

CENTRE CO. REUNION AT WILLIAMSPORT

NATIVES OF BRUSHVALLEY PICNIC AT VALLMONT.

MALLORY'S GLOWING EULOGY

On the Strong Points of Old Brushvalley—There is Nothing Like it, He Says—List of Those Present—Largely Attended.

Former citizens of Rebersburg and Brushvalley, now resident of Williamsport, picnicked in Vallemont Park on Saturday, August 12. Thrilling tales of long ago, with touches of pathos were related. Following is what C. O. Mallory had to say on the occasion:

"Underlying every gathering worthy of observance is some sentiment, either religious, patriotic, or domestic. To this gathering today belong all the sacred feelings and tender memories that cluster about our valley, home and friends. No one born and reared there, although scattered in far distant cities, remote farms, mining camps, and even in countries over the sea, but each one's heartstrings at times vibrate with the sweet and pensive memories of love and happiness of the days spent in our beautiful town and valley, where fish and game abounded, flocks of turkeys and poultry swarmed in every farm yard, great rolls of yellow butter and stout cheese were stored on the pantry shelf, the cellars filled with bins of rosy apples and winter vegetables, forest trees yielded nuts for all who would gather them, and ever the old back-oven from whence our mothers drew forth pies, cakes and brown Indian pudding every week seemed to enjoy the satisfying feasts it could help to bestow. No French cook of the present day can reproduce such wholesome richness or toothsome flavored viands as the today fashionable dinner parties rival its joys—it was lavish and satisfying, and we still cherish the memories and have seized this opportunity through Mrs. M. J. Hall (nee Conser) to renew and strengthen in ourselves and pass on to our children that love and reverence for the town and valley which did so much to make our forbears the sturdy, faithful, upright, conscientious, christian men and women they were. They were imbued with gratitude which is an ennobling sentiment and we cherish it, and let us bear a little of its fragrance to others.

My dome of thought is getting bald, and your heads portend the snow of winter, yet today way up in the head waters of our reason there is a feeling to drop thirty years of our life, and that brings us back again into our old valley in the full bloom of vigorous youth, where we can holler if we want to, and where we feel so good that we want to holler.

The soil of Brushvalley always had been and still is prolific. We raise more ministers, with D. D. (donated dignity) attachments, representatives, doctors of music, editors, county superintendents and teachers to the north than anywhere in the state. We raise as healthy and brainy children you find anywhere. There they have the room to broaden, as they can't broaden where they are imprisoned in stone walls. I have traveled some of the roads of the world and acquired a fairly good perspective of both life and the world, and I have never known or heard a man of rank in the world of attainment who was sorry that he was reared in the country or ashamed of it.

"The country is the growing place for life's chiefest growing child." It is the place where life strikes deep root. Ask the successful professional, or city business man where he hails from and the chances are he will name some country town more or less obscure and left to one side by the railroads. Do we visit our old town and valley? If not, we should do so frequently, and in conversation with the residents, revive our early recollections and freshen their memories and recall the names of those whose lives gave character to the town and valley. I recall today the childhood veneration we had for the ministers, respect for the doctors, and deference for the squire and those in authority. It still is and destined to be a typical delightful valley.

I often long for the good old valley, its woods through which the winds sighs gently and to inhale her fragrant odors which calm the nerves. I love to see the fruit trees loaded to the breaking point with luscious fruit. I love to behold the mountains surrounding her standing as sentinels of old, guarding her luxuriant treasures. The changing vistas of magnificence of our valley makes pictures that imprint themselves on my soul and that unfold in panoramic view each night as I catch in my breath as I contemplate her beauty. Her springs and limpid streams give their clearest coldest water to cool the thirsty throat, and then when the day is spent and the starry curtains of night descend over our peaceful valley and the cricket and dove sing the fruit trees are everything given way to King Morpheus who comes with grateful slumber and even colors our dreams with majestic pictures which have been so lavishly distributed over one of the grandest valleys to me on God's green earth.

These present former of Rebersburg were Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Doebler and son, Mr. and Mrs. Snowden Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hall, Mrs. J. A. Feidler and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brunard, Mrs. Marie Marshall, Miss Ida Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Custer, Mrs. J. B. Reed, nee Hillbish from Tacoma, Wash., and son, Mrs. P. O. Stiver, nee Mingle, from Freeport, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Mallory and daughter and hundreds of Williamsport people enjoyed the outing with us.

A Prolific Breeder. A hog on the farm of John W. Holmes, near Jacksonville, Centre county, recently gave birth to 13 little pigs, which is considered an unusual occurrence by the ordinary farmer. Although this may be considered an unlucky number the mother and the 13 little squealers are happy, healthy and always hungry.

Burns Bees and Barn. At Lancaster William Boyer discovered a nest of bees in his barn, and decided to burn the nest to get rid of them. He applied a match, and a moment later the flames from the nest got beyond his control and spread so rapidly that he was unable to save all his live stock. All the farm machinery and this year's crops were destroyed, and a heifer and a number of pigs were burned to death.

NINETY-SEVENTH BIRTHDAY.

Mrs. Margaret Chronister, of Centre Line, Celebrates on this Occasion. The pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Chronister, of Warriors Mark, was the scene of a happy gathering on Wednesday when a large number of neighbors and friends gathered to help Mr. Chronister's mother celebrate her ninety-seventh birthday. At the noon hour the merry guests gathered in the orchard, where they partook of a sumptuous dinner prepared for the occasion. After the inner man had been fully satisfied the attention of the guests was turned to games and a good social time, after which a scriptural lesson was read, prayers made and some good old fashioned hymns sung. There were 47 guests present from Centre Line, Maringo, Warriors Mark, Tyrone, Altoona, Bellwood, Phillipsburg and Clearfield. All wishing Mrs. Chronister many happy returns of the day, left for their homes.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Chronister, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cupp, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gensamer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ross, Mr. and Mrs. John Ellenberger, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nearhoof, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rumberger, Mrs. Barbara Rider, Mrs. Mary Branstetter, Mr. Jerry Houck, Mrs. Wm. Ellenberger, Mrs. Mary Lykens, Mrs. Lizzie Ray, Mrs. Bessie Gensamer, Mrs. Irene Nowlin, Mrs. Dallas Lykens, Mrs. Frank Dixon, Mrs. Lizzie Stine, Mrs. Mary McElwain, Mrs. W. M. Way, Kopher Houck, John Rhodes, Cyrus Lykens, Misses Angeline and Mary Gensamer, Ellamada Way, Ethel and Eliza Nowlin, Gertrude McElwain, Eliza Gensamer, Jestead Ellenberger, Minnie, Helen and Zada Branstetter, Vera Rumberger, Edna and Virginia Ross, Mosser, Carl Rumberger, Boyd Gensamer, Lester Ross, Robert Ross, Lawrence and Thomas Nowlin, Lloyd Chronister, Homer Thomas, Francis Houck, Richard Aults and Joseph Branstetter.

Bitten by Copperhead. George Mason, of Lock Haven, was bitten on the index finger of his right hand by a copperhead snake about 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Mr. Mason went into the woodshed to secure some kindling and while picking up a stick felt a sharp pain in his finger. Going to the light he observed a laceration and at once decided that he had been bitten by a snake. After some effort the reptile was located and dispatched in short order. It was found to be a copperhead about three feet in length, which probably crawled into the woodshed from the nearby hills. Making a tourniquet of a handkerchief Mr. Mason stopped the poison virus from entering his arm. In the meantime Dr. G. D. Green had been hurriedly summoned and he treated the wound. Mr. Mason suffered great pain during the night, but it is thought the evil effects of the poison were arrested by the prompt and efficient treatment.—Express.

Deserted Wife Finds Hubby.

Mrs. James Boston, of Phillipsburg, called to the conductor to stop the train Thursday afternoon, when she recognized her husband, for whom she was searching, from the car window. The conductor could not see his way clear to stop the train, so Mrs. Boston did see the husband who she deserted her and for whom she was searching. The Boston's live in Phillipsburg and when the better half of the family discovered that her hubby had departed with no plans for the coming six weeks, she started for him. As the train steamed through Linden she saw him working in the fields. When she reached Williamsport she communicated with the police department, giving a description of her husband and telling where she had seen him. Officer Blair was given the warrant and the description and told to get busy. He looked over a number of men working in the fields before he saw the right one. Boston is now lodged in the county jail under charges of wife desertion.

Vicious Stallion Mains Owner.

Ingle Burnett, a stock raiser living near Greenville, had his hand bitten off and his arm terribly mangled by a vicious stallion a few days ago, and now is in the Greenville hospital, but likely to recover.

It is stated Mr. Burnett, who is a young man and lives with his father, ex-Sheriff A. B. Burnett, had gone into the box stall to bridle the horse, when the animal suddenly seized his right hand and when the father who had followed his son to the barn attempted to beat it off, it bit the hand, tearing and plunging, until the hand was completely severed and the arm crushed before he could be rescued.

The injured man showed unusual pluck by going to his room and changing his clothes, while his father harnessed another horse to bring him to the hospital, where it is said, he stood the reaction from the shock remarkably well, and unless unforeseen complications develop, is likely to recover.

When the Women Vote.

In the convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union in Scranton last week Rev. M. J. McKenna, of Springfield, Mass., and the Rev. J. F. Cassidy, of Fall River, clashed on the saloon question. Father McKenna said the "possibility of abolishing the saloons is sentimental rot" and he declared the rich to be "the real drunkards." The only effect of the abolishment of the saloons, he said, would be to deprive the workingman of his glass of beer, while the rich would still drink in their homes. Father Cassidy deplored the utterance of such sentiments on the convention floor, he said, and he asked the delegates to work for legislation that would wipe out the saloon. Father Cassidy came out for woman suffrage, declaring "when the women vote the saloon will go."

99 Year-Old Appendix Removed.

Mrs. H. B. Hillman, of Wilkes-Barre, who was 99 years old last March, has submitted to an operation for appendicitis and is expected to recover despite her age. She is the oldest resident of Wilkes-Barre. The operation was performed on Sunday, August 13, by Doctors Howell and Mengel. No ether could be administered owing to the weakened condition of Mrs. Hillman's heart, but cocaine was used, and she stood the operation remarkably well. Since then she has rallied satisfactorily and when the physicians Wednesday first announced the operation, they said they expected Mrs. Hillman to recover. The patient is cheerful and sent word from the sick room that there is now nothing for her to get well. Her husband, the late Col. Hillman, is the man who first shipped coal out of Wyoming valley.

AN INTERESTING OLD NEWSPAPER

COPY OF THE CENTRE DEMOCRAT FOR 1852.

FIRMS ENGAGED IN BUSINESS

A Neatly Printed and Well Preserved Paper—Published by W. H. Blair—Small in Size but Good in Quality—Familiar Names.

A "Centre Democrat," of high two generations ago, February 16, 1852, is of remembrance interest to the readers of the Centre Democrat, 1911, and later on. We are under obligations to our friend, Ezekiah Hoy, of this place, who left a copy of such venerable years in our sanctum, and from it we compile, briefly, of what was transpiring and doing in the way-back; and some of the present readers of the Democrat, no doubt, can recall some of the names and business detail of that day, 1852. We gather as follows:

The Democrat then was only half the size of the Democrat now, it had only four pages, price $1.50 per year, strictly in advance, otherwise two dollars; Wm. H. Blair, editor and proprietor. Vol. 18.

The first page contains Gov. Bigler's Inauguration—a very statesmanlike document. Other articles, miscellany, on balance of page.

Second page gives Gen. Cass' speech at the congressional banquet; proceedings of Democratic county convention; Geo. Jack, president; Jacob Kichliner and Daniel Kreamer, vice president; J. S. Miller and A. R. Barlow, secretaries. Balance of the page is given to general reading matter and movements of Kossuth, and the death of Jane D., youngest daughter of Nathan J. and Sarah B. Mitchell.

On third page, James Burnside announces letting for Bellefonte and Boalsburg turnpike. Vendue of Francis Booser, of Spring. Estrays by Wm. Walker, of Worth, and James Webber of Valentine's Furnace. Dissolution of partnership of L. G. Davis, Bellefonte; Michael Witherite, caution against purchasing a note given to H. Shriner. John T. Hoover, administrator's notice of David Gordon; Fred Malone, of Boggs, advertisements for horse strayed or stolen; James Burnside advertises an election of Centre and Kishacoquillas turnpike Co., at house of James Hewes, Old Fort; Wm. T. Steln, advertisement for clock, watch and jewelry store; J. Smith Barnhart, advertisement for daguerretype room. Other advertisements are for Geo. Livingston's bookstore; Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank, by Jacob Wolf, Aaronburg; Jas. Irvin, M. D., requests persons to call and settle; John T. Hoover and Robert Lipton, eirs, est. Samuel Lipton, call for settlement; Wm. L. Musser, Millheim woolen factory for rent; weather bureau for farmers, for sale by Jas. Armour, Eileen Green and A. Ammerman; W. D. Parrot's new jewelry store; L. & G. I. Davis, fall and winter goods; Martin Stone's store; Jas. H. Rankin, law card; Dr. James H. Dobbins, medical card; N. Hillbish, stoves and tinware; S. B. Miller, drug store; Logan Foung, and A. Ammerman, merchant tailor; Miss Annie M. Bibb, millinery; James Irvin, D. C. card; John and A. Carner, exrs of est. of Wm. Carner, of Hubersburg; D. M. Wagner, arrival of full stock of goods by boat; stove and tinware by Magover; furniture up in good shape; Geo. Livingston's bookstore; Drs. Van Valzah & Mitchell, professional card, Boalsburg; D. C. H. Bressler, dental card; "Great Bargains" at store of Jacob Rothrock; Geo. B. Weaver, No. 3 Broeckerhoff Row, Hart & Rine, Bellefonte Foundry; Bellefonte Female Seminary conducted by Miss L. W. Loring; Henry Vandyrke and Jas. Gilliland lands with saw mills and grist mills thereon, in Snow shoe twp.; Franklin Hotel, Bellefonte; T. R. Reynolds & Co., new goods; card of Franklin House by Geo. Humes & Son have associated with themselves, John Tanner in the mercantile business; Rothrock & Weaver medicines; Wm. Pramer, furniture store.

8000 More Births Than Deaths. The population of Pennsylvania gained in the neighborhood of 8000 during May, according to a compilation of vital and mortality statistics for that month just made at the division of statistics of the state department of health. The births numbered 17,395, exclusive of 82 stillbirths, and the deaths aggregated 8828.

Boy of 7 Saves One of 3.

TAKE IT IN TIME.

Just as Scores of Bellefonte People Have.

Waiting doesn't pay. If you neglect the aching back, Urinary troubles, diabetes, surely follow.

Doan's Kidney Pills relieve back-ache. Cure every kidney ill. Bellefonte citizens endorse them.

William McClellan, 244 E. Lamb street, Bellefonte, Pa., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills fixed me up in good shape and consequently I think highly of them. I suffered for a long time from a pain and lameness across my back and some mornings I could hardly get out of bed. My back ached constantly and the kidney secretions were irritating to passages. Hearing a great deal about Doan's Kidney Pills, I decided to give them a trial and procured a supply from Green's Pharmacy Co. They cured me and I am now enjoying good health. My advice to anyone afflicted with kidney complaint is to take Doan's Kidney Pills." (Statement given Oct. 21, 1907.)

Re-Endorsement. Mr. McClellan was interviewed on Nov. 23, 1909 and he said: "I have taken your kidney Pills once or twice during the past two years, while suffering from back-ache and they have given me prompt relief. You are welcome to publish my testimonial at any time you desire."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

USE VACATION FOR BERRYING.

Return From Woods With Winter's Supply of Jam. Frederick Schiele, Andrew Bottomley, William Tackett and their families, all residents of Phillipsburg, have solved the summer vacation problem, including the expense bill, in a manner satisfactory to them.

Tents, bedding, cooking utensils, rations for two weeks, dozens of fruit jars and a few sacks of sugar were loaded on a wagon and taken to the mountains east of the town, where huckleberries and blackberries are plentiful. There the tents were pitched. The families, including the women and children, formed a small colony.

The mornings of each day were devoted to berry picking, and the afternoons to heating, sugaring and canning the day's pickings. In the evening, around the open campfire, with the whippoorwills singing, the screechows screeching and the mosquitoes humming, the real bliss of the simple life was experienced. It was then the children were entertained with real and imaginary tales of ancient progress in the pioneer days.

The campers returned browned and benefited by the outing, and with the winter's supply of jams and jellies ready for storage.

The "huckleberry vacation" is likely to be quite popular thereabouts next season.

Pastor Berates "Higher Society."

Rev. W. H. Spangler, pastor of the Connellsville United Brethren church says the Courier, poured a heated verbal broadside into the liquor traffic and the commercialization of vice.

Rev. Spangler said in part: "We have an enormous liquor traffic in Fayette county and God knows it is as rotten as can be. I wish prohibition in Fayette county would get so hot it would fry spit," meaning the movement would become so heated it would consume all opposition.

On the preceding evening Rev. Spangler bitterly assailed "Higher Society," and said: "If I wanted to find a moral, Christian woman I would not go to the exclusive set or the '400'.

The social card table is another curse from which many a son has learned to toss chips and many a daughter gone astray because mother taught them to play cards. The idle world monopolizes time with the lusts of insane fashion which time our parents labored that this generation might become beneficial to the world.

The old fashioned church is gradually slipping from us and the 'Just from Paris' is taking its place. Parents, how do you want your children to grow up?"

Rev. Spangler's sermons were the objects of much comment.

Picked 6,100 Quarts of Huckleberries. John B. Probst, a Woodward township butcher, who attends the Lock Haven city market, established a record as a vender of huckleberries in this city during the season, having, with the assistance of his family, picked and sold up to this morning 6,100 quarts. Prices ranged from 7 to 10 cents a quart and it will thus be seen that it proved to be quite profitable. Although each year he supplies his patrons with huckleberries never before did he secure so many in one season.—Express.
