HOWARD.

Enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise. Be thankful unto Him and bless His name. For the Lord is good; His mercy is everlasting, and His truth endureth to all generations. —One Hundredth Psalm.

In Our Churches Next Sabbath.

Christian Scientist—Service at the home of Mrs. Thomas Mann at half past ten o'clock.
 Reformed—Pastor E. F. Faust will preach at Mt. Bethel at ten o'clock, at Salona at half past two and in Howard at half past seven.
 Methodist—Episcopal—Pastor R. S. Taylor will preach at Curtin at half past ten, at Kennedy at half past two, and in Howard at half past seven.
 United Evangelical—Rev. H. A. Benfer, P. E., will conduct the reopening services at Jacksonville at ten o'clock and will preach and administer the Holy Communion in Howard at half past seven.

Serious Accident.

While butchering at his home last Friday morning Thomas Gardner attempted to take the spare ribs out of one of the dressed pigs while it was still hanging. In doing so the carcass slipped and fell, causing him to strike his left wrist, on the inside with the heavy sharp knife with which he was working, cutting through fibels, veins and arteries to the bone. Excessive bleeding followed before bandages could be made effective and by the time he could be brought to town he was much weakened. Dr. McEntire decided that it was a hospital case and took him to Bellefonte where the wound was closed and on Saturday the doctors dismissed him with assurance that his hand would be all right unless unforeseen difficulties set in.

To-Day.

After setting your mail, go to the Reformed church and take a part in the Thanksgiving services there, led by the Rev. M. J. Snyder; you will feel all the better for it. Then go home, or to your neighbor's home if you have been invited and do your part in enjoying in turkey, goose, capon, duck or venison, as the case may be; perhaps you will not feel quite so well after that, but enjoy it anyhow. Then in the evening go to the Reformed church again, and hear Ratto. If, after all that you do not enjoy a good night's rest, you must be a confirmed insomniac.

John B. Ratto at the Reformed Church this Evening. "Let those who now laugh, weep and weepers, now laugh the more."

Mrs. Z. G. Weirick is visiting her son Alva in Altoona.

Miss Emma Robb spent the latter part of last week with friends in Avia.

Mrs. Katherine H. McKinny was a Lock Haven visitor over the weeks end.

M. A. Rice, of Altoona, was a Sunday visitor at the home of N. H. Schenk.

Howard Wetzel, of Lock Haven, was a Sunday morning visitor between trains.

A. Brittain Parker, of Pittsburg, is a visitor at the home of his uncle, Frederick Robb.

Mrs. David Jones, of Pittsburg, spent Sunday with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mabel Mann.

Miss Armstrong, of Lock Haven, was a visitor at the Abraham Weber home on Monday last.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Norris Bogle, of New York, were dinner guests of Mr. and Miss Woodward Tuesday evening.

John McCasley, veteran democrat of Hubbersburg, drove over last Monday and took dinner with his niece, Mrs. M. L. Cooke.

The Republican's bright young local editor, Bower Holter, called on his relatives here between trains on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Boggs, of Hollidaysburg, wife of former M. E. pastor Boggs, paid a visit of two or three days, all too short among her friends here.

Thomas Moore, of Philadelphia, spent Sunday night and a portion of Monday with his brother, Howard A., and his sister, Mrs. Abram Weber.

C. C. Lucas and family moved into their new home last week, which is one of the most conveniently planned and best finished houses in the town.

J. Irvin Yarnell has moved from the George H. Leathers farm where he has been employed to the property of Mrs. Annie R. Long in the borough.

Jackson Kline and daughter, Mrs. J. Sumner Wolf went to Williamsport Monday, on No. 52, to hear a Christian Scientist lecture on Monday evening.

George Weaver and "Bob" Confer's hunting party began the season on the first day and are still on the trail. At last accounts they had two deer and one bear.

William E. Turner, formerly one of our industrious "Howard township boys, and now a prosperous man of affairs at Keating Summit, spent the early part of the week with his brother John, here.

Mrs. W. E. Snyder, of Sheffield, Warren county, Pa., who was formerly well known here as Miss Ella Turner, with her young son Foster, closed a two week's visit here with her brother John and sister Martha, last Friday.

Representatives of the Poena Railroad Co. were in town on Monday and settled with Mr. Charles E. Yearick for the painful injuries received while loading hay in a car about a year ago. The accident left Mr. Yearick crippled for life.

In the evening of Tuesday last, Mrs. George A. Jacobs lost a purse containing eighteen dollars in money, and some valuable papers. On Sunday afternoon it was found with but one dollar in it, by Chester Lucas, and taken to Mrs. Jacobs.

William Anderson, of Lancaster, Pa., who manufactures a household convenience of great importance, was a business visitor in our town last Tuesday and Friday and it is currently rumored that he is seriously considering the advisability of coming here and starting a factory for his wares in the sometime idle Mattress Factory building. Let everyone hold out a welcoming hand.

The United Evangelical church has been undergoing important repairs, including repapering and a new roof and will be re-opened for service next Saturday and Sabbath. Presiding Elder H. A. Benfer will preach both Saturday evening and Sabbath morning. He will also conduct quarterly conference in Howard at half past two, Saturday afternoon and at Jacksonville at seven in the evening.

Mrs. D. K. Coder, of Calvin, Huntingdon county, formerly well known here as Mrs. Lot Grass, was accidentally shot through the upper part of the shoulder by a nephew who had just come in from a hunting trip and was unloading his winchester preparatory to putting it away. This is the first shooting accident of the season, having a woman for its subject and we are glad to know that it will not prove serious.

The union services on the occasion of the world-wide W. C. T. U. observance, last Sunday, were largely attended by appreciative and attentive audiences, drawn from all the denominations in town. Two excellent sermons, each presenting some new and striking points were delivered by Rev. Taylor and Faust, and each made a strong impression. The spirit of christian brotherhood and unity which seems to be gaining ground in our community within recent years, was thus strengthened and emphasized in a most commendable way.

The old school board held a special meeting Tuesday evening and took action looking toward the final settlement of its affairs, under the old regime. Those present were Messrs. Kurtz, Pletcher and Markly. Their principal action was to examine and pass upon some small bills, including the expense of the directors in attendance upon the county meeting last week. Bills to the amount of $104.06 were approved and ordered paid, and adjournment was made till the evening of Monday, Dec. 4, when the present board will permanently pass out, and the new come in, setting the new code in operation in Howard.

UNIONVILLE.

Great "doings" at the home of Mrs. D. Hall today, Thursday. Don't forget to see the great Bazaar at Orange Hall, Friday and Saturday evenings, this week.

The engagement of Miss Alice Henshey, of our city, to Mr. Arthur R. Cantrell, of New York City, has been made public—wedding in the near future.

L. C. Eddy, of Milesburg, attended the men's meeting at the M. E. church here, on last Sunday. He sang a number of solos which were greatly appreciated by the audience.

Rev. Oyler preached a very plain and pointed sermon, the import of which could not well be misunderstood by his hearers.

Mrs. Lew James, of Lake St. Helen, Florida, writes: "We are wading in delicious ripe oranges shoe-mouth deep, weather mild and balmy. We send you a car load of oranges, razor-back pigs, or picaninies. Order soon." Thank you, Lib; we'll take the oranges.

Mrs. Dr. Eddie Russell and daughter, of Philadelphia, are visiting at the home of grandpa, Dr. E. A. Russell.

Sam Deeble, accompanied by three other hunters of Northumberland county, spent several weeks hunting on upper Dix Run and were the guests of Nathaniel Lindemuth while here.

Three of them boarded the morning train here, each one had a turkey, several rabbits, squirrels and pheasants. On Monday morning, Mr. Deeble left for his home with a hind quarter of bear meat and a lot of smaller game. When Sam takes a "head" on any game, large or small, that game is Sam's.

Don't forget the big sale of household furniture at Will Hoover's on next Saturday at 1 o'clock P. M. sharp.

During my incumbency in the Register's office I issued over two thousand marriage licenses, not one couple of which were divorced. The oldest couple were, man 72 and woman 62. The first license I issued was to Mr. R. B. Montgomery and Miss Margaret J. Kane, of Bellefonte, and Bob says that the 50 cents he paid for that license was the best investment he ever made. This license was issued Jan. 1st, 1894, and the last one was to Thomas G. Gulick and Miss Vera Jones, of Philipsburg, Jan. 1st, 1909. Herbie Finch butchered a 429-pound porker.

Charley Grist, of Barnsboro, visited his sister Mary E. and Gertrude and Miss Sallie McGarvey at the old homestead on Sunday, and nobody knew it outside the immediate family—that's funny, Charley.

Mrs. Annie E. Stere has been quite seriously ill the last few days.

Edward C. Morrison is still dangerously ill with dropsy and has not improved much in the last few days.

TO DAFFY DAN.—Say, Daffy Dan, it is humiliating that I must use a quotation that you, in your last week's "Dipples," borrowed from Bill Shakespeare: "That last was the most unkindest cut of them all." Now what did I do to you that such a cut? Now, I'll put you on the stand once more for cross-examination, after which I will leave you alone in your glory.

Why did William Shake-spear? Is George Meek? Is Andy Young? Is Dorsey Green? What is Charley Deworth, spot cash? Questions objected to, overruled by the Court. If a nice young lady would jump through a second story window, would a base ball catcher? Did you ever ride in a foot-ball coach? Bring the camphor bottle, business has fainted. Where does the checker-board? Why, up on the hill in Sheriff Hurley's office of course, Dummy—sometimes at Dr. Dorworths.

Say, "Daffy Dan," if you are financially short is Jim Shorter? That's a dark one, too opaque for you to penetrate. You are found guilty in manner and form as indicted. The sentence of the court is that you wash the blood off your face, bathe your freckled eyes with bay rum, put a plaster on your proboscis and go way back and sit down in the deep shades of innocuous desuetude. Will some one please sing that old popular song entitled, "Not For Joseph."

DOMINO.

VALLEY VIEW.

The Houser hunting camp broke up and pulled stakes for home last Saturday; sorry they had no success as the writer expected to have a piece of bruin. Try it again, boys.

We are very sorry to learn that Mrs. Justice is not improving in health, as she will go to the Bellefonte hospital in a few days for treatment for sciatic rheumatism. Hope she may soon recover.

Aust Hendrix and Charley Walker left Valley View for Tyrone seeking work.

Mr. L. Justice thinks we are having our Indian summer at present. How about it, Mr. Justice?

Miss Sarah Eckley and R. L. Miller returned home last week from their trip to Olean and Niagara Falls, and they were over in Canada too; glad to hear they had such a nice time.

The American Lime & Stone Co. are remodeling their mill at Buffalo

Run plant, No. 25, under the supervision of a master mechanic from Jersey Shore; the writer wishes them success.

Mrs. E. T. Walker and children are visiting Thomas Walker's at Yarnel.

George Rider was seen on our streets last Sunday carrying the baby; the bright George.

Wm. Reed and Frank Dimeo were all smiles last Friday, all because of girls coming to their homes to stay.

Mrs. Liddle Resides will butcher on Dec. 5, and she says anybody that wants to, can come; so let as many as can, get there, between 11 and 12 o'clock for dinner.

Rev. Miller preached a Thanksgiving sermon on Sunday morning and delivered a good sermon. The time for our Sunday school has been changed from 9:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m.; all are invited to attend.

Vernace Reed was sick a few days with sore throat. Little Zella Eckley is improving nicely; she had typhoid fever.

Mrs. Shearer, our school teacher, was not a bit frightened when she heard Forest was going to start to school, as we think she is able to control and teach any one who may go to school; she is an alright teacher and does her duty, and we think the scholars should do the same.

Harry Rearick, our mail carrier, says you may talk about good roads, but we people along the mountain had better talk about a good cow-path, says our supervisor nails the bridge plank fast to the ground—anything is good enough for us mountaineers, as we are called.

Grandmother Eckley is in her 87th year and is knitting a pair of hose; she is hale and hearty.

MT. EAGLE.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Alkey, of Bellefonte, were visiting here for a few days.

Mrs. H. Kessinger, of Pittcairn, and Mrs. Christ Decker, of Bellefonte, were visiting at L. Yarnell's on Sunday.

Mr. McLaughlin, of Snow Shoos, was visiting his friend, Myrtle Robinson, over Sunday.

Mrs. Geo. Gates, of Nittany, has returned to her home, after visiting friends here for a week.

Wilbur Bitner has gone to Newberry to work.

The Misses Masden, of Bellefonte, are visiting their mother, Mrs. Geo. Dietz.

Clair Gates, of Coleville, was visiting here over Sunday.

Mr. McLaughlin, of Snow Shoos, was visiting his family at Altoona over Sunday.

BOALSBURG.

There will be Thanksgiving service in the Reformed church on Thanksgiving evening.

The ladies' missionary society of the Lutheran church, held a special meeting on Sunday evening, and it was well attended.

Miss Sallie Keller has closed her house, and left on Wednesday for Wilmington, Del., where she will spend the winter months with her sister, Mrs. Hall.

Frank Fisher and family, of Altoona, are visiting a few weeks at the Fisher home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mothersbaugh and son John, are spending over Thanksgiving at Philipsburg with the former's sister, Mrs. Reuben Stuart.

Don't forget the poverty social in the Boal Hall on Saturday evening. Everybody is invited to attend; an offering will be taken at the door.

THANKSGIVING.

For the sunshine and the rain,
 For the dew and for the shower,
 For the yellow, ripened grain,
 And the golden harvest hour,
 We bless Thee, oh, our God!
 For the heat and the shade,
 For the gladness and the grief,
 For the tender, sprouting blade,
 And for the nodding sheaf,
 We bless Thee, oh, our God!
 For the hope and for the fear,
 For the storm and for the peace,
 And for the glad increase,
 We bless Thee, oh, our God!
 Our hands have tilled the sod,
 And the torpid seed have sown;
 But the quickening was of God,
 And the praise be His alone.
 We bless Thee, oh, our God!

Attention, Farm Seekers.

1. One fine farm, 175 acres, within 1 1/2 miles of the Diamond in Bellefonte, limestone land, good building and water—at a price that won't stand long if the penitentiary matter is decided favorably.
 2. 100 acres of land, without buildings, in the heart of Nittany Valley, along the main road and the proposed State Highway—at a ridiculously low price per acre.
 3. Good farm of 240 acres, 145 acres clear; water piped to the door, good buildings, limestone land—at an honest price.
 4. Good farm of 120 acres, limestone land, 1 1/2 miles east of Centre Hall—good buildings and never failing springs at house and barn; reasonable terms, payment cash.

 Bellefonte, Pa.

Happy Hunting Grounds.

Today ends the hunt after deer and some other wild game. Deer, from tomorrow on, can safely venture from the tree tops, crawl from out the hollow logs, and go into the farmers' wheat patches and eat all the plants they have capacity for—and the farmer is left helpless, a denizen of the forest is now a privileged character until November 15 next fall and the animal can twirl his fingers from the tip of its nose at the huntsman in perfect safety and tell him just to go—up salt river. The day was when the early settler, if out of meat, could start out with gun before breakfast, and return at breakfast time with a deer—and that any day in the year without any legal restriction. Then these were happy hunting grounds.

Noll-Messner.

Squire Musser was called upon Tuesday to join in matrimony two popular young people of Centre county—Mr. George A. Noll, of Bellefonte, and Miss Beatrice L. Messner, of State College. The groom is a son of Mrs. Elizabeth Noll, formerly of this place, now residing at Jeanette. He is a sober and industrious young man, and fully worthy of the pretty bride he has taken unto himself. They expect to reside at State College.
