Pete Seyler moved in the house owned by Robert Hackenberg.

Mrs. Lee Weber was spending Thanksgiving under the parental roof. Jas. Miller and wife spent Thanksgiving at the home of T. A. Auman.

Butchering is all over now, and Bally Emerick had the heaviest porker.

Mrs. Robert Hackenberg visited her daughter at Flemington, last week.

CENTRE MILLS.

Mrs. G. E. Miller fell down the steps at her home on Sunday, Nov. 26th, and dislocated her shoulder.

Miss Jodie Duck and Miss Elva Lambert, of West Brushvalley, visited at N. A. Duck's, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Florry, of Madisonburg, visited J. W. Bair's, on Thursday.

Miss Jodie Brumgart, of Mifflinburg, is visiting her sister, Mrs. N. A. Duck.

Those that butchered during the last two weeks around here were: G. E. Miller, C. R. Held, J. J. Shultz, W. J. Walker, Geo. Wise, Howard Weaver, J. A. Kline, N. A. Duck, Mrs. A. T. Corman, Ira Shultz, Lole Blerley and I. Shauer.

J. J. Shultz, of Spring Bank, drove to the mill on Monday evening, and didn't tie his horses and they ran off home.

Mrs. W. J. Cann, of Juniata, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kline, last week.

FAIRVIEW—Howard Twp.

Protracted meeting has closed at Fairview.

Mrs. Daniel Sullenberger was a guest on Sunday of her brother T. J. Confer.

Howard Leitch returned to his parental home on Friday evening.

Miss Elsie Thompson, who has been ill a few days, is much improved.

Ross Fetzer returned home after a few weeks visit with friends in Altoona and Pitcairn.

Toner Fetzer, one of Yarnell's industrious young men, has gone to housekeeping on his farm in this place. Good luck to you, Toner.

ZION.

Butchering is about over and with it cease the hog yarms from the nail kegs in the country store.

There is no butcher story of note from this section.

The next event of importance will be Christmas, which event will be memorized by the annual entertainment of the Union Sunday school, for which preparations are now in progress.

Rev. Grenoble, of Meyerstown, preached an able sermon on Saturday evening in the Evangelical church.

Some of our boys, who are somewhat notorious of "white attending church, had better look a "leddie out" or they might get pinched.

W. A. Royer, who has been employed by F. O. Lowden on the Simmsippi farm, Oregon, Illinois, for a number of years as carpenter, is home on a five weeks' vacation. Darryl, as he is generally called, is as jolly and whole-souled as ever. Time has dealt gently with him, as he is the picture of health. Billy is not a woman suffragette and is still in the land of single blessedness, and therefore not much concerned about pettycoat government.

There is a rumor that one of our Zion boys will enter the bonds of matrimony this week. Should the report prove true the callithumpian band will no doubt be on hand and render some of their usual choice selections.

The sick: Henry Gentzell is no better and grave doubts are entertained for his recovery. Lavina Shaffer is not much improved and Dr. Fisher is able to call on some of his patients but is convalescing very slowly.

Some of our boys who are working in Bellefonte, came down on Thanksgiving to have a little hunt, and a fine time they had too. Merrel and Charley from town, and Nick with his two dogs, started for the mountain and scared a few pheasants but didn't get any; then they loaded for rabbits and were successful in routing one out of his nest. Merrel and Charley fired each two shots and Nick three shots, but the rabbit ran on, and may be running yet for all they know. Thus ended a big day's hunt—but the boys enjoyed it all the same.

The newly elected township officials met this week and organized and prepared for the year's work, in their several offices. The old officials settled their accounts and those that met defied on Nov. 7th, retired to private life.

PORT MATILDA.

The Port Matilda hunting club came home from the mountain empty handed—luck was against them; they saw several deer but no horns, so they thought it best to leave them until they got horns. Of course Rev. G. A. Williams, of Littleton, did not care for game so much as the getting out for his health; all enjoyed the outing.

S. S. Miles and wife have landed safely at home after their visit at Pittsburg and Clearfield county, and are at their post of duty.

Rev. Kelley, pastor of the Presbyterian church of this place, preached an able sermon in the Baptist church, which was much appreciated by those who heard it.

Our new school board organized on Monday under the new law; the old board was W. T. Hoover, J. B. Williams, A. J. Johnson, H. C. Woodring, A. R. Woodring and Samuel McMonigal. The new board are: Alfred McGuire, for 6 years; W. E. Williams, 4 years; W. T. Hoover, 4 years; Harry Williams, 2 years, and Victor Weston, 2 years.

Prof. John A. William, who has been the principal of our schools in our town for about fourteen years, has handed in his resignation to take effect Dec. 22nd. Mr. Williams has done much to build up our schools and we can boast of the best schools in the county. We have a township school which is a great advantage to the young people of this and adjoining townships. Not only has Mr. Williams been helpful to our schools in town, but he has assisted the teachers in the rural districts and many are sorry to see him leave the town.

Raymond Runk, of Three Springs, Huntingdon county, was a sojourner in our town over Sunday.

Rev. Walter H. Williams is serving as juror this week at the county seat.

VALLEY VIEW.

John Holderman is moving from Merrittown to the Rider house. Look out boys, he is constable.

William Pike is moving from the Branch to one of A. J. Garbrick's tenant houses.

Frank Confer was in our town one evening last week; some again Frank. Philip Walker killed a porker last Thursday that tipped the scales at 503 pounds. Philip can put us all in the shade when it comes to raising hogs.

Glad to learn that Zella Eckley is still improving nicely.

Lower Justice is going to the Bellefonte hospital next Tuesday; wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. E. T. Walker and four children have again returned home from her visit at Yarnell. Charley has come back to stay. He will go to work for the American people again. Arcey went out to hunt one day last week and he killed two rabbits and one pheasant in 43 minutes. That's good Arcey; try it again. Paul goes out all day and gets nothing, but empty shells.

Harry Yearick, of Ridgway, spent several days last week at the Daley home at this place.

Messrs. Clar Leathers and Russel Wagner, of Howard, and Frank Robb, of this place, visited Knoll's school on Friday afternoon.

About eighteen of our young folks attended meeting at Pleasant Valley on Thursday night.

SPRING CREEK.

G. W. Scholl spent the fore part of the week with his brother, Thomas, in Brushvalley.

John Meckley is spending the week in Bellefonte attending court.

J. D. Wirtz and daughters transacted business in Bellefonte on Monday.

Mrs. Emma Miller returned to her home at Coleville after spending a week with friends in this vicinity.

Mrs. Nancy Hockman and daughter Lillian, of DuBois, visited Mrs. Hockman's father, William Coble.

W. W. Tibbens and family spent Sunday at the Meckley home.

John Dale, of Clearfield, spent several weeks at his boyhood home with his sister, Mrs. Philip Wirtz.

LIVONIA.

Raymond Adams and Howard Stover, formerly of this place and now students of Central State Normal of Lock Haven, spent their Thanksgiving vacation gunning at Livonia.

Mrs. Edwin Gingerich is spending some time at M. C. Schadt's.

We are sorry to hear that Miss Jessie Adams is still confined to her bed, although somewhat improved.

Geo. Stover and wife spent Saturday in Rebersburg.

Mrs. Anna Anderson is visiting at Henry Strahan's.

Fruit Growers Meeting.

The Centre County Fruit Growers association will hold a two-days meeting at Millheim on Friday and Saturday, December 15th and 16th. Prominent speakers will be present and make addresses on various topics of interest to fruit growers, such as the proper care of trees, methods of getting rid of injurious insects, spraying etc. All fruit growers in the county are invited to attend, whether members of the association or not.

Centre county should raise about ten times as much fruit as at present because we have the soil and climate.

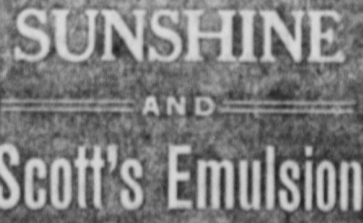

Hunter Fatally Shot.

Walter Metz, of Petersburg, mistaken for a deer by an unknown hunter, was fatally shot in Diamond Valley, Huntingdon county. The deceased was aged about 32 years and formerly resided at Allenville, Mifflin county.

Dr. S. M. Hazlett, of Allenville, is a cousin of the dead man.

Some fellows in Centre county have discovered that good intentions don't always make good. They get a fellow in a deal of a hole some times.

If some people in Centre county could see themselves as others see them there are many mirrors that wouldn't get looked into quite so often.

ALL DRUGGISTS

Sews Severed Finger Back On.

While working at a buzzaw, at Altoona, Alfred Stephen, a machinist, had the little finger of his left hand cut off on Thursday. Tying the wound up as best he could, he stuck the severed digit in his pocket and walked two miles to the office of a physician.

There he bemoaned his fate so loudly that the doctor sewed the member back on, and later was delighted to see circulation restored. There is every indication that the operation will be successful.
