

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Next Thursday will be show day in Bellefonte. Miss Alice Wilson is spending a short period at Atlantic City. Last Saturday Clayt. Brown landed a 20-inch brown trout near Axeman. It was a fine one. Ellis Shaffer, the genial Ward House clerk at Tyrone, was a visitor in town on Wednesday. J. J. Lejeal, the piano tuner, is now in Bellefonte, and will answer calls in his line of business. Next Thursday you should come to town and see the elephant with the famous Haag Shows. Mrs. D. G. Bush and daughter, Mrs. Callaway, leave on Monday for a month's trip to Atlantic City. Miss Emma Weber, of Howard, was a half-day guest of Mrs. T. Clayton Brown, on Wednesday. Claire Minnemyer, of Johnstown, is a guest of his brother Warren and family at Coleville this week. The dedication of the remodeled court house will take place on this coming Friday forenoon, at 10:30 o'clock. Mrs. Chas. Donachy and children, of Williamsport, spent Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shuey. Mr. and Mrs. C. U. Hoffer, of Phillipsburg, arrived in town this week and are guests at the Gerberich home on Thomas street. Mrs. Julius Foble, of Tyrone, formerly Miss Emma Saylor, is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Saylor, on Beaver street. An enjoyable party, in which dancing was a prominent feature, was held at Oscar McMullen's at Pleasant View last Thursday evening. Refreshments were served during the evening, and every one present thoroughly enjoyed the occasion. Last week contractor Bert Taylor commenced work on his state road in Bellefonte and in consequence everybody is more than glad if he will only go to it with his usual vigor, the highway will be completed in short order. Bert is a hustler when he gets started. J. J. Lejeal, the famous piano tuner, of Erie, Pa., is now in Bellefonte and will be ready to await on all who may have any instruments that need the attention of a man who has had years of experience in this line. Orders can be left at Philip Beeners home, or at the Brockerhoff House. Today A. P. Zerby, father of W. D. Zerby, Esq., of this place, departed for Big Rock, Ill., where he will remain and visit relatives and friends until September. There are a number of people from Centre county in that section of the west, who will be glad to greet Mr. Zerby upon his arrival. Mrs. John Olewine, accompanied by Miss Adelaide and son Harris, expect to leave next week for an extended trip to Washington and other places in Asheville, North Carolina, where they will visit at the home of Miss Botford, Mrs. Olewine's brother, Miss Adelaide will only go as far as Washington. Moses Clark, one of the skilled veterinarians of the old school, and who at one time successfully practiced his profession throughout Centre county, departed for his home at Pottery Mills on Wednesday, after a few weeks visit at the home of his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Chambers, at Bebons. The annual sermon to the members of Greek Post of Bellefonte, will be delivered by Dr. Ambrose Schmidt, in the Reformed church at this place, on Sunday morning, May 21st. The Memorial Day address will be delivered by Rev. Youm, of the Methodist church, in the court house, immediately after the exercises in the Union cemetery. Percy Blackford, of New Castle, Pa., brother of C. H. Blackford and Lin Blackford with his two fine looking boys, is visiting his mother and brothers in this place at present. Some years ago, when a resident of Bellefonte, Percy was one of our expert hunters and anglers, and no doubt he will recall a few of the streams before returning to his home. Jacob Marks, who underwent an operation for appendicitis in the Bellefonte Hospital last winter and was recently released from that institution, started for Atlantic City last Thursday. While in Philadelphia he was in distress and from the St. Joseph hospital where they located a small puss sack near the wound and it was drained. This is considered a mere incident to the operation. Joseph Shaughnessy, who has been a member of the State Constabulary for several years past, has been visiting at his parents' home in Bellefonte, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Shaughnessy, on Howard street. The young man was recently detailed with a companion to look after the territory in and about Orviston, Pa., and finds that he has some work to do among the natives who are employed in and about that place. Wednesday noon Mr. and Mrs. Henry Muser, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. G. H. Woods, of Pine Grove Mills, left for an outing of a week or more. They will go direct to Washington where they will put in some time sightseeing and will take in other points on the coming home by the way of Philadelphia. Mr. Muser says he is going along in the capacity of a guide, as he was over that section frequently during the war and since then. For his services on this trip he expects to have all his personal expenses paid by the rest of the party. Andy McNitt, the capitalist and lumberman, after long deliberation and meditation, succumbed to the automobile in the past week and purchased a car from Geo. Beezer that will take him a flying over the hills and vales and from his various lumber operations. If anyone had need for a car this man McNitt certainly was the one, and now he will realize how much fun he has missed in the years that are gone by when he sat on the fence and smelted the other fellow's gasoline. Andy is a little slow in some other matters, that need not be thrown up to him in print. About two months ago John D. Sourbeck took his son Harris to a private sanitarium near Philadelphia, where it was thought the massage and electrical treatment of specialists would induce a return of the young man's health. The best of medical skill has failed, however, and later another complication has developed in the form of gallstones, which in the young man's weakened condition, it would be impossible to remove by operation. Under these circumstances it was thought advisable to have him removed to his home, and on Wednesday he was brought to Bellefonte, having been accompanied on the journey by his mother. Everything possible was arranged for his comfort during the trip, and he withstood the trying ordeal very well. While there is life there is hope, and in this case the many friends of the unfortunate young man earnestly desire to see at least a partial return of his once good health.

Arthur Brozer spent Sunday with friends in Williamsport. W. Harrison Walker, Esq., sports a new Ford runabout of latest model. Miss Maline Ceaders, who has been ill for some time has not improved much in the past week and is confined to her room. The southern end of the double brick house on Spring street owned by Albert Schuch has been leased by Russel Blair and he and his wife will occupy it in a short time. Mrs. Boyd Musser, and children, of Altoona, came down from that city on Wednesday for a visit with her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Musser, on Lamb street. We are glad to learn that John Sourbeck, Jr., has fully recovered from the accident to his eyes while at work in the steel works at Burnham, and that he has once more resumed his position. Supervisor Geo. W. Fisher, of Moshannon, has been on duty in Bellefonte and told of some fierce mountain fires in that section recently, that required heroic work to control so as to save valuable timber and buildings. Last Saturday Bellefonte Academy team was defeated by Lock Haven Normal school in a basketball game, played out of the affair with about as many honors as Lock Haven, considering that the home team were up against Forsythe, a professional pitcher. The new waste receptacle recently placed on the "diamond" by council is being liberally used, as it is frequently noticed filled to capacity with old paper, banana peels, etc., all of which otherwise would have been scattered along the sidewalks. There is need of more such garbage collectors. Rev. Schmidt, Mr. A. Lukenbach, and Howard Struble, of Zion, have gone to Canton, Ohio, to attend the meeting of the General Synod of the Reformed church. They will also attend the Laymen's Missionary convention which meets in the Bellefonte Reformed church next Sunday. Next Thursday morning the mighty Haag Shows will arrive in Bellefonte and pitch their tents for two performances— a noon and an evening. Many persons have been asking where the tents will be located and for the information of those and others who may wish to see the elephant, we will say the ball grounds near the old glass works site, has been selected for the purpose. The lower part of the field only will be used, so as not to cut up the diamond. Tuesday's Lock Haven Express says: "Edward Raymond, son of John Raymond, who has been visiting friends in that city for some time, left on Tuesday morning for the United States army, where he will re-enlist in the United States army. Mr. Raymond has already served three enlistments during the past nine years and likes the army work so well that he decided to be one of Uncle Sam's soldiers for three years more. During his previous service he has seen considerable of the United States." James Noonan and wife on Wednesday instituted proceedings against the Boro of Bellefonte, in the sum of $5,000 for damages Mrs. Noonan sustained by the demolition of her home on the sidewalk in front of Brandman's store, made by the electric light pole for placing a pole. It was one evening last summer that she sustained the fall and suffered for sometime from it. Thus far Mr. Noonan has been successful in his suit, and on Tuesday the club rooms of the Knights of Columbus were the scene of a pretty social event, it being the occasion of a dance given by the Catholic young men of State College to the young ladies of that denomination of Bellefonte. Christ Smith's orchestra furnished the music during the evening for the dancing, and also during the serving of refreshments. The Knights of Columbus of this town have become noted for their excellent social assemblies, and the one held on Tuesday evening was no exception. A large number of guests were present. To those who may pass the Brandman corner on Allegheny and Bishop streets, quite frequently have come the strains of sweet music, and it may be interesting to know that two very talented children are responsible for the strains. They are Edna and Harry Brandman, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brandman, and each has musical talent of unusual quantity. The girl is but thirteen years of age and plays the piano with a skill rarely found in one so tender years, while her brother, the elder by two years, is no less gifted in the manipulation of the violin. They are pleasant and courteous children at all times, and aside from their natural musical ability, are anxious to learn in their various school studies. Owing to the fact of Pittsburg University having cancelled their game with Bellefonte Academy on Friday afternoon, State College reserves have been substituted, which means that some good ball games will be played. The reserves are regarded as the second team of State College, almost equal to the Varsity team, and it goes without saying that the ball game tomorrow afternoon will lose none of its aggressive character. The game will be played on Saturday morning at the Academy will play Bucknell Academy on Hughes field, which promises to be a snappy contest. Turn out and see these games, especially on Friday afternoon, as the spectators will be in a grand court house will all be finished, and you will have no excuse for staying away. Luther Smith, the boss blacksmith at Mallory's shop, has an eccentric hen which for some time has been puzzling the followers of "Henoology" around his neighborhood. This particular hen is a very well behaved and lady-like creature, persisting in laying eggs of all geometrical designs imaginable—sometimes round like a ball, other times of unusual length, while again she may present one in the shape of a squash. Luther has a box of eggs designed by this hen, and it is certainly a curiosity and worth while to see them. He can't account for her strange behavior unless it is because he lives so near the brick school house that she may have picked up some of the lessons in geometrical drawing which are practiced by the scholars in that building. Boys will be boys, and so long as they are such, they will quarrel, notwithstanding all the black eyes and hard bumps which are a part of the fistic game. Last Wednesday evening a crowd of boys, among whom were William Lambert and Joseph Anderson, were indulging in a game of base ball on Quaker Hill, when a discussion arose over the possession of a ball. Like the "Cats of Kilkenny," they fought it out, and during the argument the Anderson boy's mother endeavored to separate the belligerents, with the result that she was struck in the face by the Lambert ball. At a hearing the same evening, before Justice Brown, young Lambert claimed to have not been aware of the fact when the ball hit Mrs. Anderson, but the Squire was compelled to hold him for the costs, along with a reprimand. We might add at this time that the next time any boys squabble before Squire Brown on the charge of fighting, he will deal with them in a decidedly more harsher manner. As we said in the beginning, boys will quarrel and fight, but there is a severe penalty for those who do so, as well as for older ones.

Just five members were seated around the council table on Monday night when that body convened for the transaction of its business. After the minutes had been read and approved, and under the head of verbal communications, Mr. Gerberich arose and informed council that he was back on the same errand as at the meeting two weeks ago in regard to the curb in front of the Curtin property on Allegheny street, where he desires to lay a new sidewalk. He stated that the curb had been re-built, but in such a manner that it was practically as bad as the one it had replaced. It was scaling and peeling off in such proportions that it would soon be rendered worthless; and as he was anxious to put in the pavement, he asked council to see that the difficulty would be made right. This was referred to street committee with power to act. Dr. Brockerhoff was present and stated that he, too, had a pavement to put down in front of and at the north side of the Brockerhoff property, and the street council was going to put more lights along Allegheny street, and he wished to get a proper understanding of the situation before he proceeded with any pavement laying. This brought Mr. MacAvoy, of the electric light company, to his feet, who stated that the company wished to place ten posts along Allegheny street, on which the Tungsten lamp would be used; four of these would be placed on the four corners of Bishop and Allegheny street to take the place of the arc now doing duty at that point. As the Tungsten lamps cost but $15 a year per light, and an arc costs $60 per year, the change would really be economical. However, the street committee on the matter was then dropped and taken up later in the meeting, when council by vote decided to accept the proposition of the four lights in place of the arc, at the intersection of Allegheny and Bishop streets, and also four others—two at the intersection of Pike alley and Allegheny street and two at the intersection of Cherry alley and Allegheny street. This means that a new light will be placed at the intersection of these streets, and the store, Sheffer's store, postoffice, and Joseph's store. H. S. Ray was again present in regard to his plea of refuse at the rear of the Brockerhoff property, which he wishes to have placed, but can find no dumping ground willing to accept it. No solution of the problem could be figured out Monday night, and to all appearances the street committee is still wrestling with it. A petition signed by about twenty citizens was read asking that a light be placed at the corner of Wilson and High streets, which was granted, council deciding to have two Tungsten lights placed at that section of the town. Borough engineer's report recited of several inventories of borough property being taken; also a number of repairs and improvements on the water lines. Street committee reported laying various crossings and a pipe near Rhoad's coal yard. They also stated that considerable complaint has been made of the pile of old plank, etc., which had been torn from the High street bridge and piled in such a position that it had become a dangerous place for drivers of teams and automobiles who wish to turn the corner and go out South Water street. Several narrow escapes had already been made, and council decided to have it removed. After some discussion as to just who was responsible for this negligence, Borough Solicitor Mitchell decided that it was up to the Street committee, hence, he decided to have the bridge company to notify the said bridge company to have the offending barricade removed. The solicitor also asked that additional provisions of an Act recently passed by the legislature the property owners would be liable for the cost of paving, while under the old law the borough would pay one-third. President Harper asked the solicitor to ascertain the true facts. By all means Allegheny street should be finished with brick paving, as should also Bishop street as far as the Haag House. Street committee was ordered to lay a new concrete walk in front of the Owens property on Howard street, as it has been in a dangerous condition for some time. Borough Treasurer Cheret asked that under the provisions of an Act recently drawn up, to take the place of similar notes falling due; also that orders be drawn for $100 and $55 respectively to pay interest on the old notes. Immense Coal Storage Yards. An immense coal storage yard will be built below Montandon, which is to be the most complete in mechanical equipment of any in the country, by the Lee Coal Company. The large storage plant for handling and storing anthracite coal is the conception of H. Eyer Spkyer, of Lewisburg, and was organized and promoted by him. The company will be financed by Mr. Spkyer along with New York capital. The intention of the company is to build immense coal storage yards, to be equipped with the latest devices known in the mechanical world for handling anthracite coal. The incorporators names in the application for charter are H. Eyer Spkyer, John K. Kremer, both of Lewisburg, and Henry W. Ely, of New York. Mr. Spkyer is president of the corporation. A Man May Slap His Wife. A man is justified in slapping his wife for going through his pockets, in the opinion of Justice Lee, of the Rhode Island superior court. Judge Lee made this ruling in a divorce suit brought by Elizabeth Englan against her husband, John E. The court advised the couple to effect a reconciliation, "and in the meantime," he advised the woman, "don't go through your husband's pockets again. A man is justified in slapping his wife for this. Conference of Messiah's Church. The 52nd Annual Conference of the Messiah's church of the State of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, will convene (D. V.) with the church at Kyertown, Pa., on the evening of Wednesday, May 21st, at 8 p. m. to continue over the following Sunday. All are cordially invited to attend. SAM'L BEREBOLE, Pres. Y. ZEIGLER, Sec'y. New Building For State College. The bill providing $50,000 for the trustees of State College for the erection and equipment of a building and laboratories for milling and testing grain and grain products was passed finally by the Senate at Harrisburg on Wednesday. How much protection does the man who works by the day or week or month get out of the Payne-Adrich bill? And yet he is expected to vote and shout for the S. P. and high protection. He is simply voting money out of his pocket on about all he buys. The average man knows when he has enough. It's the other fellow who doesn't.

WITH THE COUNCIL. Does Not Make Cows Unfit for Milking or For Market. It is not an uncommon thing to hear of cattle in this county having an ailment known as "Lump Jaw" recently by some farmers came to this office to know whether such cattle were in condition to be killed for market and whether the milk from cows thus afflicted was fit for consumption. In order to definitely settle the question an inquiry was made to the "State Live Stock Sanitary Board," Harrisburg, Pa., and to which they sent us the following letter for publication: Harrisburg, Pa., May 16, 1911. Dear Charles R. Kurtz: In reply to your communication of recent date, I would say that "Lump Jaw" known as actinomyces, is caused by an infection of the micro-organisms found on plants. It is not directly communicable from animal to animal or animal to man. In cases where pus escapes that forms in the region of the enlargement, the micro-organisms that cause the disease escape with the pus and will contaminate vegetation and other animals may become infected if such infection is admitted to a wound on the mucous membrane or through the skin or into the blood stream. In reference to the dietary effect of man from drinking milk or eating meat of an animal afflicted with this disease: The danger is very slight except in advanced cases. The disease runs a slow course and usually when the disease is advanced the animal becomes emaciated, and the disease may be found in the tongue, throat, lungs, udder and many of the principle organs of the body. Most inspectors condemn the carcass only when the disease becomes emaciated, or advanced in such a point that the animal shows emaciation. In the milk inspection such animals should be condemned if the disease occurs in the udder or becomes generalized to such an extent that it interferes with eating, or produces emaciation. If proper treatment is begun in the early stages of the disease a cure may be effected. If the disease becomes advanced the animal must be slaughtered and treatment is hopeless. Any further information we can give you in reference to this subject will be gladly offered. Yours truly, C. J. MARSHALL, State Veterinarian. MARRIAGES. Jackson-Holderman. David O. Jackson, of Gilmont, and Miss Ida M. Holderman, of this place, were united in marriage at the parsonage of the United Brethren church, on Wednesday, May 10th, by the pastor, Rev. C. W. Winey. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Holderman, of south Potter street, and is a young lady well and favorably known. Shay-Marks. On May the 6th a very quiet wedding took place at Cumberland, Maryland. The groom, Raymond E. Shay, an enterprising young man, of Tyrone, is employed as a conductor by the Street Car Co. of Altoona. The bride Minnie M. Marks, an accomplished young lady, of Tyrone. The happy couple will reside in Altoona. Cole-McCauley. The many friends of Amos G. Cole, who at one time resided in Bellefonte, will be pleased to learn of his marriage to Miss Catherine McCauley, of Lewisburg, which happy event took place at the home of the bride on Wednesday morning at 7:30. The bride is one of Lewisburg's most estimable young ladies and for some time has been employed as a stenographer for the Gas and Steam Heating company of that place. The groom is employed as a boss in one of the departments at the Standard Steel works at Burnham. After a brief wedding tour they will be at home in Lewisburg. A Home Investment. Why do you go away from home to invest in Building and Loan Association Stocks, when there is one in our own town managed by careful business men? The Centre Building and Loan Association will issue a new series of Stock in June. The past series have been maturing in 12 years making 6 per cent. for the stockholder. The Association has been very successful in the past. They have never had to foreclose a mortgage or have not made a single loan that is not first class. Subscription for stock may be made to A. C. Mingle, Pres., C. K. Hickin, Treas., or Chas. F. Cook, Sec'y. 15-17. Woman a Puzzle, Says a Novelist. "If I could do as I wish I would never attempt to portray another woman's mind," declared E. Phillips Oppenheim, the English novelist, Oppenheim came to America for a "local color." "I never created a feminine character that satisfied me," he continued. "Women are so lawless, or rather each one makes her own laws and it is impossible for a man to know any woman well enough to know what, under all circumstances, she will likely do or say. I know my man, but it is impossible for me to know my woman." Bread and Water for Hobos. An illustration of how they deal with hobos in Shamokin is furnished by the following significant paragraph from the Shamokin Dispatch of Saturday: "This morning the three vagrants who were arrested Monday for creating a disturbance and whom Burgess Slink sent to the jail five days ago for lack of money, were given 20 minutes to leave Shamokin. They stated that they would get out of town in less than that time and hoped that they would never have the misfortune of seeing the metropolis of the anthracite coal fields again." "Uncle Billy" Resides Visits Phillipsburg. William Resides, commonly known as "Uncle Billy," of Unioville, and his sister, Mrs. Julia L. Dill, of Clearfield, visited at the home of Ed. Grist in Phillipsburg, Mr. Resides, who is now 82 years of age, was a brave soldier in the Civil War, and lost an arm at the battle of Fredericksburg. He also enjoys the spinning wheel, which is a matter of history, having been the first man to cross the pontoon bridge at Fredericksburg, carrying with him the stars and stripes—Journal. Sproul Bill. The Sproul main highway bill was passed finally in the house Monday by 290 to 0 the largest vote cast on any bill this session. No discussion occurred and the bill was immediately sent to the senate for concurrence in house amendments. Some discussion occurred on the companion bill which proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the state to borrow $50,000,000 for road building, but it passed by 182 to 6. The engine house belonging to Homer Crebs, near Madisonburg, was destroyed by fire on Monday morning. It contained a gasoline engine, chopper, washing machine, and all fixtures belonging to the machinery. It caught fire when Mrs. Crebs made fire to do her washing. The engine was immediately sent to the engine house and did not explode.
