Tyrone friends on Thursday of last week. Recorder John C. Rowe, was housed up the past week with a bad attack of neuralgia. He is out of bed but not able to be about. Will Longwell, of Gassaway, W. Va., arrived in town on Wednesday noon to visit his mother, who has been seriously ill and underwent an operation. John Steininger, who was a foreman on the Middleburg, Pa., Post some years ago, spent over Sunday in Bellefonte as the guest of Editor Harter. Monday's storm was not as severe in Bellefonte and vicinity as in some outlying districts where much harm was done to buildings, trees, etc. Miss May Sellers, after a few days' visit in Milesburg and Bellefonte, left on Wednesday morning to visit her brother, Thomas Sellers, of Akron, Ohio. Contractor Taylor has his men and teams grading the new road in Union cemetery. We think he should first complete his state road through the heart of Bellefonte. Ralph Cole, an employee of the electric light plant, had the misfortune to fall and break his left wrist last Friday and in consequence is under treatment and tied up in bandages. Miss Vera Brown, of Freeburg, is expected to arrive in Bellefonte this week to spend a short time with her sister, Mrs. Rev. Winey, at the United Brethren parsonage on West High street. On Monday Mrs. Harriet Hart, of Bishop street, received a telephone message from Bloomsburg, stating that her sister, Mrs. Jane Bluet, of that place, had suffered a paralytic stroke and was in a serious condition. The Epworth League of the M. E. church will give a musical at the church on Thursday evening, May 11, at 8 o'clock. Admission will be 15 cents. Ice cream and cake will also be served afterwards at the usual prices. This week work was commenced in the Union cemetery by Kniskern & Rhodes, contractors, for the foundation of a mausoleum on the P. Gray Meek family plot. The superstructure will be of marble and will be furnished by J. Will Mays, of Howard. The engagement of Miss Florence Gebert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gebert, to Mr. Arthur Casper, son of Titusville, has been announced, the wedding to take place about the middle of September. Miss Gebert is a very pretty and popular young lady of this place and for a number of years has been employed at Coe's bakery. Tuesday morning Harry J. Goss, who recently resigned his position as head mechanic at Beezer's garage to go to Williamsport, had his arm broken while at work in the Keeler garage at that place. Mr. Goss was cranking one of the cars when the "ricked", and as the result, the blow on his arm, breaking that useful member. Don't forget the Academy minstrel and the Bellefonte dramatic entertainment tomorrow and Saturday evenings in German hall. The young men of the town will be in the cast of "Mrs. Flynn's Lodgers," and it promises to be one of the funniest and liveliest skits ever pulled off at Parrish's drug store. Two good games of base ball are scheduled for Bellefonte this week, the first on Friday afternoon when Bloomsburg Normal will be here to cross bats with the Academy; and the next afternoon (Saturday) Williamsport High School will come up for conclusions with the Academy boys. Games will be called at 3 o'clock, and every one who can possibly find the time should be there. Mrs. Anna M. Longwell, mother of Miss Elizabeth Longwell, underwent a successful operation for gall stones on Saturday afternoon last, at her home on North Spring street. Dr. Locke and Selbert were the attending physicians and during the operation forty-seven gall stones were removed. We are glad to state that the patient is getting along very nicely, and will recover as rapidly as the nature of the case will permit. Dr. Rachel Benn, a returned missionary from North China, will give a talk in the Methodist church this Thursday evening at 7:30, to which everyone is cordially invited to hear. Dr. Benn was in China at the time of the great famine and is fully able to describe the horrors of that campaign, as well as tell of the famine which is now claiming so many victims. No admission will be charged but a collection will be lifted. Hon. John T. McCormick, of State College, is getting up a big roast-chicken and warm bluet supper, for Friday evening at that place, and on Wednesday telephoned us to come up and bring all the friends of the Centre Democrat along, as it would be the event of the season. Remember, everybody is invited to come and enjoy themselves. The supper will be served by the ladies of the Lutheran church, and they are said to be the cleverest cooks in all that land. Last week Miss Bertha Mewshaw, arrived here from the Mt. Alto sanitarium where she had been the past winter, taking treatment for tuberculosis. Her condition while at the sanitarium did not materially improve, so it was thought best by her friends to have her brought to Bellefonte where she could be given personal care in the hope of staying the ravages of the ailment. Her sister, Miss Peck Mewshaw, will make it her duty to look after the invalid, and help to bring back the fleeting health, and they will stay for a while at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Osman, on Thomas street.

On another page of this issue will be found an account of the fourth annual reunion of the Fifth regiment, held at Clearfield last week. Before they departed for the meeting, we learned from some of the Bellefonte members that they intended to make a strenuous effort to have the next reunion come to Bellefonte. And so it turned out. At the business meeting held during the day, George Eberhart made the announcement that Bellefonte would like to have the next reunion, and this was followed by Col. H. S. Taylor, who therein he told why it should come to the home of Company B next year. The local members of the organization are enthused with the idea, and while the time is yet a great ways off, it is proposed to make it one of the most successful in the history of the regiment. Col. H. S. Taylor was a Tyrone visitor on Monday. Samuel Bryant, the cornet virtuoso and all-around musician, spent Sunday in Bellefonte. Eugene Muchman, of Pittsburg, a former resident of this place, was greeting friends here for a short time last week. Years ago, when the Standard scale works flourished in Bellefonte, Mr. Muchman was the superintendent, and a finer mechanic in his line never worked at a business. Later, when the manufacturing of the scales was transferred to Beaver Falls, Mr. Muchman, Mr. Mo Beaver Falls, Mr. Motchman moved to that place with his family, where he was located for a while, and then moved later to Pittsburg, still keeping up his connection with the scale company. Since leaving Bellefonte he has received different promotions, and is regarded as one of the most valuable employees of the company.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Knotty Problems For Our Boro Dads To Solve. Surely Council's evil star floated over the public building on Monday night when the body met to discuss the borough's business, as they were certainly handed a bunch of hard problems to crack. First, H. S. Ray, proprietor of the Brockerhoff House, was present, and had he decided to move his hotel building and been present to ask council where he could conveniently place it, he could not have caused greater consternation and more perplexity than the problem he put up to them at this meeting. Some say he is waiting for something if our council would amount to anything, such a condition would never have arisen nor would it have been tolerated thus far. It is due our people to have an explanation why this delay, and what assurances there are of this road being completed this summer. Make it your business to interview every councilman every time you see one and listen to their "fairly tales." MILESBURG. Anyone wanting garden dug will please give Isaac Murray a call, as he is an expert in that business. Roll Bryan, an employee at the P. R. L. shops at Altoona, was a Sunday visitor in the burg, and a careful examination was made, the remains were turned over to undertaker Frank Wetzler and prepared for burial, after which they were taken to his late home at Runville. Mr. Alkey has added a new chair to his shop and is now ready for a rushing business; arrangements will be made in the near future to keep the shop open in day time. ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure The official Government tests show Royal Baking Powder to be an absolutely pure and healthful grape cream of tartar baking powder, and care should be taken to prevent the substitution of any other brand in its place. With no other agent can biscuit, cake and hot-breads be made so pure, healthful and delicious. Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price per pound, and is cheaper and better at its price than any other baking powder in the world. It makes pure, clean, healthful food. Royal Cook Book—800 Receipts—Free. Send Name and Address. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

pletion of this abominable nuisance, every time he is approached, and has repeatedly done so. Since mild weather is here contractor Taylor has been attending to other work, but he is waiting for something if our council would amount to anything, such a condition would never have arisen nor would it have been tolerated thus far. It is due our people to have an explanation why this delay, and what assurances there are of this road being completed this summer.
