JULIAN.
Have patience! Have patience. That long looked for and much desired summer weather will eventually drive into town in all its glory and splendor. Then, we'll hear, "Whew! But it's hot!" and the thermometer will soar to the 100 mark in the shade of the watermelon tree.

Those from other places who were in Julian last week to attend the funeral of Franklin Davis were: Calvin B. Bowers, R. O. Goho, Martin W. Wonders, Charles B. McClanahan, all of Pottersville; Mr. Brady, of Altoona; Miss Nora Stover, of Bellefonte; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Parsons, of Mrs. Edward Idings, of Unionville; Mrs. Chas. Murray, of Tyrone; James Woods and daughter, Miss Mabel, of Osceola Mills, Pa., and Mrs. Morgan Richards, of Jersey Shore.

The cherry and plum trees have taken on a beautiful coat of white blossoms during the past week. Now mend the holes in your water pails and peck measures and prepare to reap a bountiful harvest.

Smith, of Lemont; Miss Ida Turner and Miss Elva Campbell, of this place.

Isn't it lovely? Just beautiful! to be the only fair maiden in town that can boast of a "nice little beau" with a "nice little auto" to come down from a little village 7-miles farther up the pike and take those delightful little spins.

The glorious rain on Sunday night was very beneficial to all things.

Curtis Parsons, of Parsons City, Kansas, arrived in Julian on Saturday on the 9:20 a. m. train and was the guest of his brother, P. W. Parsons and family, till Monday afternoon at which time he departed for Osceola Mills, Pa., to visit his sister, Mrs. James Woods, till Tuesday, when he continued his journey to Harrisburg, to attend the Railroad Engineers convention which convened on the 15th inst. Mr. Parsons is a railroad engineer running from Parsons, Kansas, to Oklahoma City, and was sent as a delegate from that far western city to the above named convention at Harrisburg.

The toot of J. C. Nason's saw mill whistle sounds very familiar during the past week. Does that indicate a "new President on the stool" who will saw down the "high cost" of "low living"?

Snow is gone, spring is here.

Loud croaks of bull-frogs now we hear.

Thus we take our line and hook.

And pull troutlets from the brook.
