Wilbur L. Wagner, of Greensburg, renewed school day acquaintances here last week.

Those sick since last mentioned were: Beatrice Estright, C. F. Warner and George Calvin Lucas.

Manuel Brown and wife, of Bedford, spent last week at Johnson Warner's near here.

Mrs. John Smith and Mrs. P. G. Murray made one of their jolly trips to Bellefonte on Friday.

On Saturday forenoon the passenger station here was surrounded by a crowd of jolly and teasing railroad employees as one of their fellow workmen, Philip Shaw, came hopping off of No. 62, enroute to Three Springs, accompanied by Miss Deana Stouffer, of Snow Shoe.

Whether the tip was wise or otherwise made no Mox Mix, as Philip handed the smokes around.

The Central City base ball team was eliminated from the County championship Saturday when they were noised out in an interesting game with Hecla Park, 6-5.

Central City was strengthened by Hug of the Milesburg and E. Kilne of the Bellefonte team. Their defeat leaves only Millheim, Centre Hall, Snow Shoe and Hecla as contenders for the championship with odds in favor of Snow Shoe.

The annual children's day service in the local United Evangelical church, Sunday evening, June 18th, was unanimously conceded by the large and attentive audience present to be the most excellent service of its kind ever rendered here.

While too much praise cannot be bestowed on the little ones who were the main part of the program much praise also belongs to the Sunday school officials, Mrs. Laura Snyder and the organist Mrs. P. G. Murray, for the commendable manner in which they drilled and arranged the pleasing program.

Lemuel Watson, of Snow Shoe, was here Sunday renewing old acquaintances; call oftener, Lemuel.

Miss Edna Murray visited her friend Helen Heverly, at Beech Creek, Tuesday.

To-day, (Thursday) is the first day of summer. Now our farmers can prepare to mop the perspiration from their brows and it will be the real thing for the next three months.

Wm. Stanton moved his family and household effects to Hayes Run last week, where he is employed.

Farmer F. W. Dillen is adding to the necessities and conveniences of farm life by building a new wagon shed.

One of the things which our little town is badly in need of, and which would add greatly to this world's comfort and convenience, is a butcher wagon to visit us weekly. One that is managed by an honest reliable man that handles "good fresh meat" and visits every house when he comes. The Wisner Bros. of Port Matilda, came down a few times in the spring. Their meat was of the finest and their coming highly appreciated by the people. Resume your coming, boys!

On Monday of last week Wilbur Myers went to Altoona and while there, occupied the seat of a "base ball fan." Cheers rose high while Trenton went over Altoona by a score of 2 to 0, at which time the game was called off on account of the rain.

FILMORE.
Some of our farmers have finished up their corn and will soon begin to make hay.

Those who have been on the sick list are not improving; hope they will soon recover.

The erection of a new house was commenced last Monday on the Hale farm. Earl Crust is all smiles since the arrival of that big boy.

Edward Marshall and wife, of Houserville, visited at the home of James Huey's last Sunday.

Dan Tressler, wife and daughter, of Altoona, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tressler, of this place.

Our roadmaster, Joseph Tressler, is very busy trying to improve the road.

FILMORE No. 2.
Mrs. Philip Resides left this place on Thursday for Camden, New Jersey, where she joined her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boyd, on Saturday morning; they sailed for Belfast, Ireland.

The largest hawk of the season was shot by Henry Tressler—it measured 56 inches from tip to tip.

Those who are taking music lessons from Miss Martha are advancing nicely; they are Bessie Rumberger, Ethel Gummo, Lester Gummo, Luella Huey, Alma Huey, Florence Hunter, and Mrs. Johnny Armaghast.

The surprise party which was gotten up for Ethel Gummo was very well attended; she got quite a number of presents.
