The Ladies' Aid Society, of the Lutheran church will serve a chicken and waffle supper from 5 o'clock until 8, Thursday evening, April 11th, in the room on corner of Bishop and Allegheny St. Everybody most cordially invited.

Rev. and Mrs. R. Crittenden departed on early train, Wednesday morning to spend Easter tide with Moravian friends in Bethlehem, Pa. They expect also to visit other relatives in Allentown and Brooklyn, N. Y.

Easter at the Methodist Episcopal church will be observed with special music, an Easter sermon by the pastor at 10:30 a. m. A delightful and instructive program by the Sunday school at 7:30 p. m.—"The Easter Message."

The cantata entitled "The March to Calvary" by P. H. Schaefer, will be given on Sunday evening, April 7th, in the Presbyterian church. The soloists will be, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Blair, Miss Dorothy Jenkins, and Mr. Purcell Beattie. All are invited.

Mr. William Boalich, a brother of Mrs. Dr. J. L. Selbert and Miss Sarah Boalich, of the Selberts, arrived in Bellefonte on Thursday, April 4th, after a visit to his home on north Allegheny street. Since arriving in Bellefonte, he has been suffering from illness, that has somewhat diminished the pleasures of an intended delightful visit.

David K. Geiss returned on Friday from a visit to his mother, which the middle west where he visited numerous friends and relatives in the Mississippi valley. He enjoyed good health while away, and returned much benefited. He will remain in Bellefonte at the home of his son D. Wagner Geiss.

Ex-recorder John C. Rowe and family left for Philadelphia this week to make their future residence. Mr. Rowe recently secured a position as solicitor for a large firm in that city and is about to be married to his family with him. William Rowe will remain in Bellefonte for a short time, assisting during the while in the Recorder's office.

Edward Raymond, Joe Ollinger and Joe Rader, all of Drifting, Pa., accompanied by the latter's brother-in-law Victor Arent, of Lewis, were in Centre county last week attending public sales with the view of taking some of Centre county's good live stock to Clearfield county. Mr. Arent will remain in Centre county if he can secure employment on a farm.

James Harris, Camp No. 113, Veterans, of Lewis, will hold their regular meeting in the G. A. R. Post rooms, next Monday evening. All sons of veterans are cordially invited to attend. The local camp is gaining in popularity and numbers, and is ably officered. The time is fast approaching when sons will have to take the old veterans' places in keeping green the memory of those who died for our country, and every soldier's son should feel proud in doing so.

Next Thursday evening, April 11th, a special musical treat will be given in the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium, by the Special Grand Concert Company, who are under the direction of the Ithaca Conservatory of Music Entertainment Bureau. The personnel of this excellent company consists of Miss Florence E. Welbur, reader; Miss F. Lillian Frost, violinist; Miss Grace Covey, Mezzo-soprano; and Miss Gertrude W. Lyons, pianist. The press speaks very highly of these entertainers.

Benjamin Kollander, a young swede, was released from the Centre county jail on Monday after effecting a settlement with John Stewart, of near Philipsburg, for wounding the latter with a revolver. It is claimed that the shooting was accidental and occurred one night recently while Kollander was spending the evening with Stewart. The former was arrested, but was given his freedom by paying all costs of the suit, and $100 in addition with which to cover cost of doctor's bill and hospital expenses.

Monday was "fitting" day, and as such was widely observed in Bellefonte. Draymen were kept busy from early morning until evening in endeavoring to get their patrons placed in the respective homes without conflict. Some of the changes noted were as follows: John Krebs, from Thomas street to Powers residence on Spring street; John Lohr to Half-moon hill; Wilbur Burkholder to Barnhart residence on Thomas street; Robert Brown from Glass works to Haupt's flat; Fred Bryan from Haupt's flat to Haas residence on Penn street; Jesse Dertine to house vacated by Burkholders on Pine street; John McGinley from Bishop street to High street, next to Shuey's grocery; Edward Harper from Curtin to Speer property, above Smith's tailor shop; Charles Hartsock and Lewis Drake from Coleville to Williamsport; Harry Otto to Johnstown; Samuel Osler to Sunbury; Joseph Grumbine from Clearfield to Coleville; Lloyd Woomer from Brown Row to Shiloh; Wallace Woomer to State College.

Go to the scenic this evening, and spend an hour. See you don't feel better for doing so. This popular place is pleasing its patrons every night, because of Mr. Brown's careful selection of films.

Frank Eckenroth, who holds a good position at Sunbury, spent a few days recently at the home of his father, Charles Eckenroth, on Howard street. The latter has been quite ill, in fact so serious, as to give his friends great uneasiness.

Irvin G. Gray, of Julian, was in Bellefonte this week arranging for advertising his public sale of thoroughbred live stock, which will be held on Wednesday, April 19th. Mr. Gray on this date will dispose of thirteen fashionable bred horses, an event that should attract horse dealers from all over the state. In addition he will sell his high-grade cows and hogs.

"The Commandant." The Penn State Theatrical will present "The Commandant," a comedy that is said to surpass in many ways all former efforts of this organization, in Garmann's opera house, Saturday evening, April 13th.

The first act of the play deals with the commandant attending a ball in maque. He is apparently deceiving his esteemed wife and seeking comfort among the dainty ones. His deceitfulness, however, is soon discovered by his wife, who causes him a lot of discomfort.

Paul, Dashi, the free "go-easy" fellow, who is in love with Julia Wallop, the commandant's daughter, presents some very interesting and remarkable escapes from difficult situations. Together with the charming damsels in their dancing and the well trained chorus, the singing, dancing, scenery and costumes are not to be out-classed by any.

The second act is laid in Japan, where Major Wallop secures a position as American consul. He takes with him his wife and daughter, being followed by Paul Dashi. Here Paul, Dashi, who is rejected because of Paul's carelessness, Sam, a southern dandy, presents many an opportunity for a hearty laugh. Mrs. Hastings and the chorus in the Japanese scene present a pleasing specialty in fancy dancing.

Installed Grand Prelate. At the public installation of officers-elect, open to Blue Lodge members, held on Friday evening in their asylum in Masonic temple on Allegheny street, Rev. John Hewitt was formally installed as Grand Prelate to the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Pennsylvania. Rev. Hewitt had been temporarily filling the office since last spring owing to the death of Rev. Thos. Boyle, and so ably had he accomplished it that his selection comes as a deserved compliment, both to himself and the local commandery. The installation was held by order of the Grand Commander, and R. E. Sipe Wilson, I. Fleming, was the official in charge. The line officers of the commandery, elected for the ensuing Temple year, were also installed by Mr. Fleming, as follows: George S. Grimm, eminent commandeer; Dr. W. J. Kurtz, of Howard, generalissimo; and Dr. Wm. Fear, of State College, captain-general.

After the exercises a banquet was held in the lower rooms of the Temple, and toasts were responded to by many of those present.

Hospital Notes. Admitted for treatment, Mrs. Eva Behrens, Stormstown; Miss Stella Garret and Melvin Cowher, Bellefonte; William Johnstonbaugh, Jersey Shore; Barbara Garbrick, Pleasant Gap; Mrs. Margaret Kent, Centre Hall.

Operations: Mrs. Anna B. Parker, Potters Bank; Mrs. Cora Shultz, wife of Rev. Shultz, Pine Grove Mills; William Fredricks, fractured leg, of Bellefonte.

Discharged: Mrs. Bertha Dunlap, Tyrone; Lena Bari, and Fred Sourbeck, Bellefonte.

Twenty-eight patients are now in the hospital.

RUNVILLE. Spring is here, how glad we are; with spring many changes have taken place and some of our good people have chosen homes in other parts.

Willis Poorman, who resided on the Adam Witherite farm, moved to a farm near State College; Jno. Wetzel, of Chestnut Grove, will occupy the place vacated by Willis Poorman; Michael Sennet, a life long resident of this place, moved with his family to the Houser farm at Valley View, occupied by Edward Reasner; Clayton Walker will occupy the house vacated by Mr. Sennet; Thomas Spicer, of Glen Harris, moved with his family to Warriors Mark; Edward Walker and wife will occupy the place vacated by Thomas Spicer.

The people who went with the moving of Willis Poorman and John Watson, of Holts Hollow; Lincoln Crook, of Curtin; Jos. Witherite, of Philmore; Sam'l Shirk, of Chestnut Grove; Cyrus Lucas, of Lincolns, D. F. Poorman, of Poorman, Thomas Poorman, J. H. Alexander and Martin Brower.

Jos. Watson and family will move from the Watson farm to occupy their new home purchased from John Wetzel.

NEW ELECTRIC ORDINANCE.

Gets First Reading in Council on Monday Night.

The first important item of business transacted at the regular semi-monthly meeting of council on Monday night was the reading of the new ordinance presented by the Logan Electric Company, for the purpose of extending the boro with poles and wires.

In substance the ordinance states that no poles shall be erected on Linn, Allegheny or Bishop streets, and on all paved or macadamized streets the wires will be laid in conduits.

The work of tearing up brick paving and macadam to be under the supervision of the boro engineer. As to charges for electricity by the new company, lamps of 7 1/2 amperes will be furnished the boro at $60 each.

Private lighting will be 5 to 8 per kilowatt hour, and commercial use to be 1 1/2 to 2 per kilowatt hour. Mr. Patterson, a son of R. M. Patterson, one of the chief promoters of the Logan Electric company, was present at the reading and stated that this ordinance had been revised to meet all demands of the boro. With very little discussion, President Keller referred the matter to the street committee.

Under verbal communications M. R. Johnson presented a proposition for placing a public drinking fountain on the diamond, where both man and beast may find a place to quench their thirst. Mr. Johnson stated that he asked the privilege in the interest of a Bellefonte lady, who wished to donate such a fountain if council was agreeable and would furnish the necessary water and look after its maintenance. The fountain would be of circular shape, 4 feet, 6 inches in diameter, and would allow four teams to take water at the same time. Another feature would be having the bowls 4 feet 3 inches high, so that a horse could drink without being unseated. The members discussed the proposition without reaching a conclusion. All are of the opinion that a public watering place for horses is sorely needed in Bellefonte, but there is some question as to whether a fountain of the proposed design could be placed on the diamond without interfering with traffic. The question was submitted to the street committee for solution and report.

A written communication was read from Homer Carr, of Milesburg, who stated that he wished to operate the mill owned by the boro at Milesburg, on the plan of share and share alike, as was formerly done by Thos. Johnson, who has moved away. This was referred to special committee.

A written application was received from W. A. Ishler for re-appointment as water collector for the year 1912, which by vote was unanimously granted.

Mr. Brockerhoff of the Village Improvement committee, stated that the Civic Club had conferred with several members, and had drawn up several resolutions to present to council on the subject of "clean up." They are: (1) That the streets be cleaned up for a general cleaning up day as was carried out last year. (2) That a certain day of each and every week be decided upon for cleaning up. RECENT DEATHS.

CHAMBERS:—Colonel Edward R. Chambers, Esq., a prominent Bellefonte lawyer, who for the past four years had been making a heroic fight against the inroads of diabetes, passed away at his home on High street, Sunday noon at 12:40 o'clock, aged 55 years, 1 month and 6 days. During the last three weeks of his illness Mr. Chambers had been confined to his bed, although previous to that time he was able to attend to his law practice. Edward Randolph Chambers was the son of Elijah and Mary Anna Chambers, who resided in Albemarle county, Virginia, at the time of his birth, February 24th, 1857. When Mr. Chambers was about six years of age his parents moved to Centre county, locating in Half Moore township. Here the young man received the rudiments of his education attending country school, and later he entered the Pennsylvania State College, graduating from that institution in 1887 with the degree of A. M. Sometime after a degree of B. S. was conferred upon him by his Alma Mater. After his graduation from college Mr. Chambers became employed on the engineering corps connected with the Pennsylvania and Yorkhony railroad. Finding the profession of law to his liking, he brought back to Bellefonte, where her death occurred at the home of her sister, Mrs. Thos. Caldwell, on Beavertown street. Bertha Mewshaw was born in Bellefonte, April 8th, 1885, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Mewshaw. She was aged 22 years, 11 months and 21 days. Surviving are the following sisters: Mrs. Alice, daughter of Punxsutawney; Mrs. Andrew Engle, of Altoona; Mrs. Samuel E. Oaman, of Sunbury; Fannie of Columbus, O.; and Mrs. Thos. Caldwell, of Bellefonte. Deceased was a consistent member of the Episcopal church, whose Rector, John Hewitt, officiated at the funeral services held on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock. Interment was made in the Union cemetery.

TRAFFORD:—After an illness of several months with a complication of diseases, John Trafford died at the Bellefonte hospital on Saturday evening, aged about 59 years. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Trafford and was born and reared at York, Pa. He came to Bellefonte in early manhood, and shortly afterwards married Miss Martha Sharp, who died a few years later. On Feb. 6, 1886, Miss Mary C. Zimmerman became his wife, who survives, together with the following children: Fred, Ralph, Mabel, Helen, Hazel, Arthur, Ruth and Grace. For several years deceased filled the office of overseer of the poor in Bellefonte, and later became a traveling salesman for a grocery firm. He was also janitor at the court house for a number of years. Mr. Trafford was a genial man who made many friends, and his passing from this life will be mourned not only by his family but by those with whom he associated with in a business way. In addition to his wife and children he is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Guy B. of North Dakota; Edward, of Jamestown, N. Y.; George, of Philadelphia; Thomas, of Tyrone; Miss Sarah Trafford, of Williamsport, and Mrs. W. B. Stewart, of Williamsport. Funeral services were held at the late residence of deceased, 925 Spring street, Wednesday morning, by Rev. Ezra H. Yocum, of the Methodist church. The remains were taken to Williamsport the same morning at 9 a. m., where interment was made that day.

Installed 60 New Phones. The American Union Telephone and Telegraph company, through its representative, Hon. John T. McCormick, of State College, has linked the telephone lines leading from Aaronsburg, Madisonburg, Coburn and Spring Mills to its Millheim exchange. The company installed over 60 new phones within the territory named. These towns were formerly covered by the Bell company.—Millheim Journal.

MEWSHAW:—After a lingering illness, death on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock relieved the suffering of Miss Bertha Mewshaw, a victim of the dread disease, tuberculosis. When the health of the young lady first became impaired, several years ago, her kind and devoted mother, Mrs. Mewshaw, effected her recovery. She was given the best of care and medical attention, and later was placed in the Mt. Alto sanitarium, where she apparently improved for a time. Finding the end was inevitable, she was studied under the tutelage of Alexander and Bower in 1882, and the following year was admitted to the Centre County Bar. He became quite successful in his practice, and soon became widely known as an expert criminal lawyer. He was appointed U. S. deputy revenue collector in 1891 and held this position for a number of years. He also served eight years in the Auditor General's Department at
