Bright, Newsy Letters From the Various Sections of the County.

JULIAN.

Aw, there! My beloved readers of this ever-prosperous, famous and wide-read Centre Democrat. It has been some time since my pen and jumped head-first into the ink-well and run the risk of drowning itself in order to dictate to you the latest news of the day.

The writer observes Postmaster J. Howard Turner locomoting his auto to and fro over Railroad Boulevard since the roads have dried up; slow down, Howard, till I jump aboard, please.

Mrs. Cora Catherwood, wife of yardmaster at Catorwood, of Osceola Mills, stopped off on her way home one day last week and spent a very pleasant time at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. James Turner, Mr. and Mrs. David Mease and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Harbridge, returning home on the 5.10 train Thursday evening.

Last week the writer was so frightened that his red hair raised right up and quivered like a tin soldier going to war, and what was it all about? Why, four Magic Yeast wags drove westward through town and it was anticipated that the whole town was liable to raise up and run over at the sides, but fortunately it failed to do us any harm as the rison often fails to raise the dough.

One day last week while Mr. Canine was coming down the railroad track trespassing on the R. R. Co's rights he met a fast freight train coming west and when the train was about half past, he decided it was better walking on the other side and dodged through when he came out he had one ear cut off close up to where it was nailed on, and was pretty badly used up bodily. The dog was the property of Robert Weiler.

A stranger coming into our town during the past ten days might mistake it for that great western metropolis commonly known as the "Smoky City," as the aerial regions are filled with smoke from the gardens of our industrious citizens who are already planting those luscious onions.

The population of F. W. Dillen's barn was increased recently when a fine little caballine arrived. Frank says here is none finer and the time will eventually show when it will help turn down the sod on the old "tater patch."

Martin Harbridge built a wagon and buggy shed for our rural mail carrier, Rollie Williams, last week. And now Rollie can let those summer showers fall upon us.

An infant wreck occurred just west of town on last Friday evening. One car was derailed and the evening mail train due here at 5:10 was delayed over an hour. If Fred Giles had been aboard he could have secured more trespassers' scalps than he could have tanned in a week.

Movings:—Daniel Murphy moved from the old Murphy homestead to Howard; Samuel Hosband from Mrs. Richards' house to the house vacated by Murphy; Johnnie Milton from the Cross Roads, near Warriors Mark, to the house vacated by Hosband; Rollie Williams from the John Craig property to his own residence, which he purchased from Geo. Sones a year ago; Mr. From from Mills Alexander's house in the lumberyard to Howard, (so the writer is informed); David Adams, Jr., from Chas. Boyer's property to the house on the island owned by Mills Alexander; Mr. Gentzel from Mills Alexander's farm to Howard; Mrs. Rebecca Swisher from their old home below town, to the farm formerly owned by David Henderson, three miles west of town; Martin Spotts from the Mills Alexander property on west Railroad Boulevard, to Beech Creek. This is all the movings I could glean at this writing.

The rain come down, the grass comes up.
No man can stop it.
Then the farmer turns his bovine out.
And lets her crop it.
Will write often, readers, when I get able.—V. C. H.
