Bright, Newsy Letters From the Various Sections of the County.

NITTANY.

At three o'clock Sunday afternoon there will be preaching in the United Evangelical church by Dr. Goble, of Myerstown college; all are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Don't forget the Pie sociable at the home of John Tolbert on Saturday evening, December 9.

We are having Indian summer. We are sorry to say that Phillip Walters, who is up in his nineties, is in very feeble health at this writing; he has his home with his daughter, Mrs. Ira Selinger.

Mrs. Bradford died Saturday forenoon, after a long and serious illness with cancer.

James Malze, a highly respected citizen of Lamar, died very suddenly last Wednesday and was buried at St. Paul, on Sunday.

Last week George Young saw a great big rat, and then went and called the cat, and after that he went and got the Democrat, and so that's all there is of that.

Harry Yearick, of Ridgway, visited his parents and many friends here the past week.

Miss Ida Nihart and Miss Pearl Webber, of Lamar, were callers in our town on Sunday.

George Fisher was to Lock Haven one day the past week on business.

The Ladies' Aid society meets at the home of Mrs. Dan Showers, next Saturday, at 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. Tate and Penina Shields were called to Lamar one day the past week on account of the sudden death of James Matze, brother-in-law of Mrs. Tate.

Miss Catherine Ziegler, of near Nigh Bank, was the guest of her cousin, Miss Margaret Yearick, one day the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. McCaleb were to Jersey Shore one day the past week to attend the funeral of Mrs. Beck, sister of Mrs. McCaleb.

Quite a number of our people attended the public sale at Hubersburg on Saturday.

Mrs. Tillie Peck and sons visited friends at Jacksonville on Sunday.

Butchering is all the go and big dinners. They will likely meet again.

WOODWARD.

Sam'l Ketter, of Logan, spent Sunday with friends at this place.

Butchering is the latest fad in this section. Some large porkers have been killed already this year.

The hunting parties in this section have had fair success thus far. The Round Top club, camped near the Winklebuck field, have a four-pronged buck weighing about 175 lbs.

The Gun club in Pine Creek Hollow have two bucks—one a spike buck and the other a six-pronged, weighing about 200 lbs.

The volunteers of this place got a bear in Sand Hollow, weighing 135 lbs. The Millheim party in Pine Creek Hollow got a four-pronged buck. The Coburn party at the Green Knobs, south of this place, got one buck. The Aaronburg party in Rupp Hollow, also south of this place, got a two-pronged buck.

"Talk about your sermons." The calithumpian band of this place certainly had the pleasure of enjoying an interesting, but shameful sermon at the east end of town on last Monday night.

James Smith is the proudest man in town since the arrival of that little son on last Wednesday morning.

C. W. Kreamer and family, of Aaronburg, spent Sunday at J. L. Kreamer's of this place.

Mrs. Chas. Musser, who was admitted to the Bellefonte hospital and operated upon, Nov. 1st, was operated upon for the second time on Thursday and at this writing is slowly improving.

Arthur Herman, of Tamaquaga, spent Sunday with Roy Musser at this place.

MOUNTAIN.

Samuel Lingle is all smiles since the arrival of that big dishwasher, John D. Lingle, of Georesvalley. It is the good grandfather that is all smiles since that little girl came to his house, and it keeps grandmother busy making catnip tea.

Mrs. Sarah Grim is on the sick list for the last few weeks. We all wish for a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Anna Krisher moved her goods to Spring Mills and stored it, and expects to go to Bellefonte.

Our farmers are all through husking corn.

Mrs. Kate Lingle, who went west about two months ago, says she likes western life best.

Conrad Auman was on the sick list but is able to be about again.

Mrs. Anna Krisher left for her former home in Yeagerstown where she has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Grim.

Where is the No. 1, has he gone to the Sunny South in his airship to stay for the long winter months? If he is still here, let us hear from him once in a while.

W. T. Lingle went to Lewistown to bring Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Lingle over. Butchering is in full blast in our corner, this week.

WINGATE.

Butchering is all the go here. Miss Jane Warner, of Bellefonte, spent Thursday with her father, Lemuel Warner.

George Snyder and lady friend, of Mill Hill, spent Sunday evening with his mother, Mrs. Mary Snyder, who has been ill for some time, but is slowly improving.

The poor farm took the lead of porkers this year—three weighing 340 and one 460; Eli knows how to put the fat on.

E. F. Johnson and wife, also Mrs. Bob Churry, all of Altoona, spent Wednesday with Mrs. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Stere.

Those on the sick list are George and Will Summers.

Boys, get your cow bells ready—a wedding in the near future.

S. T. Taylor, of Lewistown, spent Friday evening with his uncle, Eli Stere.

Paul Chaney, of Martha, spent Sunday on the Broner farm; Paul certainly likes the farm.

CENTRE OAK—Potter Twp.

Butchering is all the go in this section; they all seem to have the heaviest porkers.

H. Gardner Grove and Geo. W. Long from this section were the lucky persons to each get a deer this season.

Mrs. H. M. Hettlinger and daughter Martha, from Altoona, spent a few days in our section helping to make sausage.

Mrs. Mary A. Brown is spending a few weeks in this section.

ZION.

There was ideal weather the last ten days for butchering and many of the farmers took advantage of it by butchering; some fine hogs were killed. As far as the writer has learned Hiram Lutz leads with a 426-pound one, and Jack Stine follows with one that weighed 405 pounds.

The Evangelical series of meetings have been in progress for three weeks. Thus far but few have made confession.

Rev. C. C. Shney, of Bellefonte, preached a very able sermon to a fair and attentive audience in the Evangelical church on the evening of 23rd.

Rev. Meredith is assisting the Evangelical pastor, several evenings this week with his protracted meetings.

Zara Corman was an over Sunday visitor in our village.

Joel Shaffer, from Altoona, came home on Saturday and in the evening took a trip down the pike. Charley drove down from Bellefonte on Sunday. The boys took dinner at "Dad's" and in the afternoon returned to their several places of employment.

Verna Leeb, who has had some trouble with her eyes, is in Lock Haven having them treated by a specialist.

Edgar Lutz and Glen Weaver spent over Sunday at Beech Creek with their lady friends.

Charley, Lloyd and Edw. Homan, who spent their ten days vacation at their parental home hunting rabbits and other small game, returned to their several homes. The boys are good shots and captured quite a bunch of cotton tails.

Butchering is all the go at present and it goes without saying that the farmers are having a royal good time and a feast of good things, such as the city millionaire might well be envious of. For with all his wealth he does not enjoy the first fruits of the earth as does the humble tiller of the soil.

For some reason, perhaps a misunderstanding, the Lutheran church was not opened for services on Sunday afternoon. Six members and the pastor were there, but soon returned to their several homes without having any services. They will likely meet again.

YARNELL.

After spending ten days very pleasantly with her son at McKeesport, Mrs. Harry Kessling returned to her home here one day last week.

Mrs. Sarah Packer returned home last week from a ten-day visit to friends in Johnstown, Pittsburg and McKeesport.

Charley Heaton and wife spent Sunday with friends in Fetzerstown.

Oryla Fetzer moved to his father-in-law's place, down Marsh Creek on Monday last week.

William Fetzer moved into his new house on Monday.

Harvey Heaton was a business visitor to Snow Shoe on Monday and Miles Heaton to Bellefonte the same day.

Those that attended the butchering at Miles Heaton's last Thursday were: Rev. J. H. Dean, of Runville; Rev. G. E. Smith, of Houserville; Alfred Shank and his inestimable wife, Harvey Heaton and wife, Charles and wife, Michael Heaton, Mrs. Sarah Packer; also the two village pedagogues, Miss Shank and Miss Pownell.

A very interesting revival is in progress at Pleasant Valley, conducted by Rev. J. H. Dean, assisted by Rev. G. E. Smith, of Houserville; Rev. Dean expects to have with him this week the Rev. J. S. Colledge, of South Williamsport; all are invited.

Homer Walker, of Snow Shoe, visited at the Kessling home on Sunday last week.

CHESTNUT GROVE—Boggs Twp. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Marshall, of Penns Valley, were pleasant visitors at the home of James Hoover's.

Mrs. Alice Valmer and Mrs. Olive Miller were also callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hoover.

There was a large attendance at the sale of H. T. Irvin, Saturday afternoon. Some very useful articles were sold, bringing very satisfactory prices.

The Y. M. C. A. from Altoona favored us with a recreation and afternoon session in the United Brethren church at Runville.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walker have gone to housekeeping in our town; glad to have you with us.

Mrs. Edith Giecy, of Pittsburg, and Mrs. Verdie Marshall, of Altoona, were visiting last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hoover.

Miss Bessie Shirk was seen on our streets on Sunday.

Our good teacher is going to give us a vacation on Thanksgiving, which will be very much appreciated as his former teachers were not accustomed to having a vacation on this date. We fellows will have a good time hunting rabbits.

HANNAH.

CARABAUGH—Mrs. Ephram Carabaugh died at her home in this place Nov. 22, 1911, with heart trouble and dropsy; age 73 years. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, age 93 years, one daughter Mrs. Martin Stimmer, ten grandchildren and a number of great-grandchildren. Interment was made November 25th in the Black Oak cemetery. Rev. E. A. McKelvey, pastor of the United Brethren church, performed the last christian rites with an eloquent and touching sermon.

A. R. Price made a flying trip to Tyrone on Thursday, returning in the evening with J. C. Marks.

W. W. Price is building a straw shed to his barn, which adds greatly to the appearance.

D. O. Downing bought a fine team of horses at the Markowitz sale. Mr. Downing is fond of nice horses.

George Reese visited his lady friend, Mary Bennett, of Port Matilda on Sunday.

Miss Myrtle Wisner spent last Sunday with her friend Anna Marks.

EARLYSTOWN.

A. H. Spayd was over from Hubersburg to do some repair work on his farm.

Mr. Delaney is done husking corn and Mr. Neff did some plowing last week.

Bartices is still husking corn; he has a large crop of fine corn and should have 900 more bushels of potatoes for the demand.

Miss Rosa Fisher returned from her visit to Cloverdale and reports a very nice time at home.

Reports from the Regular Hunting club are a two-pronged buck. The Bradford party have 7 deer. That sounds quite good.

A. Alexander had to kill one of his fat hogs on account of her breaking a leg.

JACKSONVILLE.

The congregation of the Emanuel Reformed church at Jacksonville experienced a practical demonstration, on Sunday morning, Nov. 26th, of charity and beneficence as laid down by the Great Teacher, when Mrs. Kathryn Hoy, one of the oldest and most active church workers, presented to the congregation a magnificent plate-silver, individual communion set.

"Aunt Katie Ann," the name by which her host of friends knew her, is past 81 years of age, and became a member of this congregation when a young girl. She is today enjoying the distinction of being the most substantial benefactress in her congregation; and the most commendable part of her giving is the fact that she earns her money by the work of her own hands. It is time that she enjoys a handsome dowry left her by her late husband, the lamented Geo. Hoy, who was for years a member of the consistory; but every year this amount is offset by an equal amount of the prettiest pieces of handcraft in the shape of woollens, quilts, rugs, and all the things that go to make a home cozy and his family comfortable.

Her rugs and quilts have a statewide reputation and can be found not only all through this state but they are scattered over sections of Ohio, New York and New Jersey. She has ready sale for everything she makes at a good price, because every stitch is perfect and the designing is absolutely original and beyond any equal the writer has ever seen.

As a visitor of the sick and distressed, we are unable to express adequate appreciation for her never-failing visits. Her words of encouragement and contentment have made hundreds of men, women and children better and happier.

We all sincerely join in the wish that dear old Aunt Katie Ann may be permitted to remain one of us for a long while to come. Her devoted daily life is one of the best examples of what a consistent christian life means for us all. The writer is not a member of her congregation, but we firmly believe that Aunt Katie Ann follows the teachings of the Great Master as near as she understands it. We know that from her the glad word goes forth to Greek or Jew.

Her presentation was kept a secret until it was announced by the Rev. Mr. Faust to the surprise of everybody.

Mr. N. J. Yearick, one of the elders, made an appropriate address of acceptance and appreciation in behalf of the consistory and congregation.

RUNVILLE.

Mrs. Wm. Watson and son Victor spent Sunday at Snow Shoe with Mr. Watson's parents.

Miss Swoop, the Chestnut Grove school teacher, spent Sunday at the home of Rev. J. H. Dean.

C. B. Friel, who has been confined to his bed for the past week, is again able to make calls to the handy neighbors.

The sale of Henry Irwins was well attended and everything brought a fair price.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Marshall, of Centre Hall, formerly of this place, spent several days with friends at Chestnut Grove.

Willis Poorman and Joseph Rogers made a business call to the county seat on Saturday.

Miss Florence Lucas returned on Saturday night after a two weeks' stay with friends in Williamsport.

Blair Alexander and son Guyer spent part of the Sabbath in our town.

Mr. and Mrs. Forden Walker are rejoicing over the baby girl that has come to that home to stay. She is now called Gladys Isabel; both babe and mother are getting along fine.

Mrs. Annie Crook and daughter, Ethel, are here on pleasant visit in our town several days last week.

Rev. I. H. Dean and wife were called to McVeytown on account of the death of Mrs. Dean's niece at that place.

Two very interesting sessions were held in the United Brethren church on Sunday by the "Gospel Crew" of Altoona.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lucas attended a butchering of Mr. Floyd Davis, of Coleville, last Friday.

LEMONT.

Paul, a little son of Christian Houts, has been quite ill this week with pneumonia, but is slowly improving.

Mrs. Kate Wanda and daughter, Mildred are visiting at the home of Mrs. Arthur Norris.

Elmer Ross is having a slate roof put on his home this week.

The bricklayers have completed Jno. Grove's house and are working on Jesse Shuey's house now.

Dale Shuey moved into his new house last Thursday.

George Sebers and wife enjoyed a few days at the home of John I. Thompson last week.

Business is booming in town in the line of building and shipping.

The excitement was running high in these parts, a few days last week while a large black bear made his way across the country with a crowd of men following him with guns, butcher knives, fence rails and in fact any old thing that came to the hand and yet he escaped to the woods again.

The hunting parties are coming in some with game and some empty handed.

So far John C. Hoy holds the banner in large hogs, for he butchered one weighing 408 pounds.

FAIRVIEW.

Meeting at Fairview was well attended on Sunday night.

T. J. Confer and sons, Serge and Claude, took dinner with J. G. Confer at the camp, on Sunday.

Lewis Poorman, of Altoona, is at home during a few days.

D. P. Thompson, butchered seven fine porkers on Thursday.

Charles White and William Bittner put a fine roof on T. J. Confer's barn last week.

George Miller, of Beech Creek, passed through here on Saturday.

A certain young man of our community called on his lady friend on Saturday night and as it was very dark he didn't get home till the next day. How about it, Si Perkins?

George Thompson, of Howard, spent Sunday with his friends here.

A. D. Confer departed for Wood, Huntingdon county on Monday.

Mrs. T. J. Confer, who has been on the sick list a few days, is able to be about her work again.

Lewis Poorman took dinner with Daniel Bullenberger on Sunday.

Mrs. Michael Confer, of Howard, visited her daughter, Mrs. D. P. Thompson, one day last week.

CURTIN.

Joseph Holter is seriously ill at the home of his sister, Mrs. V. E. Curtin, with no hopes of recovery.

Calvin Bathurst is numbered with the sick.

Wm. Prince and daughter Myra is spending a few days with the former's daughter, Mrs. John Statton, of Rote.

Mrs. Stanley, of Milesburg, visited her daughter, Mrs. Jessie Bathurst on Sunday.

Mrs. Miles Doughman was a Bellefonte shopper on Saturday.

Roy Hazzard departed on Tuesday for Avia where he expects to get employment.

The old hunting club returned home on Saturday; we are sorry to say they did not have any success.

Mrs. Howard Walker, of Tyrone, is visiting her sister, Mrs. V. E. Curtin, being called here by the serious illness of her brother, Joseph Holter.

We hear of a wedding in the near future. How about it Lloyd?

Ralph Gingham makes frequent calls to Milesburg. There must be some attraction there.

Edward Bryan visited his father Samuel Bryan, on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Adam Shroyer, of Milesburg, visited her brother, Edward Bryan on Tuesday and took in the butchering.

A surprise party was given on Saturday evening, Nov. 25th in honor of Mrs. Roland Bryan, it being her 65th milestone in life. Was she surprised, well I guess the tears did flow. A donation was given by Mr. and Mrs. Bryan by a host of their friends, as Mr. Bryan is so badly crippled with rheumatism being unable to work. His many friends betook themselves to his home to give him a little help, which is just and right. Those present were Mrs. Harry Loe and daughter, of Niagara Falls, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Barnhart, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Prince and daughter Bertha, Mr. and Mrs. Green Shope, Mr. and Mrs. Lot Neff and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Crossmyre, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Yeager, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schultz, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bathurst, Mrs. Amelia Gingham, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bathurst and children, Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Bryan and children, Sudie Rossman, Wm. Neff and brother Joseph. Refreshments were served at a late hour when all departed for the several homes wishing that Mrs. Bryan may have many more happy returns of the day.

PERU.

J. D. Stover spent Sunday at Spring Mills.

Willis Markle, of Bellefonte, was at home over Sunday.

Miss Marion Zimmerman was around soliciting for the Thanksgiving feast at the Gap.

Mrs. Roy Zimmerman spent the last two weeks at the home of her parents at Fairbrook, while her husband was out hunting on the seven mountains.

Among the Bellefonte visitors Saturday were Harve Tressler, Geo. Noll and Cora Peters.

Al Everts, with his crew of lumbermen, has made his appearance again in Peru.

Claude Surface and friend made a quick trip to A. R. Houser's on Saturday afternoon, and spent a short time hunting.

Miss Margaret Tressler spent a few days at A. R. Houser's to help them butcher.

Those who have butchered up to this date are, Wilson Ammerman, John Boal, A. R. Houser, Chas. Houser, Joseph Peters, and John Sampsel.

E. H. Grove is home now with his hay baler.

A large buck deer was seen traveling towards Peru station on Monday afternoon, but he missed the train.

If the prose and poetry writer or writers, of Peru, would publish their writings in some paper or magazine, it would be appreciated much more, and might be profitable. "There is a tide in the affairs of man, which takes at its flood, leads on to fortune."

ROCK FORGE.

Mr. Orle Mullbarger butchered two fine porkers last week, and those who assisted him were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tressler, of Spring Creek, and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Tressler, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Benner of Rock Forge, Mr. and Mrs. John Mullbarger of Bellefonte. They all reported having a good jolly butchering day.

Harry Fike will butcher on the 28th; he has some fine porkers to butcher that day.

Farmers are busy hauling Mr. Reynolds' corn to State College. It was a fine crop around here this year.

Grain fields are looking fine, for a large crop next year.

George Behers is going to help William Saxon at Roopsburg to butcher on Tuesday. That is alright Mr. Behers, but don't forget your butcher sausage.

TYLERSVILLE.

Mrs. W. E. Frantz, who had suffered for a long time, died last Sunday. Funeral services were held last Wednesday.

Roy Grieb, who had been out west and up in Canada for over a year, returned home last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wolfe, of Cedar Springs, visited the latter's mother, Mrs. Anna Kerstetter last Sunday.

Arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eckel last Thursday, a little girl.

Mrs. Ore Johnsonbauch, of Avia, visited at this place.

Miss Fannie Shaffer, who had been working at Lock Haven, returned home.

ROMOLA.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Beightol, of Clarence, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chenev.

Rev. W. H. Patterson will begin his meeting on Sunday night, December 3rd. Quite a few of our young people attended meeting at Fairview on Sunday night.

Three people, from Skunk Hollow, started for Fairview on Saturday night, and going up a hill the horse pulled so hard that it went right through the harness letting the girls down the hill backwards. They were obliged to borrow a lantern to find his hat. How about it Clew?

Miss Myrtle Young is better at this writing, also Mrs. W. M. Wensel.
