

A LARGE PEACH ORCHARD.

The Snow Shoe Times of last week's issue says: "The large peach orchard of C. P. Reese and sons, located at the switches on the Bellefonte and Snow Shoe railroad, is becoming one of the largest peach orchards in Centre county. There are now 2000 trees planted, and in a thrifty condition. According to a statement to the writer by Mr. Reese, 4000 more are to be planted as soon as the weather is favorable; these trees being "budded" in the spring next. The orchard covers about 42 acres, situated in an elevated location admirably adapted to peach culture. Mr. Reese and his sons expect to go into the peach business on a large scale with a view to making a success of it, and a steady one, raising some "fruits of their labors." This is the third season for many of the trees and a crop of peaches is looked for. If the blossoms have not been killed by the severe winter, Mr. Reese thinks the trees have not been hurt by the cold weather, but fears the blossoms have been injured. Each season more trees are planted, being secured from nurseries at different localities—both east and west; the western trees, however, seem to be more productive than those from the east; although the same solution, which contains salt, is attractive to the grower. This pesky little animal is very destructive to the young trees by "ringing" them, or gnawing the bark a few inches up from the ground causing the tree to die. Persons who like to hunt the groundhog might find it very interesting to see the "weather man" in the vicinity of Mr. Reese's peach orchard.

DRIVEN FROM HER HOME.

Troubles of a Family End by the Husband and Sister Landing in Jail. Mrs. Harrison, of Monmouth, with her 4-month-old infant in her arms, appeared at the home of Overseer of the Poor John Bathurst, in Hanchard, Wednesday last week and made complaint against her husband and his wife, alleging that they had driven her away from her home and that she had no shelter. Mr. Bathurst was compelled to provide the woman with shoes and some additional clothing for protection from the frigid weather before taking her to Bellefonte, where she was confined in the Centre county jail, while Mrs. Harrison and the baby and her two other children, the eldest of whom is 8 years old, again occupy the home. It is said Harrison's sister a short time ago was released from jail. The case is a pathetic one, and the man who will drive his wife and little baby out into the cold of such a winter as this certainly has not much manhood in him.—Lock Haven Express.

URGENT LARGE TROUT FRY.

State Fish Commissioner Buller, in a statement issued in answer to requests made to his department about the distribution of trout fry this year, declares against practice of planting fry, saying that the proper method is to use larger fry. The Commissioner is a fish culturist of many years' experience and has announced some changes in the manner of issuing fish for stocking streams. I would advise for this season's fishing the stocking with seven or eight inch trout, the fish to be placed in the streams as soon as weather conditions permit, and for future fishing to stock with trout not less than four to six inches in length. Practically all fish follow this plan in order to keep their preserves stocked, and at the same time have some fishing. For this reason the Department of Fisheries advises the stocking of streams with larger trout than fry. The Centre Democrat in place of stocking the streams—in takes of microscopic fry planted in the past years, which could not take care of themselves and were only food for crabs, bullfrogs, snakes and the larger fish, causing the final depletion of trout streams in Centre county and the state, he will use large ones for stocking.

DISEASE OF HONEY BEES.

The United States Department of Agriculture calls attention to the fact that American foul brood and European foul brood has been found to exist in Centre county. The department has no means of knowing how long the disease has existed in the region, but desires to notify bee keepers of the fact. It is suggested that, if not already informed concerning the disease, they inform themselves at once. Very frequently colonies of bees are destroyed by disease and the loss is attributed to the fact that some other cause, Farnes' Bulletin No. 42, The Treatment of Bee Diseases, gives a description of the brood diseases and methods of treatment. It will be sent free on request to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. Attention is also called to the fact that the brood diseases do not at all injure honey for human consumption, so that there need be no fear on the part of purchasers of honey.

After Illegal Hunters.

That the machinery of the state game commission, like the proverbial mills of the gods, grinds slowly but never misses a cog, is being brought forcibly to the attention of some fourteen Harrisburg deer hunters who composed a deer-hunting party in Centre county last fall. The state game protectors, who have been working on the case since last November, have just completed their investigation and have facts sufficient to warrant the arrest of these hunters on the charge of killing two deer and shipping the carcasses to Harrisburg during the deer season, and they will be asked in the Centre county court to pay $1400 and costs of prosecution in an action already started, which will no doubt raise the price of venison to a pretty high figure.—From N. American.

No More Conventions.

Those pleasant old-time winter affairs the musical conventions, in over a dozen localities of the county, seem to have been relegated as a thing of the past—we do not hear of a single musical convention on the carpet for this winter. Prof. Philip Meyer, of Harris, now of Centre Hall, was one of the able instructors during the past twenty years, but seems to have left the "do, re, mi" field for some one else to take up those enjoyable and profitable functions. The pioneers in the musical convention functions, back some fifty years ago, were Prof. J. G. Meyer, of Aaronsburg, who upon several occasions, had Prof. Carter as an assistant and to lead in the instructions, followed in years later by Prof. Fletcher, of Nittany and others.

Miss Ruth Mowery, who was visiting in Ironsburg, has returned to her home in State College.

J. L. Winegardner and J. C. Hostor-man were recently appointed members of the board of health of Millheim, by the borough council.

The station at Port Matilda was robbed on Wednesday evening, of last week, the thieves carrying six mileage books away with them.

Guy W. Jacobs connected with the York Refrigerator Co., was a guest of his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Jacobs, in Centre Hall, last week.

The condition of Mrs. Henry Roush, who has been ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Detwiler, east of Centre Hall, still remains unimproved.

Comrade William Billett, of Lamar formerly of the 45th P. V., suffered a stroke of paralysis recently. His wife is also under the care of her physician.

Mrs. J. C. Gibbody, of Mill Hill, fell on the icy pavement near her home one morning last week and broke her left arm.

W. M. Benninger, of Northumberland, held meetings in various sections of Centre county last week, in the interest of the organization of Patrons of Husbandry.

Harold, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Wasson, who died from being burned at his home at Avis, was interred at Flemington on Monday last week.

The home of Martin Stimer, between Port Matilda and Hannah was completely destroyed by fire on Thursday morning, 22nd. The home and contents were a complete loss.

Mrs. Millard Holms, of Altoona, came to Centre county last week, her visit being principally to see a niece for the first time that is now at the Armbruster home, at Farmers Mills.

John Herman and Paul Keller of Pleasant Gap, returned home this week after completing a course in the Williamsport Commercial College, and both speak very highly of the institution.

Harry Burris, a son of Calvin Burris, of Axemann, is seriously ill at the home of Mrs. Mrs. Jacob Sharer, east of Centre Hall, where he is employed. He is suffering with pneumonia and a weak heart.

Christ Meyers and family, of Boalsburg, this week changed their residence from foregoing named place to Niagara Falls. May they find the change pleasant and profitable is the wish of the Centre Democrat.

Thus far no complaints from farmers of this county that the grain fields have been harmed to any appreciable extent from the winter. The fields, during the worst cold spells, were protected by a covering of snow, fortunately.

The executive committee of the Schaefer-Hazel reunion association held a meeting in Bellefonte recently and fixed Wednesday, June 13th, as the date for their annual reunion and the place, Detrick's grove, near Madisonburg.

Clair Lewis, of Pine Glen, while cutting logs for Edgar Sheffer, near Germania, one day recently, gashed his foot so badly with an ax that he was compelled to enter the Philadelphia hospital to have the injured member treated.

Four of Snow Shoe's most distinguished gentlemen have organized a motor club. Their names are as follows: Messrs. James Weaver, Clarence Thompson, Wilbur Confer and Clair Harm. Their first run was made to Bellefonte one day recently.

Harry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving M. Harrow, of State College, who has been suffering from a complication of diseases for the past year, and who underwent an operation at the Bellefonte hospital some months ago, was taken to Brooklyn, N. Y., last week to the Prospect Heights hospital for treatment.

Roland Zettle, of Georges Valley, and R. Hayes Zettle, of Centre Hill, will change occupations. The latter is engaged in farming on the T. F. Rayer farm, near Centre Hill, and will move to Potters Mills, while the former Mr. Zettle will become farmer, and the latter will follow the former as agent for the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company.

Last Wednesday morning Curt Meyers' driver on his way home from the creamery, at State College, stopped at the Brown residence and left his blind mare standing. During his absence the mare started homeward and walked off a high bridge, horse and wagon falling into the stream, and spilling the contents. The animal was pretty badly bruised and cut.

Impressive services in memory of the late Dr. Benjamin Gill, chaplain at the Pennsylvania State College, were held at the auditorium last Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. A biographical sketch was read by Dr. E. W. Runkle, the librarian, and a character sketch given by Prof. F. L. Patton. Mrs. Helen Givier sang a number of the music during the service and rendered a hymn which the deceased had composed.

Recently a man in Snow Shoe had a clock that he left with a jeweler for about a month, and then it would not run. Finally J. T. Smoke and A. J. Walker tackled the critter with a pair of pinners and tweezers, and after working straightened a few cogs, away it went and has been keeping good time ever since. While they don't pretend to be jewelers, they know a few things about crooked cogs that may bring them lots of business, if they only would hang out their shingles.

The ladies of the St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church will hold a chicken and waffle supper in connection with a church fair in the townhall in Millheim, Pa., on Friday and Saturday, March 8th and 9th. A Good Boycott. Philadelphia women united in a boycott on butter and eggs. The result was that the retail price of butter dropped twelve cents last week. There is also a slump in eggs, which will be accelerated by warmer weather very soon.

WE'RE BEHIND THE TIMES.

In Other Places Electricity is Used to Thaw Out Pipes.

In DuBois, Milton and many other places the modern method of thawing out frozen water pipes with electricity is in use, which does away with dangerous torches or going to the trouble of excavating. The Milton Standard thus explains the principle of constructing a device in that place by two electricians and which does the work successfully.

Using an electrical device which they constructed for the purpose, Harry Conway and William Tyson, employees of the electrical company, came to the rescue of a number of residents who were inconvenienced by the freezing of water pipes in their residences or places of business.

The electricians rigged up an apparatus, consisting of a transformer, a barrel half full of salt water and a pair of wires. One end of the pair of wires was attached to the feed wire. At the other end, one of the wires was affixed to a water plug and the other to the cut off spigot controlling the water. A switch in the transformer is then applied and in a few minutes the electric current warms up the pipes, and thaws them out. Recently the device was tried out at the Reid Tobacco Company's plant at which time it was used to thaw a place the thaw-out was effected in forty minutes.

A Box With a History.

Conductor Martin Reese, on the Snow Shoe branch of the Pennsylvania railroad, is using for official business on his train a wooden express box which has been in use by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company since its early existence.

In 1881 the box was transferred from the main line and put into service on the Snow Shoe train where it has remained ever since. It is iron bound and between the bands the wood has worn quite thin and bears the marks of long service. The box, however, has not been in service on the Snow Shoe branch as long as the conductor, who has been employed continuously on the road since 1872 at which time he began work as a track hand and rose from that to his present position, which he has held since 1881, following Edward Austin, his predecessor.—Snow Shoe Times.

Must Be Careful.

The court of appeals of the state of New York has decided that the rights of a pedestrian at street crossings are superior to those of the driver of an automobile. It is not the duty of a pedestrian to "stop, look and listen" before he undertakes to cross the street. It is the duty of the driver of the automobile to have his machine under perfect control when he approaches a crossing to be watchful and prudent. That seems good law. That is not the duty of a driver as well to other rigs, yet each should exercise care.

Phillipsburg's Meanest Man.

Phillipsburg enters a claim for the meanest man. The Ledger of Wednesday, June 13th, as the date for their annual reunion and the place, Detrick's grove, near Madisonburg.

The meanest man has been discovered. Charlie Johnston is now the proud possessor of that unenviable title and all others are barred. After being fed at the Salvation Army barracks, South Main street, Charles swiped a $12 Bible, which he sold and got arrested on the proceeds. He is now in jail figuring out when his 20 days will expire.

Seventh Wreck Victim Dies.

After 10 days' suffering from wounds and scalds received in the wreck of the Pennsylvania Limited at Warriors Ridge, February 15, George Alexander, a negro dining car cook, of Jersey City, died in the J. C. Blair Memorial hospital Sunday afternoon, the seventh victim of the accident, when 19 Pullman cars rolled down a 25-foot embankment. Alexander's death was confirmed when the range in his car exploded.

Fouke, of Naperville, Illinois, is expected to preside.

State Loses to Lehigh.

In an exciting game from start to finish, Penn State's basketball team lost to Lehigh at South Bethlehem on Saturday night. The score was 32 to 33. Penn State lost two golden opportunities to tie the score in the last half minute of play, and it was not until the sound of the referee's whistle was heard that the game was decided.

A PLEA FOR UNITY.

Editor the Centre Democrat.

My Dear Sir:—Closing a long lifetime, passing through nearly three generations for the most part spent in Christian work, Bible school missionary and church service, it has just come to my knowledge, by special correspondence on the subject that in a religious census, taken for a given city and its suburbs, the facts canvassed for and gathered, are "a sacred trust" intended for the exclusive use of certain branches of the church and "not to be placed in the hands of others," even those who desire to make the very best use of them in a faithful endeavor for the furtherance of the Redeemer's kingdom.

In view of the singular case, an occurrence once in a lifetime, I repose with a substantial faith in the Holy Scriptures of the Old Testament; the apostolic doctrines of the New Testament and especially the teachings of the Lord Jesus Christ in his gospel. I do devoutly believe that the time is coming soon, for the world-wide extension of the christian religion will be closely in accord with the Psalmist's joyful exclamation: "Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity." Ps. 133:1. The apostolic declaration "For we are laborers together with God." Cor. 3:9. b. c. and the three-fold petition in our Lord's last prayer for believers: "That they all may be one, as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us, that the world may believe that thou hast sent me."—John 17:21.

MISSIONER.

Bible School Memorial Services.

The birthday of Lincoln and Washington were appropriately observed by singing last Sabbath Bible schools Sunday school, 18. The damp, drizzly day had no apparent effect to diminish the attendance. About all had a neat little flag on the left lapel. The singing of patriotic songs added inspiration to the occasion. The Nittany Female school had an attendance of eighty-one, and all greatly enjoyed Prof. James R. Hughes' timely address. At Pleasant View there were seventy-six present addressed by Missioner Crittenden who expressed himself greatly delighted with the good management and deportment of the school.

A good punctual attendance, as usual, in the Olive Branch Chapel. All young and old, thoroughly appreciated Dr. Weston's interesting address. Evidently these Bible schools are putting forth "leaves for the healing" of the little children and some older ones: best of all, bearing fruit, precious and enduring, for the Master's ingathering.

Richeson Engaged to Five.

While four young women were wearing diamond rings which Clarence V. T. Richeson, of Harrisburg, had given them to seal promises of marriage, he ordered a $200 solitaire for a fifth girl whose identity is not revealed. Shipment of the last engagement ring by a Western firm was stopped by news of Richeson's arrest. The list includes Avis W. Linnell, of Hyaniss port, Viola Edmunds, of Brookline, Grace Howard, of Georgetown, Mass., and Patsy Feitz, of Denver.

Sets Hens on Snowballs.

James Van Duzee, of Boynton, N. J., has discovered what he believes is an infallible cure for broody hens. When with eggs at 65 cents a dozen several of his hens stopped laying and wanted to sit. Van Duzee made snowball eggs and put them under the hens.

Three Ice Eggs, melting in her nest were sufficient, he says, to cure every hen of the sitting fever. His remedy has been applied with equal success by several neighbors.
