

Correspondents' Department

Continued.

HOWARD.

"The whole philosophy of life is to discharge faithfully and patriotically the duties of any position in which we find ourselves placed."—Champ Clark.

In Our Churches Next Sabbath.

Reformed—Pastor E. F. Faust will preach at 10 o'clock, at Mt. Bethel at half past two, and in the evening will join in the Tercentenary service at the M. E. church in Howard.

Methodist Episcopal—Pastor R. S. Taylor will preach at 10 o'clock at ten, at Kennedy at half past two, and will take part in the Tercentenary union service in Howard in the evening, in his own church.

United Evangelical—Pastor M. J. Snyder will preach at Fairview at ten o'clock, at Jacksonville at half past two, and in the evening will participate in the Tercentenary service at the M. E. church in Howard.

Christian Scientist—Service at the home of Mrs. Thomas Mann at ten o'clock.

Police Appointed. Geographically and otherwise, Howard is the centre of a very considerable territory and population, and naturally our evenings, and particularly Saturday evening, find a good many of the young fellows who are seeking recreation, coming in to town; and generally they are a quiet, reputable, well-behaved set, and a welcome addition to the crowds that fill our streets.

Unfortunately some of those who come cannot be included in this category. Some are under the influence of liquor when they come; others bring bottles with them, and gradually grow bolder and troublesome, and still others join the rude and rough contingent without being drunk at all, and it has recently too often been the case that they drive their horses up and down the streets at high speed and with great frequency, making all sorts of rackets, endangering the limbs if not the lives of those who are upon the streets and often get into brawls among themselves and with our own boys, and sometimes even carry on serious fights—all much to the annoyance of our citizens. One or two recent occurrences which were calculated to bring the good name of our town into disrepute, have very properly stirred the council into action, and at a special meeting last Friday evening, D. W. Schenck, who is the attentive watchman at the Walnut street crossing, was appointed a special policeman to look after those who indulge in such unseemly behavior, during the evening hours when he is off road duty, and maintain the good order which should and usually does characterize us. This is a very proper action on the part of the council, and that body deserves and receives the commendation of every good citizen. Mr. Schenck seems to be made of the right sort of stuff for this work, and the offenders are warned to improve their conduct promptly.

A Growl or Two. Ordinances to prevent the littering of the streets with advertising doggers are enforced in Shamokin. Saturday a Shamokin newsman, while before the burgess of that place and fined for allowing advertisements of his place of business to be thrown about the streets.

How would it do, for our council to follow the good example set by Shamokin, and stop the like nuisance in Howard, where the offense against good taste and neatness is committed by dealers in neighboring towns, who seek thereby to draw trade from our own merchants? And how would it work for council to firmly but gently suggest to owners of cows that Shakespeare's "Sweet bells jangled, out of tune and harsh," are not half so trying to the nerves of music lovers as are the forty thousand (you may leave off the thousand if you like) "cow bells jangled, out of tune and harsh" to the nerves of the aged and sick, during the half hour or two hours of every morning and evening during which they are permitted to linger on our streets on their way to the mountain pastures? Perhaps, too, it would be well to add the suggestion that when the cows are turned into lots within, or adjacent to, the town the bells could as well be omitted, and then about midnight when the cows go browsing about, the light sleepers in the neighborhood could get their rest in peace. And another hint might be given, to the effect that the highly perfumed spatterings which the cows leave strung along for yards and rods, when they are permitted to climb upon the sidewalks and nibble the sweet grass along their edges, are not very well adapted for blacking the shoes of the ladies, nor cleaning the hems of their garments.

The Passing of Mrs. Thomas Bowers. Death took from this community another of its good women when Mrs. Thomas Bowers yielded to his stern beck last Friday evening. Mrs. Bowers was born Susan Robb, in Liberty township, June 18, 1843. On the 24th of December, 1858, she married Thomas Bowers of the same township, and they lived there all their lives until they moved to Howard borough in 1903. In the meantime seventeen children had been born to them, of whom nine are still living: Emmanuel, of Liberty; Charles, of Howard; Mary (Mrs. Jacob Robb) of Howard township; Harman, of Curtis; John T., of Jersey Shore; Amanda (Mrs. John Wagner) of Howard; Malines, of Clearfield; Della, of Howard; Caroline (Mrs. Evans) of Wilkes-Barre; Adaline, of Howard; and Lester, of Northumberland. She also left behind her forty-seven grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. From her early girlhood Mrs. Bowers was an active, earnest member of the Baptist church at Blanchard, but when she moved to Howard, finding no congregation of that faith, she united with the Christian Chapel and continued her activities with them until she was no longer able to move about. The funeral service was conducted at her home at ten o'clock last Monday morning, with her pastor, Rev. W. H. Patterson, officiating, assisted by Rev. E. F. Faust, and interment was made in the Baptist cemetery at Blanchard. The remains were borne to the grave by six of the stalwart grandsons viz., Charles, Roy, Walter, and William Bowers, Russell Wagner, Orrin Dewitt, and Charles and Howard Robb.

The Tercentenary. As indicated by the title the service in the M. E. church next Sabbath evening will be unique and, therefore if for no other reason, will be well worth hearing. But there are several other good reasons for attending: There will be no other service in town, as this is a union service and all the resident pastors will take part. Special music has been prepared, and the choir will emphasize the idea of union. Each of the pastors has been assigned a special and appropriate topic as follows: "How we got the Bible," Rev. E. F. Faust; "Why I accept the Bible as the word of God," Rev. M. F. Faust; "The influence of the English Bible on the world," Rev. W. H. Patterson; "The place of the Bible in the life of America to-day," Rev. R. S. Taylor. Four addresses in one evening, added to interesting preliminary exercises, seems like a long programme, but it will be, in fact a rather short one, and J. Snyder; "The influence of the English speakers having limited themselves to fifteen minutes as their maximum time, and have carefully prepared their several addresses in condensed form to accord with this. A long and burdensome service has been provided against, and the "talks" will be all the better because of their brevity.

"Tahan." One of the four entertainments which will be given in Howard next fall and winter will be a lecture by a man, one-eighth of whose blood is from the Osage Indian tribe, the other seven-eighths being that of white man, his father being a white, married to a quarter-breed Osage woman. His Indian name is "Tahan," standing for "Texas Man" in English, having been born in Gainsville, Texas. To all appearance he is a somewhat dark skinned white, his name being Joseph K. Griffith, and his home Cleveland, O. He is an educated, cultivated, christian gentleman, being a preacher by profession and a Presbyterian by faith. His life has held large and varied experiences, including some thrilling tragedies. The telling of the story of some phases of his life constitute some of his lectures, which are said by those who have heard him, to be of intense interest. Last week's Sunday Record had several portraits of him, with his biography written by W. Frank McClure. The date of his lecture here is not yet fixed, but will be made known in due time.

Walter Strunk spent a few days at home last week.

Miss Anna Boone is spending some time at State College.

Ward Schenck entertained his friend Harvey Lingle one day last week.

Daniel W. Hall, of Unionville, spent Monday, between trains, with his relatives here.

The Misses Bennison spent the week end among friends in their old Nittany valley home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Fox, of Mill Hall, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Confer.

Miss Madeline Witt, of Mill Hall, is the guest of her friends, Frank and Miss Ella Butler.

Mrs. Katherine McKinney attended the funeral in Bellefonte of her cousin, Mrs. R. B. Taylor.

George Hunter, of Mill Hall, spent last Thursday here as the guest of his friend Miss Elfrida Confer.

Mrs. W. H. Rumberger and son, of Renovo, were last week guests of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hoer.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henderson, of Cambria county, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Henderson.

Mrs. William Derkin, of Eagleville, with her bright little daughter, are visitors at the home of Isaac R. Williams.

Mrs. Sherman Holter and little son, of Somerset, are enjoying a summer visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson.

Masters Arthur and Gregg Wensel returned home last week from a month's visit with friends in the western part of the county.

The week end guests at the home of C. S. Yearick included Mr. and Mrs. Whitaker, and Mrs. Stauffer and children, all of Williamsport.

Rev. Joseph C. Kelly, of Sunbury, who formerly was "stated supply" in the Presbyterian pulpit here, was in town for a few hours last week.

Mrs. Reuben Bechtel, of Altoona, and Paul and Mrs. Hurd, of Mackeyville, were among those from a distance who attended the funeral of Miss Helen Schenck.

Our bright little hostess of the Hotel Howard, visited the Lock Haven hospital where she submitted to a minor operation, which relieved her of considerable discomfort.

Rumors are current that the Presbyterian congregation of this and Milesburg will resume stated services in the near future, and have preaching on alternate Sundays.

At half past seven this (Thursday) evening, the Rev. W. H. Patterson, pastor of the Christian Chapel here, and of the Christian church at Eagleville, will preach in the Evangelical church at Milesburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin and children, and Miss Irwin, of Wilkesburg, spent portions of last week and this with J. Will Mayes' family, and on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Rosser, of Mill Hall, were added to the family party.

Ellis Pletcher, son of Henry J. Pletcher, had the misfortune to cut his foot badly with an axe, with which he was preparing fuel in the woods last Thursday. Dr. Kurtz is caring for him and says he is getting along nicely.

James Kane, employed in the big classification yard at Northumberland, had his right hand caught and seriously hurt in a snatch block running on a rope last Saturday, and is at home on sick leave and under the care of Dr. Kurtz.

Right fresh from the "dear old sod," having landed only two weeks ago, came a very comely young Irish girl, Ellie Fisher by name, and spent a day or two with her distant relatives Miss Corilla and Hunter Thomas. She will make her home for the first few years of her American citizenship with other relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Workman, at Hilda.

Harry Wetzel has found congenial employment in the automobile department of the E. Keeler Co., in Williamsport. His duties of repairing and demonstrating cars require just such experience as he has had a good deal of, and he has a good opportunity before him. On Sunday last he passed through Howard on his way home from a demonstrating trip in the Punxsutawney and Clearfield regions, and stopped long enough for dinner and a little visit with his mother.

A good many of our young people find their way to the Normal school at Lock Haven, and our community has a live interest in it. At the commencement last week four of our young ladies graduated there, and several of the parents and friends went down to compliment them. The graduates were the Misses Latta Schenck, Edith Weber, Blanch Swartz and Edith Wentzel. Those who went from here to help them enjoy their successes were Mrs. T. A. Pletcher, Mrs. John Weber, Mrs. Abraham Weber, Mrs. David Wentzel, Miss Anna Muffy, Miss Emma Weber, Miss Grace Schenck, and Messrs. Edwards Taylor and George Long.

Dr. and Mrs. Dyer arrived in Blanchard Saturday evening from their home in the Province of Quebec, Canada, and are visiting Mrs. Dyer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel B. Kunes.

UNIONVILLE.

Miss Jennie Parsons has gone on an extended visit to her uncle's, at Jersey Shore. Poor "Chappy" is very lonely since her debut, and has lost his appetite.

As an evidence that the Unionville items are read by almost everybody in every section of the county, I have been requested to state that there will be a grand festival held in the Buffalo Run Presbyterian church, by the young people of that church, on next Saturday evening, July 1st. A grand time is anticipated. Proceeds for purpose of putting new roof on church.

Norman Kirk, son of Dr. Kirk, of Bellefonte, with a friend came up one evening last week by special invitation of Mrs. Bing. They drove up in a buggy and while the guests were entertained in the house by Mrs. Bing and her granddaughter, Miss Malissa Sensor, several boys under the mistaken idea that they were playing "smart," took the cushions from the buggy and hid them in the alley and did further mischief with the harness and lines. This was a very cowardly trick and was perpetrated by boys who are old enough to have better sense. Three of the boys are known, but on account of respect for the feelings of their parents, their names are withheld.

A little daughter of H. A. Scholl, on last Thursday was knocked over by a barn door which was blown shut, which resulted in breaking the child's right leg above the ankle. Dr. Russell was sent for who responded promptly and reduced the fracture, and the poor little dear is doing as well as could be expected.

A trio of bright young girls, Misses Mary, Clara, and Grace Zahniser, and a brother, Mendal, children of the Rev. J. J. Zahniser, formerly of this place but now of Port Alleghany, are visiting at the home of their sister, Mrs. Harold Fisher.

S. K. Emerick, after an absence of two years from the home of his childhood, "bounced" on the train on last Friday morning with a bright smile on his physiognomy, while he was humming the tune of "The Old Oak Tree."

Sammy claims to have the best field of corn in the county. If it is better than Mrs. D. E. Fisher's, we'd like to see it.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Blackburn and two bright children, gentle folk of Tyrone, spent Sunday between trains at the home of first-towerman, Harry Pearson.

Sixteen probationers were taken into full membership into the M. E. church on last Sunday. There are more to follow.

Miss Margaret Brady, who since last fall has been attending school at Asberry Park, N. J., returned home a few days ago looking the picture of health.

Jno. Stevenson, third-towerman at this place, will be a good catch, girls; because why? Well, I'll tell you. He boards at the home of Mr. Abednigo Williams, and when Mr. Williams happens to be away at night, John very cheerfully takes a bucket, goes to the barn and proceeds to "pail the cow" as naturally as the most expert lady milker in the land could do.

Cherry picking has its inning in our town just now.

Prof. F. P. Miller, of State College, wife and child, with Mrs. Jacob Smith of Bellefonte, mother of Mrs. Miller as chaperon, are pleasant guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Smith.

Herman McMinn, wife and two daughters, arrived in Unionville about 2 o'clock on Tuesday from DuBois, and were the guests of Mrs. Mame Fisher while here.

Mrs. McMinn is Miss Cora Fisher's former marriage to Mr. McMinn, and they are on their way to see the former's sister, Mrs. Mary Fisher Holmes, who lives in New Jersey. They are traveling in a large, handsome automobile.

A busy man is Mr. Lewellyn James. He's always doing something. Some time ago he concluded to raise a lot of young chickens to take home with him when he and his wife will return to Florida. In reconnoitering the barn yard henery he found no fewer than six lady fowls that expressed their willingness, by an unearthly squall, to "set."

With ecstasies Mr. James procured 90 eggs and placed, with great care, 15 of the hen fruit under each biddy. "There said he, 'young chickens will do us all winter.'" He then went to work and built six handsome chaps or coops in which the happy mothers were to rear their progeny. After the period of incubation was over our hero took several baskets, went to the barn to transfer the broods to their respective homes which he had built on the side of a hill in the orchard and, as it resembled a small village he christened it Jamestown. Now for the result. One old cluck had deserted her nest, not a chick did she bring out; another broke the half of her eggs, had one little peep to her credit. The other four succeeded in hatching out an average of three chicks each, making a grand total of 13 peeps out of the 90 eggs.

Moral: "Don't count your chickens before they are hatched."

Those who had concrete pavements put down in front of their homes and properties are public benefactors and deserve the highest commendations from every citizen of the town. Look at the grand Hall of Honor.

Mrs. Margaret Brugger, 400 ft.; Miss Harriet Turner, 1900 ft.; Mrs. Annie E. Sters, 200 ft.; School Board, 400 ft.; Town Council, about 1000 ft.; Jno. C. Sters, 900 ft.; M. E. Church, 400 ft.; Wm. McEwen, 200 ft.; A. E. Baas, 200 ft.; Geo. Holt, 240 ft.; Mrs. Lena Lansberry, 200 ft.; Presbyterian Parsonage, 700 ft.; Wm. A. Peters, 600 ft.; Grangers, 200 ft.; William Hoover, 200 ft.; I. G. Alexander, 400 ft.; Florence Miller, 250 ft.; A. T. Howan, 200 ft.; Mrs. Nannie Hiddings, 400 ft.; Mrs. Mattie Musser, 240 ft. A concrete bridge over Mill Race.

Those who had previously put down concrete pavements also deserve highest praise. They are: Harry Lindemuth, 400 ft.; Miss Jennie Fisher, 300 ft.; John C. Sters, 500 ft.; E. J. Williams, 400 ft.; Chas. B. Eckenroth, 400 ft.; Mrs. Carrie Lucas, 400 ft.; Wm. B. Parsons, 600 ft.; G. W. Morrison, 300 ft.; E. C. Morrison, 300 ft.; A. J. Griest Est, 300 ft.; Mrs. John Emerick, 500 ft.

Those who have good substantial stone pavements are: D. Buck, J. C. Smith, T. E. Griest, J. W. Smith, and Domino. Two excellent brick pavements are to the credit of Mrs. A. J. St. Clair and Mrs. Martin Hogan. The number of feet are given approximately, and may not be strictly correct. The town council is to be highly commended for the amount of concrete walks and number of crossings it had put down where the borough only was responsible. The School Board, too, deserves credit for concrete walk in front of school yard. It is hoped that the good work will go on till every walk in town will be laid either with brick, stone or concrete.

GILL.—Another one of our old citizens passed away on last Wednesday morning at his home in the old Union hotel, after a lingering illness of over two years with stomach and kidney troubles. Joseph Gill was born at Julian, Aug. 19, 1833, and was aged 58 years, 1 month, and 28 days; interment in lower cemetery on Friday at 2 o'clock, p. m.

Funeral services by the Rev. G. C. Kelley, assisted by the Rev. R. E. Oyler. He leaves to survive him his wife and the following children: Mrs. Evelyn Morris, Glade Springs, Va.; Forest, of Retort, and Iona at home and the following brothers: John, of Winburn; George and William, of Julian. The family desires to express their heartfelt thanks to the good people of Unionville for their many donations and kindly administrations during the long illness and death and funeral of the deceased. The pall-bearers were: H. E. Holtzworth, Andrew Rowan, Wm. B. Parsons, Wm. A. Peters, W. R. Potter and I. G. Alexander.

Maine's Secret Hidden.

"The secret of the destruction of the battleship Maine will never be known," said General W. H. Bixby, chief of engineers in charge of the work of raising the Maine, upon his arrival from Havana.

The damage to the vessel was such, says General Bixby, and the deterioration has been so great that it will be impossible to tell whether the ship was blown up from a force within or without. The greatest force, however, was from the inside, indicating that the forward magazine had exploded. Whether this was from a sympathetic explosion caused by a torpedo from the outside may forever remain a mystery. General Bixby says that unless the fragment of a torpedo is found there is no way of connecting some outside agency with the blowing up of the vessel.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

The Olympia, the greatest new steamship in the world, now plying between New York and Liverpool, can carry all the people of Bellefonte—men, women and children—in one trip across the Atlantic. Bellefonte has a population of four thousand. Then there is room for eatables and drinkables, as well as tennis courts, and the like, for amusements. In another column we give the capacity, equipment, and other furnishings of this monster of the oceans.

Katz & Co's WEEKLY NEWS

Our Millinery Stock has been reduced one half. The other half must be closed out within the next few days. No use for millinery during the hot summer