The constitution provides that no "public officer" can have his salary in-creased during the term for which he shall have been elected. When the judges last had their pay raised, during the Pennypacker administration a test case was brought to restrain the state treasurer from giving the increases to judges then in office, on the ground that they were public officers. The courts then decided that judges were not "public officers" coming un-der the constitutional inhibition.

THE DEMOCRATIC PROGRAM.

cratic party, as represented by its real leaders in State and nation, was admirably stated by Governor Woodrow the Pewter Platter Club, of Norfolk, Virginia, on Saturday evening.

Responsible business and representative government, he said, is the program and it will be carried out, item by item, by men of courage and understanding. We are living in an age of reconstruction, calling for high gifts which they long ago surrendered, and and men of indomitable courage; an and men of indomitable courage, an never since have attempted to exerage as critical, perhaps, as that in which our government was set up, and we shall meet its tasks as deliberately and as successfully. It does not represent a revolution-ary temper or state of mind. Its purpose is, not to upset things, but to set them right. It is not impatient of ex-isting constitutional safeguards. It holds no brief against any essential in stitution. On the contrary, its object is to restore them to their first purpose and simplicity, to purify them, to recover their spirit of a new age of human life and endeavor. The pa-triotism of the progressive, the liberal, is the patriotism that restores, reconstructs, revives,

He labored with them night and day and he warned them that the people were aroused and would not accept any compromise. THE SPLIT LOG DRAG.

In relation to the King drag and the builder recently said before an Iowa farmers' institute:

"The road drag is the only implement yet invented which, at a moderate expense, enables us to keep the roads smoothed up so that the water will run off of them. A road that is regularly dragged becomes hard. If a road is built with a drag, it is hard from ton to better. from top to bottom. The drag is one of the best road builders, and it builds the road right. You drag in a little dirt each time, the travel packs it down. In a little while your road is crowned up and you have the three essentials to a perfect dirt road; you have convexity, hardness and smooth ness. The grade is hard from top to bottom. A heavy rain on this kind of a road will, flow off immediately. drizzling, continuous, light rain of day or two will make some mud. the road drag is used, however, as soon as it dries off, very little water will find entrance into the road bed, to come out as frost. The reason roads break up to the spring is because they have been so managed that the water sinks down into them through ruts, and otherwise, and freezes, and hence breaks up the surface of the road bed, when, as we say, "the frost goes
