HOWARD.

"Such as thy words are, such with thy action taken, be esteemed; and such will thy deeds as thy affections, and such thy life as thy deeds."—Socrates.

In Our Churches Next Sabbath.

Reformed—No services because of meeting of classes at Centre Hall.
Methodist Episcopal—Rev. R. S. Taylor will preach the annual sermon to the local lodge of the I. O. O. F., in Howard at 10:30 in the morning; the regular service at Kennedy at half past two, and Curtin at half past seven, and at both these places Holy Communion will be administered.
Christian Scientists—Service at the home of Mrs. Thomas Mann at ten o'clock.

Meeting of Council.

The council met as usual, with President Schenck in the chair. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved without change. The street committee reported that some of the parties who had been notified to repair old, or build new sidewalks, had complied and others had failed to take any steps toward compliance. A resolution was promptly passed directing the street committee to give these latter two days' notice. The nuisance committee reported some difficulty with offensive cesspools in the upper part of the town. The subject was discussed at considerable length but no action taken. Bills to the amount of $14.39 approved and ordered paid. The final settlement of the street tax duplicate, with collector J. L. Holter, showed a balance due the borough of $256. Squire Holter gave a check for this amount, closing out that levy. This was the final balance on old duplicates, and as no street tax was laid last year, there is not now a single penny outstanding, and the street fund has a balance in the treasury, without a dollar of claim against it, of $242.88. The water rent is also collected up to the close of our fiscal year, April 1, clean, and the balance in the treasury in that account, with no claims against it, is $1425.60. The total expenses of the poor district for the year was $310.30. Every obligation has been met, there is not a dollar of claim against it, and the auditors' settlement credits it with $407.81 in the treasury, and $299.91 in the hands of the collector, or a total fund of $707.72 to begin the new year with. Of course the school account has not yet been audited, but no doubt the showing of that department of our municipal government will be quite as satisfactory. How does that showing for careful financial management compare with those made by Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Bellefonte and other great centers of financing?

Teachers' Training School.

As an outcome of the address upon Sunday school work delivered a week or two ago by Miss Robinson, a meeting was held in the Sunday school room of the Reformed church last Thursday evening, attended by representatives from all the churches of the town, at which a training course for Sunday school teachers was launched. An organization was formed by electing Mrs. E. F. Faust president, Mrs. T. A. Fletcher secretary, treasurer, and Rev. E. F. Faust teacher. A course of fifty lessons for the year, divided into five groups of ten lessons each was laid out, and weekly meetings, on Tuesday evenings, arranged for. This is a union movement, in which all denominations are concerned, and it is the purpose to have the meetings in all the churches from time to time, and that the several pastors shall divide the teaching among themselves, by groups. It is another evidence of the growing unity and fellowship in the denominations in our community, and bodes well for the advance of christian work.

An Aged Citizen Gone.

On Tuesday morning of last week Mrs. Comer, who was born in Bellefonte over eighty years ago, as Elizabeth Lloyd, passed away, after a ten-day illness. Because of injuries received in her life, Mrs. Comer had been a confirmed invalid for many years, and her life was spent almost entirely indoors. Her amiability and kindness had greatly endeared her to the family of her daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Wyland, with whom she had long made her home, and from which she is greatly missed.

A Pleasing Entertainment is booked for the evening of Friday, May 19th, in the Reformed church, when Miss Edith Alice Reid will give one of her delightful readings. Miss Reid holds the position of head of the Department of Public Speaking at the Normal School in Lock Haven, and at a former entertainment, given in the Methodist church, some months ago, demonstrated her power to captivate a critical audience. This pleasant affair will be given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, and the proceeds will go to help pay the obligation they assumed for the building of their church.

A Near Catastrophe.

On Saturday afternoon, just at the moment train No. 55 was due, two teams, one on either side of the track, endeavored to cross. One was halted at a safe, though very short distance, but the other, a carriage with a driver and two passengers in the rear seat, was saved only by the nerve of Watchman Schnarke, who seized the horses by the bits and turned them up the track in time for the train to pass by them instead of over them. The escape was narrow enough to send shivers through some of the bystanders.

The Regular Meeting of our local ministerium was held last Monday at the home of the Blanche member, Rev. W. H. Patterson. Perhaps the most important work done was the arrangement for a celebration of the Ter-centenary of the King James version of the Bible in the M. E. church of this place in the evening of Sabbath, July 8. All of the ministers of the town will be present and take part. A complete program will be published in due time.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henderson are looking around among old friends here.

Miss Tobias, of Mackeyville, was a last week guest in the family of Joseph D. Diehl.

Among many improvements in town not the least is the new roof which William Wilson has put on his barn.

Jackson Kline has secured the agency for this neighborhood, of a new auto, known as the "Cameron," and the twenty-four horse-power touring car with which he is now demonstrating makes a good showing.

Mrs. William G. Commerford, with her little grandchildren, has opened her summer house here for the season.
Mrs. H. G. Williams and her friend, Mrs. John Spangler, were Saturday visitors at the home of I. R. Williams.

Bower Holter, the versatile and amiable "local" of the Bellefonte Republican, was a guest at his old home on Saturday.

"Billy" Loder caught his left hand in a snatch block with which he was working last week, and badly crushed the first and second fingers. They will probably be as serviceable as ever when healed.

Clair Confer's pet hen celebrated May day by bringing off her nest fifteen lively and bright peeps, just one hundred per cent. efficiency, for he had placed only fifteen eggs in her charge. Well done for so early in the season.

Rev. Owen Hicks, a former pastor of the M. E. church here, now stationed at DuBoistown, and Mrs. Hicks, who was Miss Clara Kline, of this place, visited Mrs. Hicks' parents, Squire Samuel F. Kline and wife, last week.

For about twenty-four hours last week one of our telephone lines was out of commission, much to the inconvenience of several subscribers. On investigation by William Knarr, the "trouble hunter" of this section, an old garden hose was found twisted up in the double line. It would not seem much too strong to call that malicious mischief.

On Friday last as Frederic Schenck was getting ice out of the ice house, he lifted his pick high and struck hard. As he brought it down he caught it in a fish hook attached to a line which had been stowed away above him, and sunk the hook so deeply that it required the surgical skill of Dr. Kurtz to take it out, and Mr. Schenck will do all his work with his left hand for a few weeks to come.

Squire Samuel F. Kline and wife, George A. Jacobs and wife and Peter Robb and wife are among the oldest of our citizens, and it is a great pleasure to see these aged couples, with their smiling faces which betoken fair health and peace of mind, going about their daily affairs, in their gardens and on the streets, much as they did ten or even twenty years ago. May their days be many and serene.

Howard W. Fletcher, one of our active boys of not long ago, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Fletcher, was at home last week, spending a portion of his vacation with his parents. Mr. Fletcher began his railway life as an understudy of the Cook family, in the telegraph and freight office here, and now holds the very responsible position of train director at the Manhattan Transfer, seven miles out of New York. This is the point at which the Pennsylvania trains leave the main track for the new tracks which lead to and through the great tunnel passing under the river and the bridge, at which steam power is dropped and the electric locomotive is coupled on. It can be easily understood that the position is a responsible and exacting one.

Mr. Lantz, an attorney of Lewisburg, paid a professional visit to Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Fletcher, and found time to look about our little burg to some extent. In meeting with some of our prominent citizens afterward he took occasion to speak with considerable enthusiasm of the excellent condition in which he found our streets, sidewalks, water works, finances, and indeed all our public utilities, and make a comparison between our town and some others within his knowledge, which appealed to our civic pride. Why should we not have a "Civic Improvement Association" here, and do some carefully planned and very inexpensive work as a municipality, in the way of still further cleaning up and really beautifying our already clean and beautiful town? Here's something worth while for our women's clubs' hard thinking.

UNIONVILLE.

Rev. E. L. Kiffer, of New Castle, formerly located here, visited friends in this vicinity for several weeks. Mr. Kiffer has many warm admirers on this charge and being desirous to keep in touch with them, became a subscriber to the Centre Democrat. That was correct, brother, you will be sure to be enlightened of all that's doing here in the "Items".
The bright little boy of Toner Irwin's, who, for several weeks was critically ill with typhoid fever, is now believed to be out of danger.

Dr. W. U. Irwin, notwithstanding his sports a new automobile, having disposed of his old one, continues to be as polite and courteous as though he was still driving the old one-horse shay.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Stine, of Hunter's Park, were pleasant visitors to friends in town on last Saturday. Dan was one of our brave veterans of the Civil War, and is now receiving a well-earned pension.

The champion hen of record is owned by handloom Wm. A. Fox. On Saturday in the hen fruit a few days ago he actually found a railroad ticket "good for one passage from Unionville to Tyrone," in the nest of an old dominick hen. No one can account for its being in the nest if the old birdy didn't lay it.

Boss Fenrose, of Stormstown, better known as the Hon. Cy. Hunter, was a pleasant business caller in town on Saturday.
Order your supply of milk from James McDonnell. He guarantees that it contains no benzoin of soda, but is strictly pure.

Another birthday postal shower struck this town on last Friday, its objective point being the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Parsons, and was given in honor of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Parsons' mother, Mrs. Kate Stover, as she is best known—125 personal friends remembered her with best wishes. Mrs. Stover has been an invalid for several years and the reception of so many cards fraught with good wishes made her heart glad.

Prof. J. C. Fox, while off on a fishing expedition on a small stream up at Julian, succeeded in hooking 10 nice trout—all above 6 inches and none over 21 inches.
Bert Winters, a jolly young man of Lock Haven, is visiting his host of friends in this place. Bert has been here several weeks and it is our opinion that Dan Cupid has been flirting with him. Well, Bert you will find no finer girls anywhere than this town contains.

Miss Marie Lucas, the pretty, vivacious daughter of Walter W. Lucas, of Viaduct, is a pupil in the select school now in session taught by Prof. Fox. She is domiciled with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lucas, at Dix Run.
A large bald eagle, the emblem of American politics, was seen flying over the city of Julian a few days ago. He was in search of a candidate for president of the United States in 1912, and was heading for Trenton, N. J., and the letters "W. W." were plainly visible on his wings. This is the chargeable to Pat McDonnell and Jac Fox.

Oh, gee! Here's another champion hen. This one is owned by Mrs. Mary Smith, of Masden, Lycoming county. She hatched out 15 little peeps—bunch-bright, she did. She has Billy Parsons' incubator beaten to a frazzle.
J. H. Cadwallader, of Braddock, visited his sister, Miss Carrie, over Sunday. Come, Johnny, it is time you were finding your "affinity".

The junior choir of the M. E. church furnished the music at the services on last Sunday and they certainly deserved the commendations of the congregation they so justly received, for their singing was fine.

Harry Lindemuth has taken possession of the iron works on Monday morning and now he sings the song of "The Village Blacksmith" from morning till night.

"Hat Catches Fire;

Pastor Saves Her.
Bloomsburg, Pa., April 29.—Quick action this evening by the Rev. Victor L. Wagner, the newly appointed pastor of the Rupert Methodist church, saved Mrs. I. M. Bietz, of Rupert, from being frightfully burned, when her hat caught fire as she leaned over a lamp for the purpose of turning down the wick. Her cries brought the Rev. Mr. Wagner who happened to be calling at the time, to the scene. He pulled out the hat, but failed to succeed in releasing her. Other than having her hair burned off, she escaped injury.

The foregoing was taken from the Daily North American of April 22. The Rev. Wagner, until recently a citizen of this place and is a son-in-law of Merchant John C. Stere. Brother Wagner starts out well in his chosen profession in as much as he has already snatched one person "as a brand from the burning."
Roy Calhoun thinks he will move into the horrid zone, I mean torrid zone, in the near future. On Tuesday, May 3rd, mind you, he was plowing corn ground, wearing heavy mittens and a long heavy overcoat. Though plaguey sparrows will carry news, Roy.

Mrs. Amanda Moran wishes everybody to know that she will open the ice cream season on next Saturday evening in Grange Hall, which will be open to the public every Saturday evening during the season.
Mrs. A. I. Hazel also wishes it known that she, too, will open her ice cream parlors on next Saturday evening and will be prepared to furnish ice cream at any time during the season. Her parlors will be open every Saturday evening sure.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bumgardner, of State College, were visitors at the home of the latter's brother, T. A. Holderman, on Saturday and Sunday. There is nothing that commands so favorable comment from strangers visiting a town as to see clean streets and alleys, nice pavements and a generally cleaned up town. This, we are glad to say, is now being done by our progressive citizens and housewives. All over town the work of repairing and cleaning up is progressing. Geo. Holt is putting a new fence around his lot and intends putting down a concrete pavement in the rear future. Johnnie Store, Miss Harriet Turner, W. A. Peters, Mrs. Margaret Brugger, Dr. E. A. Russell and perhaps others will keep pace with the times by putting concrete walks in front of their residences. Mrs. Carry Rowan gave her front yard and street lawn a thorough sweeping. The lawn mower already is in evidence. Notwithstanding all this the trees are preparing to "leave." Oh Gee! Come and see us on Decoration day.

MR. EAGLE.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Diets spent Sunday at the home of Amon Gramley, at Coleville.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Lucas and daughter, Nina, of Clearfield, visited at the home of S. B. Leathers over Sunday.
Mrs. J. S. Leathers visited her sister, Mrs. Lott Neff, at Curtin recently.
Geo. Robison, of Snow Shoe, moved into our burg last week.

William Gates and Doll Leathers spent Sunday at Thomas Poorman's at Mifflensburg.

Ether Woomer, who is going to school at Eagleville, spent Sunday with Belle Leathers, at this place.
Mrs. Amon Gramley was a visitor in our town last week.

Manning Casaberry, of Altoona, visited a few days with his father-in-law, Foster Beatty.
James Wensel and Cleveland Packer of Pleasant Valley, visited at Irvin Robinson's Sunday.

William Bower, of Altoona, visited at Mrs. B. Leathers a few days last week.
Myrtle Robison, of Curtin, spent Sunday at home.

MARRIAGES.

Kramer—Donley.
On Monday afternoon Mr. George G. Kramer, of Clearfield, and Miss Anna Mary Donley, of Julian, were married at the parsonage of the United Brethren church in this place, by the pastor, Rev. C. W. Winey. The young couple have the best wishes of their friends for a long and happily wedded life.

Welford—Dorman.
Mr. Amos Welford, of Mill Hall, and Miss Amanda R. Dorman, of Nittany, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony on Saturday afternoon, April 29th, 1911, at the United Evangelical parsonage by Rev. J. F. Hower. The bride is well known in Bellefonte and has many friends who extend their best wishes for a happily wedded life.

Yeager—Bathurst.
William Yeager, of West Virginia, formerly of Curtin, and Miss Mabel Bathurst, of Curtin, were united in marriage on Wednesday, April 26th, at 10 a. m., by Rev. L. C. Shearer, pastor of the United Evangelical church. The happy couple will make their residence in West Virginia, and will carry with them the community's best wishes for a long and happy life.

Hobbs—Fisher.
The following related marriage notice was sent us this week for publication: Mr. Joseph Roy Hobbs, of Lawrenceville Md., and Miss Annie B. Fisher were married at that place, July 27, 1909. Miss Fisher formerly lived in Bellefonte, and left here March 25, 1908 and is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Fisher, of Tyrone. The groom is a prominent contractor and builder, who is associated with his father in business, and is a descendant of one of the old-time families of Maryland. The wedding was a prominent social event and was attended by many guests from a distance.

Fasio—Mothersbaugh.
On Saturday evening, April 22, Henry Fasio, of Bellefonte, and Miss Emma Mothersbaugh, of Gardner Station, were united in marriage at the United Brethren parsonage in Tyrone, by the pastor, Rev. T. P. Orner. The groom has returned with his bride to Bellefonte and they have gone to housekeeping in the McClain block, where the groom had rooms already furnished. May they enjoy a long and prosperous wedded life is the wish of their many friends.

Confer—Mapes.

Miss Laura M. Mapes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Mapes, of Beach Creek township, and Berton J. Confer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cline Q. Confer, of Liberty township, were married in the parsonage of the Presbyterian church in Mill Hall by the pastor Rev. Bateman, Ph. D., at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The bride and groom were attended during the ceremony by Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Mapes, Mr. Mapes being the bride's brother. A few months ago Mr. Confer and his bride accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Mapes to Mill Hall and attended them when they were married by Dr. Bateman. The arrangements in this event were the same, only the two couples exchanged positions in the last ceremony. Immediately after the nuptial knot was tied, the four happy young people returned to the home of the bride's parents where an elegant 6 o'clock dinner was awaiting them, and a most pleasant family affair socially resulted. They went to housekeeping on Monday in the Quay homestead near the Quay school house in Beach Creek township.
