

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Had pleasant callers from Madisonburg, John Roush and W. E. Keller. Miss Samantha Pownell, of Yarnell, was a Bellefonte shopper on Saturday. The brick are being landed this week for the street paving at the High street bridge. The Boy Scouts will take their first outing to the woods on Saturday, if the weather permits. Mrs. and Mrs. Roy Irvin, of Altoona, were over-Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Willard Barnhart, on Howard street. Mrs. Laura Alicks, of Denniston, Pa., spent several days of this week as the guest of her niece, Miss Bell Symonds, at the hospital. Mrs. Dr. Blackburn and children, of Philadelphia, are expected at the home of Col. and Mrs. J. L. Spangler the latter part of this week. Burns Crider, of this place, attended the fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Saylor at Altoona on Saturday evening. Miss Myrtle Williams, of DuBois, spent the past week visiting friends in Bellefonte. She formerly was connected with Katz & Co's store. Mrs. George Myers and little son Frederick left for Philadelphia on Saturday after a week's visit with her mother, Mrs. Alice Showers. Walter Armstrong, former deputy recorder, has accepted a position with the Bellefonte Lime Company at Salona, and left on Monday to assume his duties. Richard Taylor, of Huntingdon, spent a few days in Bellefonte, attending the inspection of Company L and taking part in the reunion of the Fifth Regiment. Wesley Spangler desires to have it known that he will buy all kinds of old paper and magazines, and will call for same if notified by card at his residence, Milesburg. Supt. George Grimm departed on Monday for Punxsutawney to assume the duties of his new position at that place. He will move his family as soon as he secures a suitable residence. The junior class of the Bellefonte High school wishes to thank Mrs. Richard Lutz, Mrs. Miles Walker, Mrs. William Coxy and Miss Lela Ardrey who so kindly assisted them at their reception on Friday night. For some time J. Linn Harris has been afflicted with rheumatism and it has annoyed him so much that he has concluded to spend several weeks at the Mt. Clemons hospital, in Michigan, to have the benefit of the baths that are so helpful in all such ailments. An exciting game of base ball will be played on Hughes field, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, between Bloomsburg Normal and Bellefonte Academy. This contest will furnish several hours of genuine sport, and there should be a large crowd present to enjoy it. The following are some of the local statesmen in attendance at the Harrisburg convention: H. C. Quigley, Henry C. W. Hurly, Lewis S. Rhoads, T. H. Harter, Harry Austin, and W. L. Mallin. When they arrive home we will know all about it-how it happened. William Shutt has concluded to lay aside the sawmill for the saw and hatchet and has turned over his shoe repairing business under the Garman residence to Tokey Noll, who will be found there in the future. Mr. Shutt's time will be occupied with carpentering this summer. Fred Showers, who for the past six months has been employed as an orderly at the Bellefonte hospital, went to Philadelphia on Saturday afternoon to enter a hospital for an operation for deafness. He expects to remain two weeks in the city, and it is to be hoped the treatment will fully restore his sense of hearing. Philip Garbrick, who has been employed for the past year as a cutter in a large hosiery factory at Kane, was an arrival home last week to attend the reunion of his old regiment, the Fifth M. Garbrick has been troubled of late with rheumatism, and for this reason may remain at home for a while until fully recovered. On Wednesday Lewis Grauer left St. Joseph's hospital, Philadelphia for Rochester, New York, to enter the sanitarium of the noted Mayo brothers, for further treatment and possibly an operation. He was sufficiently recovered from the former operation to make the trip. We have not learned the nature of his ailment. Charles Koozts, the blind man, on Tuesday moved his tobacco and confectionery store from the room formerly occupied by Roan's grocery on Bishop street to the basement of the Lyric building. The room Mr. Koozts vacated is being put in shape for the Harper brothers' grocery, a new cash business that will be open to the public in a short time under the management of Jerome and Edward Harper. Last Thursday evening, Mrs. S. D. Gettig entertained a number of young ladies at her home on east Bishop street. Music and choice refreshments were features of the occasion. This evening, the same party, chaperoned by Mrs. Luther Armstrong, of Bishop street, will be entertained by Mrs. Elmer Straub, at their farm residence near town. The well known hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Straub and family is a guarantee that the evening will be one of rare enjoyment. Keep in mind the Academy minstrels, Friday and Saturday, April 17 and 18. You may depend upon it they'll be great, as a large amount of time has already been expended in their preparation. The chorus consisting of popular songs will be the best ever heard in town, while the jokes, witticisms and funny stunts will have plenty of originality and spice. Keep the dates of May 17 and 18 open and enjoy the music and fun, and Deacon Jones' Wife's Ghost," by the Bellefonte Dramatic Company. The Women's Auxiliary of the Bellefonte hospital is making arrangements for a large card party, to be held in the armory early in June. These women, not having asked anything from the public for the past eighteen months, hope for the hearty co-operation of everybody in Bellefonte. Planning to have fifty, five hundred, what, such, action bridge in play, they are expecting to have everyone interested in either the hospital or cards to join them for this benefit. Light refreshments will be served and an admission of fifty cents will be asked.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian Association will meet in the Y. M. C. A. building Monday evening, May 6th, at eight o'clock. If you are attending the Lyric we do not have to tell you of what is to be found there. If you don't go, be up-to-date and see the best there is to be shown. The largest nickie's worth in town. Robert Roberts, of Berwindale, spent a few days in Bellefonte this week at the home of his wife's mother, Mrs. Clara Denius, on Bishop street; Mrs. Roberts is also a guest at the home. Talking moving pictures, something never before seen or heard in Bellefonte, will be the attraction at the opera house every night next week. This is something that should attract large crowds. Mrs. D. H. Hastings and daughter Sarah, who spent several months in Europe, sailed for home on the Baltic on April 25th and may arrive home in the course of a few days to occupy their home during the summer season. L. H. Musser, the implement dealer, this week received a five-passenger touring car that he will devote to the needs of his business and the pleasure of his family this summer. The car is an Everett, and one of the first of that make to arrive in town. The ladies of the Bellefonte Lutheran charge are endeavoring to raise funds for the erection of a parsonage on a lot for same adjoining the church on the Linn street side of the house of worship. Whenever the effort meets with sufficient success the parsonage will be erected. A steady high-grade showing of the latest and best in the moving picture line is the principle recommendation the Scenic has to offer for its success. There is never anything objectionable shown and there is always something of merit to be found. Be a Scenic patron and you'll be a satisfied patron. No one seems to have any definite news as to when the penitentiary commission will arrive in Bellefonte to lift their opinions on the various tracts of land selected by them for that purpose. What the occasion for the delay may be we are unable to definitely answer. Many of the owners are anxious to have the transfers made so that they can make arrangements for the future. Sarah Horan, of Millheim, who had been employed at the home of William Ishler, on east High street, during the recent illness of Mrs. Ishler, had the misfortune to fall down the rear steps in the Ishler home on Friday evening and break her right arm. She was given medical treatment, and later sent to her home in Millheim where she resides with her son George Horan. Mrs. Ishler has recovered her health sufficiently to be about the house again, which is a source of gratification to her many friends. The swimming exhibition given by Harry Shinton, America's expert, will be held at the pool on Friday night was a very successful one. A large crowd present. His demonstrations of practical and easy methods of preventing drowning and resuscitating the near-drowned, are lessons of great value to every person. The exhibition has been witnessed by every man, woman and child in Bellefonte. Tomorrow evening fourteen State College students will be given a try-out in the pool with the view of selecting a swimming team. With the end of the dancing season approaching on account of warm weather, large crowds are attending the Friday evening dances held in the Logan hall, determined to get all the pleasure possible before the first of June, at which time the dances stop. If you are looking for a good time here is the place to go, for both square and round dances will be held from nine to one, while from seven to nine lessons are given to those wishing to learn. Already at these dances we hear of preparations being made for the masquerade which will be held there near the end of May. Arrangements are being perfected for the annual commencement exercises of the Bellefonte High school. The schools at the brick building will close on Wednesday morning, May 29th, with exercises at 10 o'clock. The lower school will close with the School building will close with appropriate exercises on Tuesday afternoon, May 28th. The annual junior declamatory contest will be held on Monday evening, May 27th. The High school commencement exercises for the graduating class will be held on the afternoon of Wednesday, May 29th. The commencement address will be delivered by Professor C. D. Koch, of the State Department of Public Instruction. QUEER BEHAVIOR OF ONIONS. Puzzles Bellefonte Gardener, if North American is Reliably Informed. The following dispatch from Bellefonte to the Philadelphia North American is taken from its issue of Wednesday: "If Prof. H. A. Surface, state economic zoologist, had been in Bellefonte the last week or ten days he might have told a number of Bellefonte gardeners how to get rid of the troublesome and depressing 'night crawler.' For the benefit of those who may not know what a night crawler is, it can be described as the largest species of fishing worm, thick, black headed and from six to eight inches long. "About a week ago W. Miles Walker, former sheriff, planted a bed of onions. The next morning he found almost one-half of the onions lying on top of the ground. He thought little of it at the time and replanted them. The following morning the onions were again on top of the ground, and then he began to get curious. However, he replanted them and watched for developments. He had them the next morning, when he not only found his onions on top of the ground, but many of them in piles of five and six. "This state of affairs kept up until day or two ago, when he related his experience to a neighbor, who informed him that the depredations were the work of night crawlers, and that they had been doing the same thing in other gardens in Bellefonte. "The next morning he investigated and found his onion bed literally honey-combed with holes and tunnels about the size of a lead pencil, which left no doubt as to what was unplugging his onion crop. The only thing that puzzles Walker is why the worms took the trouble to pile the onions in little heaps after they had dug them out, and how they managed to do it. "An application of lime and salt ended the trouble. "Penrose's Democratic annex is all that is left in Pennsylvania. That all should be put out of business next Tuesday.

Storm Did Damage at Orviston. Lock Haven Express: The wind storm last Wednesday was extremely severe at Orviston, where it swept down the creek between the high mountains on either side with terrific force. A portion of the roof of the main building of the Hayes Run fire brick plant was torn off and the iron framework supporting the roof ralsed from the brick walls and shoved a few inches off of its anchorage. The gale abated just in time to save more serious damage, with perhaps more or less disastrous results. Penny a Word Adv.
