HOWARD.

"Nature paints the best part of the picture, carves the best part of the statue, builds the best part of the house, and speaks the best part of the oration."—Emerson.

In Our Churches Next Sabbath.

Our amiable Justice, A. A. Fletcher, journeyed to the Presbyterian parsonage at Mill Hill Thursday of last week 26th, in company with Mrs. Cora Hayes Yearick, of Clintondale, and the two were there made one by Rev. A. D. Bateman in the presence of Miss Lovilla Hayes, a sister of the bride. A letter from Squire Fletcher from Washington, D. C., where the happy pair are spending their honeymoon, says that they will be home in time for him to vote the whole Democratic ticket, and that thereafter they will be "at home" to their friends in his present residence here. Mrs. Fletcher is a daughter of James G. and Rachel McKibben Hayes, among the best known families of Clinton county and well and favorably known here. The Howard letter extends its congratulations and best wishes.

Last Sabbath evening Rev. W. H. Patterson began a series of special meetings which will last at least two weeks, in the Christian Chapel.

It is to be regretted that the health of Mrs. Faust is continuing somewhat what below her usual standard. Her sister, Miss Alvina Yoder, of Hingham, Schuylkill county, is here to relieve her in part from household cares.

Mrs. James Henderson Lauch has closed her home for the winter and will spend it in St. Louis with her son, Harry.

The wedding of a nephew called Dr. and Mrs. Kurtz to Philadelphia last Tuesday, Mrs. Kurtz, continued her journey to New York, where she spent a few days with her sister Miss Louise Hensyl, E. N.

Pastor Taylor is holding a continuous meeting at Curtin this week of former sheriff Cooke last week by Capt. H. A. Holter and his two expert sons, "Dave" and "Phil," in addition to being a good roof, the appearance of the home is greatly improved, and Mrs. A. M. Butler and family are mourning the loss of a little granddaughter who had lived only to them all.

James F. Kane has found profitable employment in Williamsport.

Mrs. Annie Rothrock Long, of Bellefonte, spent a portion of last week with friends here.

Miss Harriet Wilson, a genial and enlightened member of the Society of Friends at Stormstown, was a visitor last Thursday in the homes of Rev. R. S. Taylor and the Woodwards.

Mrs. Taylor and son Rollin spent last Sunday with Edwards Taylor at Loganston.

After casting your votes and "talking politics" all of the forenoon next Tuesday, go to the store room vacated by L. C. Thompson and eat a big dinner in behalf of the choir of the Christian Chapel congregation. It will be more than worth all you will have to pay for it.

Little Walter Shay was discharged as well from the hospital last Wednesday and returned to his home here on No. 52. The sympathy of the community with the little fellow in his misfortune of losing a foot was expressed by his mates of the primary school who, under the leadership of their leader, Miss Johnson, met him in a body at the station.

John M. Snyder, of Philadelphia, and Joseph DeLong, of Blanchard, special friends, respectively of the Misses Ehlrieda and Florence Confer, spent last Sunday with these young ladies.

On Thursday, Nov. 26th, Squire S. F. Kline reached his ninety-first birthday and received numerous cards and other tokens of remembrance and good wishes from his friends. The fine old gentleman is hale and hearty and bids fair to enjoy the many added years we wish for him.

A continuance of service is being held in the Christian Chapel this week by pastor Patterson.

After a summer residence here, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henderson left on Sunday's No. 54 for their home in Jonestown.

OVER THE COUNTY.

Choice apples are delivered at Coburn station at twenty-five cents per bushel. Apples were very plenty in that section of Penna valley.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hexamer, of Franklin, Pa., have become the parents of a third set of twins in seven years, there being a boy and a girl each time. All are living.

It is a happy coincidence that the next number of the course of entertainments, viz: John B. Ratto's delightful sketches has been dated for the evening of Nov. 30, Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Goodling and baby, of State College, returned to their home on Saturday after a few days' visit with Mrs. Goodling's mother, Mrs. J. C. Park, at Juniata. Mr. Goodling is superintendent of the State College farm.

The members of Black Oak United Brethren church will hold a Picnic social at the home of G. W. Gates on Saturday evening, November 4th. Ice cream and cake will also be served. Everybody is cordially invited to attend. Proceeds to buy new stones for the church.

If you want to see the accounts of Centre county carefully audited elect Messrs. Brungart and Hoy. They will do more than kill time at $3 per day.

UNIONVILLE.

The past week comers and goers: Col. Mont Musser, of the Westinghouse plant, Pittsburg; Philip Stere, of Ligonier, Pa.; Frank Lee, of Irona; George Potter Alexander, of Altoona; Clayton Stover, of DuBois; the Hon. Ed. Adams, wife and two children, of Huntingdon county; besides these were Curt. Condo and wife, of Columbus, Ohio; Mr. Condo learned the blacksmith trade with Daniel Hall at this place about 30 years ago. After he got his diploma he went to Ohio where he has prospered abundantly. Time has dealt gently with him as he looks no older than when he left here, 25 years ago. Then there's that pretty, jolly, vivacious Miss Bess Green, of Brinary, chaperoned by Mrs. Stanton and Miss Potter, a resident of Milesburg, who is visiting at the Green home, came across the mountain, piloted by chauffeur, H. C. Huey. The goers were: Mrs. Samuel A. Hoover made a business trip to Bellefonte, Mrs. Wm. B. Parsons to Julian, Laura Rumberger to Phillipsburg.

Dr. Irwin has installed electric light on his auto to take the place of gasoline. Great improvement, Doc, great!

Mrs. Susie Taylor found a purse or pocketbook lying on a chair in her kitchen containing a certain sum of money. How it got there she has not the slightest conception. The owner can have it by calling at her residence and proving the property.

Eight-year-old Gladis Sprow was asked the other day whether her grandma had made her pearbutter yet? "No," she answered, "we haven't any churn." Gladis evidently thought all butters had to be churned.

Again the stork has been in evidence. This time he visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Jones and presented them with a lovely boy baby, and now Jim has laid in an extra supply of provender for the winter.

The biggest potatoes that have been reported this season were raised on the Bruggers farm, the largest of which weighed almost two pounds.

Irvin L. Morrison reports having seen a large flock of wild geese heading for the sunny south.

On next Sunday at 10.30 a. m. there will be the regular preaching services at the M. E. church by the Rev. R. S. Oyer. The singing will be under the auspices of the Welsh choir of Johns-town, consisting of eight male voices, of which John P. Bruggers is a member. This is said to be one of the finest of the fine and our people are anticipating a special treat on that day. We hope the house will be well filled. Don't miss the sermon nor the music by staying away.

Miss Gertie Griest has been on the sick list for several days but we are glad to note that she is much better.

E. C. Morrison is slowly convalescing. John Rowan and "Tid" Holtzworth, typhoid feverites, are out seeing the elephant and anything else that's to be seen in our busy town.

Wm. A. Alexander has been quite ill for several weeks, and his condition is such as to cause his friends much alarm.

A masquerade party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Eckenroth was one of the happy events of the past week. There were about 27 masked kids of all sizes and they report having had "lots of fun down at Michael Schneiders."

One morning, as I was taking my cow to pasture I saw 14 fine large wild turkeys in the corner of George Morrison's field near the road—two years ago and haven't seen any since.

Charles Rowan, near our esteemed townsman Andy Rowan, on Tuesday at 10:30 a. m. at the First M. E. parsonage of Altoona was happily married to Miss Myrtle Meyers of Bellefonte, by the Rev. Dr. Wilson, pastor of that charge. The happy couple came down on the one o'clock train of the same day to his parents' home where a great "feast of fat things" had been prepared for them by his loving mother. They will spend their honeymoon in this place, after which they will make their home in Bellefonte where the groom has a lucrative position in the machine shops. Charley is a strong, industrious, economical, manly man—a representative citizen. His wife is one of the most popular and esteemed young ladies of Bellefonte and, starting out as she does, under the most auspicious circumstances, we predict for them a bright future and join with his host of friends in wishing them a happy and prosperous life.

Not all conspiracies are punishable by law. Here is a case in which the conspiracy was not only justifiable but highly commendable. On Tuesday the 31st day of October, 1911, George W. Morrison, after 31 years of honest faithful service as a member of P. J. McDonnell's corps of trackmen, on Division 5, E. E. Y. branch of the P. R. R. was honorably retired on pension for the rest of his life by the Pennsylvania railroad Co. Now, here's where the conspiracy comes in. Great, big hearted Pat and his men, Morrison's fellow workmen, quietly conspired to buy him a gold headed cane on which was inscribed, "Presented to G. W. Morrison by his foreman and men, Oct. 31st, 1911." The presentation was made at the home of Mr. McDonnell in the evening of that day where the good hostess, Mrs. McDonnell, had prepared an elaborate banquet to which all of the crew were invited, and of which all most joyfully participated. After all had satisfied the inner man to their hearts content, the cane was brought forth and in a neat little speech by the foreman was presented to Mr. Morrison whose surprise and pleasure can better be imagined than described. This was like strewing great bunches of flowers in his pathway through life, and the event will ever remain a green spot in his memory, and we hope the cane will prove a staff and stay in his declining years.

Vote for D. R. Foreman for Prothonotary—because he is fit to fill the office.

PROF. ANGEL
EYESIGHT SPECIALIST

Wednesday and Thursday,
November 15th and 16th
AT BROCKERTHOFF HOUSE.

To My Patrons and the Public! Having become established in Bellefonte and all over the county, as a successful Eye Specialist, and through the large increase in my business, I have concluded it will be to the best interest of myself and the public to make a reduction of 25 per cent. in all my charges. This will enable those who have felt they could not afford to pay former prices to secure proper treatment for their eyes at the lowest possible expense. All parents are advised who have children that go to school who are not bright in learning or their studies, should have their eyes examined and see if they need glasses. You will thereby save lots of trouble and make good scholars of them.

From Wednesday morning until Thursday evening, November 15th and 16th, 1911.

SALE BILLS.

If you are having public sale come to this office for your bills as we can do the work on short notice. You also get a free notice in the Centre Democrat's "Sale Register" which, on account of our large circulation, will appear in 5600 papers each week, and be read and seen by almost everybody in Centre county.
You get better service for the same money at The Centre Democrat.

Every candidate on the Democratic ticket is worthy the support of every voter of the party.

Every sub-committeeman is responsible for the vote in his school district. If these men do their duty the entire Democratic Ticket will be elected on Tuesday.

You will find the famous Docksh stoves at Olewine's store.

SPECIAL COURT.

Special court adjourned Wednesday with President Judge Orvis on the bench, for the purpose of hearing the case of Commonwealth vs. Harry Barner and Harvey Tressler, being the two boys who broke into Gillen's grocery store sometime ago, of which this paper had an account at the time. Mr. Gillen being the prosecutor. These boys being young the case was tried in the Juvenile Court; the boys plead guilty and were sentenced to the Glen Mills school.

Joseph Conaway, charged with burglary, prosecutor Thomas F. Kelly; the case about the same as those charged for common, ordinary suits and coats, of little or no merit.

In the Meyer vs. Keller case before Judge Harry Alvin Hall, the Court directed the jury to find for the defendant's.

Formerly Lived at Sandy Ridge. The body of George Edmonson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Edmonson, who moved last spring from Sandy Ridge to Streator, Ill., was brought to Osceola for interment on Saturday, his death having occurred at the family home in Illinois.

Everyone concedes that D. A. Grove and W. H. Noll are successful business men and would make good commissioners. They are the kind of men to hold public office.
