EDITORIAL.

The exposure of corruption among the Atlantic City councilmen was accomplished through the assistance of Governor Wilson, of New Jersey. He has been a terror to the grafters. We need that kind of a man for president.

Lorimer, the man from Illinois, who got in the United States Senate by bribery will likely be fired out of his seat. Taft, Penrose and other stand-patters tried to save him because they needed him.

The "camp followers" and the "mess-tent brigade" in the Republican party who recently turned a somersault from Taft to Teddy are mighty sick since Roosevelt's delegates are vanishing. The sight is pathetic.

In our edition last week it was stated that the National Republican Convention would meet in Chicago on June 8th. Instead we meant to say that the time of the big circus on the lakes would be the 15th of June. It was one of those little slips that can happen anyone when he knows differently. Of course we did not expect that any of the Pennsylvania delegates who were instructed for Teddy would leave a week or two earlier on that account.

PRESS COMMENTS.

The recent Democratic convention at Harrisburg was noted for the number of young men who attended as delegates. Besides being young, there never was a gathering of any kind which contained more earnest, conscientious men. The majority of the delegates attended with a purpose. It was that a house cleaning was necessary in their party in Pennsylvania. There never was a convention where more pressure was used to get delegates to forsake convictions. All sorts of inducements were offered. Jobs of all kinds were promised. Mortgages were to be paid, business men were offered thousands of dollars of new trade. In fact, there was not an influence that could be brought to bear, which was not used.

There are better times ahead for the Democrats in Pennsylvania. Their party is now in the hands of those who desire to build it up, not make it a trading post as it has been in the past. All honor to the delegates who stood firm and accomplished so much.—Wilkes-Barre Times-Leader.

An Honest Victory.

The victory of the reorganizers of the Democratic party of Pennsylvania at the state convention was as thorough and complete as the most enthusiastic advocate of reform within the party might wish. It was not as in the case of the Republican convention last week, a change of bosses from a group of rich municipal contractors in Philadelphia to a single rich municipal contractor in Pittsburg. It was the total elimination of the bosses and the establishment of the rule of the party by the members of the party. Best of all, this result was secured by fair fighting in the open.

If there was a "slate" it was made by one hundred and four delegates, a majority of the conveners who had the power to enforce their will. It was an honest victory, won by such fair and legitimate means that not even the most disappointed regular could take exception to it.—Scranton Times.

Rejoice and Take Heart.

Real reorganization was triumphant at the Democratic State Convention held at Harrisburg. There was no compromise with the old, discredited and now finally defeated Guffey-Hall-Donnelly Machine, which has for fifteen years or more simply betrayed the Democratic party into hands of Quay and Penrose. The result Tuesday is such that every Democrat can rejoice and take heart regarding the future of his party in the state.—Carlisle Sentinel.

A Human Salamander.

Chabert, the fire king, who was a popular favorite in London eighty years ago, claimed to be able to swallow arsenic and other poisons with impunity. Visitors to his entertainment were requested to come provided with phosphorus, prussic acid, arsenic and oxalic acid, which he proceeded to consume before their eyes, taking an antidote afterward which was supposed to neutralize their effects. Then, to show that he was as impervious to heat as to poison, he would take a raw leg of lamb into an oven heated to 220 degrees and remain inside until the joint was cooked, when it was carved and handed around to the audience. The performance concluded by Chabert rubbing a red-hot shovel on his head and face and allowing any one who wished to drop molten sealing wax on his tongue and hands.

It now looks as though Samuel Gompers furnished the money to Attorney Darrow to bribe jurors in the McNamara trial at Los Angeles. If proven correct both deserve the severest penalty.

LEADING CANDIDATES BRIEFLY REVIEWED

of a kindly nature, a sort of old-fashioned gentleman furnished to order for the present occasion, who would not have been thought of for President if he had lived in a small state; acceptable to those whose god is named Status Quo and who wish a President that will not disturb things; a sort of intellectual and political brother to Mr. Alton B. Parker, who once ran for the Presidency.

Mr. Champ Clark—a good-natured country campaigner and teller of bucolic yarns, well-liked by his fellows of the same calibre in Congress, who call him by his first name; without dignity of mind or of manner; a man to whom the routine of party and of political procedure is the aim of things and party loyalty is law; without any vision of statesmanship; a common politician of the personally respectable sort, lacking in prudence because lacking in knowledge; with a genius for blundering speech; without hardness of mind or of convictions; in the race as a stalking horse or dummy, as everybody knows but himself, yet a possible nominee by a slip in the postoffice of the managers of the convention; perhaps the only Democrat whose nomination would make Republican success certain whoever be the Republican nominee.

Gov. Woodrow Wilson—a scholar in government, with an historical and political perspective; a man of profound convictions, holding that there should be no class that shall receive privileges from the Government; regarding boss rule and the private conduct of public business as the worst crimes against political society; trustful of the people, a Democrat in fact; with brief but eminently successful executive experience (the New Jersey of to-day being a wholly different political community from the New Jersey of two years ago); courageous because he has fundamental convictions and a sturdy seriousness of character; a man of high ideals; in whom politics has a profound moral significance; a man with a definite, well-seasoned programme, to whom our institutions and our national life are living organisms; his political creed, therefore, a working creed to fit present problems and not a set of fixed formulas; courageous for conscience's sake and not from sheer love of fight; modest to the verge of timidity as regards his personal relations and fortunes and, therefore, handicapped in a rough race by a ready fancy, having the modesty of a well-bred mind and the humor of a philosopher; the most convincing public speaker in political life, master of exact language without pedantry; not favored by those who for any reason wish the Government to be a dispenser of favors or wish it to be conducted by professional cliques or bosses; a man of stern stuff, resolute, gently bred and, because of his combination of force, dignity, and grace, in a class by himself among the candidates for the Presidency; so clearly right-minded and right-tempered that, if there were a clear-cut Presidency; so clearly right-minded and right-tempered that, if there were a clear-cut Presidential primary in all the states, he would probably win the nomination with no second in the race. As Mr. Roosevelt gives the Republican party a chance to show its desperation, so Governor Wilson gives the Democratic party a chance to show its wisdom. It would be an interesting summer if these two—this modest man and this other—should be nominated.—World's Work.

RECENT DEATHS.

SHAFER.—Mrs. Clarence Shaffer, of Windber, formerly Miss Harriet Senser, of Philipsburg, died in the Howard hospital, Philadelphia, on Tuesday evening of last week, aged 31 years. She is survived by her parents and husband, the latter being engaged in the drug business at Windber.

YOUNG.—On May 21st, at the home of her son, W. H. Young, at McDonald, Pa., Sarah E. Young, widow of A. J. Young, (deceased) of Sprigg Mills, died after a lingering illness of 7 months. She was 79 years of age. She went to McDonald in 1887 from Cannonsburg where she had resided 14 years. One sister Emma Rowley, of Boyce Station, one son, W. H. Young of McDonald, six grand children, and two great-grandchildren survive. Her son Frank died some years ago. Interment was made in Robinson Run cemetery.

The remaining stock of goods of the State College Supply Company at State College is being disposed of this week by public auction. There will be rare bargains and everything will go under the hammer.

George Pfoutz, of Sandy Ridge, who had his skull fractured on Wednesday evening by falling on his head while alighting from a P. & S. R. R. train at Osceola while it was in motion, is getting along very nicely.

REFUSED $25,000 FOR BULL

$78,925 Worth of Blooded Stock Auctioned at Coopersburg.

Cows were trumps at a great sale of Jersey cattle held last Thursday by Tighman S. Cooper & Sons, at their Linden Grove stock farm, at Coopersburg, Pa. The price of $25,000 was refused for the king of the herd, Sultan's Golden Jolly. Mr. Cooper declaring he was not for sale at any figure. This was the highest ever offered for any Jersey in the world.

The tender is said to have been made by John B. Haggin, who covets this grand animal as king of his own herd at Elmendorf farm, in Kentucky. The sale netted $78,925 for 181 animals, an average of $490, very high, considering that the offerings did not include any old bulls. The high animal was Warner's Farm Beauty, bought for $3200 by Lynnewood Farm, of Ocozot, Second was Oxford grand-daughter, for which E. A. Darling, of East Burke, Vt., paid $2800. Third highest was Imported Vesta's Daisy, bought by E. H. Hatch, of Maplewood, N. J., for $2700.

Old visitors who acquired some fine stock were C. I. Hood, of Massachusetts, and Senator Bowman, of Virginia, president of Roanoke College. A new figure, as a fancier of Jerseys, was Don Alberta Gonzales, of San Jose, Costa Rica, who is said to own the finest herd in Central America.

Among those who will graduate from the Dunn Musical Institute at Warren, Ohio, on Tuesday, June 11th, will be Miss Marie C. Haugh, the accomplished daughter of merchant John Haugh, at Scotia.

On June 1st the State highway authorities took possession of more than eight thousand miles of road, under the provisions of the Sproul bill. These roads radiate throughout the state, and many of them are roads in name only. The ancient custom of "working out taxes" has not been contributory to modern road construction. This is well known to those who have occasion to travel the roads of the state, and now that we are to have changed conditions a decided improvement may be expected within a few years. Pennsylvania has been generous in providing means to insure road reform, and the people are thankful in the realization that substantial progress is being made.

Candidate Spent Five Nickles.

Defeated for re-election as a member of the republican county central committee, Sergeant Chas. C. Campbell, of the soldiers and sailors home, at Sandusky, Ohio, filed the following statement of his campaign expenses:

To four glasses of beer at 5 cents each, 20 cents.

To one glass of beer for a fellow who said he carried the precinct in his pocket, although the returns proved that he was mistaken, 5 cents. Total 25 cents.

That's all.

The annual commencement exercises at Juniata College, Huntingdon, take place from June 8th to 13th. The commencement address will be delivered by Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, D. D., Thursday morning.
