NEW COUNCIL ORGANIZES.

Monday Night. Every member of the old council was present on Monday night to take part in the last session under the old organization, at the conclusion of which the new members were sworn in by Burgess Bower. In winding up its business on Mon-day evening the following are some of the most important items trans-acted by the old council: Water committee reported making repairs to pump at Phoenix station, and making an examination of all fire plugs throughout the borough. Street committee's report showed that the repairs to South Potter street were coninuing, and needed work was being done on Wilson street. Finance com-mittee stated that ending Dec. 1st, the borough treasury held a balance of $548.77. A contract was presented to council from the railroad company regarding the proposed sewer under he company's tracks near the Phoenix station on Water street. The railroad company asked for the signaures of the members of council as an evidence of good faith, which upon motion was granted. A letter from F. W. Crider requested that the judgment debt. Boyd Musser, representative of the York Bridge Co., stating that his company would put in new brackets on the High street bridge, thus widening the sidewalks on same, and bring them into conformity with the width of the side walks they join, for the sum of $150. After some discussion council ordered ame to be done, obligating itself for the payment thereof if the County issioners see fit to refuse same. President Harper stated that a vacancy had existed for some time on the board of managers for the Pruner orphanage and thereupon appointed G. F. Musser to fill the place. The mat-ter of changing from arc to Tungsten lights on the lower end of High street was next in order. It was finally agreed that six one-arm poles (same put up-one on each corner of the around it, the Democrats has polled press office. Next followed the readng of current bills and adjournment. A RELIGIOUS CENSUS.

For some time the ministers of dressed were: 459%, 424% and 363 but nothing definite planned until the recent meeting. Then it was decided to undertake definitely the work of compiling a religious census. Looking to this a chairman was selected, and a committee appointed. The first duty of the committee will be to district the territory which it is proposed to cover in the canvas. After this work bas been done representatives from the various churches will meet in the Chapel of the Presbyterian church to organize for the proposed undertaking.
