HOWARD.

"Tis greatly wise to talk with our past hours and ask them what report they bore to Heaven."

Our Churches Next Sabbath.

Reformed—Pastor E. F. Faust will preach in Howard at ten o'clock, at Marsh Creek at half past two, and at Jacksonville at half past seven.

Christian Scientists—Service at the home of Mrs. Thomas Mann at ten o'clock.

Busy.

A recent visit to the works of the Howard Iron & Tool Co. found them busy running out an order for four thousand dozens of one of their specialties, the Jenkins steel garden rake.

"The Musical Favorites."

This is the stage name under which a quartette of accomplished musicians and entertainers who have won a national reputation, appear professionally in public.

Mrs. Jackson Kline is enjoying a visit with friends in Williamsport.

Miss Mary Weirick is again at home from her extended visit in Altoona.

Phillip C. Holter has had a hard tussle with quinsy, but is about again.

Henry Confer is putting up a new barn on the north end of his home lot.

John Walker, of Castanea, visited his sick father, Mathias Walker, last Sunday.

Miss Lillian Williams, of Bellefonte, is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. George L. Williams.

Wilbur Confer and sister, Miss Maria, were the recent guests of their friend Miss Eva Neff.

Mrs. William Schenck, of Williamsport, was looking about among her old friends here last week.

Assistant post mistress Miss Ella Hall is spending her vacation weeks with friends in Pittsburg.

Some of our thermometers marked 32 degrees last Sunday morning; others were more conservative.

Miss Alma Ruch, of Sunbury, was a member of the house party at the Leather's home last week.

Miss Nannie Knoll departed last week for Philadelphia, where she purposes spending the winter.

Mrs. Ruth Malone, of Beech Creek, was a week-end guest at the home of her friend Miss Corilla Thomas.

Elder A. J. Bachman held a continuous meeting in the Church of Christ, during the evenings of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Miner spent last Sunday with their sick niece, Miss Mary Keister, of Lock Haven.

It is a pleasure to see Mrs. C. A. Smith, of Centre Hall, formerly Miss Loran Henderson, among us again.

Mrs. Kate Kies and daughter, Miss Mary, of Binghampton, N. Y., are guests of Mrs. Ira P. Leathers and son LeRoy.

Mrs. Oscar Faust and Mrs. Louis Etting, of Milton, were week-end guests of their friends, Miss M. H. Lucas.

J. D. Lutz, formerly of Snyderstown, now of Rand county, Illinois, spent a day last week with his old friend M. L. Beck.

J. P. Strunk has gone to Remov where he will put his good horsemanship in the employ of an undertaker and expressman.

Bower Holter, of the Bellefonte Republican, with his family spent several days recently with his father, Capt. H. C. Holter.

On Friday last Mrs. L. H. Neff and little daughter Margaret attended the wedding reception of Robert Thompson, at Snow Shoe.

Miss Mittie H. Lucas is again at her post with a stock of superior millinery on hand for her fastidious and discriminating patrons.

Wilbur F. Leathers, of the township, attended the funeral of his uncle David Foresman, in Williamsport on Tuesday of last week.

Mrs. James Bechdel is enjoying visits from her son, Edward J., of Pittsburg, who has his family with him, and Mrs. Fry, of State College.

Mrs. Charles M. Yearick, of Jacksonville, a sister of the bride, gave a handsome reception to Mr. and Mrs. J. Claude Johnson last Thursday evening.

"Bobbie" Confer who has spent the season in the lumber woods, at Cheat Bridge, W. a., is at home for a short time, and wears a fine mustache with much grace.

W. J. Quay, mail carrier on route No. 2, has just put down a good brick walk in front of his black street home. Reuben Lucas made a good, solid job of it.

Miss Alice Wilson, of Sharon, was an over Sunday guest of her chum and room mate, Miss Nellie Weber, and on Monday they started together for their school in Philadelphia.

Miss O. Lou York, of Washington and New York, Will P. Woodward, of Pittsfield, Mass., and Charles V. Woodward, of Philadelphia, were recent visitors at the Woodward home.

Miss Maud Longee, of Williamsburg, Pa., arrived on Friday last for a visit with her mother, having come directly from Portland, Maine, where she had spent a portion of the summer.

Jackson Kline has made a much needed improvement in his store property on Walnut street by putting down a substantial brick gutter, built of extra heavy brick to stand the hard wear.

On Saturday evening next, a pie and cake social, with all that means, will be held by the choir of the Christian Chapel in the store room lately occupied by L. H. Thompson. Come and eat.

The departure of the charmingly vivacious Miss Zona Scott for her home in Cleveland, O., has left several of our available young men in an unenviable condition of loneliness and uncertainty.

The large new, plank platform and steps which Squire Samuel F. Kline had built in front of the store room Monday and Tuesday, is one of the best improvements recently made on that prominent corner.

It is so seldom that Mrs. Wm. H. Neff leaves her house, even for a day, that it is worthy of note that on last Sunday she accompanied her husband, son and daughter-in-law, to Jacksonville and spent the day with her aged sister Mrs. Sayre.

On Saturday last, B. Frank Strunk, one of the active members of the Church of Christ, took his two boys, Walter and Gilbert, with him and got busy about the church yard, mowing it, and giving it a general clean up, which much improved the appearance of things thereabout.

For the coming year the officers of Sunday School District No. 5, which includes this section of the county, are Rev. E. F. Faust, President; Charles White Vice President, W. C. Thompson, Secretary; Miss Gertrude Thomas, Assistant Secretary, and Wm. J. Wilson, Treasurer.

A reunion of the Joseph McKibben family was held last Saturday in the old Joseph McKibben farm homestead near Cedar Springs, and members from here who attended were Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Reber, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Allison and family, Miss M. H. Lucas and her two guests, from Milton.

The Sunday School District Convention was a successful meeting, notwithstanding rainy weather, good audiences and fine interest were the rule. Postmaster and Superintendent Wilbur F. Hall took a big load of representatives of the M. E. school down for the Friday evening session.

Mrs. Hensyl Johnson, of our town, is a sister-in-law of the Rev. E. E. Harter, the pastor of the Methodist church at Austin who has won a state-wide commendation by his heroic labors in behalf of the sufferers by the great disaster, and his common-sense and Christ-like views of the situation.

While Adelbert Confer was helping hitch up a horse which had a reputation for kicking, the horse confirmed his bad repute by kicking Mr. Confer squarely in the face, cutting and bruising it badly, and breaking his nose. He was taken to the Lock Haven hospital where he was fixed up and returned home in a day or two.

It is sad to know that the case of Mrs. Charles Leathers, the talking of whom to the Bellefonte hospital was noted in a recent letter, was found by the careful and capable physicians there to be quite incurable. The poor woman was returned to her home with great care and tenderness in the hospital ambulance by three of the attendants.

Two great freight engines much longer than any ever seen on this section of the B. E. Div., were en route, as freight and running coal to the Missouri Pacific line, were side tracked here last Saturday night, to cool a hot box, which had been giving the men in charge considerable trouble. They were a source of special interest and were viewed by many of our people.

UNIONVILLE.

The following persons were pleasant visitors to friends in our town during the past week: Eli A. Hall, teller in First National bank at Ocolea Mills, wife and son; Mrs. John Miles, of Milesburg; Mrs. N. B. Spangler, of Bellefonte; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Fox, of Mill Hall; Jacob Gates, wife and two children, of Brownsville, Pa.; at Mrs. F. Holt's Francis Speer, of Bellefonte; Jno. D. Miller, of Hublersburg; Harry Deibel, of Milesburg; and still there are more to follow.

Mrs. Toner Irwin is quite ill with tonsillitis.

Andrew T. Rowan is laid up with a severe case of neuralgia.

After spending the summer very pleasantly at the home of Mrs. Brugger, Mr. and Mrs. Lewellyn James will leave for Dixie land on next Friday, their home being in Lake Helen, Florida. Their removal to the south land will cause an "aching void" here that will be hard to fill. Send us a percomin when you get home, Lew.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Stere are off on a visit to their son-in-law and daughter, the Rev. Victor L. Wagner and wife, at Buckhorn, Pa.

Good! how the girls do like to go to Bud Griest's store now-a-days, because why? Bud has installed a handsome young clerk in his store; his name is Harry McElwain, of Maryland.

Mrs. Mattie Musser has been away from our town for nearly two months visiting friends. At present she is at Hickory Corners, Pa., gathering hickorynuts, I presume, and visiting friends.

Say, Charley, I got somewhat disconsolate over my items thinking they were not appreciated but on Thursday of last week while attending the County Fair I met hosts of friends and every mother's son and daughter of them had a nice stick of taffy for me. It seems they can't give up that old flying machine of mine. Well, sooner or later I will fly. Here are some of those who deluged me with sweets: Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Meyers, of Pine Grove Mills; Mrs. Meyers was formerly Miss Mary Lutz; Mr. and Mrs. Clay Wilmer, of Fillmore; Mrs. Harvey Lutz, of Bellefonte; Andrew Hassinger, of Lemont; Jacob Keller, Esq., of Pine Grove Mills; Col. John P. Meckley, the old veteran soldier and tipstaff, of Houserville; Eph. Meckley and wife, of Altoona; John Stine, Esq., of Buffalo Run; John, he laughed, and he laughed, so he did. And lots and lots more of others whom I have forgotten.

The following officers of Lumen Lodge, No. 639, I. O. O. F. were installed on last Saturday night by A. E. Gearhart, D. D. G. M., of Chester Hill: H. M. Stere, N. G.; W. H. Barton, V. G.; Dr. W. U. Irwin, Treas.; James M. Stere, C.; Jas. R. Holt, chaplain; E. P. Lucas, R. S. N. G.; O. H. Nason, L. S. N. G.; H. I. Stere, I. G.; William Richards, O. G.; D. H. Custer, R. C. S.; Harman Bird, L. C. S.; A. J. Hall, warden.

Talk about your big "wedgetables." Mrs. Aaron Hall "pulled" a radish out of her garden by the aid of a derrick that measured 19 inches in length and 24 inches in circumference and weighed 18 1/2 pounds. If any of the readers of the Democrat can beat that "red-diah" get right up and tell it if you dare.

The party or parties who are in the habit of loafing in Mrs. Callie Calhoun's barn half of the night are suspected and are hereby notified to "cut it out" and find some other place to loaf as they will be watched and if caught will be dealt with according to law.

E. W. Shipley, Esq., moved into his new home, which he purchased from Mrs. Jno. P. Harris, on Tuesday.

Good News, Folks!

A special showing of the famous

"Printzess"

Suits and Coats

on

Friday and Saturday,
Oct. 13th and 14th

"Printzess" Suits and Coats are known to smart dressers from Maine to California for their elegant style, superior fit and high grade tailoring. The manufacturers have made the name "Printzess" a synonym for "Distinction in Dress."

On FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, we will hold a special display of "Printzess" Suits and Coats for Fall and Winter, and we would like to have you come and see it. It will pay you to cancel any previous engagement you may have for these days in order to attend this showing, for it is a superb Fashion display far beyond comparison. You will be fascinated by the profusion of Fall's most beautiful and distinctive styles; you will delight in the handsome new weaves, and you'll marvel at the low prices. In fact it is a showing no style-lover would want to miss.

Remember the days—Friday and Saturday, October 13th and 14th. Come! You're Cordially Invited!

KATZ & COMPANY.
