EDITORIAL.

THE NEW YEAR.

"Ring out the old, Ring in the new; Ring out the false, Ring in the true." Ring, ye bells, for the Glad New Year...

Thankful.

To speak for the citizens of Centre county we take this opportunity to say all feel and are thankful to an all-wise Providence that the new year, 1912, is entered with this country in peace; good health is a blessing reigning over the county; no want, nor suffering, distresses the people; 1911 had a rich harvest in its length and hard times in its breadth; no one in this county; our prison has had less inmates for serious violation of the laws than any former year; business has been prosperous along all lines; the morals of the people are in excellent repute; churches have accomplished good. In all hereof and more, our people can congratulate themselves, and express pride over the favorable conditions in old Centre and that Providence cast its blessings over the length and breadth of the county. Thanks to an All-wise Providence, and a Happy New Year to its children in all lands.

WADDLE.

May the editor and the readers of the Centre Democrat have a very prosperous and happy New Year. Rev. Strain is holding a revival meeting at the Waddle M. E. church. All are cordially invited to attend these services. Miss Sara Stevenson left Monday morning for Newry after spending her vacation with her parents at Waddle. Wm. Leitzel, of Paradise, was on the sick list for a few days after Christmas, and blamed it all on the one half of an orange he ate. So go slow on eating oranges, Billy. Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Thompson, of Pittsburg, are spending their Christmas vacation with Mrs. Thompson's sister, Miss Anna Gray. Rosa Sellers is somewhat improved but is still confined to his bed with appendicitis. Albert Hoy spent a few days with his parents at Waddle. Dr. Coons is kept very busy looking after those who are on the sick list. John C. Hartsock is confined to the house from a paralytic stroke. Mrs. Daley returned to her home in Philadelphia after spending a few days with her parents at Paradise.

BRANCH.

Miss Belle Lytle and sister Susan visited in Lemont on Thursday. Miss Carrie Barger is visiting friends at the Branch and State College. Katie Breon spent last week with friends at Spring Mills and Millheim. Thomas Frazier spent Christmas day with his sister, Mrs. John Breon. Mrs. Andrew Lytle and daughter Mary visited at New York last week. There will be preaching in the Branch school house on Sunday evening. Henry Sents visited his lady friend from last Friday until after Christmas; good for you, Henry. Maggie Breon, Carrie Barger and Maud Musser visited at Henry Sents, Tuesday evening. Some of the Branch people attended the Passtime Saturday evening. We had quite a large serenade in our little town last Thursday night. Milton Barger spent last week with relatives in Lewisburg and also at Spring Mills.

YARNELL.

After spending Christmas with their parents at this place, William Keating and wife and brother Bert left on Friday for their home at McKeysport, Pa. Miss America Confer spent New Year's day at the home of Miles Heaton. Miss Margaret Keating of Snow Shoe, is spending her Christmas vacation at her home at this place. Rev. C. C. Miller, of Conamaugh, Pa., a former pastor of the U. B. church at this place, visited friends at Runville, last week. Miss Trixy Confer left Wednesday for Bigler on a visit with friends. Miss Confer is one of Yarnell's most charming young ladies. Harry Confer, of Snow Shoe, is visiting at the home of Jacob Yarnell, at this place. Miss Chatty Confer, who has been employed at Tyrone for some time, is visiting at her home at Fairview.

COBURN.

The holiday season passed by unusually quiet at this place. To enliven the days somewhat the band discoursed some music in their room on Christmas and several groups of numbers paraded on New Year's Day. Two couples were serenaded on Railroad street by reason of their recent marriage. They are Edward Corman and Eva Stover, of Aaronburg, and Calvin Fryer, and Annie Hironomus of Union county. The former have gone to Scalp Level where they will make their future home.

Marion Meyer, who underwent an operation for appendicitis, is slowly improving and Daniel Krader, whose leg was amputated above the ankle the day after Christmas for gangrene is doing nicely.

W. D. Sholter is suffering severe pains from sciatic rheumatism. Bessie Meyer, who accompanied Mrs. E. Burd to a Philadelphia hospital, returned home Saturday while the latter will remain several weeks.

E. J. Burd assisted Sheriff Lee to move from Tusseyville to Bellefonte. J. R. Corman, wife and son Alvin spent Christmas at the home of M. Musser at Zion.

Miss Harriet Neese, aged 75 years, 1 month and 18 days, died Thursday evening at the home of her nephew, W. H. Grove, where she lived for many years. Funeral services on Monday were conducted by Rev. Geesey and interment was made in Heckman cemetery.

Revival services which resulted in eight conversions closed Sunday evening. This place has three churches and in each is conducted an interesting and progressive Sunday school. We were asked to report some facts of one school in our items. The United Evangelical Sunday school has about 32 members and an average attendance of 89, making 75 per cent; 22 members attended every Sunday of the year. The highest class contribution was made last Sunday by a junior class (4 boys) $11.00. Blaine Malone, Paul Vonada, Dean Snyder and Lulu Hosterman were present every Sunday for two successive years. Rachel and Tona Hosterman and Carl Malone have a three years' regular attendance record.

WOODWARD. Prof. E. S. Stover, wife and daughter, E. Bloomfield, N. J., spent Christmas with Mrs. Stover's parents at this place.

Ray Orndorf and C. E. Kreamer, students of Pierce's Business College of Philadelphia, spent their holiday vacation with their parents at this place, returning to Philadelphia to resume their studies on Monday morning.

Rev. Dice, of the United Evangelical church, started a series of revival services at this place on Sunday night. Clinton Shesheley, of this place, while employed on W. B. Hosterman's sawmill, had the misfortune of having one of his fingers badly lacerated by a self-feeding bolter connected with his lathe mill.

Roy Musser and Viris Stover spent last week visiting James London's at Big Run, Jefferson county, and Ed. Stover and family at DuBois, Pa. Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Ard spent last week in Philadelphia visiting their daughter, Mrs. Laura Sweetwood.

Clara Kreamer, of near Penn Hall, and son Harry a telegraph operator at Northumberland, visited at J. L. Kreamer's on New Year's day.

HOLTS HOLLOW. Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Catherman and four children, of Phillipsburg, is now spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Shope. Mrs. Joe Fetzer, of this place, has left for Chicago where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Yarnell, who is very ill.

Miss Daisy Watson and friend, Willard Emenisher, of Zion, spent Saturday evening and Sunday of last week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Burd, of this place.

Mrs. Charles Lucas, after visiting her parents, John Burda, has returned to her home in Altoona. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Catherman, of Winburne, after spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James N. Shope, has now returned to their home.

We were sorry we did not get The Centre Democrat last week, for it was missed very much.

HOWARD TWP. Irvin Chapman and Dora Watkin were the guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. Jacob McCloskey, Sunday afternoon.

Miss Frances Miller started Monday for Lock Haven and Cedar Springs for a week's visit among friends.

George Mann and son Martin returned to their work at Wood, Huntingdon county, Tuesday of last week. George McCartney spent Sunday with his parents at this place.

Those who were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orvis Fetzer Sunday: Mrs. Wm. Sayers and children, Miss Daisy Mann, Ralph Malone and Lloyd Lucas.

Last Sunday was the winding up of our Sunday school till April. James Watkin left Monday for Virginia where he will seek employment.

The little daughter of G. B. Mann is on the sick list.

EARLYSTOWN. A Happy New Year to all. The people are all glad that the penn don't come over on this side of the mountain.

Thomas Delaney is moving some of his goods over to the Baird farm, where he will move this spring. Those that attended farmers' week at State College were: Prof. Neff, Sam Durst, Thomas Bartzke, and Wm. Bartzke from Logan Mills.

D. L. Bartzke returned home from his visit to his daughter at Johnstown and is very much pleased with his trip. We all would like to know if Mr. Crawford will close his singing class with a concert at Pine Stump. Hope he will.

PORT MATILDA. A Happy New Year to all. The week of prayer has closed and Rev. Gilbert has commenced his revival services in the M. E. church; all are invited to attend and take part. The stork visited W. E. Williams, and left a big boy and Joseph Williams a 9 1/2 lb girl; Joe says he will keep it as it was a Christmas present.

T. L. Spotts looks about six inches taller than he did and he has a head of hair that is growing. The other coat being too small, since the boy came to his place to stay; he came in time for a Christmas present.

Mrs. James W. Runkle and daughter Laura, of Centre Hall, left on Tuesday for several weeks' visit among friends at Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

RECENT DEATHS.

BROWN:—Jerry Brown died Tuesday evening at his home near the Red mill, in Potter township; aged 65 years. He leaves a wife and two children: Edward and Cora. Funeral on Saturday morning; interment at Tusseyville.

SMITH:—Mrs. Amelia, widow of John B. Smith, deceased, died at the home of her son, ex-Prothonotary Wm. F. Smith, in Millheim, on Tuesday morning, due to infirmities incident to advanced age, being within a few days of 82 years. Interment on Saturday in the cemetery at Millheim.

CANDY:—W. Henry Candy died very suddenly, on Friday evening, Dec. 30, of heart disease, at his home near Hubersburg, at the age of 75 years. He had resided in the vicinity of Hubersburg the greater part of his life and since the death of his wife, a number of years ago, had been living by himself. Funeral services were held on Monday forenoon conducted by Rev. Daubert, of the Evangelical church. Interment at Hubersburg.

BITNER:—On Thursday morning Dec. 28th, the spirit of Ida May, the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bitner, of near Tusseyville, took its flight to the other world. She had been ailing for about three weeks with dropsy. She was a member of the Lutheran church for a number of years and loved to attend service and be in the society of good people. She was patient and cheerful. Death was not terror, but meant release and redemption. Age about 23 years. She is survived by her parents, and two brothers and two sisters: John, of Altoona; Elizabeth, Esther and Samuel at home. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by her pastor, Rev. Barry.

MARTZLOSS:—Miss Louise Martzloss, of North Allegheny street with whom she had been making her home for the past five years, died at the Bellefonte hospital on Sunday afternoon, at 2:45. She had been a patient at the hospital for about fifteen weeks, suffering from a complication of diseases, which had reached the critical stage beyond the relief of expert medical treatment. Miss Martzloss was born in New York about 47 years ago. She was in every respect a cultured and brilliant woman, and a most devoted mother. She had been married to the late Mr. Martzloss, of the same name, since her residence in Bellefonte, many of our citizens had learned to know and esteem her and her death will be generally lamented. There are said to be no near relatives surviving. The body was taken to Brooklyn, N. Y., on Monday for interment.

MUSSER:—Susan D. Musser, widow of the late John Musser, died at her home at State College on Friday, Dec. 29th, from diseases incident to her advanced age, she having reached 84 years, 7 months and 29 days. She was born at Oak Hill, the daughter of Christian and Elizabeth Matherman, united in marriage to John Musser, who preceded her to the grave in August of the year 1838. As a life long member of the Evangelical church, her years were lived consistent with its tenets. Surviving are: 12 children, 11 grand children, 10 great grandchildren; namely: Kate M. Musser, of Pine Grove Mills; Philip S. and A. W. Dale, Esqs. of Bellefonte. The funeral was held on Sunday, Dec. 31st, and burial was made in Meyer's cemetery.

TEMPLETON:—Mrs. Barbara Ellen Templeton, wife of William Templeton, died at her home in Pleasant vale, near Altoona, Tuesday morning, after an illness covering a period of several months. Her condition became serious several days ago and when the final summons came she was surrounded by the members of the church, who were the daughter of William and Elizabeth Cole, deceased, and was born in Centre county, where the greater part of her life was spent. She was aged 52 years, 1 month and 13 days. Deceased was a member of the church in Pleasant vale, and was well known and esteemed by a large number of friends in Tyrone and Bellefonte. She is survived by her husband and five children:—Mrs. Wilford Stephens, of Altoona; Laura J., William, Jr., Mary M., and Frances, all deceased. She also survived by three sisters and one brother, as follows: Mrs. Alice Irvin and Miss Laura Cole, of Pennsylvania Furnace; Mrs. Elizabeth McCormick, of Tyrone, and John Cole, of Sinking valley.

BROWN:—Many people in Bellefonte and throughout the county will remember the late Lawrence J. Brown, whose death occurred in New York City last Thursday evening, from the fact of his long residence in this place, and the prominence he maintained in Republican politics in the county. Mr. Brown was a native of Huntingdon county, where he was born and raised, a brother, attorney Charles G. Brown, resides at Patton, and a sister, Mrs. Ellen Snare, at Englewood, N. J. He also leaves one daughter, Miss Elizabeth, of Long Island, N. Y., his wife having died about three years ago. On coming to Bellefonte Mr. Brown, on Aug. 12th, 1878, bought out the coal and grain business of Valentine & Shortlidge (now owned by Edw. K. Rhoads) which he successfully conducted for a number of years. In 1889, just eleven years later, he sold the business to the present owner, and went to Sandy Ridge to become superintendent of the fire brick works at that place. Later he removed to Philadelphia, and again to New York City, where his death occurred, aged 15 years. His keen interest in Centre county politics won for him the chairmanship of the Republican county committee in 1887. The body of deceased was taken to Huntingdon for burial.

—On New Year's evening the Elks had some doings. It being the first meeting night in the year the attendance was larger than usual and a feast followed. The turkeys for which were contributed by Dr. P. S. Fisher, of Zion, while Ex-Sheriff Wm. E. Hurley supplied some of the necessary "trimmings" to celebrate his retirement from office.

—Clarence Lucas, publisher and editor of the Snow Shoe Times published at Moshannon, paid our sanction a brief visit the past week. He issues a creditable paper and is making a success of the venture.

D. J. Meyer and wife, of Centre Hall, left this week on an extended visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCormick, at Columbia, South Carolina.
