ONE WAY TO SAVE COAL.

Don't complain if your coal bills are high this winter. It will be your own fault. To fill one's home with a hot, dry air, as most people do, is both expensive and unhealthful. Tuberculosis, pneumonia and colds lie in wait for persons living in this kind of atmosphere.

On the other hand, properly moistened air does not have to be heated to as great a temperature as dry air in order to be made comfortable. When you feel cold, therefore, instead of seeing whether the furnace needs fuel, find out if the air does not want water. On a cold day the window panes of your room should have the perished look of a kitchen window on washday. In very cold weather the panes ought to be frosted. If you find this is not the case, the air probably needs a drink.

Place a pan of water in the room, or if you have steam heat, allow a little of the steam to escape. You will soon feel comfortable although the temperature of the room will not have risen. With properly moistened air a room need not be heated to more than 64 degrees.

Tongues Cut Off.

Thirteen horses were found in several different stables in the Hill district of Pittsburgh, on Sunday morning, with their tongues mutilated badly by a knife, which the police believe was wielded by an insane person. The fiend began his work a month ago, when one horse was found with its tongue slit. Over a week ago another was found in a like condition. A total of 15 horses have been mutilated during the last month. The tongues of five of these horses were cut out completely, and the animals are not expected to live, as they can neither eat nor drink. The tongues of the others were slit. The police have not been able to find the parts of the tongue cut off and believe that the perpetrator of the atrocious act carried them away with him.

It is understood that there are a half dozen or more applicants for the position.

The Eldon shop is piled to the ceilings with hides and heads of all sorts and Friday morning's express brought an additional large number of trophies to be mounted.—Williamsport News.

GOES WEST IN BOX CAR.

Robert E. Parrish completed a distinctly unusual trip last week. For some months he farmed Birdlyn estate, the Warmister place of Edward R. Robbins near Hatboro, but he tired of the East and recently appeared at Hatboro and chartered a freight car. In one end he fixed accommodations for his four horses. In the other Parrish placed his household furnishings and personal belongings. A cot was placed in position, with the use of two fur robes to prevent freezing at night, as he was not permitted to have any fire in the car.

With his dog for a companion, and with water and food sufficient to cover the needs of the journey, the car was billed to Albion, Mich., and attached to a freight train for the West at Wayne Junction. The entire cot to Parrish in transporting himself, his horses and dog from Hatboro to Albion—more than 1200 miles—was $65.

Some years ago a farmer of Pennsylvania made a similar trip—only it was in an opposite direction. Having moved from here to Michigan, he, tired of the west and got a longing to make good old Pennsylvania his home again. In order to do this, he gathered up his belongings, live stock and household effects and grub sufficient for the journey, and loading all, himself included, on a box car, he bid good-bye to Michigan and landed safely by rail at Coburn, and has since been enjoying good luck upon a farm he owns.

JOMBO AND JOB IN PICTURE.

Billmeyer Elks to Figure in Santa Claus Scene in Moving Pictures. The Lubin Manufacturing company has arranged to send men and a moving picture outfit to the Billmeyer game park for the purpose of featuring Jumbo and Job, two of Mr. Billmeyer's famous elks in moving pictures. Santa Claus scenes that will be shown all over the United States during the Christmas season. It is the intention to have Jumbo and Job hitched double and they will be shown hauling Santa Claus and his sleigh with loads of dolls and toys and everything that goes to make up a Santa Claus outfit. One of the elks is broken to harness, but whether the other can be induced to be good long enough for Santa to get in his work is a question to be decided.

NATIONAL GUARD ORDERS.

Regular Army Drill Forms to be Followed During Winter. General orders have been issued from National Guard headquarters announcing that the regular army drill regulations will immediately supersede those of the state militia. The regulations are those approved by the Secretary of War on August 19th, and differ from those in use in this state for years in many particulars. The drill regulations are now being issued and are accompanied by a memorandum prepared by Maj. Chas. S. Farnsworth, U. S. A., inspector and instructor of the guard, showing the changes. The guard is now uniformed and to a large extent equipped along the same lines as the regular army.

Tim Was Short.

There was a man by the name of— we'll say Tim Short, who sent us three notices to stop his paper—he did not want it any longer. We wondered what was the matter. Upon investigation, we found that Tim was short $10. He had never paid a cent and yet he stopped his paper as a matter of economy to us. He did not want us to lose any more by him. A few days afterward Short was at church and his melodious tenor rang out loud and clear in that old stirring hymn, "Jesus Paid It All." The next day we sent him a receipt in full, begging his pardon for not knowing that he made an assignment of his liabilities to the Lord.—Exchange.

Football Fatalities of 1911.

With only a few more games to be played, the annual tabulation of deaths and injuries from football has been made. Grievous as it must necessarily be, the record holds out some slight hope that this premier fall pastime may yet be civilized. The victims for 1911 are 14 dead and 47 seriously injured, as compared with 14 dead and 43 injured in 1910.

Want Dams Tested.

Governor Tener has been petitioned by hundreds of citizens of Huntington Mills, Harveyville and Waterton, near Wilkes-Barre, to investigate the three dams on top of North mountain. The residents of the villages lying near the dams are terror-stricken lest the Austin flood disaster be repeated on the mountain. One dam is constructed of logs and is said to have moved. Another is of concrete and has cracked. It is said. The dams hold back water covering hundreds of acres to a depth of from thirty-five to forty feet.

Woman Fined Like Man.

Mrs. Grace Hamilton, daughter of John D. Greckels of San Francisco, Cal., was fined $10 for driving an automobile in excess of the speed limit. "Under the old order of things," said Judge Weller, "this defendant would have been released with a reprimand, but now, by the laws of this state, woman has all the rights and privileges that are granted to the sterner sex, and by the same token she should be subjected to the same penalties."

After Short Weights.

Williamsport market clerk last Saturday confiscated several "short measures" which were being used by bucksters in the sale of their products. The state department at Harrisburg is keeping a close eye on this practice and the axe is liable to fall any time.

Two weeks ago I saw your liniment in a drug store and got a bottle to try. The first application caused instant relief and except for a little stiffness, I am almost well."

BEATTIE PAYS PENALTY.

Youthful Wife Slayer Electrocuted on Friday Morning. Henry Clay Beattie was electrocuted in the Richmond, Va., penitentiary last Friday, and his full confession was made public soon after.

Governor Mann having declined to grant a respite of a month, Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., who was found guilty after a sensational trial, of murdering his young wife with a shot gun while taking an auto ride along a lonely road, and alleging that a highwayman held the couple up and shot the wife, was led to the death chamber from his cell at 7:19 Friday morning. The work of strapping him in the chair occupied less than a minute, so well had all the plans been laid, and at 7:20 the deadly current was turned on, and after permitting it to pass through his body for three minutes it was turned off. The young wife slayer was declared dead at 7:24, when the body was turned over to an undertaker engaged by the family and will be interred by the side of his wife whom he killed.

During the short walk from the cell to the death chamber Beattie did not speak. In fact, not a sound came from his lips. Not the slightest hitch occurred and the execution was carried out most successfully. While this scene was being enacted in the State penitentiary Beattie's family was secluding in their home awaiting the announcement that the son and brother had been put to death. A large crowd of morbidly curious people surrounded the prison during the time that the execution took place. Beattie made a statement to his spiritual advisers before he left the world's row for the electric chair, which was made public after the body had been laid away in Maury cemetery in South Richmond. The statement says: "I, Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., desiring to stand right before God and man, do on this, the twenty-third day of November, confess my guilt of the crime charged against me. Much that was published concerning the details was not true, but the awful fact, in that the harrowing circumstances, remains. For this action I am truly sorry, and believing that I am at peace with God and am soon to pass into His presence, this statement is made."

Read Your Insurance Policy.

There is not one person in a thousand who ever reads his insurance policies. There is not one person in a thousand who knows that in every stock fire insurance policy issued in the state of Pennsylvania there is a clause which states that if a property is vacant for the space of ten days no insurance can be obtained. If the property burns, on house or goods. How many know that? This clause may be circumvented by applying to your local agent, who can give you a permit covering even to the space of two years, if you go traveling or go away for the winter. Apply for the permit. It will cost you nothing and continue your insurance in force in your absence. Local agents try and keep track of their clients who go away temporarily, but even their vigilance does not cover all cases. Look after it yourself. Be on the safe side in the event of a disaster, avoid suit with the company, which will likely take advantage of every local technicality to avoid full payment.—North American.

To Raise Seals in Penns.

It is said that W. H. Hill, president of the Bloomsburg ostrich farm, is going to undertake something new. He and his fellow workers have succeeded in proving that the ostrich is able to thrive outside of tropical climates, as a flock of them has shown remarkably increased in Bloomsburg, and now he is going to attempt to prove that seals can be raised in other than frigid climes. He will leave on March 1, 1912, for Alaska, where he will get 200 seals and bring them to Pennsylvania. He has secured permission from the United States government to proceed with the undertaking and is confident that it will be a success. No fear is felt for the condition of the seals in the winter, but how they will succeed in Pennsylvania's hot summers will be a matter of scientific interest. Mr. Hill is familiar with Alaska conditions, having worked for the United States government there.

Thinks Flood Funds Were Misused.

The Rev. E. E. Harter, pastor of the Methodist church at Austin, the ill-fated town recently flood swept, is quoted by the Buffalo Evening News as saying that the issue of making charges of misappropriation by the state of the fund given by the public for the relief of the flood sufferers. The minister is quoted as saying: "The people of this great and generous country differ from those in use in this state for years in many particulars. The drill regulations are now being issued and are accompanied by a memorandum prepared by Maj. Chas. S. Farnsworth, U. S. A., inspector and instructor of the guard, showing the changes. The guard is now uniformed and to a large extent equipped along the same lines as the regular army."

An Infernal Disgrace.

Last Saturday evening a woman whose home is at Fritz station, above Allenwood, boarded the White Deer and Logan train at Mile Run with two pheasants. A big brawny game warden, who grows fat prosecuting violators of the game laws, tried to buy the birds from the woman who refused to sell them, but he insisted upon the sale and finally threw $2.00 in the woman's lap and she gave him the birds, whereupon he arrested her and she was fined $25. If the report is true as we have stated the case, he should be arrested and made to serve time for bribing the woman. Our idea of protecting game is entirely different from that of some of these hungry wardens.—Lewisburg Journal.

COMES EARLIER.

Township and Borough Audits Come in December. An act passed by the last legislature, changes the time for auditing the accounts of municipal officers from March to December. The act was approved by Governor Tener on the 9th of June.

The law provides that the auditors of any borough, township or school district, created by any general or special law of this Commonwealth, shall meet annually, on the day following the day which has been or shall be fixed by law for the organization of borough councils, township supervisors, or commissioners of any township, directors of any poor district or school district respectively, and shall forthwith proceed, in the respective instances, to audit, settle and adjust the accounts of the burgess, members of the council, treasurer, street commissioner and other officers either appointed or elected by the borough.

The law also provides for the auditing of the accounts of supervisors, roadmasters and treasurers of townships, and directors and treasurers of school districts, and of the tax collectors of each of said municipalities. Every such officer whose act or negligence shall have contributed to the financial loss of any municipality or district, shall be surcharged with the amount of such loss. These audits shall take place in December.

I don't understand that the suffrage has affected the question of eligibility for jury service."
