Veteran of 89 Battles.

Hugh McLaughlin, who, fought 89 battles of the Civil War, died Allentown the other day, aged 77 years.

After Appointtox he slipped through the lines and went to Baltimore to celebrate the downfall of the SONES:-Mrs. Frances M. Sones, Confederacy. Although there was not wife of Peter Sones, died at her home a braver fighter in the Union army, he was marked a deserter at roll call. For forty years he chafed under the stigma, knocking down with his fists any man who dared say he deserted. Finally City Treasurer A. L. Reichenback tackled Congress.

When Speaker Reed heard Mc-Laughlin's story he got on the floor and in a wonderful speech secured the passage of a bill taking the gallant veteran from the deserters and putting him on the honor roll.
