

EFFORT TO DEPOSE AN HONEST OFFICIAL

ANOTHER SCANDAL EXPOSED AT WASHINGTON.

WORK OF FOOD ADULTERATORS

Seem to Have Enlisted President Taft—Big Beef Packers in the Game—A Great Sensation—Food Poisoners Checked.

(Special Washington Correspondent.)

A remarkable series of facts which have come to light within the last twenty-four hours indicate that packers of embalmed beef are the influences that have been principally behind the plot to have Dr. H. W. Wiley ousted from the public service.

Manufacturers of embalmed beef are at present by virtue of an order issued by the department of agriculture, permitted to use benzoate of soda in whatever quantities they may desire. Dr. Wiley not only opposed the issuance of this order, maintaining that the preservative is decidedly harmful in its effects upon the human system, but has worked untiringly to educate the people to the danger lurking in packed meats in which benzoate is used. The result is that several states have passed legislation absolutely forbidding the use of benzoate in any quantity whatsoever. Therefore Dr. Wiley has become a standing menace to the embalmed beef industry. "This man Wiley has got to go," was the edict that went out from the embalmed meat manufacturers.

When Dr. Wiley held that benzoate of soda was harmful to the human system, the packers appealed to the Remsen referee board, especially packed with friends of the food dopers, which board very promptly and obligingly reversed Dr. Wiley. The board held that benzoate of soda in small quantities specified as a few tenths of one gram per day, was not injurious to healthy persons. But when the order was issued legalizing the use of benzoate, no limitation whatever was made as to the amount of the drug the packers might use.

Remarkable circumstances attended the issuing of the order letting down the bars to the food dopers. The order was issued on March 3, 1909, and was placed in circulation March 4, the day President Taft went into office. It was signed by George B. Cortelyou, Oscar S. Straess and James Wilson, three cabinet officers as required by law. Of the three men, two were to retire from office the next day and actually retired before the scope of their order became known.

This order giving government sanction to the use of the product of benzoic acid meant that we were going back 5000 years, for benzoic or its products had not been used in the preservation of flesh since the Egyptians stopped embalming their dead.

Chester Floyd Robinson, one of Dr. Wiley's prominent assistants, recently appeared as a witness against benzoate in an action brought by the state of Indiana to prevent the sale of foods containing benzoate, and before Dr. Wiley had a chance to intervene Robinson's dismissal "for the good of the service" followed.

"Find the influence that was powerful enough to have the three cabinet officers who signed the order legalizing the doping of foods," say Dr. Wiley's friends, "and you will learn the identity of the men who have ever since been plotting to have Dr. Wiley ousted."

Taft Against Wiley.

Since Taft has been in the White House he has invariably opposed Dr. Wiley instead of having co-operated with him in the interests of pure food. In his decision against Dr. Wiley, in the interests of adulterated whiskey, the President reversed the findings of ex-President Roosevelt, former Attorney General Bonaparte, Chief Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, the Remsen board, the United States Pharmacopoeia, the internal revenue bureau of the treasury, the standards adopted by twenty-six states, fifteen of the United States courts, and President Taft's father, the former attorney general of the United States.

Incriminating Evidence Disappears.

Following the mysterious disappearance of the "Dick to Dick" letter from the files of the War department comes the discovery that a full set of Controller Jay maps have also disappeared from the files of the War department.

The maps in question were seen not only by M. F. Abbott, but by Delegate Vickersman of Alaska, by Henry Pinchot and by Secretary of War, Henry L. Stimson. Yet Major J. B. Cavanaugh of the War department testified before the Graham committee that the maps are not in the files now.

It is believed by members of the committee that the Ryan conspirators as soon as the present exposure was threatened took means to have moved from the government files all incriminating evidence.

"The files have been tampered with. This is clear and in fact the only conclusion this committee can reach in the face of the evidence at hand," said Chairman Graham. "It would seem that the files are not to be relied upon to give us the truth.

"Altering records is a serious offense and this committee will go to the bottom of it."

Doctor Wiley's Offense.

Doctor Wiley took one-third of the time of a first class man instead of all the time of a third class man. That is the actual "offense" for which the great friend of the people is being harried by the Taft administration.

Money Wasted by Women.

That over ten billion dollars are spent in the United States annually for food, shelter and clothing and that ninety per cent. of this vast sum is spent by women who have no adequate knowledge of money values is stated in the new bulletin of the course in home economics at the University of Wisconsin, just issued.

In any other phase of life, it is pointed out, the persons entrusted with such expenditures would be required to pass through a rigid system of training. Women should be trained to use this material so that there will be the least possible waste of time or money and the best results obtained. The bulletin says:

Centre County Picnic.

All Centre county living in Blair county are reminded that a Centre county picnic will be held at Lakemont park Saturday, July 29. General James A. Beaver, ex-governor of Pennsylvania, will be one of the principal speakers on this occasion. Every Centre county man should plan to attend.

The Sunday schools of the East Pittsburg District of the A. M. Sign Posts Needed.

The State of Pennsylvania needs sign posts to tell people where to go almost as much as it needs better roads," said State Highway Commissioner Edward M. Bigelow at the conclusion of one of his inspection trips over State roads. "And I'm going to get them," he added.

"In many places where there are roads of roads—there is not even a stock to tell one where to go," said he. "Some posts I found but no boards and on boards which were in existence the rains had long ago washed off the names. I have been put to considerable inconvenience myself and feel for the traveling public, which has evidently suffered a great deal."

Mr. Bigelow plans to have a uniform guide posts of metal and to have the lettering and figures on the posts being regarded as feasible. Such posts would be indestructible and meet one of the greatest difficulties regarding State roads.

The commissioner is severe in his criticisms of the manner in which local authorities in many counties have allowed State roads to go to pieces.

Lost and Starved to Death.

The body of Alice Arnold, the 6-year-old Ickesburg girl who disappeared from her home in Perry county about ten weeks ago, was found by huckleberry pickers on top of Tuscarora mountains, about three miles from her home. The body was badly decomposed but it is said that there are no evidences of foul play, the girl having evidently become lost and starved to death.

The disappearance of the child caused much excitement in Perry county and hundreds of people joined in the search for her without result. State policemen and Indian trappers were also employed to look for the girl.

A New Method.

A large number of the farmers in several counties have adopted a plan of threshing their wheat in the fields as soon as it is cut this season. The advantage claimed for the proceeding is that little grain is lost by shelling out while being handled, as is the case when it is stored and threshed in the barns, the handling rattling out a large amount, which is lost.

The usual plan is to thresh the grain from the straw and also to bale the latter in the field, which saves much handling, both being ready for market when threshing and baling is finished.

Courtesy Wins a Fortune.

A courteous act on the part of William R. O'Neal of Baltimore, Md., has been rewarded by a fortune. When O'Neal exchanged a letter for an upper sleeping car berth with J. T. Young, of Oakland, Cal., four years ago when the two men were en route to Florida where Mr. Young was going for his health, he thought little of the incident.

Evidently Mr. Young considered it a great favor, for in his will he left $20,000 to the Georgia young man, who is 25 years old.

Land at $25,000 a Foot.

A record-breaking price was paid for real estate in Chicago last week, when a large department store bought a parcel of land, 25 by 90 feet on State street near Washington for $500,000. This is at the rate of $25,000 a front foot and $277.77 a square foot. The same concern also acquired by lease a lot fronting 24 feet on State street and 150 feet deep. The annual rent is approximately $30,000.

HOW LOST GOODS ARE EASILY RECOVERED

A SUCCESSFUL SYSTEM INSTALLED ON PA. R. R.

POINTS NOT GENERALLY KNOWN

When Traveling You Are Liable to Lose Something—How It is Cared For—Later Are Disposed—How to Recover Lost Articles.

Lost articles are turned in to the parcel room at Pennsylvania Station in New York City at the rate of about one hundred and thirty such articles were received between the time the station was opened, November 27, 1910, and July 12, 1911. So far, the most valuable $114 which was immediately claimed by its owner.

Approximately eighteen out of the twenty parcels received daily at this station are called for. When they are brought in they are registered in a book, a duplicate ticket is given to the finder, and a tag bearing the same form as the number of the parcel is attached. If, at the end of ninety days, the owner has not appeared, they go back to the finder. Of course it is impossible to keep perishable goods and these are given to the finder after twelve hours.

In December 1910, there were 1,204 parcels received at Broad Street Station in Philadelphia. Eight hundred and six of these were returned to their owners. On May 25th of this year there were thirty pieces of lost property picked up on the 26th and 27th there were 39 and 31 respectively. Of these 18 of the first day's were reclaimed by the owner, the other 21 remained unclaimed.

The books in Union Station, Pittsburgh, show that 93 items were recorded during five days taken at random from last May. This is a little less than the average for a like period in New York, and the percentage of parcels returned to the owner is very much less. Inquiries were received for only 43; the other 50 still remain unclaimed.

Of course in many instances people set no value on the property lost and do not care to take the trouble to look it up. Whenever an identifying mark is placed on the property in charge notify the owner and he often replies that he will call for it if he has time, and then never does.

On the other hand there must be many persons who make no attempt to trace things because they do not think the possibility of success is attendant upon a little effort. A letter or telegram directed to the lost and found bureau at the terminal point for your train will always be answered promptly, and will often bring your property with the answer.

Take Home to Her Mother.

A fifteen-year-old girl who is in the habit of going to the passenger station and flirting with traveling men, succeeded recently in landing a beau. She daily consented when he asked to walk home with her, but was a bit surprised when upon arriving there he boldly rang the bell. Her mother came to the door and Mr. Traveling Man delivered a short lecture something like this: "Madame, here's your 'little' girl. I picked her up at the depot, a place where girls of her age should not go alone, unless on business. I have a daughter at home about the age of this one. I am away from home a good deal and don't know for certain whether my daughter meets the trains and girls or not, but if she does I certainly would be pleased if some one would do that which I have done with your daughter—take her home to her mother."

Milk Dealers To Be Arrested.

Eight prosecutions for the sale of milk containing formaldehyde or other preservatives, were ordered brought by Dairy and Food Commissioners James Foust, as the result of the recent sampling of the milk supplies of various cities of the state. Six of the eight cases will be entered in Allegheny county, where milk sampled in the suburbs was found to be adulterated. The other arrests will be made in York and Cambria counties. Samples of milk have been taken in 30 counties and in Lock Haven, says the Democrat, the last month and are now being analyzed.

PENNSY WILL HAVE EXHIBIT.

A Fine Display of Special Features Will Be Made.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has announced that to follow up the agricultural work which it has been carrying on so actively during the past few years, it will participate in the American Land and Irrigation Exposition to be held in Madison Square Garden, New York City, next November. The Pennsylvania will exhibit models of transportation conveyances from the first Conestoga wagons used in Pennsylvania to the modern electric trains at present operating out of Pennsylvania Station in New York City; has-relief topographical models of the Allegheny Mountain district, showing the engineering problems overcome; has-relief topographical models of the New York Improvement and Tunnel Extension and the Cumberland Valley fruit growing and farming districts.

There will also be exhibited a model of the railroad's standard steel under-frame live stock car which has been pronounced by Societies for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals "a most admirable car for the transportation of live stock."

The company's work will be given attention, and a full size "split-log" will occupy space in the exhibit. In addition, there will be shown by graphic charts pictorial and statistical exhibits, the agricultural and forestry conservation work being carried on by the company.

The Long Island Railroad will present an exhibit consisting of different varieties of fruit, vegetables and dairy products, and show in a practical way that the poorest kind of land can be made to yield the finest crops. A section of the exhibit will show the various kinds of soil on Long Island, as well as plots especially taken from the experimental farms which will be in full bloom. The methods of marketing employed at the company's experimental farms at the Washington and Huntington, Long Island, will also be demonstrated.

The Pennsylvania Railroad and its subsidiary lines for a number of years have been carrying on an active campaign in the interests of advanced agriculture, with the view of increasing the crop and acre, thereby resulting in an increased freight traffic. These activities have been supplemented by the running of special agricultural educational trains and steamboats, the distribution of farming literature, the establishment of experimental farms and the appointment of Farm Experts to circulate among the farmers and advise them on questions pertaining to individual cases.

"I Buy at Home."

Because my interests are here, because the community that is good enough for me to live in is good enough for me to buy in.

Because I believe in transacting business with my friends.

Because I want to see the goods.

Because I want to get what I buy when I pay for it.

Because my home dealer "carries" me when I run short.

Because every dollar I spend at home stays at home and works for the welfare of my town.

Because the man I buy from stands back of the goods.

Because I sell what I produce here at home.

Because the man I buy from pays the tax on the goods, county and state tax.

Because the man I buy from gives value received always.

Because the man I buy from helps support my school, my church, my lodge, my home.

Because when ill luck, misfortune or bereavement comes, the man I buy from is here with the kindly greeting, his words of cheer, and his pocket-book, if needs be.

WHERE AUTOS ARE BENEFICIAL.

It is a notable fact that the automobiles have lived up our lonesome public roads with travel and added greatly to the income of the rural hotels as well as of the hostleries of the towns. The travel by means of autos has increased wonderfully within three or four years and is destined to increase as the years go by, by that means of travel for business or pleasure. The country hotels now can already count ten customers to one before the spring wagon and slow buggy were the means for private conveyance. The auto makes a half dozen miles more enjoyably now, than the old buggy going humpdy-bump over the old foggy breakers and loose stones. The auto supplies the means for a real joy ride, is a time saver, and is becoming preferable even to the steam cars, for that matter. You can turn in where you please, stop when and where you please, and still make time. In less than a score of years folks will wonder how people got along before the days of the automobile dawned in upon us. The machine has come to stay.
