ROCK FORGE.

Well, we believe in the last Friday of the month ruling the next whole month, as last month was to be dry and this month is to be wet, and it has all the appearance of it.

Well, Rock Forge No. 2, since you say the Rock girls have not got the hobble skirt style yet, I will tell you it wouldn't be the style to have two hobbles in one skirt.

Ira Benner took a jolly load of folks to Bealsburg to attend the Decoration and festival held there and among them of those from a distance were Mrs. Harry Emblizer and daughter Clair, of Bellefonte and Alphas Johnstonbaugh, of Pittsburg.

While Ira Houtz and Guy Schreffler, two boys about 11 years old, were playing in the woods last week, they left Dan Houser's woods on fire, destroying a great many young trees.

The people around Rock were surprised to hear of Miss Annie Grummer being married last week; we are all wishing her happiness through life.

George Rider and wife visited at Mrs. Rider's home, Harry Fike's, on Sunday.

Runkle Frazier, George Boelng and Burn Stover are busy tearing down the house William Colpeter vacated in the spring for repairs on Col. Reynolds' other places.

John Grove, our supervisor, surely has an eye for good roads and he is making them too; he has a steam roller on them now.

Henry Walters was measuring the water in the cistern last week with a pole, as it was to be pumped empty to be cleaned, and he asked which end of the pole was the longest; he said he wanted to measure with the longest and so it wouldn't look so deep to pump out.

George Fike says, give him the Bellefonte girls every time.

Earl meant business as he went down through Rock on Sunday with his sleeves rolled up his hat and coat off and walking at the rate of 40 miles a minute; he had no wings at all but he got there just the same.

AARONSBURG.

Ira Frank and family, of Logan-ton, were the welcome guests of Clayton Bower's a few days last week.

Geo. M Stover and daughter Tamme spent part of the Sabbath with friends at Coburn.

Mrs. Foster Bower, we are sorry to say, is confined to her bed with another severe attack of rheumatism; her many friends hope she may soon be better.

Mrs. Miles Arney and daughters, of Niagara Falls, visited relatives and friends a few days.

Mrs. B. F. Arney, of Centre Hall, was seen on our streets one day last week.

Wilmor Stover and family took a trip on their auto to Sugar valley to view the place Wolfe had his life crushed out in an auto accident; from there they came home via Nittany on Sunday, reporting a delightful trip.

James Musser, of Fillmore, was seen on our streets last week.

Rev. W. D. Donat and family, accompanied by Mrs. Miller, of Johnstown, spent Tuesday at Mr. Evans' in Georges valley.

WOODWARD.

Mrs. Harry Musser, of Akron, O., visited her mother, Mrs. J. P. Coburn, in her home on Main street.

CURTIN.

Howard Neff is the happy father of a bouncing baby boy that came to his home to stay; both mother and child are doing well.

Edward Kline and Orlanda Bryan arrived home on Saturday from Coatsville where they have been employed.

Mrs. D. B. Shultz is spending a few days in Milesburg with her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Adams.

Harry Lutz, wife and children spent Decoration with Mrs. Lutz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Barger.

An afternoon tea was served at the home of Mrs. H. R. Curtin on Monday in honor of her son, H. Laird Curtin's marriage, which happy event will take place on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Barnhart, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gano, Miss Mary Barnhart and Mr. and Mrs. Cyphert, all spent Decoration at Harvey barnhart's.

Mr. and Mrs. John Statton and little son Bruce, of Rote, spent part of that week with Mrs. Statton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Prince.

Mrs. Henry Shultz visited at the home of Howard Neff on Wednesday.

Mack Curtin, of Pittsburg, is visiting his mother, Mrs. H. R. Curtin.

Roland Bryan visited at the home of Mrs. Robert Saylor, who is seriously ill; her many friends hope for her a speedy recovery.

Samuel Bryan, of Bellefonte, visited his many friends at Curtin on Sunday.

Mrs. Wm. Prince is on the sick list the past week; we hope she may get better soon.

The recent rains after the extended dry spell, is making all nature lovely and the crops are looking much better than in the past.

Wm. Barger, who has been in a crippled condition for some time with a fractured knee, we are glad to say is able to resume work again; success to you.

Children's day will be observed in the M. E. church, June 18th; come, you are invited to attend.

Mrs. Adam Schroyer, of Milesburg, is visiting her brothers, Edward and Elmer Bryan.

SUMMIT HILL.

A. J. Lucas and son, of Fairview, was seen passing through our town on Monday.

Prayer meeting Sunday evening was well attended; come again, one and all.

Nicholas Lucas, of Fairview, visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Watkins, Sunday.

George Mckissick, who is employed at Beech Creek, spent Sunday with his mother of this place.

Miss Ella Mann returned home after spending a few days at Howard Arney's on the sick list at this place is Mrs. John Yeager; we hope for her speedy recovery.

Irvin Chotman spent Saturday evening with his friend, Elmer Watkins.

PRETTY TWIN VILLAGERS.

Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota, are called the "twin cities" although separated by the Mississippi river. This warrants the Centre Democrat in naming the pretty villages of Aaronsburg and Millheim, in this county, twin villages, having only three quarters of a mile by pike, to separate them.

Improvements about the homes and erection of new and modern residences and a remodeling of the old-time ones, are of a pretty and modern style in the twin villages, that none other in the county excel. Passing through these, the visitor will find all the streets fringed with excellent concrete walks, green lawns and flower beds cheer as well as adorn every yard about the premises.

HOLDING OFF OLD AGE.

Important Advice Governing General Rules of Conduct.

To grow old is as easy as it is to spend money. It seems there is a real scientific method of keeping young.

Note the following from the Philadelphia Public Ledger: "It is the belief of Dr. Arnold Lorand physician to the Carlsbad baths, that by following certain general rules of hygiene indicated in his important work, 'Old Age Deferred' (P. A. Davis Co., Philadelphia, $2.50), a man not only needs no longer be Oldized or 'shelved' at 40 or 50, but may live to be 100, instead of three-score years and ten.

In an address delivered by him before the Brussels Royal Society of Medical and Natural Sciences, Dr. Lorand once described old age as a chronic disease, due to degeneration of the ductless glands—the thyroid, the sexual glands, and the adrenals in particular, and in his present work he holds that these are as amenable to treatment as other chronic complaints.

The work covers the care of the entire human body, as well as "hygienics" of the various organs well, and fully explains how the neglect of nature's indications may have serious results. The work appeals to the common sense, and is of prime importance. Its interest is so vital to all that, while much of it is necessarily technical, the reader's attention never flags. It should be in every house as a work of ready reference."

SEND HEADS TO PRISON.

Fines and Orders to Dissolve Will Not Kill Trusts.

"The way to break up trusts is to send the men who control them to the penitentiary," said Gov. Shafer today. "A little of the medicine given Walsh and Moore will cure the trust evil."

"Fines and orders to dissolve will not kill the trusts," said ex-Gov. Thomas. "Terms in the penitentiary for their heads will do it. I would send the officers and directors to prison. None should get less than ten years. They know they have broken the law and they have no right to clemency."

"It is high time to take off gloves in dealing with monopolies in any line," said Edwin Van Cise. "The big fellows have gone on robbing the public without check for so long that they have encouraged the formation of trusts. The big fellows a dose of real justice and the little ones will break up like magic."

If the law is strong enough I would have it reach not only the stockholders of trusts," said Merle D. Vincent, late candidate for Governor. "Once teach people that it is just unlawful to own stock in them as to manage them and you have the trust evil cured."

25-Mile Runaway Trip.

Emil Peblert, a baker of Phoenixville, is suffering from a case of nerves and between times is telling how an amateur autoist feels when he is riding in a runaway machine. His auto, which he had owned only a few days, ran away "one day" last week, and enough excitement was created to last the communities through which it passed a lifetime.

Something went wrong, just what Peblert does not know, a moment after he had taken his seat, and off the machine went at top speed and at its own sweet will. Peblert couldn't stop it; couldn't do anything, in fact, except direct the driver to stop. The driver, however, was in his throat when he approached railroad tracks, but he got over safely, and finally the machine pulled up of its own accord at a village twenty-five miles from the starting point, the gasoline having given out.

Many a time the runaway just missed striking horses suddenly appearing from around curves, and why no damage was done is one of the mysteries the baker can't explain.

Bryan Scores Rich Idlers.

William Jennings Bryan, in an address on "The Price of a Soul," before an audience of 1,500 Trustees of Pennsylvania students on Sunday, declared that men who have earned $500,000,000 have been too busy earning it to collect that amount, while those who have collected that sum have been too busy collecting it to earn it.

He also declared that "public opinion never will be what it ought to be until the badge of disgrace is placed upon the idler, however rich he may be, rather than upon the man who honestly earns money through service."

"I believe there is a better life than that of men who spend all their life in accumulating more money than they need and spend the last few years in giving it away," he said. "What the world needs is men who will give themselves to the world, trying to solve problems of the day, rather than in creating the problems for the next generation to solve."

In discussing how much money a man can collect rightfully from society, Mr. Bryan said: "When a man collects more than he earns he collects what somebody else has earned and to which he is not entitled. Ordinarily we call this stealing, although sometimes we use the word reasonable."

A Home Investment.

Why go away from home to invest in Building and Loan Association Stocks, when there is one in our own town managed by careful business men?

The Centre Building and Loan Association will issue a new series of Stock in June.

The past series have been maturing in 12 years making 6 per cent, for the stockholder.

The Association has been very successful in the past. They have never had to foreclose a mortgage or have not made a single loan that is not first class.

Subscription for stock may be made to A. C. Mingle, Pres., C. K. Hickien, Treas., or Chas. F. Cook, Sec'y. x24.

MARRIAGES.

Mowery-Guisewhite. Harvey C. Mowery and Miss Rebecca Guisewhite, both of Aaronsburg, were united in marriage at the United Evangelical parsonage in Millheim, last Saturday, May 27th, by the pastor, Rev. Walter J. Dice.

Way-Grassmire. John Isaac Way, of Stormstown, and Miss Anna M. Grassmire, of Bellefonte, were married at the parsonage of the United Brethren church on Monday, May 29th, by the pastor, Rev. C. W. Winey. After a brief wedding trip they will take up their residence in Stormstown.

Bitner-Murray. Miss Agnes M. Murray and Prof. Henry F. Bitner, two of Centre Hall's popular young people, slipped quietly away from their home town on Sunday afternoon, the 28th, and were married at the home of the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Jacob Moyer, at Penn Hall. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. W. Donat, of the Reformed church. The bride is a daughter of Mr. J. D. Murray, of Centre Hall, and for a number of years was associated with her father in conducting a drug store in that place. Two years or more ago Mr. Bitner resigned his position as professor of botany at Millersville and going to Centre Hall, purchased a fine home and also the half interest of Mr. Murray in the drug store.

Govier-Atherton. Charles Emory Govier and Miss Helen Hoyt Atherton, both of State College, were the principals in a quiet wedding on Friday evening, 26th, at the parsonage of the Episcopal church in this place, the ceremony being performed by the pastor, Rev. John Hewitt. The preparations for the affair were conducted as secretly as possible, the bride and groom intending that it should not be made public until formal announcement should be made during commencement week at the college. The bride is a daughter of the late Dr. George W. Atherton, for many years the esteemed president of The Pennsylvania State College. She is highly educated and accomplished and for a number of years has held the position of instructor of music at the college. Mr. Govier is also a member of the college faculty, being an instructor in telephone engineering.

Bridge Concrete Posts Snapping. Red lanterns were placed on three of the concrete posts of the Harrisburg Mulberry street bridge Saturday, and last night west of the scene of the Harrar automobile accident Thursday evening. These posts, according to F. H. Eckelman, a foreman of the city Highway Department, have snapped off since the accident.

The posts are all on the side of the bridge upon which the automobile made its fatal plunge, but are located many feet away.

It was found that sixteen of the posts between the post broken off by the Harrar automobile and the Fourth and Chestnut street approach have been broken at the base, due to expansion during the hot days of spring. Some of these posts can easily be jarred by pressure from one hand.

Leather Trust Skins the Shoe Wearer Both Ways The price of Trust-tanned leather is up—its quality is worse than ever before in the history of the trade. The cause of it all is that the Leather Trust shut down its tanneries—and is putting its second-grade leather on the market at an increased price. How many ordinary shoe manufacturers do you suppose can afford to refuse this second-grade leather? Not one! You, the shoe buyer and wearer, have got to keep both eyes open and protect yourself. You can get honest shoes if you want them. You can get them 50 cents to $1.00 cheaper than you are now paying for ordinary shoes. Right here in this town you can get Endicott-Johnson shoes—made by the only shoe manufacturers in America who tan their own leather—independent of the Leather Trust. Endicott, Johnson & Co. buy their hides in the open markets of the world. They own their tanneries. They build their shoes from the ground up of honest leather. They sell direct to your home shoe dealer. The Endicott-Johnson dress and business shoe is the ENDWELL (Good-year Welt). It sells for $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00. It is a handsome shoe. It will give you service and comfort that you cannot get in any other shoe at any price. You are not limited as to style in ENDWELL shoes. You can have any last and shape of toe—right up to the minute. Shoe or Oxford—Lace and Button—your choice of all the colors of leather.
