SUGAR VALLEY.

The fish wardens who tarry in the Ocker gap seem persons detrop, among the young "sprouts," not because of the fish, but because said wardens are fishers of miladies—handsome beaux.

Saturday evening the citizens of Tylersville and vicinity turned out in all their summer fashion to view the unrolling of "old glory" in the center of the villa. The patriotic people had raised the money to buy a flag and suspend it over the highway to show all the world that Sugar Valley still is free. Maj. William Auman, Col. Charlie Cole and Gen. Jonathan (Yonle) Bierly were among the moving spirits. After the flag was unfurled the local P. O. S. of A. marched from their new hall, en regle to the scene escorted by a drum corps, and fired a salute of ten guns. A fitting climax was the singing of "We'll rally round the flag boys, rally once again; Shouting the battle cry of freedom," by the young ladies. A festival was held on the lawn which was well patronized. Many parties came in carriages from Rebersburg and upper Sugar Valley.

Mr. Ball and Mr. Thiel, of Cincinnati, O., the latter a nephew of Daniel, John and Jonathan Ruhl, are visiting the latter.

Benj. Greeninger, Esq., one of the old line of J. P.'s, is suffering from dropsy. Not long since his wife Lucy, who was a daughter of Nicholas Bierly, Jr., preceded him to the Land of the Dead.

Charlie Cole has a cosy residence, all his own in Tylersville, surrounded with peach and plum trees, grape vines and other fruit trees.

Thomas Greeninger, Esq., one of the solid farmers of Sugar Valley, has been devising among the strata of his land and has discovered rich gold, quartz, which may bring him a fortune. He intends to have it analyzed by government experts. Good luck, Tom.

Speaking of "gold in Sugar Valley," it has long been known that the Indians in the early history of Pennsylvania knew where there was gold to be had, of untold riches. One of the Chiefs, Nownantakem, of the six nations, sent his scouts to Sugar Valley to get a supply for jewels. Also, Jonathan Bierly remembers that when a boy, more than sixty years ago, his father, Jacob Bierly, while plowing on his farm east of Jacob Spangler's place, turned up a glittering stone which the plow share had broken. He preserved it and showed it to Joel Royer and other miners who had made their Eagles in California and they pronounced it "the pure rock" but they always said it must have been sent to Jake from California. These rocks were preserved for a time, but the mine was never opened. Tom Greeninger's find is not far from this spot. Sugar Valley land will go up in price and that railroad will come meandering down the Sugary vale from Loganton.

There are not many automobilary roads in our "good roads" since Judge Giesberger, the chief Judge of the Sanhedrin of Philadelphia, has decided that an auto driver who runs down a person on a crowded street is a murderer which no pernicious and venal state license can shield. Auto drivers are very careful and stop their "forty-horse power diaboluses" before they would ever persons on the people's highways.

The Faxons are having a glorious time camping in Culvy's gap. It beats Panama. Jonathan Bierly makes his home with his sister, Sophie Mechtly. He was a veteran of the war of 1851 being among the first volunteers who went from Sugar Valley. But few are now left. Among them were Jonathan and his brothers, Benjamin and Jared, his cousin Adam F. Bierly, the Wallises, Thomas Bierly, Jack Roush, Jake Karstner, Bantoms, Lamays, the Berry boys and others whose names are not now remembered. Nearly all have gone over the Great Divide. The first Colonel of their regiment was named Cadew, and as he was unpopular, when he made his appearance the boys would hide and greet him with a Chanticleer call "Ca-Ca-Ca doo! Ca-doo!" He was promoted and succeeded by Col. H. M. Bossert, of Lock Haven, who was the exact opposite and was loved and respected by all.

Jake Karstner was a shooting-match winner of great fame in five counties. His home was in Loganton, then called "Loganville," after the great Mingo Chief Logan, who himself was named after James Logan, one of Penna's great conductors. Old Jake was a "dead shot" and he later joined "the bucktails" who figured in the bloody series of battles fought by "Little Mac" within seven miles of Richmond, in the summer of 1862. These men were severely handled at Mechanicsville and Jake was captured. Now, he was as hairy as a catamount, but a man of tall stature and after his return from Libby prison, he told how the fine "rebel" ladies used to come around and pass their soft white hands over his fur and say: "Oh what a fine-looking animal our boys caught, here." Jake said he gritted his teeth and wanted to bite them, but discretion being the better part of valor then, he didn't. He declared they put him on public exhibition to show what kind of "boogies" the North sent South to fight. His unerring aim made many a southerner bite the dust.

PENN TWP.

Some time ago a young gentleman went to take his lady friend out for a fine time at a festival at Spring Mills, but was disappointed and had to go alone.

Prayer meeting was well attended at F. W. Wingard's on Sunday evening.

Miss Verma Wingard was a welcome visitor at P. A. Auman's on Sunday.

Chas. Hosterman and family, from Buffalo, were visiting at W. W. Vonada's.

Mrs. W. A. Auman and granddaughter Bernice spent Sunday at S. R. Lingle's.

Preaching next Sunday at Paradise. No news from the new road to Liberty school house and no new school house.

Huckleberries are reported plenty in the mountains south of Greenbriar. Miss Estella Auman, who was working in Union county, came home to stay.

Alfred Ebert and family were visitors at J. F. Auman's.

WINGATE.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. E. Blair Fisher, at the home of Willard Fisher here Saturday July 15, a baby boy, so called Harry Oscar.

Mrs. John McKee and children, of Swislevale, returned home Wednesday after a pleasant visit of a fortnight here at C. A. McLaughlin's. They were accompanied by her nieces, the Misses Geraldine and Marie Murray, who will spend some time there and contemplate returning with their cousin, Miss Katherine McKee.

Mrs. Meredith Way, of Warriors Mark, and her son-in-law and daughter, Walter Brower and wife, of near Pittsburg, visited relatives and friends here last week.

There is current rumor of a hammer factory being erected in our village and for an ideal location and experienced hands no more suitable place could be chosen.

A calf which Daniel Boop was leading Thursday with a rope having a sharp hook attached on the end, he came frisky and in the scramble Daniel had the misfortune to have the hook pierce his hand causing a very deep and painful laceration.

Willard Fisher's new barn is nearly completed.

Miss Almeda Eckert and brother William, of Tyrone, visited their cousin Ella Davidson, here.

Martin Harnish, of Tyrone, visited his parental home, Thursday.

Harris Summers, who has been employed at Zion this summer, returned to his home Monday and is now employed by Ellis Way.

The merry toot of the threshing machine is again heard which is considered a good forerunner of fall.

Free Methodist camp meeting commenced Saturday evening at Bush Hollow and the public is cordially invited to attend all services which will be held every evening.

Harry Hughes, train dispatcher on the Moshannon branch, wife and children, of Osceola, visited at his grandmother's, Mrs. Mary Snyder, here.

The indications are for an unusual scarce crop of potatoes in this vicinity and an excellent corn crop.

The residents of Paddy avenue are improving the appearance of their street by a much-needed sidewalk.

Hazel Heverly returned home Tuesday after a pleasant stay at her sister's, Mrs. M. E. Flynn, who accompanied her home.

James Davidson has purchased one of the latest model hay loaders and P. G. Murray, a Marlin take-down repeating rifle.

Miss Iva Linn spent some time here Thursday enroute to her home at Three Springs, after an enjoyable visit at Snow Shoe.

Mrs. James Park, the former Runville scribe, was a guest of her friend Clara Iddings here Wednesday.

Miss Maud Dalley, of Marsh Creek, visited her brother, Chas. Dalley, here last week.

The school directors are having the public school building roofed. Fine work, directors.

Wingate Party.—A very pleasing and enjoyable affair took place Friday evening at the home of Miss Ellen Fisher, when she gave an indoor play party to her friends; games consisting of "you kiss me," "bingo" and other harmless but popular pastimes, and a midnight supper comprised the evening's sport, and the following young folks proclaimed they had the time of their lives: Messrs Samuel and James Shirk, Clyde Watson, James Fetzer, Burtis Witherite, Clair Boop, Fred Fisher, Misses Grace Boop, and Gertrude Boop, Myrtle Iddings, Elizabeth Fisher, Dora Stere and Rebecca Hoover; all joined unanimously in wishing for many more such events.

ROCK FORGE.

We, the people of Rock, were certainly glad for the shower on Wednesday as everything needs a freshening up.

The early potato crop around Rock is scant as the farmers hardly have enough for their tables, and if we don't get a little more rain the late potatoes will not be half a crop. Apples are plentiful just now but are falling off; pears are plenty—anyone having trees has pears; other fruits are scarce.

H. E. Walters visited his parents here on Tuesday and reports having a good position.

Jessie and George Saron returned home on Saturday after spending a week at Rock and along the cool waters and shades of spring creek.

There are some reports around Rock of Alton Detrich teaching Rock school again this winter.

Rockview don't blame Rock Forge for making a mistake about Malvin Moyer leaving, as we just told what the boy told us.

Look out for the chicken thieves as they have been visiting some of our handy villages.

William Shuey was around last week taking up orders for phosphate, as he expects to send for some in the near future.

James Thompson and family, of near State College, camped here at Rock two days last week and seemed to enjoy their trip.

Annie and Irve Mulbarger visited their brother Orie Mulbarger at this place over Sunday.

Harry Pike and wife drove to Buffalo Run on Sunday to visit their daughter, Mrs. George Rider.

PORT MATILDA.

Harry W. Adams, a resident of Shady Dell, and a veteran of the late Civil War, has been seriously ill from heart failure and nervous prostration for several weeks with no hope of recovery.

Jessie Woodring, of near Port Matilda, is at this writing quite ill from a complication of diseases incident to old age.

Mrs. William Young, of Port Matilda, is slowly recovering from a serious illness.

Rev. I. P. Patchan, eloquent orator from Altoona, will deliver a temperance lecture in the M. E. church at Port Matilda, July 30th.

Gilbert Eller and family, of Port Matilda, are at Atlantic City on their annual outing.

Mrs. Dalay Newman, of Pittsburg, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Osman.

JULIAN.

Say, readers, now of course I wouldn't say it to everybody, but last week the Editor must have been smelling in a "Salt Water" bottle, as he not only included my name with the items, but made a vast error in the first initials.

On Thursday morning of last week Wilbur R. Myers and lady friend, Miss Roxie Sanderson, departed for Atlantic City, N. J., on a pleasure and sightseeing vacation trip. At Philadelphia they were joined by Gordon W. Ardell and wife, the latter being Miss Sanderson's sister.

Reuben Alexander cut some flint with his binder last week for seed.

Saturday morning at 8:15 o'clock the Tyrone Pa. R. R. Shopmen's picnic train consisting of 10 cars passed eastward through town, enroute to Hecla Park. The cars were filled with smiling physiognomies while they enjoyed the picturesque valley scenery and refreshing breeze of that "Sunny" July morning.

According to reports the winter schools in Huston township have been given out for the coming term as follows: Julian W. Dillen; Bellevue, Lucy Rowen; Silverdale, Marion Mattern; Black-oak, Ida Turner; Sursargrove, Earnest Ardy. How important it is to see that the children attend these schools regularly and avoid in old age, the inconvenience that has been experienced getting through this world.

A heavy loaded coal freight passed over the Bald Eagle Valley R. R. eastward bound in charge of a Sunbury crew, running at a frightfully high rate of speed, put the company to inconvenience and expense during the past two weeks. While this train was passing the Martha bridge a wheel broke under one of the big steel cars, about one-third of the tread and flange broke off, thus at every revolution of the wheel at such a high rate of speed, the wheel and axle were brought out and work began to replace the damaged rail with a new one. This work has been in progress ever since. Last Sunday, 23rd the same amount of men were out and the work pushed along as fast as possible.

Last week David Meise moved his household effects from near Barrshboro, Pa., to Julian, and now occupies the little house, owned by Mrs. Davis, at the rear of the U. B. church, where he expects to make his future home. Mr. Meise, we are sorry to note, is a paralytic sufferer.

Miss Clara Myers entertained at her parental residence on Sunday, a bunch of jolly young folks as follows: Miss Anna Caray, Joy Meyer and Miss Rose Stoddard, of Osceola Mills, Pa., and Herbert Shuttlesworth, of England.

The writer is informed that while handling in hay last week on his farm 2 1/2 miles northwest of town, one of Robert Meritt's sons, 7 years old, fell from a load and was seriously injured. It is said that the wheel passed over the child.

Rev. Gilbert came down on Sunday in his red automobile and delivered a very able sermon to his congregation.

The old familiar sound of the Mc-Nitt-Huet saw mill whistle at Wadley is again plainly heard in our village. Since the fire the whistle has been greatly missed until recently.

On Sunday afternoon about 3:20 o'clock our natives were greatly surprised to see a show train consisting of 13 cars passing eastward through town. It was the property of Johnnie J. Jones.

Most of the gardens in this section are badly damaged by a long dry spell, the rain on Sunday night was a fine one but came a little late for most of the early garden truck, the early potatoes it is feared will not amount to very much as they are small, few and far between.

Sylvester Williams' new barn is now under way and the work is being pushed along as fast as possible.

Mrs. Joseph Anderson is visiting her mother at this place.

It is truly amazing and astonishing to see at what great rapidity the canine is rising toward the apex of fame and notoriety in this our civilized United States. The "big worthless cur" which is fit for nothing but to come out on the road and bark at, and annoy the pedestrians who pass up and down the public highway. This insignificant bunch of looniness should be taken out from behind the hills and handed to the dog-wood tree, instead of being petted and almost worshiped as sometimes is the case.

As the Orioles sing 'round the writer's Den,

I am busily inside, using my pen, Writing these items, for this famous C. D.

If you want the news printed, just bring it to me.—V. C. H.

COLVER.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Long and baby, from Millin county, spent one day last week at the home of Mrs. Susan Long.

Mrs. Mahala Nevel was called to Lewistown one day last week on account of the illness of her son Jesse.

Mrs. Frank Long and daughters, of Washington, are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Wagner.

Mrs. Charles Geary and daughter Lois and son Algar, also a lady friend, Miss Margaret Young, all from Altoona, are visiting at the home of M. F. Rossman and family.

D. B. Kraybill and Mr. Alexander, from Maytown, spent over Sunday with their friend, Wm. Heckman.

Mrs. John Bitter and daughter, of Altoona, are spending a vacation at the home of Wm. Bitter and family.

Mr. Arthur Holderman opened the threshing season last Saturday. He has made numerous improvements to his machine which makes him now ready for first class work and will be glad to have the farmers give him a call to do their fall threshing.

J. R. Lee lost a horse by death one day last week.

There will be service in the Union church at Tusseyville, next Sunday morning by Miss Kline from Centre Mills. All are invited to attend.

NITTANY.

Mr. Myers, of Centre Hall, was the guest of P. S. Rossman and family, on Sunday.

Mrs. S. R. McCaleb, who has been sick, we are glad to say is better at the writing home of Mrs. Tate on Sunday.

Miss Blanche Shavely, of Flemington, spent a couple of days with her mother and brothers, here last week.

Preaching in the Evangelical church Sunday morning at 10:30.

Mrs. E. W. Ammerman, of Peru, visited some of her many friends here over Sunday.

Some of our men, who are employed at Wadley, spent over Sunday with their families here.

Our road master, J. A. Emerick, has a force of men at work putting in the concrete bridge below Nittany station.

Mr. Johnson, of Bellefonte, has the job of putting up the bridge; it will all be steel and concrete and will be a first class bridge when finished.

Just as the home of Mrs. Tate on Sunday were: Nerr Tate and family, John Tate, Charley Tate and daughter, Harry Stover and family, Ralph Shope and sister, and several others that the writer failed to learn. Hand your news to the correspondent and it will be sent in for publication.

H. W. Winkelman, of Avis, spent part of last week here on business.

E. B. Winkelman and Mrs. Hinkle, of Avis, were guests of the former's sister here over Sunday.

Ralph McKibben, of Erie, is visiting his grandparents here, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. McCaleb.

The festival on Saturday night was a grand success; there was a large crowd in attendance and a nice sum was raised for the Sunday school. The school wishes to thank all those who lent a helping hand, and to the general public for their liberal patronage. The Nittany band furnished the music and they certainly did fine, as they have not played any since last summer on account of most of their members being away from home working. The band held the crowd till a late hour and all seemed to have had a jolly good time.

The K. D. S. of Snyderstown, will hold a grand festival at that place on Saturday night, Aug. 5; there will be something new at this festival and everybody should turn out and have a good time.

Corman Yearick, who had been at the Lock Haven hospital, has returned home and is sorry to say has not improved any.

Mrs. George Siler is visiting H. P. Zerby and family.

REBERSBURG.

Reuben D. Bierly still gives the young fellows pointers how to reap oats.

Miss Mary Meyer, teacher of languages in the high school at Butler, N.Y., is visiting her parents, Hon. and Mrs. Henry Meyer, Miss Jennie Weber, of Washington, D. C., is also at the old home accompanied by her boys.

Miss Sarah Meyer is visiting Editor Nissley's family at Harrisburg, and will spend some time at Mt. Getzema with friends.

Billy Meyer and family, of Loganton, visited friends in Centre county Saturday in their auto.

The broken limbs of the cherry pickers, W. H. Corman and M. Gilbert, are mending slowly.

Geo. H. Small returned last week from a successful business trip to Montana and the far west. George generally gets them.

It is a risky venture for young ladies to ride over the ditches in an auto but they say they do so love it. The exhilarating motion of the machine is described by french autoists as akin to sail to heaven "on flowery beds of ease." Referred to Doc. Jake Spangler for solution.

Rev. Miller, wife and son, of near Hagerstown, Md., are spending their vacation at the home of his father, James Miller, Smulton. "The dominie" is going to have his fill of fishing trout, and he says he don't need to use Meehan's can't hooks either to prevent footsies up thick trout under six inches from biting. He goes for the big ones.

Rev. Stauffer, of the Reformed church, has been granted a vacation during August.

Mrs. Mary V. Nichols and Miss Beale Nichols, of Williamsport, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Frank at the old Bierly Grange.

Miss Jessale Waite is home again, having spent several weeks visiting Austin Gramly and other friends at Millinburg, which she enjoyed greatly.

PORT MATILDA.

A cool wave hit us here on Monday night and Tuesday. A good bit of damage was done to the fruit by the wind which accompanied it. It looked rather odd to see people with their coats buttoned up tight and heads pulled down in their coat collars in the middle of summer.

The farmers are nearly all done making hay; although the crop was not what it would have been had we received more rain during May, some had fairly good hay. The weather could not have been finer for hay making. We should be thankful for that at least.

The potatoes which were planted early in this community are a total failure. They have simply dried up, and that without making any potatoes worth while on their roots. We will have to depend on the late planted one for our supply.

If you examine those brown, dead-looking patches in your fields you will find that they are killed by grub worms, and under the sod you will find plenty of grubs. They are even eating the corn in some places.

Mrs. A. R. Woodring had a very painful accident happen to her on Saturday. She was whitening and in some way a part of the mixture splashed into one of her eyes, burning it severely and causing great pain. She is receiving treatment by Dr. Thompson.

Huckleberries, as we call them, are very plentiful on the Allegheny this year. I know of one man who picked fifty-five quarts in one day.

The U. B. Sunday school will hold their annual union picnic in Chaney's Grove on August 5th. Everybody cordially invited to come and enjoy themselves.

STATE OF OHIO CITY OF TOLEDO, LOCAL QUARTERS, FRANK J. CHENEY, Clerk.

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is owner partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & CO., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS as such and every one of CANTAREL shall be paid by the use of HALL'S CANTAREL CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY, sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 26th day of December, A. D. 1911. A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is the best of all medicines for the cure of diseases, disorders and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is the only preparation of its kind devised by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in the diseases of women.

It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system. THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs and which creates no craving for such stimulants.

THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle-wrapper and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.

It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine or known composition. No counterfeits as good as the genuine and the druggist who says something else is "just as good as Dr. Pierce's" is either mistaken or is trying to deceive you for his own selfish benefit. Such a man is not to be trusted. He is trifling with your most priceless possession—your health—may be your life itself. See that you get what you ask for.
