Benfer will preach in Howard at half past seven, and the Holy Communion will be administered at both places. In the evening of Friday, Aug. 11, Rev. Benfer will preach at Jackson, and a communion service will follow the preaching. The quarterly conference will be held in Howard at half past two on Friday.

Sudden Death.

Irvin Dilling Jordan was called away last Friday morning with almost startling suddenness, notwithstanding his recent ill health. He had been going about as usual for several days, bright, cheerful and light-hearted as ever, even as late as Thursday afternoon. In the early evening of that day he was troubled with nausea, which about nine o'clock developed into excessive hemorrhage of the stomach, continuing at frequent intervals during the night. The extreme weakness which followed this rendered him almost unconscious by the middle of the day, quite so in the late afternoon, and just within twenty-four hours of his attack, he peacefully and quietly slept his way across the bar. Mr. Jordan was one of our bright, intelligent, and popular young men who came here several years ago, as one of the tower operators, and on the eighteenth of May last was married to Miss Zelma Elizabeth Yearick; the wedding being one of the largest that ever occurred in our town, and the skies seemed to be unusually bright over the future of the happy and popular young couple. This sad and sudden ending of their united life, within less than three months after its beginning, leaves an utterly crushed and heartbroken bride, and a deep cloud of gloom over a sympathetic and sorrowing community. Mr. Jordan was born at Fairmount, Neb., September 2, 1883, and would have been twenty-eight years old in a few weeks had he lived. His late home, and the present home of his family, is Fruitdale, Ala., and there he leaves father, mother, a sister, Vera M. Jordan, and two brothers, Elmer D. and Jesse D. The funeral services were held at ten o'clock Monday, in the Reformed church, conducted by Rev. E. F. Faust, present pastor of the Reformed church, assisted by former pastors Rev. H. I. Crow and Rev. J. M. Runkle, and Dr. Ambrose Schmidt, of Bellefonte. Interment was made in the Reformed churchyard at Jackson, Pa., and the services there were conducted by the local lodge of the I. O. O. F., of which he was a member, and which followed him to the grave in body. The pallbearers were Chester A. Moore, Charles Bower, Herbert Pletcher, Arthur Long, William Yearick and Ronald Welsh.

Council Meeting.

The usual meeting of council was held last Monday evening, with all members present. Minutes of last regular and special meeting were read and approved. Street committee reported "progress" in the street improvements which had been directed. The crossing at the Shaw alley on East Main street had been put down, the purchased crushed stone had been placed, and several new sidewalks were in various stages of completeness. Water committee reported that the hydrant at the Wetzal shop had been repaired and the leak at that point stopped. Nuisance committee had no report to make. A pile of inflammable bark on the lot of W. H. Long, in proximity to the oil tank has been ordered removed and the promise given that it would be done immediately. The president reported the receipt of the check of the Howard Tool & Iron Co. for $24, in payment for the old fire hose sold them last month. Bills amounting to $24.70 were presented and ordered paid. The president was authorized to draw an order for the payment of the bill of the Fabric Hose Manufacturing Co. for the three hundred feet of new hose purchased from it, when it shall be received, to save the 2 per cent discount allowed for cash.

De Fuscus Tres

is the name of a camp now in session on Butler's Beach, and the names of the campers are Jerry Sharp, William Neff and Hamer Lewis, of Tyrone; they seem to be having a specially "good time" both at camp and among the young folks of the village. For their Sunday dinner party they had Mr. and Mrs. Lewis and daughter Rachel, Mr. and Mrs. Sharp, Mrs. Ralph Haupt, and Russell Candy, all of Tyrone, and Miss Eva, Willard and Margaret Neff, of Howard.

The Mt. Eagle school in the township has been re-assigned to Cameron Holter, in place of Frederic Pletcher, who has concluded not to teach the coming season. Cameron succeeded well with the Pletcher school last winter and will no doubt make good at Mt. Eagle.

A. A. Dale, Esq., of Bellefonte, and Messrs. Harry T. McDowell and John A. Woodward, of Howard, were appointed by the Court to inspect the new concrete bridge recently built by the county in Marion township over Lick Run, in the narrows, and performed their duty last year, reporting bridge as duly completed in compliance with the terms of the contract.

While watchman Daniel Scharr was away on his annual vacation, Christ Wagner was detailed by foreman Shope to act as substitute, and filled the place with great faithfulness. Mrs. McMurtre, wife of our genial host of the Howard Hotel, is proving herself a competent and dashing horsewoman, and handles the handsome animal recently purchased from E. G. Henderson, with skill and safety.

The street committee set the log drag in motion upon some of our streets last Friday morning, and notwithstanding the rain, which stopped work at the end of three hours, it did some very effective work. At the cost of one dollar and five cents, which was the actual outlay, it did more and better work than twenty men could have done with horse scrapers and shovels in the same time and under the same conditions at eight or nine times the cost. This cheap and homely implement, too often held in contempt because of its cheapness and ugliness, cannot crush stone, nor lay brick, nor mix and set down concrete, but it can, and does, when handled as carefully and intelligently as Ambrose L. Thomas handles ours, do more and better work for less money, in the maintenance of "dirt roads," than any other implement yet devised. It is sometimes condemned without proper trial, but careful and intelligent experience always justifies its use.

Mrs. F. S. Dunham, associate editor of the Hustler, is enjoying a vacation at Altoona, as the guest of Mrs. L. M. Carr.

The Howard contingent of the Pennsylvania City excursion now on, includes Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Rogers, Jr., with their little daughter, Mrs. Hetrick; D. L. Welsh, and Dr. R. F. Olding.

Mrs. Cyrus M. Tice is spending a week or two with her husband in Philadelphia. Miss Etleva Confer spent a portion of last week with her friend, Miss Velma Gunsallus, at Mill Hill. Mr. J. Norris Bogle, accompanied by Miss Metzler, of New York, called upon friends here, last Thursday. Mrs. Mabel Pletcher Mann left her business home in Williamsport for a brief visit home last week. Approaching the house occupied by John Mills on the mountain farm lately purchased by Weber and Gardner from the Conrad Diehl estate, little Russell Solt, who had been sent with a message, was met by a dog belonging to the family, and excited by an ugly wound on the arm, the dog's teeth sinking into the flesh on both sides. The dog is known to be cross and is usually kept chained, but for some unknown reason he was unchained at this time, and one of the members of the family was holding him, but he broke away and attacked the boy. Dr. Kurtz attended the boy and the arm is healing nicely.

Robert M. Neff, wife and son Herbert, of Tyrone, were Sunday dinner guests at the paternal home. J. D. Mayes, of Milton, a grocer and marble man, spent Sunday with his brother here, who is in the same business.

Mrs. S. H. Bennison and daughter, Miss Helen, left on Tuesday for a month's visit among relatives in Adams and other counties in Ohio. Mrs. Bennison is pretty sure not to sell her democratic vote while in Adams county, no matter how high it may be bid for.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Long and Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Lucas are entertaining their cousin, Miss Minnie C. Van Gilder, of Philadelphia.

Mrs. T. A. Pletcher is in Clearfield visiting for a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Melvin Schenck.

The brick walk fronting the residence of Sheriff Robert Cooke, was put down by him in 1888, one of the first brick walks in town, and has recently been in an uncomfortable state of degeneration. The Sheriff has grown tired of this, and has torn it out, preparatory to putting down a first class one of concrete.

Miss Caroline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Strunk, is dining with uncles and aunts at State College.

Howard A. Robb, who has successfully taught in the schools of this neighborhood for several years, has matriculated at the Reformed Theological Seminary at Lancaster, and will begin his three years work there September 14. In this choice of the ministry as a profession, Mr. Robb has followed the example of his uncle, Dr. Louis Robb, of Wilkensburg, who has arrived at distinction in his work, and we hope for a like success for the nephew.

Rev. J. M. Runkle, minister to the Reformed church at Newport, is in town with his family, visiting for a couple of weeks at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Yearick.

Charles E. Robb, Fred Pletcher, Miss Cora Lucas, and Mrs. Laura Bechtel, took supplementary examinations for provisional certificates as school teachers last Thursday.

Miss Flora Pletcher, who attended the term of summer school for teachers at the Pennsylvania State College, has returned to her home, feeling herself much better equipped for the important work of teaching.

James McCloskey, who has spent a short vacation at home, returned to his work at Renovo last Sunday.

Finding some evidences of weakness in the foundations of the big water wheel by which he utilizes the power of Lick Run to run his roller mill and electric light plant, William H. Long is making extensive and costly repairs.

Next Saturday evening, 12th, will be festival day for the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church, and they will hold it in the school house yard. It goes without saying that whatever goodies they offer for sale will be well worth the price they will ask.

Miss Maud Thomas, who is now a senior in music and voice culture in Albright College at Myerstown, Pa., had an opportunity to display her charming qualities as hostess last week to a number of her college friends. Among these were her art teacher, Miss Zell C. Stanford, of Harrisburg; Miss Beulah Linniger, a present year graduate in art, of Mohnton, Pa.; Miss Emma E. Kneer, an undergraduate in art, of Allentown, and Miss Ruth Schaffer, a present year graduate of the academic course. On Tuesday Dr. Schlegel, a one-time professor in the college, and now pastor of the M. E. church at Mt. Carmel, joined his former pupils for dinner and added to the pleasures of the little reunion. A picnic in the shade of the great trees lining the shore of the beautiful Bald Eagle, Thursday afternoon, and a social gathering at the Thomas home Friday evening, gave Miss Thomas' home an opportunity to meet her guests in a pleasant way, and furnished enjoyment for all.

At the regular meeting of our school directors last Saturday afternoon, the matter of introducing steam heat in the school house was taken up and seriously considered. No conclusion was arrived at, but a special meeting was called for the middle of the month for its further consideration. It is to be devoutly hoped that this may be done.

N. G. Pletcher and son Herbert are employed at their trade of carpentering in Clearfield, and will probably remain there all this fall.

No less than twenty barns have been destroyed by lightning in Lancaster this season.

Two more of our Grammar school graduates have been elected to teach the coming winter. Robert Lannen will teach in Benner township and Charley Holt, in Milesburg.

Mrs. Jesse Schoffstall and Mrs. John W. Weaver, of Elk county, with their interesting progeny are visiting at the home of their sister, Mrs. A. J. Hall.

John F. Holt, wife and cute little daughter left on Saturday for a week's outing in Clearfield where they will visit friends and recuperate their wasted energies.

Roy Lambert and family made a short visit to his parents at this place, arriving here on Saturday evening and left on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Thomas Hazel and Mrs. Jacob Hoy, representatives of the Rebecca Lodge of I. O. O. F., of Bellefonte, were in Unionville on Saturday afternoon in the interest of that order.

Their object being to institute a lodge of Rebecca in this place. What arrangements they received we have not learned.

The Jumbo picnic under the auspices of the I. O. O. F. materialized and so far as having a good and enjoyable time and for the abundance of good things edible is concerned it was a decided success, but the attendance by the members of the lodge was not what it should have been. Eleven interested members were present, out of a membership of about 70, but we had a good time all right.

Paul Fortney and D. R. Foreman, prominent candidates for county officers, attended our picnic on Saturday. They were perfectly sober and enjoyed the social part of the day, but what a "take in" they have. If they have the capacity for taking in votes that they have for stowing away the good things of this life, they will surely "get there Ell"; but, after all, boys, don't forget to remember that "the best laid plans of mice and men gang aft a-gley."

Mrs. Julia Parson is off on a week's visit to friends in Pittsburg and McKeesport.

Col. Andrew Griest, of Phillipsburg, came in from that village and will "fatten up" for ten days in our city.

Mrs. John Bush Calhoun, after years of suffering with rheumatism, died at her home in Tyrone on Wednesday evening of last week and was brought to this place on last Saturday morning on the 9:07 o'clock train and was taken to the M. E. church where services were held by her pastor, Rev. Carno, from thence she was taken to the lower cemetery and laid to rest beside her husband who preceded her to the great beyond a year ago. Surviving her are her son, Norman A. of Tyrone and Mrs. Annie Shope, of Liverpool, Ohio, her aged mother, Mrs. Mitchell, of Snow Shoe and three sisters, as follows: Mrs. Laura Heverly of Jersey Shore, Mrs. Bertha Askey and Mrs. Georgiana O'Connor, of Phillipsburg.

On last Saturday, between one and two o'clock in the afternoon Miss Margaret Cambridge, an aged maiden lady died very suddenly at the home of her sister, Mrs. Eliza Earon, while she was conversing with her brother-in-law, Henry Earon. Mrs. Earon had gone to Lock Haven on a short visit to her sister-in-law while her husband was at State College where he is building a residence for himself. And when Mr. Earon returned he asked her where Lillie was and she replied "A-l-l-e" which was the last word she uttered, and immediately expired.

Miss Cambridge was born in Bellefonte in a house which stood on the site now occupied by the Electric light plant, on April 28th, 1829 and was at the time of her death, Aug. 6th, 1911, aged 72 years, 3 months and 7 days. She spent the greater part of her life on their farm in Benner township. Some years ago she had a slight stroke of paralysis. Last November she had another stroke from which she never recovered and has been confined to her bed ever since, the greater part of the time utterly helpless.

She received another stroke which caused her death as stated. Miss Cambridge was a woman of pleasing personality, a fluent conversationalist and of most industrious habits, a friend to everybody. Surviving her are her brother, Dr. Constant of Tennessee, and one sister, Mrs. Henry Earon, of Unionville. Funeral occurred on Saturday from the Catholic church and was laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery in Bellefonte.

William Swoyers and family, of New York City, spent part of the week with his mother, Mrs. Ellen Swoyer.

Agnes Swartz left for Tyrone for a short visit among friends and relatives.

Miss Bease Smith, of Columbus, Ohio, returned home after a five weeks' visit with her grandmother, Mrs. Alfred Smith, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Swoyer and children, of Altoona, are at present visiting at the home of Ross Wallace.

Claude W. Smith spent Sunday in Altoona with relatives and friends.

Joseph Baird is making extensive repairs to his residence on Pike street by the raising and moving of his porch and the addition of a new porch to be built.

Mrs. Dede Lipton, of Buffalo, is at present visiting Mrs. Benjamin Austin, on Pike street.

Miss Nancy Heberling, of Pennsylvania, is spending a short visit with her sister, Mrs. H. G. Ebbes.

Mrs. Frank Wallace, of Bellefonte, is spending some time among friends and relatives in the burg. Mrs. Wallace says she cannot stay away from Milesburg.

Mrs. Samuel Robb, of Beech Creek, spent some time visiting at the home of Ross Wallace.

Mrs. George McCullough returned to her home from the hospital much improved, which will be good news to her many friends.
