Misses Sue and Bernice Wallace spent Sunday with friends in Milesburg.
Miss Myra Humes had as her week-end guest Miss Anna Mann, of Lewis-town.
Miss Kathryn Edwards, of State College, was an over Sunday guest of friends in this place.
Mrs. Jane Marshall has returned to her home in this place from a visit with her son William, at Buffalo, N. Y.
Mrs. Pearl Condo, of York, is enjoying a pleasant visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Brown, on Howard street.
Mrs. Galbraith and daughter, Miss Flora, of Huntingdon, were Sunday guests of Sheriff and Mrs. W. E. Hurley.
Richard Taylor, employed at the Huntingdon reformatory, spent a few days the past week with his family in this place.
Mr. Brandman's new amusement building is now under roof and the balance of the work will be rushed right along.
Don't forget "The Rosary" at the opera house on next Tuesday evening, December 5th. It is considered a fine attraction.
Mrs. Joseph Twimire, of Sunbury, was a guest for a few days last week at the home of her father, W. T. Twimire, in this place.
Oscar Peters, formerly of Bellefonte, now residing at Lancaster, was a recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Musser, on Howard street.
Warden John Francis was in Bellefonte over Sunday and on Monday was summoned to Pittsburgh. He expects to return here the latter part of the week.
The Women's Auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian Association will meet in the Y. M. C. A. building, Monday evening, December 4th, at eight o'clock.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fisher and two children, who had been visiting through Bellefonte on Saturday, returned to their way to spend the Sabbath with friends in Boalsburg.
Mrs. Louisa Bush and daughter, Mrs. Calloway, will depart on Monday for Atlantic City, where they will spend a short time in the hope of benefiting the child.
W. Harrison Walker, Esq., has received from the State Highway Department blank applications for automobile licenses for 1912, and same can be secured by calling at his office.
"The Wolf" gave excellent satisfaction when played here last year, and was in every particular a magnificent production Eugene Walter's master story. At the opera house on Friday evening.
Maurence Baum returned the beginning of the week after spending several days in New York City in the interest of Slim the Clothier, purchasing newest styles in men's wear for the holiday trade.
Lemuel R. Poorman, who several years ago moved his family from this place to Huntingdon, where he holds a good position in the state reform institution, is visiting friends in Bellefonte and vicinity.
William C. Cassidy left on Saturday for Pittsburgh, where he joined Mrs. Cassidy, who had been visiting in that city and together they will spend a week at the home of Mr. Cassidy's father, Hon. Robt. A. Cassidy, at Canton, O.
Editor Fred Dunham was in town on Monday on a business trip. He is now in securing for disposing of his "Hustler" plant at Howard street, and returning to Bellefonte for the purpose of starting a daily paper—something Bellefonte needs but which it seems the public will not liberally patronize.
The Bellefonte school board last week increased the salaries of Miss Rosa Faubus and Miss Laura Harrison, High School teachers, from $55 to $70 a month. The present board of nine members will hold their final meeting on Monday evening, December 4. The new board, composed of five members only, will organize the same night.
A crowd of Bellefonters anted to Lock Haven on Sunday afternoon and after taking in the sights for a few hours, returned home in the evening. Those in the party were William Keichline, Jas. Haupt, Howard Smead, Sam'l Cherry, Charles D. Miller, George Miller, Gray Dale, Frank Sasserman, Winfield Love, Frank Bartley, of this place; John Shecker, of Milesburg, and Edward Dean, of Tyrone.
The Civil War scene, pictured at the Scenic on Tuesday evening was one of the finest and most realistic portrayals of battle ever staged by a film company. Hundreds of men, horses and cannon were shown in what appeared to be actual warfare. Those who were not there missed a treat. You should become a regular patron of the Scenic and thus be certain of seeing these feature pictures.
Rev. J. P. Hower, who was suddenly taken ill after preaching a sermon in his church more than a week ago, is still confined to the house and will not be able to preach next Sunday. In his absence Rev. S. E. Quimby, D. D., will preach at the local United Evangelical church, in the morning at 10:30, and Rev. C. C. Shuey will preach in the evening at 7:30. These same brethren preached for Rev. Hower last Sunday, with great acceptability.
W. N. Grove, the surveyor, of Spring Mills, was in town on Monday, making arrangements for survey of the state forest reservation lands in the vicinity of McBride's Gap, on Nittany mountain. He was ordered here by the Forestry Commission to locate all the boundaries and plainly mark all the lines. He will have several assistants and the work will take some time to complete it. He was on the ground Monday morning, and while there met a number of engineers from the State Water Commission who no doubt were going over the stream to ascertain the character of the water supply as well as the quantity, should it be wanted for the new penitentiary location. The same character of work was done last week in the vicinity of Boalsburg.

There are many original features in "The Rosary" at the opera house next Tuesday.
W. I. Fleming, of Harrisburg, was an arrival in Bellefonte on Wednesday for an over Thanksgiving visit at his home.
Mrs. W. E. Hurley spent on Sunday until Tuesday with friends in Philadelphia.
Mrs. Frank McFarlane, of Boalsburg, spent a few days in Bellefonte the past week.
Joseph Lose spent Thanksgiving Day with relatives and old time friends in this place.
Mrs. J. Finklestine and little child returned home on Sunday from a pleasant visit with friends in Philadelphia.
Mrs. Susan Swartz, who resides on east High street, has been entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Swartz, of Hubersburg, since Tuesday.
"Domino" the Unionville correspondent gives "Duffy Dan" a few good thrusters in the region of the solar plexus this week.
Joseph Katz, of Lewistown, was an arrival in Bellefonte on Wednesday to spend the Thanksgiving holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Katz.
Judge and Mrs. Ellis L. Orvis returned to their home in this place on Tuesday after a pleasant visit with their daughter, Mrs. Harvey, in Philadelphia.
During the past few days turkeys were scarce about town and some sold as high as 20 cents per pound. Yesterday they were offered at 15 cents. Some were bought for 15 cents.
Moses Walter has moved his family from Bellefonte to a farm along the Jacksonville road, five miles below town, which he recently purchased.
Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Ishler were arrivals in Bellefonte from Trenton, N. J., on Wednesday afternoon, and will enjoy a week's visit at the parental home, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Ishler's on High street.
Remember today is the time for the annual Thanksgiving donations at the Bellefonte Hospital. If you should be unable to reach them on this date, it will not be amny to send your offering a day or two later, when it will be just as acceptable.
Mrs. W. C. Lingle an son, Joe, and her daughter, Mrs. Howard Roper, and little son, Richard, left on Tuesday morning for Olcott, W. Va., to join Mr. Lingle, who is already located there. Their Phillipsburg friends are sincerely sorry to see them go, but the inducements make it worth their while to make the change, and West Virginia isn't so very far away, after all.—Phillipsburg Ledger.
The Presbyterian congregation, of Altoona, were favorably impressed last Sunday by the initial discourses of their new pastor, the Rev. William Porter VanTries, who recently accepted a call to that city. He preached at both the morning and evening services and was greeted by large congregations. Rev. VanTries is a son of Dr. Thos. C. VanTries, of this place, and after his ordination by the Huntingdon Presbytery, he became assistant pastor to the Rev. Dr. Isak, in Newark, N. J. Later he was called to the Berwyn pastorate, where he has been located for the past three years. He is a young man of much promise.
Darbe Swisher, of Julian, was arrested by Constable Robert Montgomery and brought to Bellefonte this week, under charges of felonious pointing of firearms, and attempted assault and battery. It is alleged the Swisher one day last week secured his shot gun and proceeded to the lumber operations of Lincoln Musser, near Julian, and threatened the men with bodily harm if they did not get off the tract. Swisher was discharged, but he was not loaded, but it is alleged he answered the purpose just the same. He was brought to Bellefonte and lodged in jail, and the case will undoubtedly be disposed of at next week's term of court.
Wednesday noon a special train of eleven coaches from State College passed through Bellefonte for Pittsburgh and back. It is alleged the annual game of foot ball between the Penna. State College team and the Fort Pitt boys. There were about four hundred students aboard the train, and with them was the State College band which will help to make the game a memorable one. The game will be played at 10 o'clock at the parsonage of the Methodist Episcopal church in this place. Rev. Ezra Yocum, the pastor will perform the ceremony. The bride, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, who reside at the corner of Allegheny and Logan streets, is a very pretty and popular young lady, whose many friends hold her in the highest esteem. The young groom is sober, industrious and in every way qualified to make a model husband. After the ceremony the couple will be tendered a wedding dinner and reception at the home of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Hartman, who live near Rock. The young folks will make Bellefonte their home, as the groom holds a good position with the Brown, grocers. They will go to housewarming in the flat in Bush's Arcade, where the groom has rooms already furnished.
Bears Wandered Into Town.
Three bears, father, mother and son, ambled into Bellefonte, eight miles east of Altoona, and terrified the population, although they made no hostile demonstration. In a few minutes a bear hunting party of a hundred citizens was organized, but the invaders, scenting danger, took to the woods. As they were crossing a field on the L. F. Reight farm Milton Reight fired at them and the father bear dropped over dead. The mother and son soon escaped.
It is said Death generally collects the souvenirs of an aviation meet.

RECENT DEATHS.
McKIBBEN.—Mrs. D. A. McKibben, of Salona, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Bickel, near Parvin, Saturday afternoon of a bronchial affection, aged about 34 years. Deceased is survived by her husband, her parents and four sisters. Funeral services were held at her late residence in Salona on Wednesday morning. Interment in Cedar Hill cemetery.
SHIVELER.—John Shiveler, for many years a well known resident of Phillipsburg, died at the state institution at Danville, Sunday evening while he had been taken there about eight years ago for treatment. His age was 77 years, 3 months and 25 days. While his health permitted he followed tailoring as an occupation. He was a Civil War veteran and a member of the M. E. church. Interment was made at Phillipsburg.
MAYES.—James Mayes, a veteran of the civil war, and a highly respected citizen of Lamar, died Wednesday, 22nd, of an affection of the heart, coupled with infirmities of age. In former years Mr. Mayes was an agrilder, but with advancing age he retired at home. He was widely in his 76th year, and leaves his aged wife and three sons and three daughters. Funeral services were conducted Sunday at 9:30 a. m. at the house.

She is survived by one son John with whom she had for years made her home, also by ten grandchildren. Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at her late home, and interment was made at Jersey Shore.
ROYER.—Mrs. Elvina Royer, wife of George Royer, died at her home in Milesburg on Sunday afternoon, 19th, after a lingering illness of dropsy, aged 69 years, 9 months and 28 days. She leaves to survive a husband and two sons and two daughters, Seymour H. and Frank P. Royer, and Mrs. Gertrude Zimmerman and Mrs. Agnes King, all of Milesburg. Funeral services were held Wednesday morning in the M. E. church, conducted by Rev. J. Max Lantz, and interment was made in the Union cemetery at Milesburg.
SYLVUS.—John W. Sylvus, the 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sylvus, who reside on the Thompson farm at Stormstown, died suddenly on the evening of Saturday, November 11th. He was taken sick at 9 o'clock that morning and died at 6 in the evening from an acute attack of spinal meningitis. He was his mother's only child in conducting the farm, his father being in West Virginia on a lumbering job. In addition to his parents he is survived by the following sisters: Mrs. Enck, of Lancaster; Mrs. Luella Wray, of Wintgate; Mrs. H. Griffin, of Stormstown, and Misses Ernest and Alice home. The funeral was held on Tuesday of last week, burial being made in Gray's cemetery.
ZETTLE.—Mrs. Nathaniel Zettle died at her home in George Valley Saturday afternoon, 18th, after an extended illness. Interment was made at the following Wednesday forenoon in the cemetery at the Georges Valley Lutheran church. Mrs. Zettle was the mother of the children of Mr. and Mrs. William Earhart, long deceased. She is survived by five brothers and sisters, namely, Newton, in Michigan; John H. Butterfield, Minn.; George, Old Fort; James, in the west; the husband and three children also survive, the eldest son, Clarence being located at Johnstown, and Earhart and Helen, at home. Mrs. Zettle was a woman of very kind disposition, and faithful to her church vows from her youth.
SWABB.—Following a brief illness the death of Mrs. Kedia Swabb, widow of the late James Swabb, occurred at the home of her son-in-law, Sheriff-elect Arthur B. Lee, at Tusseyville, Wednesday last week. She was a daughter of Rev. Elias Stombach and was born at Anarburg sixty years ago. She was a member of the United Evangelical church and a kind and companionable woman, whose death is sincerely mourned by many friends. Her husband died twenty-four years ago, but surviving her are the following: Arthur B. Lee, of Tusseyville; Paul D. Swabb, of Farmers Mills; Luke, of Monaca, Pa.; Matthew W. of Johnstown; James F. of Tusseyville, and Mrs. Ellen Bower, of Bellefonte. Funeral services were held at the Lee home on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock by Rev. S. A. Snyder. Burial was made at Tusseyville.
SMITH.—Mrs. Nettie Smith passed away at her home at Tusseyville on the 13th, after a lingering illness of a year and a half with tuberculosis. She was born in Ohio, her maiden name having been Dryman. She was united in marriage to Emanuel Smith, who survives with the following children: Earl, Mona and Boyd. Also three brothers and four sisters, all residents of the west except Mrs. Elmira Meyer, widow of the late Henry Meyer, who resides at Harrisburg, for a charter or letters patent to a proposed corporation under the name "CHEMICALIAKORNE COAL COMPANY," having its principal office at Bellefonte, Centre County, Pennsylvania, the purpose of which corporation is the mining and marketing of coal.

DOMESTIC PROBLEMS.
Is it true the house is haunted when each window has a shade?
Shall a mistress scold because she sees a large spoon-holder maid?
(The maid may take a cup and saucer, impudently, young thing!
Should you always come to breakfast when you hear the napkin-rings?
If the water-pitcher to the door, will it make the butter-ball?
(She's often let the salt-sacker, and never wept at all.)
Is it true that for each widow-pane they'll call a doctor later?
That though your stove may have a grate, there is a nutmeg grater?
If you let the pepper-box, then should you let the sugar-bowl?
The teapot-stand and strainer eyes to see,
And when the biscuit-cutter, did the knife-handle the scraps?
Let the picture-wire to know, and you'll find out these things, perhaps.
When some fellows in Centre county have gotten a pointer it often turned out to be a disappointment. How about it, boys?

Would You Like Stenography?
A dozen beautiful girls, between the ages 16 and 19, appeared in the Pittsburgh criminal court last week against W. A. Davis, an attorney, whom they charged with assault and battery. Davis' arrest followed complaints from girls who answered his advertisements for stenographers.
It is alleged that Davis, on hiring the young woman, would explain to her that she must know something about physiology and love, and have a knowledge of the homes of the human form, that they must have no objection if their employer kissed them fifty times a day, or rolled them over the floor. This, the young girls testified, Davis told them was absolutely essential to make them good stenographers for his line of business.
When a young girl would answer an advertisement, inserted by Davis, it is said that she was put through the test in this manner: Kissed fifty times in ten minutes, rolled over the floor from the office door to the front of a building, do the "split," turn a hand-spring, kiss her employer three times more, then devote two hours to reading up physiology and osteopathy, write twenty letters to the lawyer's clients, kiss the boss ten times more; then she had "nothing to do until tomorrow."
The Human Hello Girl.
We are all guilty of becoming exasperated at times with what we consider bad telephone service. There are instances when swearing seems almost warranted, but a writer in the Philadelphia Press puts it pretty nearly right when he says:
"A telephone operator is a human being, not a tireless machine, to be cursed at and made a vent for the ill-nature of the public. If the public will take a little time to visit a telephone exchange perhaps it would not be so certain that the operators have a "cinch." Furthermore if some of the women who seem afraid to hear their own voices would make an effort to talk up and enunciate clearly few wrong number would be given and fewer tempers lost. And if mothers would keep their children from amusing themselves by asking the time every five minutes the telephone traffic could be given more attention. There are those who wish better service will begin at the root of the matter by learning how to use the telephone they will get it.
