HOWARD.

'The easiest job I know of—and I know some soft ones, too!—is just to tell the others what they always ought to do. The hardest thing I know of—and I know some tough ones, wow! is to make your little selfish live your gospel, here and now.'

In Our Churches Next Sabbath.

Christian Scientists—Service at the home of Mrs. Thomas Mann at half past ten.

Reformed—Pastor E. F. Faust will preach and celebrate the sacrament of the Lord's Supper at Salona at ten o'clock; he will also preach at Mt. Bethel at half past two, and at Hubbersburg at half past seven.

Methodist Episcopal—Pastor R. S. Taylor will preach in Howard at half past ten, at Kennedy at half past two and at Curtin at half past seven.

United Evangelical—Pastor M. J. Snyder will preach in Howard at half past ten and at Fairview at half past seven.

Presbyterian—By appointment of the Huntingdon Presbytery, Rev. Samuel Behner, of Curwensville, will preach in the old Lick Run church at Jacksonville at half past ten, and in the Christian chapel in Howard, at half past seven.

Echoes of the Local Election. 'We have met the enemy and we are theirs,' as usual generally speaking our candidates constituted the others who 'also ran.'

However we did much better than the republicans did in the county, electing two out of fifteen candidates—one school director and the constable.

The two inveterate and jolly bachelors, LeRoy Leathers, D., with one hundred and eighteen votes for constable and John Turner, R., with one hundred and sixteen votes for high constable were the star sprinters on their respective sides.

'Dave' Fletcher, R., candidate for surveyor-general of the county, was a close third, with one hundred and fifteen votes, although in the final outcome he is one of the 'almost but lost.'

Politically, conceit falls back to a two and five minority for the Democrats, by the substitute of J. W. Mayes for A. Weber.

'Squire A. A. Fletcher returned from his honeymoon the evening before election day and wishing to be relieved of the annoyance of a 'Call-thumpkin' serenade, made Roy Leathers the almoner of his pouboire on condition that he should keep the boys away. Roy met the crowd on its way and by a judicious use of a portion of the squire's fund succeeded in turning them back. Then he met a squad of the older school girls down town near one of our restaurants and lavishly poured out the balance of the fund for ice cream.

Electing morning every mother's daughter of that squad of girls sought out her father and big brother, and every friend she had, who were of voting age and just made him vote for Roy, and now he is talking in a pompous manner on every street corner.

A quartette of veteran citizens, all of whom have spent almost all their long lives in this vicinity, came to the polls to vote: Samuel F. Kline, aged ninety-one, and Peter Robb, aged eighty-two, of the borough; and Joseph Packer and Samuel B. Leathers, each aged eighty-six, of the township, and every one of them a sterling democrat.

The winners of the 'booby' prizes were Will Neff for the republicans and John Loder for the democrats.

The next event of general interest and importance in our community will be the second number of the entertainment course, which will be the presentation of character sketches by John B. Ratto, his great impersonator in the Reformed church in the evening of Thursday, Nov. 30—Thanksgiving night. At the close of the concert given by the 'Musical Favorites' Oct. 13, Mr. Love, the head of that delightful aggregation, publicly referred to Mr. Ratto, whom he knows intimately, in affectionate way, speaking of him as a most lovable man, of fine character, clean mind and good purposes, and in all his ways a christian gentleman. He predicting that our Howard audience would have a most enjoyable evening with him. The impression made by Mr. Love and his delightful musical family was such as to make his commendation of Mr. Ratto one of authority and to assure our people of the high class in which Mr. Ratto's work is placed.

Miss Clara Kurtz, of Williamsport, is a guest in the home of her brother, Dr. Walter I. Kurtz.

Prof. and Mrs. W. F. Yoder were week end visitors at the home of Rev. and Mrs. E. F. Faust.

Mrs. E. F. Faust has sufficiently recovered from her recent illness to be about her home again as usual.

Thomas Mann, a woods worker and Ward Thompson, a Remova machinist, came down to vote, hunt and visit.

Horace Boon will move into the farm house of Joseph L. Gardner, made vacant by the removal of the Gardner family to Altoona last week.

Mrs. Jackson Kline had for her week-end guests her two nieces the Misses Esther and Carrie Musser, and their brother Harry, all of whom have their residence at Penn Cave.

Jackson Kline and Sumner J. Wolf went to Altoona last Sabbath to hear Rev. Dr. Fluno, of California, deliver a lecture on Christian Science, and were much pleased with the address.

Charlie and Albert Confer left on Monday last, after a pleasant vacation, for Niagara, where they are employed at their trade of painting and paper hanging by the Niagara Falls Power Co.

John Wantz, who grew up in the township, but is now with his brother Austin, a resident of Ridgeway, is at home on a vacation and looks as though the mountain air up there, suits him.

Jesse Confer, of Yarnell, passed through town on Saturday on his way to visit his wife who is at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Haagen, east of town. Mrs. Confer has been suffering from partial paralysis for several years.

Miss May Lerch and Miss Daisy Baker whose homes are in one of the finest farming districts in the state, just north of Milton and known as 'Paradise,' were short time guests at the Evangelical parsonage last Wednesday.

It was a pleasure to see retired conductor Allison Haupt, the veteran of the Bald Eagle Valley R. R., on our streets last Tuesday evening, looking well and cheerful.

The excellent singing of Gospel Hymns at the special services last week by Rev. J. O. Patterson, of Taylorsville, Washington county, added much to the interest of the meetings and aided the pastor, Rev. W. H. Patterson in his work.

Miss Margaret Cummings died at her home at Niagara yesterday (Wednesday) forenoon. Miss Cummings was a sister of Mrs. George H. Leathers and through visits to her sister, was well known here, where, by her amiability and gentleness of manners, she had made many friends.

Twenty or more years ago Curtis Condo worked for Charles E. Yearick on the old Nittany farm and afterward moved to Columbus, Ohio, where he is prospering nicely; partly, of course, because he secured a good wife. Last week they both visited his old employer here in town.

Yesterday, (Wednesday) L. H. Thompson and family moved to Orviston, where Mr. Thompson has employment. The three sons, George, Willis and Chester, will remain here until the close of the school term in the spring, when they will join their parents, and take employment in the brick works.

Mrs. Jane McCalmont, of Bellefonte, with her friends Mrs. Hewitt, of Los Angeles, Cal., were dinner guests of Mrs. S. H. Bennison last Tuesday. Mrs. Hewitt was formerly Miss Marthe Hutchinson and the two visiting ladies were near neighbors in Nittany valley, just above Jacksonville, and close friends in their earlier lives.

L. C. Thompson, with his family and goods, moved to Hay's Run yesterday (Wednesday). On Tuesday evening previous, the local lodge of Rebekahs, of which Mrs. Thompson is a member, met at the home of Mrs. H. Neff, and extended her a good-bye reception in the form of an oyster supper. The affair was largely attended.

Little eight-year-old Perry Kline, who was injured by being thrown from a horse last week, is mending very nicely. An amusing sequel to the accident occurred when a younger brother, who was one of the number when the accident occurred, rode out to where he found a soft bit of sod and got down from his horse on that to avoid a similar mishap.

C. M. Fox, while cleaning some stones from his lot, last week, fell from his wagon, striking the wheel with his side as he fell. After moving about slowly for a few days, and finding that his bruises grew more and more sore, he discovered that he had broken one rib loose from the back and fractured another in front. He's giving them time to mend now.

The dinner and supper served by the ladies of the Christian Chapel choir were examples of the finest cooking of the best products of land and sea, and every man who partook of either of these meals at twenty-five cents acknowledges that he got twice the worth of his money. Their treasury is ahead more than twenty-five dollars as the result of their successful efforts.

William St. Vincent and Michael J. Wyland were quietly married at the Reformed parsonage by pastor E. F. Faust at 7:30 last Wednesday evening. After the ceremony they immediately repaired to the home of Mr. Wyland's parents, where they will reside for a few months. This was a very sensible and businesslike culmination of an extended courtship, which will, we trust, result in a long and happy wedded life.

The funeral service of Charles E. Holter was held in the United Evangelical church last Friday morning, conducted by his pastor, Rev. M. J. Snyder, assisted by Revs. R. S. Taylor and E. F. Faust. A very large concourse of relatives and friends, increased by the local lodge of P. O. S. of A., of which he was a member, followed him to the grave. Mr. Holter was a young man of fine christian character, and his early going is a loss to the community.

H. C. McMurtrie, manager of the Gas Range Department of the U. G. I. Co., 1935 Market St., Philadelphia, has with his wife, been the guest of his brother Charles of the Hotel Howard for the past two weeks, returning to his home and work last Monday. The party also contained Edward Stevens, cashier of the Hammerstein Co., and a cousin of Mr. McMurtrie; Mr. M. S. Rusby, Supl., of stores for the U. G. I. Co., with his wife, and John Schenck, also of Philadelphia. The party spent a portion of their time in gunning for rabbits and made nice bags of game.

On his eighth birthday last Wednesday, the young friends of little Walter Shay, who lost his leg by falling under the wheels of a freight train a few months ago, made him a visit in a body, and gave the bright and brave little fellow a cheering reception. Many of the little people carried with them presents of helpful and entertaining character, and the occasion made a bright day for the lame boy. Walter is now learning to use a neat little pair of crutches made for him by his old friend, grandpa Zera T. Welsh, and will be running around on them by the time spring arrives.

ZION. Sunday morning threatening rain; afternoon rain and snow turning cold with high wind. Mercury kept going down, reaching zero on Monday morning. Real cold and windy on Monday all day.

In some sections of our county there is much corn yet in the shock.

Billy Smith, with his threshing crew are coming in on the home stretch and expect to finish up in a few days.

Mr. Tire and the Gentzel and Garbrick hay balers are in our neighborhood this week.

Henry Gentzel, who has been in poor health for about a year, is gradually getting weaker and his friends have poor hope for his recovery.

Paul Vonada and Joel Shaffer were home from Altoona to vote. Both returned to that city the same day. They are well pleased with their job.

Harry Rookey, wife and three children, were Sunday dinner guests at John Weaver's.

The Evangelicals are holding a series of meetings in their church at this place.

Next week butchering will be in full blast, when liverwurst and paunhaus will flow like 'milk and honey.'

RUNVILLE.

Sara Shawley and Amber Confer, of Yarnell, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Poorman over Sunday.

Mrs. George Mayes and two brothers, Austin and Wellington, of McKeesport, spent Sunday with Willis Poorman and family.

Miss Madge Poorman, one of Runville's popular young ladies, visited last week with her sister, Mrs. Mabel Lucas, of Snow Shoe.

On Saturday the first quarterly conference of this year was held at Fairview and Pleasant valley, all branches of the Runville charge, were represented and a very interesting session was held.

Ellory Lucas, an employee at Reading's hotel, Sundayed at his home here. William Watson, wife and son, Victor, spent the latter part of the week with his parents at Snow Shoe.

Mrs. Clara Idings, on a business trip through town, stopped and enjoyed a short visit with Mrs. James Lucas.

Mrs. Tom Poorman made a business trip to the county seat on Saturday.

Willis Poorman and son Merrill transacted business in State College last week.

Mrs. Sadie Poorman, of Jersey Shore, spent Thursday at the homes of Joseph Alexander and Charles Lucas.

Those who spent Sunday at the home of Willis Poorman's were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Withertie and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Crook, and Jas. Shirk, of Chestnut Grove.

The stork visited our town and left a baby girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Forden Walker; both babe and mother are getting along nicely.

MT. EAGLE.

Nancy Robison has gone to Snow Shoe to visit her sister.

Mrs. M. Gates has returned home from visiting friends at DuBols.

Mrs. Cora Bartruff and her mother, Mrs. J. B. Leathers, were visiting Mrs. Joe Gummo at Salona; one day last week.

Mrs. Geo. Gates, of Nittany, is visiting Mrs. M. Gates and family.

Mrs. Ibra Bathurst and baby have returned to their home at Reading, after visiting friends here for a few weeks.

Mrs. John Winkleblich, of Beech Creek, was visiting Mrs. Wm. Bitner over Sunday.

Miss Mann, of Romola, was visiting her friends Anna Dietz over Sunday.

Pearl Gates was a Bellefonte shopper on Saturday.

Those who visited at Howard on Sunday were Mrs. Hayes Dauchenbaugh and family and Al Strickland and wife.

Joshua Kline was visiting at Beech Creek on Sunday.

EARLYSTOWN.

D. L. Bartee transacted business at Bellefonte one day last week.

Some of our farmers are through husking corn and others are almost through.

A. H. Spayde is building a new corn crib for the fine crop of corn on his farm.

Those who visited at John Delaney's the past week were, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Spayde, of Hubbersburg; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Delaney, of Bellefonte.

FILLMORE.

Sunday was a very stormy day which made it unpleasant for the visitors.

Monday made some of our people think that winter was here; it was cold enough at least.

Those who have been on the sick list are improving slowly.

Allen Witmer, who has been ill with pneumonia, is able to be around again.

Willis Sowers and wife, of Altoona, visited at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Sellers, of this place, over Sunday.

Mrs. D. H. McAlarny and daughter, of Altoona, spent a few days last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Huey's.

T. G. Lomison, of Rays Run, visited at the home of James Huey a few days last week.

Our brave men who belong to the Fillmore hunting club are going to the Alleghenies this week to hunt big bruin and that big buck deer; boys, when you come home you want to share up with your game as some of our people never saw a bear.

Domino, the Unlonville scribe, must have gone to the Sunny South in his airship to spend the winter months as we did not hear from him last week through the Centre Democrat.

FAIRVIEW.

J. L. Gardner's left Friday morning for their home in Altoona.

James Garret, wife and family, left on Friday for Huntingdon, Pittsburg and Altoona for a two-week's visit with friends.

Mrs. Bella Poorman is visiting her daughter, Mrs. James Acton, in Philadelphia.

LeRoy Behers, of Pittsburg, spent last week with his cousin, Mrs. John Lucas.

Ed. Tyson and son, of Zion, attended J. L. Gardner's sale and called on his father.

Hirace Boon moved in the house vacated by J. L. Gardner.

Protracted meeting is still continuing at Fairview.

BRANCH.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sents visited their daughter, Mrs. Ralph Lauder, of Oak Hall, Sunday.

Ralph Musser attended a dance in Tyrone last Friday evening.

John Dale was helping Chas Dale husk corn last week.

Henry Sents and son Henry returned home on Saturday after working last week in Bellefonte.

Those who visited at John Breon's on Saturday were, Miss Hannah Royer, Mrs. George Homan and grandmas Breon.

Wallace Musser walks around like a young boy now because he has the name of being called grandpa.

Dealers in some of the eastern counties say that turkeys are quite numerous this year so that prices are likely to be lower.

POTATOES WANTED We pay for Eggs.....30c We pay for Butter.....30c Gillen, the Grocer, Both Phones, Bellefonte, Pa.

You See Men Everywhere

who are dressed as you like to be dressed; who look as you like to look; who have an air of distinction that you like to see. Ten to one these men are wearing Sim clothes. You may be wearing them yourself; in that case you're dressed and you look, and you have the air of distinction we're talking about. There's no better or more certain way to get these things than the way we offer you.

The Sim Clothes

are designed by the most expert style authorities; in every small detail of length; of shape of the sleeve; of the turn of a lapel; in the artistic combination of colors; the shape and size and color of buttons--the little things you may not notice--these goods are exactly right. Notice some of these fine little points about them next time you're here.

You want such clothes as these; we know you do; you're a man who cares to have his clothes right; we know you are. There's no reason why you shouldn't have and wear them. The prices needn't stand in the way; they cost no more than men's ordinary clothes. None are so truly economical as these.

The facts of the thorough, perfect tailoring; of the correct style; all go to make these clothes best for you; most profitable for you. We want to have you wear these clothes for your own sake.
