WINGATE.

Andy Heaton left on Monday for Martha where he expects to make his home with Joseph Williams.

The P. R. R. Co. has made a reduction in their track force, taking effect Tuesday, and catching Claud and Harris Sommers.

Myrtle Iddings, who is employed at Bellefonte, spent Tuesday visiting her father and many friends here.

Oscar Sommers has opened the butcher season by killing a hog weighing 301 pounds, and Plumber Strunk following by killing one weighing 275 pounds; these fellows know how to put the fat on so they can not shake it off.

Mrs. Arnold and daughter, of Runville, spent Thursday at the home of Geo. Sommers.

The farmers are busy husking corn, hauling the fodder in and getting ready for the winter winds and snow.

Jane Estright spent Wednesday visiting relatives at Tyrone.

Chas. Heverly, of Beech Creek, was a very pleasant caller at the home of M. E. Flynn last Thursday.

Mrs. L. S. Way and children, Nelson and Bond, left Saturday for Stormstown where she will visit her parents and friends for a couple of weeks.

The Wingate school and the Runville school on last Friday afternoon held a contest in speeches and dialogues in our school house; the results of which were elegant, the Wingate scholars carrying off the prize; the amusing part of the program was the dialogue entitled, "I hardly think I will," between Susan Murray and Ethel Irwin.

Bessie Haines, who is employed at Bellefonte, spent Saturday with her parents, John Haines. Glad to see you, Bessie.

Grace Boop has left her home here to accept a position making gloves at Bellefonte. Grace ought to never have cold fingers.

Ell Store has added an improvement to the poor farm by remodeling the smoke house; it certainly looks great since completed.

Mrs. Irwin Lucas left on Wednesday for Curtin where she expects to visit friends and relatives.

The wise man does not let his wife hear him boast that he is a good manager; she knows better.

Clara Iddings spent Thursday visiting friends at Runville and vicinity.

Chas. F. Warner, who has been traveling over the country for a couple of months, arrived in our village to spend several days with his grandparents and friends.

Miss Ester Young, of Bellefonte, Sunday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Long.

Mrs. Charles Myers, of Tyrone, spent Sunday with her brother, Henry Estright.

L. S. Way left Sunday morning for Stormstown where he will attend the funeral of his brother-in-law, Bud Sylvia, who died very suddenly at his home there.

Mrs. S. S. Saxon, of Bellefonte, Oh, you auto ride.

Mrs. Laura Oaks, of Pitcairn, is spending some time with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Iddings, of Plum Grove, gave a party on Saturday evening in honor of their daughter, Mrs. Lucy Moorhead; it being her nineteenth birthday; the evening was spent in playing games, and refreshments which were served at 9 o'clock; at a late hour all departed for their homes, wishing Mrs. Moorhead many more happy birthdays. Those present were: Elizabeth Fisher, Nora Rebecca Hoover, Lillie Lovel, Myrtle Iddings, Charles Hoover, Joseph Flick, James Duncan, Plumber Flick and Reuben Iddings.

Miss Ella Wagner, one of Central City's charming young ladies, spent Sunday with her grandmother, Mrs. John Harnish.

COLVER.

J. H. Harner has rented the farm of Henry Stoner, vacated by John Spangler, and took possession of it on Tuesday, the 14th. Orvis S. Harner will occupy the house vacated by his father.

Mrs. G. R. Meese was called to the bedside of her sister, Mrs. George Weaver, of Beaver Dam, who is very ill at this writing.

Quite a number from this place expect to attend the Teachers' Institute at Bellefonte this week.

The farmers through this vicinity are about all done with their corn husking and threshing; next will be butchering and paun haus making, Benjamin Rickett being the first to open the butchering season—last Friday.

The sale of John Spangler which was held last Thursday was largely attended and everything brought fair prices.

Mrs. Frank Treaster returned to her home at Lewistown after spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shadow, of this place.

Quite a number from this place attended the lecture which was held in the Grange Arcadia at Centre Hall, last Tuesday evening, and all report as having enjoyed it very much.

Miss Sara Horner, who is employed at Bellefonte, came home to assist her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Homan, in moving.

Roy Miller, while assisting Howard Lingie in threshing, fell from a mow to the barn floor, a distance of about 9 feet. At first his condition was thought serious, but he escaped with but a few slight bruises.

WEST BRUSHVALEY.

We had a fair turnout at the election and won the day.

Protracted fasting is still in progress. C. E. Yearick has finished sawing staves.

Quite a number of our men have started out to hunt deer.

There is everything quiet at Mt. Union at present.

B. W. Hazel was through here buying a carload of apples.

A number of our people attended the sale of John Spangler.

Some of our people forget themselves and break the ten commandments.

The scribe would like to know what he become of the Central Brush Valley scribe. Wake up brother scribe and let us hear from you.

Chas. Beck has taken up agency which he expects to follow.

REBERSBURG.

On Friday Theodore Royer stopped an untoward accident while hauling manure. In walking, his foot hit a protruding nail in a board, which entered near the toe and penetrated full length. He continued work on Saturday, but his foot is now very much swollen, and he suffers great pain.

Everybody, including the Republicans, are satisfied with the election results.

Michael Wantz lost his two nice fat hogs by some disease. Hog cholera is said to be prevalent in the hard coal region. The pork from cholera-infected hogs is poisonous.

A nephitis Americanne visited East Rebersburg one night and left its mark upon the circumambient. Per consequence, the swains and "sweezers" who pay devotion to the moon on Saturday night, need no pertumery!

There is suspicion that the Republican bosses of Bellefonte eliminated the equation, as the High school Misses first eliminate y to find the value of x. The Republicans of Miles town, Missions never get farther with the bosses than Y or Zed!

Tom Harter, the lumber prince of Loganton, is sawing off the timber on the Haines and Royer tract, East End, near Tom Brungart's.

When Elk creek designs to come above ground and ripple in its surface bed, old Earth is full and there is no immediate danger of her burning up just yet, a little while, perhaps!

A pig is not stuck every time it squeals.

Gossip is derived from goose-hip. The goose is said to be the dumbest rambler among all the feathered tribe. And when the goose gets you on the hip, hereabouts, it is "farewell, brother Mose."

Henry Corman has returned to the ancestral home.

Churches are numerous here—four in Rebersburg and one in Spulton; and "the Son of Man had not where to lay his head!" In the life of Christ there were but two occasions when the Master entered a church—once at 12 years old, when he told the learned doctors where they were at, and once later when he went down to Jerusalem with a switch and drove the Money-Changers and Pharisees out of the Temple. Churches are, as St. Paul said, of the law. "The law is good; if a man use it lawfully."

Mandy—"Til tell you now, that the Bible condemns the wearing of rings and jewelry by women. It is very wicked for the girls to wear such baubles. The Apostle Paul said to Timothy (1 Tim. ch. 2, vrs. 9, 10) "In like manner also that women adorn themselves with modest apparel, with shamefastness and sobriety; not with costly array; but (which becometh women professing godliness) with good works."

Flossie—"Yes, Mandy, that means only the head-gear. But read further: The next two verses say: "Let the women learn in silence with all subjection. But I suppose not a woman to teach, nor usurp authority over man, but to be in silence." If the first is binding, Mandy, why not the second? Then what becomes of the whole educational system of the day? Is that Godless, too, Mandy? And in the next chapter the Apostle says: "Likewise must the Deacons be grave, not double-tongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre, holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience."

Charlie Zimmerman is the chief of the shooting the slyest old red fox of the summer mountain, which robbed the farmers of their chickens and caught the rabbits. The pelt reached from Charlie's neck to the ground, and he is not a "shorty," either.

One wild turkey has been bagged so far; Dave Diehl-ed it.

Professor—"Why do they call that stream over at Lewistown 'the Blue Juniata'?"

Rebersburg kid—"Because the Indians up at Huntington use so many kidney pills 'Tut' Tut!"

Willis Frank Bierly, the merchant on wheels, has pretty much all of Brushvalley and some of Sugarvalley on his butter, eggs and chicken list, because he pays the highest cash price right down on their dining tables. That's the Bierlyski way of it!

M. Claude Haines has a cinch on all of John Day's buckwheat crop of this year, which is being ground at Coburn mills. Claude says he has also supplemented it with the sap of a New York maple grove.

Whoever dished up that masquerade ball, carved the turkey to a "T" and is an artist, all right.

All the country boys know which end of a gun is loaded and also the difference between a man or peasant. But it seems the city chaps should first take a course of training from the State Game Commissioner and after passing an examination, carry a license. The country chaps might protect themselves by carrying flags on their hats, so that the city chaps might see that it is no buck!

Charlie Bierly, Jr., intends to pull his peach orchard up by the roots in the spring. It has paid, though it was short-lived.

Well, Prof. Surface, of the State Bug House, please tell us the story of the metamorphosis of the chestnut worm, and also why the paragon chestnuts are so bitter.

The first day John Hubler was out for game, he bagged the limit of gray squirrels.

Hellers butcher for the Lock Haven market every week, and Tom Hiler slaughters for a select local trade.

The Rebersburg merchants have been busy the past week.

When the Rebersburg man goes away he should always lock his hen-house, for the skunk is abroad in the land—and he should not wait until the poultry and eggs are in chancery.

"Look not upon the wine when it is red. Wine is a mocker, and strong drink is railing. Whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise." From the number of Millheim bottles found in the fence corners of Brushvalley, and not far from this place, the above is a good timely text for about five "domines" to preach virile sermons upon. They might also consider this one: Do not drink water alone, but take a little wine for thy stomach's sake, and thine often infirmities." Paulus to Timotheus.

UNIONVILLE.

On Monday night of last week a very delightful birthday party was pulled off at the residence of Mr. Howard Miles, about one mile west of town. It was the occasion of his 41st birthday and was planned for a surprise, but I think he smelled a good-sized rat when he saw his good wife doing a little more baking than usual. A large delegation from this place was to have participated in the happy event, but, owing to a heavy downpour of rain in the evening, but few were present from here. Next time, we'll all go, Howard.

Some down from the wild geese that flew over town one day last week was floating in the air and Jennie Parsons actually thought it was snow.

Dr. C. A. VanValin got a wild turkey, and his son Francis a large fat coon; William Eruss and his son Charley each got a turkey; Ralph Holt a turkey; Bobby Hall a turkey; Howard Musser a turkey; Charley Rowan three rabbits; George Parsons, one rabbit; Clayton Stover and his father-in-law, Wess Atherton, of DuBois, got a number of rabbits and other small game; Harry McElroy got a "piney"; a party from Williamsport boarded the 8 o'clock train here on Saturday night with two fine turkeys and three pheasants. Many hunters came to this place from a distance and are camping at different places. Game is reported to be not so plentiful as in other years.

I met a very pleasant gentleman in Bellefonte recently and he told me the Centre Democrat is the principal "menu" in his household, and the Unionville items are most relished as desserts, the only difference being that they always take the dessert first. God what a happy people can give. His name is R. H. Stern, and he lives at Nittany, and he is certainly a real nice boy.

Now, Billy Bruss comes forward claiming the prize for large potatoes, the largest of which weighed 2 lbs. 10 oz. We doubt if this can be beat in Centre county. At any rate Billy comes forward with a bigger potato or bigger yarn.

On Wednesday of last week, Joe Resides got funny, so did Miss Cora Hoover. I'll tell you what they did. First they went to Bellefonte, got a marriage license, and then went to the M. E. parsonage at Milesburg, where they were united in the Holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. R. S. Oylor, arriving home here on the 8 o'clock train, and went direct to the home of the bride where a fine wedding dinner had been prepared by the callithumpians turned out in full force and gave the happy pair a boisterous welcome. Now, Joe is an industrious, popular young man, and Miss Cora is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Hoover, and is one of our most popular young ladies of the most teachable character. Congratulations, Joe and Cora.

As has been previously announced, eight members of the Friendly Male Chorus of the Welsh Methodist Church of Johnstown, consisting of the following persons: Aaron Davis, Evan Jones, Robert Owens, Daniel Powell, Earnest Ellis, Thos. Jenkins, Seward Davis and John P. Brugger, sang in the M. E. church at this place on last Sunday. The church was filled to the limit with an expectant and appreciative audience and as they sang those beautiful songs of praise, their voices blending in beautiful, sweet harmony and melody, every heart was thrilled with pleasure. They were entertained in a body at the hospitable home of Mrs. Margaret Brugger. In the afternoon they sang a number of beautiful selections for their hostesses, also in the home of W. B. Turner for the enjoyment of Mrs. Turner who is an invalid and who shed tears of joy at the sweet heavenly music. They also spent half an hour in the home of the writer where they rendered a number of choice selections before leaving for home on the 5 o'clock train. Miss Eloise Buck manipulated the organ. The very appearance of those eight singers, being of fine person, helped to make their music more impressive, more inspiring. We trust they will come again.

Keep your eye on these items for the date of the great Bazaar that will materialize in the not distant future.

Mrs. Nannie Williams met with an accident that might have proven fatal. She started to go through the hall up stairs into another room, but instead of stepping into the hall, she stepped in the doorway and fell from the top of the stairs to the bottom. Save a few slight cuts and bruises, am glad to say, she was not seriously injured.

Mrs. Sarah Emerick closed her house on Monday and left for Pittsburg where she expects to remain during the winter. "Sadie" will be greatly missed by her friends in the church and out. She was an earnest and zealous worker in every department of church work and her place will be hard to fill.

Say, Daffy Dan, did you ever hear a gundrop? Now you stand up and answer the following questions and if you miss one, there will be a mango and you'll be "it." If the B. & O. hauls coal, what does the Panhandle? If the cook let the egg-beater, will the potato-masher? If Helen is naughty, from the Reef Trust, would he sue? If the chamber-maid a guest maid, would the house-keeper? Now here's where you get "stuck." If President Taft can laugh an hour, how long can Minnieha ha? Now surrender your lead pencil stub to your successor, Insa Facto, and retire to the shades of oblivion.

TYLERSVILLE.

There will be services in the evening in the Reformed church, beginning on the 14th inst. till the 17th inclusive. The Holy Communion will be celebrated next Sunday forenoon.

William Tweed and sister, Mrs. Glenn Myers, of York state, are spending several weeks under the parental roof.

Well, how did you like the snow on Sunday? It snowed some, didn't it? Our school children are enjoying a week's vacation while the teachers are attending Institute.

On Friday and Saturday afternoon Guy and Glenn Nollans took their lady friends, Miss Verna Allison and Miss Pearl Webner, and drove to Lock Haven to take in part of the Institute at that place.

Walter Harpster, of Bellefonte, came to our town one day the past week for a hunt and stopped with the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Young and family.

The funeral of Corman Yearick was largely attended on Friday; he was aged 30 years, 6 months and 29 days, and leaves a wife and four children, and a host of friends who mourn his loss.

Our farmers are about all through husking corn and hauling corn fodder. Monday started in with crisp, cold weather; everybody seemed in a hurry.

LEMONT.

John Peters is here from the west, to take a hunt.

Abraham Evey opened up his store this week, and it looks as though he would do a good business.

William Ferree loaded a car of winter apples this week to ship to the eastern market.

Robert Herman came from Phillipsburg to spend Sunday here in town among old friends.

Miss Sarah Williams visited here last Tuesday.

The Grove house and the Shuey house are both slowly nearing completion.

Several days ago O. C. Spencer, head miller for the Wasco Warehouse Milling Co's 2,500-barrel mill, of Dallas, Ore., called on our miller, Clayton Eiters, to investigate the working of several machines Mr. Eiters has, before placing them in their large mill, and he pronounced the flour Mr. Eiters was making and his separations to be the finest he has ever seen, and the smallest amount of bran.

The hunting has been good, but game is not very plentiful.

The hunting parties are about ready to go to the mountains for the deer season.

College township's new school board will be composed of the following gentlemen: F. C. Bradford, L. F. Mayes and S. R. Wasson.

Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for woman's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and strengthen Stomach, Liver and Bowels.
