ANOTHER SAMPLE OF POSTAL EXTRAVAGANCE

HOW THE DEPARTMENT SQUAN-DERS PUBLIC FUNDS.

CAUSE OF THE DEFICIENCY

Not Due to Newspapers but to Extravagance and Graft-Other Items of General Interest-Postal Clerks Overworked to Reduce Expenses.

Thirty-five dollar wastepaper baskets $298 desks and $320 tables were some of the little economies effected by Postmaster General Hitchock in furnishing his "red room" and "brown room" of These and other striking examples of Republican cut-to-the-quick economy were revealed in testimony taken before the House committee on expenditures in the postoffice department.

Mr. Hitchcock sanctioned the expenditure of $7,500 in refurnishing three rooms, $4,000 of which went to furnishing the Postmaster General's private office alone. Circassian walnut furnishespecially designed and manufactured to special order, and specially designed carpets and draperies furnished the nucleus of this expenditure.

All supplies were bought without subjecting the lucky dealer who secured the contracts to competition. He had but to state his price and secure an upon the treasury. One preparatory to new finish. the walls of the private office.

Such was the measure of Mr. Hitchconcerning the employees of the government—the railway mail clerks for in-stance—he followed entirely different lines of procedure.

Mr. Hitchcock figured it out one day that by making three mail clerks do the work of four, he could make a record for economy. The already over-worked railway mail clerks were driven beyond the limit of endurance. Conditions in the west, especially in the Tenth dibecame intolerable. Open rebellion broke out on the Pierre-Tracy line, the men refusing to do the extra work imposed upon them. Ten men suspended. Then five of them were reinstated, but refused to return to work without their associates. This aroused the whole northwest. The clerks met in mass meeting at St. Paul, Minn. They are now forcing the Postmaster General to relent in his plan to economize by overworking the railway mail

Strange workings of the Hitchcock economy bump caused the Postmaster General to pay the full year salary of $5,060 to A. W. Lawshe, third assistant postmaster general, while the latter so dip net within 400 feet of a dam.

Still another example of Hitchcock economy was his appointment of a pseudo "lame duck commission" of four of his intimate friends and staunch political supporters to go on a sort of Holy Grail conquest at the government's expense. The commission investigated 'time recorders" in every large city in the country, managing to disburse expenses $1,970.24.

The average amount spent by each of the committee for subsistence was between nine and ten dollars a day, indicating that Mr. Hitchcock's friends had healthy appetites. Transportation expenses for each man for a period of less than two months, averaged $309. Among many items of expenditure charged to and paid by Uncle Sam appear barber fees, bath charges, telephone bills, shines, news stand charges in fact, almost everything possible in such a category except laundry, cigars and The Hotel Willard in Washinghostelries were employed to shelter the government emmissaries. Porter fees always purchased Pullman tickets, and cab fares are thickly sprinkled among the vouchers. Sometimes the commissioners traveled alone, but generally together, as behooves any well-ordered pleasure loving government committee. the discharged postal clerks while they sit and figure out how much the govern-

The Senate committees are now all formed for the session. Some of the committee appointments appear to have been singularly appropriate.

It is appropriate, too, that Senator Guggenheim should be made chairman of the committee on the Philippines, and a member of the committee on agriculture and forestry on conservation of natural resources, mines and mining and public lands. Considering Guggenheim's connection with the Morgan-Guggenheim Alaska syndicate, notorious for its exploitation projects and its prominence in the Ballinger scandal, it singularly appropriate the committeeships happened to fall as they did.

Senator Crane is a member of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce. When the late Mr. Elkins its head the committee referred bills intended to curb the telegraph and telephone monopoly to a sub-committee of which Crane was chairman. Crane is the largest holder of telephone and telegraph and general electric stock in The bills never got out of committee pigeonholes.

Most appropriate (or inappropriate) of all is the appointment of Senator Lorimer to the committee on agriculture and forestry. As a member of the House committee on agriculture Lorimer fought the pure food bills and antibutterine law for the Chicago beef trust, and there is little doubt but that the Stock Yards boss is under even more obligations to the beef trust now than he was while a representative.

It will be noted that the designation of this committee in the Senate is "agriculture and forestry." Lorimer's interest in forestry might be explained by Mr. Hines, that prominent member of the lumber trust who "put him over."

Army of Veterans Rapidly Decreasing. According to official figures, during the month of March, 1911, 5,515 Civil War pensioners died, and their accounts were closed. If this rate is maintained throughout the year, it will reach the startling total of 66,180, or a far greater army than fought the battles of Shiloh Stone Mountain or Chickamaugua. It is 50 per cent. more than Grant had with him when he crossed the Mississippi river to separate the armies of Johnston and Pemberton and began the siege of Vicksburg. There was enlisted during the war 2,778,309 soldiers in the Union army, but, of course, hundreds of thousands of them were re-enlistments. Sixty-seven thousdied of wounds and disease. Though 800,000 of these soldiers were under 18 years of age when they enlisted in the army, we can now almost see the last of them, those remaining are but a scattered remnant, and few Grand Army ton, the Astor in New York and kindred posts will have any left to call the muster roll of the dead.
