Harshberger died at her late home in Milesburg on Saturday evening, May 11, at 8:30 o'clock. She was aged 69 years, 2 months and 3 days. Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon, and a service from the late home, conducted by Rev. Dr. G. T. Hawes, pastor of the Bellefonte Presbyterian church. Interment was made in the Union cemetery here. Surviving to mourn the loss of a good wife and mother are the husband and two daughters, Maude and Elsie, both at home.

BULLOCK.—Robert Bullock, a veteran of the Civil war, died at his home at Franklinville on Tuesday, May 6th, of dropsy and heart failure. He was a son of Joseph and Marie Bullock and was born near Pine Grove Mills seventy-four years ago. He served during the Civil war as a member of Company D, 148th regiment, and was severely wounded at the battle of Gettysburg. He was twice married and is survived by his second wife and eight children, also a number of grand children and a great-grandson. The funeral was held the following Thursday, burial being made in the Franklinville cemetery.

BARNES.—Mrs. Elizabeth Barnes, widow of the late John Barnes, Sr., of Phillipsburg, who had been in failing health for the past couple of months, died Friday afternoon. CAMPBELL.—Mrs. Eliza Mitchell Campbell died Friday, May 18th, at her home, at Linden Hall. She was born at Pine Grove Mills, and was the daughter of David and Sarah Barron Mitchell, and was the last surviving member of the Mitchell family at that place. On December 1, 1846, she was married to George Washington Campbell, who died November 15, 1896. In 1850 she and her husband moved to the farm on Cedar creek where she has since lived. She was the mother of thirteen children, nine having died in childhood. The surviving children are D. M. Campbell, of Linden Hall, with whom she has always lived; J. E. THOMAS.—Mrs. Sarah J. Thomas, wife of William E. Thomas, and one of Milesburg's most estimable women, died at her home in that place Wednesday morning of last week, aged 61 years, 6 months and 23 days. Mrs. Thomas' health had been frail for the past two years, due to an affection of the heart and nerves, and in this condition her feeble constitution could not withstand the shock of paralysis which preceded her demise. Deceased's maiden name was Miss Sarah J. Zimmerman, and she was born in Marion township, November 22nd, 1850, the daughter of the late Elias Zimmerman. She is survived by her husband and the following children: Charles, of Lewisburg; Ralph, of Ohio, and Nettie at home. Also by the following brothers and sisters: Harry E. Zimmerman, of Bellefonte; J. E. Zimmerman, of Valley Falls, Kan.; and Mrs. M. E. Biddle, of Lewisburg. For many years Mrs. Thomas had been a consistent member of the Presbyterian church, and her passing away will leave a conspicuous void in that congregation, and will be mourned by her entire community. Funeral services were held at her late home on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, and interment was made in the Union cemetery at Bellefonte.

HOCKMAN.—Mrs. S. P. Hockman, of near Hecla Park, after an illness of five weeks from a complication of diseases, died at her home Tuesday evening of last week. Gardner, Grove and Mrs. Witmer Grove, Centre Hall; Mrs. William Moyer, Colburn; Harry, Phillipsburg; Mrs. Lloyd Peters, Hecla Park; John, at home. Mrs. Hockman is well known in Gregg township, where she and her husband lived on the George Krape farm, prior to locating in Nittany Valley, thirteen years ago. Interment was made at Hubersburg on Friday forenoon.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Memorial Day is only a week away and our minds turn to the boys in blue who are sleeping on yonder hillside cemetery. Soon the local Grand Army post will decorate their mounds with garlands rare, ever remembering that they gave their last full measure of devotion; ever conscious of the fact that this fair land in which we dwell and the sweet blessing which we enjoy came through their efforts on the field of battle aided by the efforts of the other boys in blue who at present constitute the rear guard of the great army that at the close of the war so proudly marched in grand review in Washington, before the leaders whom the nation had learned to love.

While strewing the graves of the departed heroes in our own cemetery here is an impressive and solemn ceremony, still the trips to the rural cemeteries by the thin ranks of the "boys in blue" to lay tributes of love and memory tenderly on the silent tombs of comrades long since lulled to sleep is even more impressive. There silence seems to reign supreme to the proceedings.

In all our gay reveling and hunger after worldly pleasure and comfort and in all our grasping for that which tends for self-gratification do we not often lose sight of the "boys" who died that this nation might live? Do we love them, do we revere them, do we cherish their memories as we should? Sometimes it seems that the world forgets to stop for a short time to think of the mighty deeds that these men have done and forget to stop and place a wreath of flowers on their graves—on the graves of the men who sacrificed their all for the country they loved for whose sake they fought and died.

It is now forty-seven years since the cannon ceased roaring in the Civil war. In that interval of time many thousands of the brave boys of the North have answered the last roll call and have gone to their reward. Of those who are still with us their forms are stooped, the white frost of many seasons has replaced the vigor of early manhood and many eyes have been dimmed by the passing of the years, but not one of them regrets what he did in behalf of Old Glory. Their ranks are becoming thinner and thinner each year as one by one they respond to the bugle call—the bugle that calls them into the tent on the old camp ground, but the final summons from the Great Commander on high. They will not be with us long and it behooves us to follow in the proper observance of Memorial Day. Let us ever pay the highest respect to them and to their memory and show by our deeds and actions that we love them and appreciate the good service they have rendered to the country.

The patriotism which we have seen manifested so nobly by the men who fought in the great Civil war does not spring up spontaneously in the breast. It must be felt. People should inculcate it in the minds and hearts of the children. Patriotism begins at home. Teach the children to love their country, the men it has produced, the men who made it and the brave "boys in blue" who saved it. Few were they whose swords of old won this fair land in which we dwell. But we are many, we who hold the grim resolve to guard it well.

Anty Drudge to the Rescue of Daughter's Pale Blue Gingham.

Mrs. Careful—"I have made my daughter such a pretty pale blue gingham dress, and now I am worried for fear it will fade in the wash."
Anty Drudge—"It won't fade if you don't rub it hard, nor put it in boiling water. Just wash it carefully in Fels-Naptha suds, made in cool or luke-warm water, and it will come out as bright as new. But be sure not to use hot water with Fels-Naptha!"

The Fels-Naptha way of washing gives the clothes a fair chance.

The old-fashioned way is destructive because it first softens the fibre by boiling, and then subjects it to the telling rub of the washboard.

With Fels-Naptha soap there is no boiling nor is there the hard back-breaking drudgery of the washboard.

Just rub Fels-Naptha soap on the clothes, roll and place them in cool or luke-warm water. Half an hour will be long enough for the soap to do its work. Then a light rub, thorough rinse, blue and the clothes are white, pure, and ready to hang out. And you'll find Fels-Naptha just as good for every other kind of household cleaning. Follow closely the easy directions on the red and green wrapper.

FIRE! FIRE!

Not just yet, but we are liable to have a disastrous conflagration most anytime. But fortunately we now have a cozy hose house, a hose carriage, a bounteous supply of hose and best of all, we have an organized Fire Company composed of fifty of our enterprising citizens, (kids are eliminated) none but strong vigorous men are eligible to membership. In order to liquidate our indebtedness we, the Pleasant Gap Fire Company, have decided to hold a grand festival in Noll's Grove on the evening of Saturday, May 25th. It costs nothing to get in, but we expect it to cost all participants a trifle to get out. To be candid we need the money and the generous public needs our protection. Cake, ice cream and fruits of tropical varieties, in profusion; cream all flavors; space will not permit going into detail, so far as the menu is concerned, come and see for yourself. A most enjoyable time is assured. The cause is a good and meritorious one, hence we look for an immense outpouring of the people of Pleasant Gap and vicinity. The well known liberality of our community is well and favorably known, and on this ocasion we hope to see that claim fully verified. Come! All are cordially invited, come! COMMITTEE.

SHE JAILS HIM.

Columbus P. McDevitt, a county teacher, residing near Selingsgrove is in jail, unable to get bail, because he refuses to pay an erst-while sweetheart $200 heart balm. Some weeks ago Miss Mame M. Wolf secured a verdict for $300, because McDevitt, after winning her heart, had ruthlessly turned her down for the smiles of another pretty lass. McDevitt treated the verdict as a joke, because, having no property, and having his cash in his sock, he felt sure the verdict could not be enforced. But he has found to his sorrow that Miss Wolf is a fighter, she got out a capias recently and McDevitt was hauled before the court, and refusing to pay the verdict, he was committed in jail on default of bail. Awakened to the seriousness of his situation he made strenuous efforts to get bail, but he was unable to reach the friends, who were able to put up the required amount.
