

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

The Moose will all be at Hecla Park on July 4th.
Father Kelly, of Snow Shoe, was in town on Monday, and gave the Democrat a pleasant call.
Home strawberries have turned up in curb markets since two weeks ago and sold at ten cents per basket.
Miss Edna Crissman, of Pittsburg, is visiting at the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Garbrick, at Coleville.
George B. Jackson, wife and daughter, of State College, were Bellefonte visitors on Thursday of last week.
Remember the commencement exercises at State College begin on Friday and continue until the following Wednesday.
Mr. M. L. Emerick, the Hickory Corners specialist, is scheduled to appear at the Brockerhoff House on Monday June 12th.
George Olt, proprietor of the Clintondale creamery, was shaking hands with his numerous friends in Bellefonte one day last week.
Bellefonte Moose will have a big picnic at Hecla park, to provide people of that town with a sensible Fourth. They know how you bet.
Have you ever tried the "Perfection" oil stove—sold by Potter-Hoy hardware. It will cost you nothing to call at the store and see what a handy thing it is.
According to the Clearfield papers A. A. Dale, Esq., of Bellefonte, gave the old soldiers at that place a great oration on Decoration Day. They pronounced it a great treat and a masterly production.
Harrison Kline, son of Henry Kline, of this place, departed last week for Detroit, Mich., where he has secured a good position in the rubber factory of the Goodrich company. "Peck" friends will be glad to know of his prospering.
Miss Orsilia Griffith, of Philadelphia, arrived on May 20th in Bellefonte, to attend her grandmother's birthday, and on Wednesday evening of last week, was taken to the Bellefonte hospital to undergo an operation for appendicitis.
Next Sunday morning the local lodge of Modern Woodmen will attend divine services at the United Brethren church, at which time the pastor, Rev. Winey, will deliver a special sermon to them. All members are invited to meet at the United Fire company rooms at 9:45 on said morning.
Instead of the annual Children's day service in the United Evangelical church next Sunday, the pastor, Rev. J. F. Hower will preach a sermon to the children at 10:30 a. m. At the opening of this service an opportunity will be given to all parents who desire to present their children for the administration of baptism.
The Workmen's Bargain store is offering another reduction in the price of their goods in order to more rapidly reduce the stock on hand, so that Mr. Brandman, the proprietor, can proceed with his new building which he proposes to erect on the corner of his lot. You should pay a visit to the Workmen's Bargain Store, and participate in the sacrifice sale.
Perhaps it is a little early to talk about the coming attractions at the opera house, but Manager Germain has been preparing for the coming season in a way that promises a feast of good entertainment for his patrons. Some of the attractions booked are: "The Rosary," "The Three Twins," "Madam X," "Tempt and Sunshine," "The Girl in the Taxi," "Vocalists, minstreils, and a host of other first class play.

Joseph R. Schultz, late of the Bellefonte High school faculty, has resigned his position here and gone to Perkiomen Seminary, at Pottsville, where he will be made head of the science department in that institution. Mr. Schultz also held charge of the athletics in our High school, and during his residence of a little less than a year in Bellefonte he won a host of friends who are sorry to see him depart.
Rev. G. W. Emlinizer, very well and favorably known in Bellefonte, has been preparing for the coming season in this vicinity, accompanied by his wife, Rev. Gustavus W. Emlinizer, and Harry Emlinizer, at Coleville, last Thursday, while en route to their home at Belsano, Cambria county. The crowd had gathered from the Washington Memorial addresses to a large audience.
Among the arrivals in Bellefonte last Saturday morning were Fred Showers and his sister, Mrs. Jennie Meyers, and little son, Frederick, from Peabody, Kansas. They had been spending the past winter in that place with their uncle, with whom Fred had been working at the tailoring trade, but a longing for old Centre county with Bellefonte has the objective point of their eastward, and they are now enjoying the hospitality of their mother, Mrs. Alice Showers, on south Allegheny street. Fred expects to enter the employ of Clyde Smith, the tailor, on High street.
Most of the churches in Bellefonte will dispense with the annual Children's day services this year, because of the lack of time and opportunity for practice in preparing the children. The closing of the churches and Sunday schools for several weeks past, just at the time when the preparations for this religious juvenile event have been going on, prevented those in charge from holding any rehearsals or exercise and song. The work of preparing the children for an entertainment of this kind is no small matter, and takes a considerable amount of time, while at this late date could not be satisfactorily accomplished. The fact is to be regretted, however, as it always proves one of the most pleasing and popular church events in the whole year.
Have you been reading the advertisements of Finkeltine's 5 and 10 cent store which have been running each week in this paper? If you haven't, suppose you just turn it to now, while you think of it, and see what they are offering in the way of bargains. Since their removal to the Alkens block they have been able to add many more articles to their stock, and the business has grown to a remarkable degree. It now possesses all the characteristics of a modern department store. While every article is sold at bargain prices, yet every week special prices are put on certain portions of the goods, which cannot help but attract your attention. For instance, this week you will find a special sale on chinaware, granite ware, cherrill stand covers and tapestry table covers. Look it up.

W. J. Tallhelm, the Julian merchant, was a visitor in Bellefonte on Tuesday.
Mrs. Wm. Lyon expects to take a trip abroad to her native home in England during the month of July.
The famous "Perfection" oil stove is sold at the Potter-Hoy hardware, Bellefonte.
Edward Eckenroth, the painter and wall paper man, is now operating a Mitchell car, formerly owned by W. Harrison Walker, Esq.
Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wood, mine hostess of the Hotel Wood at Spring Mills, were greeting friends in Bellefonte on Tuesday.
Clayton Brown, proprietor of the scenic, was in Philadelphia this week on business connected with the better service of his popular picture parlor.
Mrs. Eliza Ammerman and sons, John and Austin, returned home Tuesday from Troy, Pa., where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Ammerman's daughter, the late Mrs. Sarah Harris.
Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Ebersole, of Sterling Run, Cameron county, were the pleasant guests of Mr. Nicholas Valmont and his daughter, Miss Grace, at their home on Logan street, on Wednesday.
Mr. and Mrs. Blair Yarnell, of Snow Shoe, have been guests at the parental home of Mrs. Yarnell, Mr. and Mrs. William McClellan's, on Lamb street, for the past few days.
Formal re-opening of the Nittany County Club House will be held at Hecla Park on Friday evening, June 16th, 1911, from 7:30 until 11:30 p. m. Luncheon, dancing and cards will be the principal entertainments. The Tyrona orchestra will furnish music.
The last issue of the Clearfield Republican contained the following complimentary address to A. A. Dale, Esq., of Bellefonte, was introduced by Frank G. Harris. Mr Dale's address was a masterly effort, evidenced careful preparation and was eloquently delivered.
Mart Berger, of Lock Haven, came up to Bellefonte on Tuesday and has been kept busy the past few days extending his right to his friends. Since residing in Lock Haven he has somewhat taken on the appearance of President Taft which indicates that he has a good grip on the prosperity wagon down there.
The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Wireman Noll, formerly residents of Bellefonte, will learn with regret of the serious illness of one of their twin boys, who has been stricken with diphtheria at the home of his parents, Gloucester City, N. J. The young man is about nine years of age, and it is to be hoped he may fully recover.
Owing to the absence from town of some of the committee, the base ball meeting scheduled for last Friday evening in the Y. M. C. Rooms was abandoned. Another meeting was arranged for last evening, but as our forms close at 8 o'clock, we are unable to give a report of what was accomplished. It is to be hoped that Bellefonte will not be base ball shy this summer. Mr. Burns called, one of her with which to furnish this popular sport. Don't be indifferent to the matter, but help to boost.
Frank Smith caught a fine trout on Monday evening that measured 22 inches and weighed three and one-half pounds. It was hooked near the falls below Noll's, in the woods. Mr. Smith had the fish securely hooked and landed the critter without a mishap. It was a California species, extremely light in color, with brown spots and fine scales. It was nice and plump in flesh, and looked like a young Susquehanna shad. This was the largest fish caught in our streams this year and we doubt if any one will surpass it.
C. C. Richards is the name of a young man traveling the streets of Bellefonte making extensive measurements and taking notes. He will be here for the next six weeks and in that time he will make a complete map of the town, showing all the streets and the plot of each building, with notes as to the size, material, and character of the roof. He is what is known as an insurance surveyor and is making a new map of the town for the benefit of the insurance companies who work from such a map in fixing of the insurance rates on all buildings in the town.
Sunday being the birthday of little Miss Mary J. Beck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Beck, her father invited six of her "bestest" girl friends to accompany her in company with himself and her little brother, Robert, Jr., to Hecla Park, a nice three-act card party, and spend part of his time. Of course a lunch was taken along, which consisted of all the nice things little girls are fond of, and that, you know, includes a whole lot. It was a fine outing for the tots, and father Beck reserves credit for the thoughtfulness. Included in the party were Marjorie Hill, Helen Smith, Mildred Eberhart, Florence Dickinson, Eleanor Gettig, Robert Beck, Jr., and Mary J. Beck.
The Academy reception and dance on Friday evening last was characteristic of the successful social affairs which mark this popular institution as an ideal home as well as an excellent place of learning. The committee in charge of the reception on Friday night made every effort to make it one of the most enjoyable in the Academy's history, and their efforts were not in vain as attested by the many admiring friends of the "School on the Hills," who were present. The tasty decorations of laurel were very pretty, and many complimentary remarks were heard on the arrangements. The patronesses for the reception were: Mrs. J. R. Hughes, Mrs. A. H. Sloop, Miss H. E. Overton, Miss I. S. Hill and Miss Harper; the above named, with the addition of Mrs. John Walker, Mrs. J. M. Lock and Mrs. Gray constituted the patronesses at the dance, which followed in the Bush Arcade hall from 10 to 3, marking a fitting close to the delightful social affair.
There was an unusual scene down at Gambie's mill crossing on Friday evening. An automobile containing John Shugert, Clay Brown, John Curtin, and George Besser as the driver, pulled up the grade and when at the crossing the engine slowed up and left the car astride the track. The watchman was on hand and urged them to get away as the evening passenger train was coming along. It was a serious situation and the watchman went ahead and flagged the train in time to prevent an accident. There never was a set of joy riders seen scrambling out of a car more quickly, and the stunts of the different gentlemen outvalued an acrobatic performance. Some of them tried to push the big car off the track, but it would not move until the combined strength of several men was applied. The event was heard on the arrangements at that point. The boys have decided to keep the experience quiet and for that reason have little to say.

Dick Lane and family of McKeysport, Pa., are visiting friends in Bellefonte.
This week a new pavement is being laid in front of the Crider stone building.
Dr. W. W. Feldt has purchased a new Maxwell from Tom Orner, of Altoona, who has the agency.
New cement pavements went down this week in front of Ceader's bakery, Gillen's store, and Crider's stone building.
Mrs. Joanna Forster, widow of Major Harry Forster, is a visitor at the home of her niece, Mrs. Dr. Ward, on Curtin street.
The famous "Perfection" oil stove is sold by Potter-Hoy hardware company Bellefonte. It is the ideal stove for warm weather.
Abram Baum, the veteran horseman, has been indisposed the past week, owing to an attack on his old enemy, rheumatism.
Mrs. Olewine, son Harris and daughter Adaline, arrived home the beginning of the week from a delightful trip to the South.
George Johnson, one of the employees of the Fuel & Supply company, has been suffering for the past week with a severe attack of the grip.
Rhoades & Knisely, the contractors have their shapes in position for the abutments of the concrete bridge across Logans Branch, at Rishel's hill.
Temp Cruse, of Pittsburg, who never fails to look up his old Bellefonte friends when opportunity affords, was in town, for a few days the former part of the week.
This week Geo. M. Gambie's touring car went out of commission up on the mountain near Snow Shoe. The gearing in the rear axle went wrong and it stopped right there.
Callers in the Democrat sanctum from all over the county report that the election of officers on Monday evening, June 12, at 7:30 o'clock—Jno. J. Bower, Pres.; Elsie Rankin, Secy.
Next Thursday, June 15th, is the date set for the Shaffer-Large reunion at Hecla Park, and a large attendance is anticipated. If the weather is favorable promises to be one of the most enjoyable outings of the season.
Among the scholars who have taken honors in the public schools this year is Mary Jane, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Beck, which this week was the recipient of a handsome certificate for the highest scholastic honors in Miss Alice Dorworth's room.
Messrs. Isaac Fraim, of Marion and ex-commissioner Geo. L. Goodhart, of Centre Hall, while attending a quarterly meeting of the Grange insurance company on Tuesday found time to pay us a brief call. They report the company in a prosperous condition.
J. Linn Harris, past exalted ruler of the local B. P. O. E. was elected as a delegate from the local lodge to the 25th annual session of the grand lodge, which will meet at Atlantic City from July 19th to 17th. A number of Bellefonte Elks contemplate attending the same session.
An interesting item of news concerning Mrs. S. Cameron Burnside, who has been traveling abroad for several months past, will be found in the Howard correspondence this week.
Mrs. Burnside called, one of her objective points was Rome, and in that ancient and historic city she has met with many honors at the hands of those who are high in officialdom of the church of her choice.
Mr. and Mrs. J. Mac. Curtin, and two little children, and their maid, of Pittsburg, arrived in Bellefonte this week to visit the home of Mrs. Louisa Harris on Allegheny street which they will occupy for the coming summer season. Mr. Curtin is connected with one of the departments of the Westinghouse plants, at Pittsburg, but has been spending part of his time with the family while they are here. Mrs. Curtin will be remembered as Miss Adalene Harris, a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Harris of Bellefonte.
Last Saturday morning one of Liveryman Albert Thompson's horses was engaged by Taylor's force to help out on the Saturday morning delivery of ice. The animal was hitched in a wagon pretty heavily loaded with ice, and in ascending one of the hilly streets of the town, one of the traces broke. This allowed the shaft to strike the horse, cutting quite a gash in its body. A veterinary surgeon was called at once, and it is thought no serious results will follow the accident. It is a valuable animal, and it is hoped Mr. Thompson will not lose it.
Tomorrow evening the local Salvation Army corps will give an entertainment in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, at which time Colonel Richard E. Holz, Commander of the Atlantic Coast Province, will be present and make an address. The visiting party will include Capt. and Mrs. W. H. Crawford, who will assist in the entertainment; also the Misses Kathleen Holz and Ethel Bridgen, of Philadelphia, who will render violin and vocal solos. There will be no admission charged, and every person in Bellefonte is invited to be present. Colonel Holz is known all over the United States, and his talk will be both entertaining and instructive.
The one big event in Centre county on the Fourth of July will be the Moose picnic at Hecla Park. As we have stated before, the Moose never do things by halves, and if the plans which the committee have in mind can be successfully carried out there will be more sport at Hecla Park that day than you could find at Coney Island. Among the proposed amusements will be an aeroplane flight, which event alone would draw crowds from all over Centre and adjoining counties; there will also be two games of baseball, between teams from Williamsport and Phillipsburg, and teams from Lock Haven and Jersey Shore. These will not be composed of members of the Moose lodge, but players high up in the art of base ball. They also have in contemplation an ox roast, which would prove a pleasing feature of the day. Other amusements will be foot races, tub races, etc. The Glorious Fourth is not far off, and you should make all arrangements to spend the day with the boys of the Moose at Hecla Park.

Coburn.
Mrs. Hannah Black left on Monday for Philadelphia, where her husband is employed, to join him on a visiting tour of Atlantic City and Boston.
Harry R. Everett went to Montandon last week to seek employment.
Mrs. J. F. Vonada spent part of this week at Aaronsburg with her mother, Mrs. Maggie Ream.
A crew of railroad carpenters have made some needed repairs at the depot and have enlarged the office room.
The residents on Railroad street are improving their homes by building pavements; W. H. Grove is the first to have his completed.
H. G. Hartline and family, of Millheim, came down on Sunday to visit Coburn where they formerly resided.
Mrs. Nancy Bartiges, who spent several weeks with her son Ambrose, at Quakertown, has returned to her home again.
John Zeigler, of Millmont, spent several days here as the guest of J. D. Mark and family.
The Sunday school of the Reformed and Sunday school will have their Children's day service and then June 21st and 22nd will come to this town the great Centre County Christian Endeavor Union convention. The convention program is well packed and among the speakers are Rev. E. M. Gerhart, of Sunbury; Rev. W. D. Jones, Pres. Penna. State Union; and Revs. A. M. Schmidt and J. F. Hower, of Bellefonte.
Lemont.
Claude Hoy came home from North Bend for Decoration and to enjoy a few hours with his father.
Harvey Shuey, Tyrone's hustling market dealer, put up a monument at Pine Hill cemetery, the beginning of last week.
Mrs. Ida Houtz and daughter, Ethel visited over Sunday among friends at Zion and Nittany.
Mrs. Mary Whithill is quite ill at this writing and it is feared that she may not be able to pull through.
Henry F. Evey came up from Watsonstown, Saturday and he and his wife intend to stay a good part of the summer.
The potato beetle seems to be onto its job in these parts this year as it is no long job to gather a quart or two.
The farmers cannot complain of dry weather at present as we have a shower almost every day, but all vegetation is growing and doing well.
Last Friday evening several young people from town went out on Spring creek on a small boat and they were rowing along the boat upset throwing some into the water, so some had to wade out and one was almost drowned.
Hecla Park.
Owing to the threatening of rain last Saturday evening, the festival was not well attended.
Mrs. D. Peters is over at Penn Cave taking care of her daughter, Mrs. Albert Zimmerman, who is on the sick list.
The concerts begin Friday evening. Decoration day was quite a day for ball games, as Hecla played a select team from Bellefonte, and Zion played Coleville. Score as follows: Hecla 4, Bellefonte 4; Zion 5, Coleville 6-11.
Both games were good and had it not been for the would-be bright ones that witnessed the games, it would have been a treat for all that were present.
Of course, there always seem to be some loud ones with each crowd and they must be heard. Noise may be alright but when profanity and insult accompany it, it is all wrong.
It appears that some of the would-be smarties from Bellefonte, think that when they come out here that they own the place. We do not reflect upon the entire crowd only a few.
The circulation of The Centre Democrat is over 5500 each week. That means that nearly everybody in Centre county reads it, and makes it the best advertising medium.
