—Samuel Morrison went to Tyrone on Friday to be employed at the gas plant in that place.
—Lawrence McClure, of Renovo, spent the Fourth with his parents in this place, returning to his duties on Saturday.
—Marie Haupt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Haupt, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Edward Latham, at Harrisburg.
—Samuel L. Colstock, a former Bellefonte Academy student, now attending Penn State, has been visiting friends in Bellefonte.
—Miss Elizabeth Walker is spending a few weeks with her friend, Miss Nan Sheffer, in company with a camping party at Milroy.
—Miss Augustine Koontz, one of the operators in the Bell exchange in this place, is enjoying her two-week vacation by dividing the time by visiting friends in Altoona and Pittsburgh.
—Mrs. Charles Lockington and daughter Lizzie, of this place, departed about ten days ago on a visit with friends in Tyrone, Altoona and Pittsburgh. They expect to remain for at least a month.
—Frank Dawson, who employed at the Match Factory, fell from the top of a pile of boxes last Tuesday and sprained his wrist so badly that he has since been compelled to carry the injured member in splints.
—Mrs. Alice Yeager and children, of Jersey Shore, spent a portion of last week with her sister, Mrs. Dora Rine, on Thomas street, Mrs. Yeager will visit other relatives in Centre county before returning home.
—Mrs. Torrence Kline and two children, Fred and Blaine, who have been pleasant guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stallemith, on east High street, the past two weeks, departed for their home in Lock Haven on Saturday.
—Mr. and Mrs. Gene Smith and four children, have been here the past few weeks among their many friends in this vicinity. The young men are twins, and sons of ex-Deputy Sheriff Edward McKinley.
—Sanford Wilson, porter at the Brant House, is recovering from a badly sprained back he sustained about five days ago by a fall. He was pulling a large cake of ice through the door of the ice house, when the cake slipped and he fell on his back with the above mentioned result.
—List of unclaimed letters for the week ending July 6, in the Bellefonte post office: The Commercial Club, Queen's Club, H. Fowler, Miss Margaret, Walter J. Kurtz, N. G. Mills, Leonard Neil, Dr. D. S. Purcell, Miss Mildred Redman, Henry Sohn, D. Howard Zerbe (2)—H. C. Valentine, Postmaster.
—Workmen's Bargain Store is in the midst of a mid-season reduction sale, and the proprietor is offering reasonable goods at attractive prices. It was his intention to conduct the sale for ten days only, but he decided to extend it five days longer, ending on Saturday evening. Look up the ad on another page, it contains a few of the many items on sale.
—A fire at Coleville Saturday evening, June 29th, badly damaged the interior of the Abraham Robb home, but was subdued before it had time to gain much headway. The flames started from some unknown cause in the lower part of the house. The Bellefonte fire companies were called out by the blowing of the fire whistle, but the blaze was extinguished before they reached the scene.
—On the afternoon of July 4th, Robert Adams, colored, of this place, met with a rather serious accident, in which he luckily escaped being killed. He was riding the step of an automobile that had started towards Millheim with some of the members of the band. While going out on Water street, near the blacksmith shop, he attempted to jump off the moving car and in doing so fell. His head struck the concrete walk along that thoroughfare and he was rendered unconscious. Several men who witnessed the accident ran to his aid, and after bringing him to the hospital, he was placed in a room where his wounds were dressed. He is now able to be about again.
—What was intended as a practical joke terminated in a hearing before Squire Brown a few days ago, in which several young men will be compelled to "pay the fiddler." It was after noon recently while Millard Cowher and a number of young men were in Moerschbacher's pool room, Cowher sat down on a chair and was soon in the arms of Morpheus. Some of the boys present conceived the idea of giving the sleeper a cigarette and accordingly placed one in his mouth and touched a match to them. The scheme worked beautifully, as it scorched Cowher's face and obliterated his eye brows. At the hearing Squire Brown found two of the young men guilty, and they may have to answer to the charge in court.
—John Bauer, of this place, who is employed as time keeper for the workmen constructing a new railroad bridge near Montgomery, Pa., met with a thrilling experience a short time ago, in which he escaped with his life by a very narrow margin. While the bridge is not yet completed, it has reached sufficient progress to allow trains to cross it, and the structure is of great length and height. Mr. Bauer had occasion to be on about the center of the bridge one day recently when a train bore down upon him without warning, and with no chance of escaping by running. At the bottom of the bridge the water was shallow and full of projecting rocks, which meant certain death to drop upon them. An added pleasure to the iron work beneath the rails until the train had passed over him. Mr. Bauer accomplished this in quicker time than it takes to relate it and emerged a minute later from his perilous position, thankful that he had so fortunately escaped without so much as a scratch.

—"Dick" Beaver was an arrival in Bellefonte on Wednesday for a visit with friends.
—New state roofs are being added to the double dwelling houses of A. C. Mingle, on Bishop street this week.
—Miss Margaret K. MacFarlane, of the hospitable staff, spent the latter part of the week at her home in Lock Haven.
—William P. Humes accompanied the Misses Mary W. and Anna Hoy to Bedford on Wednesday afternoon, where he will remain with friends for the next few days.
—Miss Lillian Walker, who is employed as a milliner at West Chester, has arrived home to spend the summer season with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Miles Walker.
—Chas. Fleck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Fleck, former residents of Bellefonte, returned to his home in Niagara Falls on Wednesday afternoon after a two week's visit with friends.
—Many hundreds of quarts of huckleberries are being shipped daily by express from Bellefonte station, and every morning and noon large truckloads can be seen waiting to be sent to their destination.
—If you are not a regular subscriber of the Centre Democrat you will want it during the coming campaign. It will keep you in touch with all the leading political events. Try it for six months and you will not regret it.
—Jonas Stine, who several weeks ago had a hand badly mangled at the McNitt-Huyett saw mill, and which later had to be amputated at the Bellefonte hospital, is able to return to his home at Buffalo Run on Tuesday.
—The Bellefonte Cemetery Association is replacing the stretch of boardwalk along their property on east High street with a substantial concrete walk that will do much in relieving the discomfort of residents of that street. J. C. Showers was given the contract.
—Thirty-three coaches filled with the employes of the smith shop, metal yard and planing mill of the Altoona shops, passed through Bellefonte on Tuesday morning on their way to Hecla Park where the day was spent in picnicking. There were over two thousand people present.
—"A Nation's Peril" is the next feature play to be shown at the Socieal. This is a two-reel picture made by the famous Pathe company, and will be given, together with another good play, at the Socieal tomorrow (Friday) night. Remember also that the Socieal has something good every evening.
—On Tuesday night a rear axle broke on the engine bringing the 9-40 train to Bellefonte on the Central Railroad of Penna., causing a short delay but no serious damage. The accident occurred near Zion, and the passengers were transferred to another train, that had been to the scene, and brought to Bellefonte.
—Sabbath morning the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the Presbyterian church. This is the last day the congregation will worship in the building until it has been replaced by a new one. Dr. Hawes will preach Sunday evening on "Precious Associations and Memories of God's House." Services preparatory to communion will be held Friday night.
—Mrs. Ella Chadley, a sister of Mrs. Samuel McKinley, of this place, was brought to the latter's home several weeks ago from Philadelphia, where she had been undergoing treatment in a hospital for some time past. The invalid lady is suffering with an incurable ailment. Her condition on Wednesday was extremely critical, and her death may occur at any time.
—On Wednesday afternoon Jonathan Oster, a carpenter in the employ of the Penna. Railroad Company, while assisting in loading a scale house on a car at Milesburg, was struck on the head by a piece of lumber which fell from the top of the car. He was brought to the hospital. Mr. Oster's home is in Tyrone.
—This week the new state road along Bishop street was given a coating of oil for the purpose of keeping the dust and thus saving the road dressing of the road. During the dry weather travel along that street invariably raised a cloud of dust that made it very annoying to the residents and polluted their homes. The residents along the street paid for the oil and the borough authorities applied it as it saved a vast amount of water that ordinarily was used in soaking the road every day to allay the dust. Portions of Linn and Allegheny streets are also oiled and the dust nuisance is abated. High street, the most traveled thoroughfare in the town, should employ the same means of keeping down the dust.
—The difficulty of determining the position of a line fence between the respective farms of Christ and Samuel Decker near Zion, was the cause of litigation in Squire Musser's court, which was by reason of charges brought by the first mentioned farmer. As was alleged at the hearing before the Justice, the owners of the lands have been in controversy for some time past in regard to where the dividing line lay between the farms, and recently Samuel Decker moved the fence four feet onto the land of Christ Decker. This prompted the latter to seek redress by law and a hearing was arranged for, but the defendant failed to appear. Judgement was granted the plaintiff for damages and costs, but it may require a court trial to finally adjust matters.
—For almost a month the swimming pool at the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. has been out of service for the reason that the drain pipe broke and caused them trouble and threatened to undermine the building. When the pool was first built a large open trench was dug along the side of the pool, and it was thought to be sufficient to carry away the flow from the building. It seems that the surrounding sand and earth was also carried away and in a short time the earth settled and the pipe broke. The side wall of the building seems to have settled some in consequence and will have to be braced to prevent any further damage. A large pipe is now being laid to connect with the large sewer on the opposite side of High street, and will be finished this coming week. This has put the pool out of commission at a season of the year when it would be most appreciated by our people. It also imposes a heavy item of expense on the Y. M. C. A. to make this new connection, but when finished all future troubles of that character will be ended.

—Miss Mary Hicklen will leave today for Canton, Ohio, to become the guest of her friends, the Misses Flimpe at a house party. She expects to remain about two weeks.
—Mr. and Mrs. J. S. McCargar left on Monday for an extended trip through the New England states and will visit some of the principal summer resorts along the coast of Maine.
—Mrs. Arthur Black, of Montgomery, Pa., who before her marriage was Miss Lulu Rote, was brought to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Rote, at Coleville, a little more than a week ago to recuperate from a serious illness with which she has been suffering for the past four months. During the latter part of her illness she has been partially paralyzed, and unable to move about. Since coming to her parents' home Mrs. Black's condition has begun to show a marked improvement, much to the gratification of her many friends who have been anxiously looking forward to her complete recovery.
—On Saturday Walter Houser, of near Axemann, presented a check at Gilliam's store in payment for some goods purchased, which proved to be without funds back of it, and in consequence he was drawn to the First National Bank for $1.50. It developed at the hearing before Squire Musser that Houser had had an account with the bank a good while ago, but withdrew all money. Inasmuch as he had a family, and there was no real intent shown to defraud, the Squire allowed Houser to be discharged upon payment of the amount of the check and costs, totalling $10.95.

RECENT DEATHS.

BARLET—Anna Katharine, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Barlet, Jr., died on Tuesday morning at the home of the parents on east Lamb street. The child was aged about three weeks and had only been sick two days. Funeral services were held at the home on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, conducted by the Lutheran minister of Bellefonte. Interment was made in the Union cemetery.
KELLEY—Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Kelley, of Bellefonte, are mourning the loss of their little daughter Sara, who was taken from this life on Saturday last after a short illness with diphtheria. Her age was 4 years, 2 months and 2 days. He was in his 76th year. Besides his wife he is survived by four children. Rev. Pomeroy for a number of years was pastor of the Presbyterian church at Mill Hill, and was known by a great many people in Centre county shortly after his graduation from Lafayette College, the Civil war broke out, and the then young minister enlisted in the service. He served in several notable battles and did special service in carrying through the confederate lines to General Curtis the news of the invasion of Chambersburg.
SMITH—Simon Samuel Smith, the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Smith, passed peacefully away at their home near Stormstown on Friday, June 21st, at 6:40 o'clock in the morning, of infantile paralysis, aged 70 years, 7 months and 21 days. The illness had only been sick a few days, and his death was quite a shock to both his friends and community. He was loved by all who knew him and will be deeply mourned by his friends and associates. The Friends Sunday school, of which Simon had been a member, will in a body pay their last tributes to their lost one. He is survived by his father, stepmother and two brothers, Thomas and Raymond. Funeral services were conducted at his home by Rev. Brouse, of Warriors Mark.

and another ran a day and night race to see which would excel and so, in time, he became a teacher of others, and a carpenter builder and contractor, his excellence in which occupation is attested by the many beautiful homes, school houses and churches which he and his dextrous boys erected in Brush Valley and Pennsylvania. His mechanical genius was backed by an indomitable will and a courage almost beyond his strength, to endure in the past few years. The maxim then was: "Goot geplanned is good progressive English education. Like all the boys of that period fifty years ago acquired, he learned to read and write in German, for then the Centre Berichter published by grandfather Kurtz at Aaronburg, was read in nearly every home in these valleys. The "Dutch boys" thus had the advantage of any mere Yankee, by being conversant in two languages, and with native "kunde witte," as it was termed, could excel in any art they undertook. With a young man, he united himself with the Lutheran church under Rev. W. S. Parr in 1868, and was married to Paulina, only daughter of Judge Samuel Frank, in 1867, remaining a devoted and earnest christian husband and father to the close of his career. The children of this union who survive are: Sallie, intermarried with Thomas A. Auman; Charles C., Willis Frank, Curtis M., Samuel and Raymond upon whom has fallen the mantle of the family, and the duty to perpetuate the name unstained. We may add the words of Bryant: "His youth was innocent; his ripper age, Marked with some act of goodness every day; And watched by eyes that loved him, calm and sage. Faded his late declining years away, Cheerful he gave his being up, and went To share the holy rest that waits a life well spent."

WOOMER—The sudden death of John W. Woomer at his home in Yarnell came as a shock to his many friends in that community on Friday, June 28th. On the previous Wednesday he was taken ill with cramp and notwithstanding the best medical attention, the ailment proved fatal. Deceased was aged 57 years and 14 days, and had been a member of the United Brethren church for the past 40 years. Surviving him are his mother, Mrs. Rebecca Woomer, his wife and the following children: Mrs. Wilbur Walker, of Bigler, Clearfield county; Mrs. Samuel Williams, of Hollidaysburg; Mrs. John Lucas, of Youngstown, O.; Misses Edith, Esther and Mina, at home. There are also left to mourn the following brothers and sisters: William, of Pittsburgh; Alonzo, of Curtin; Thomas P., at home; Mrs. Daniel Boyer, of Yarnell; Mrs. John Rickard, of Hayes Run; Mrs. John Thompson, of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Harry Leathers, of Snow Shoe. Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon of last week, conducted by Rev. C. W. Winey. Interment was made in the Advent cemetery.

In the Interest of Forestry.

A forestry meeting will be held in the public school building at Unionville, Friday evening, July 12th, to which all interested persons are earnestly requested to attend. Few persons realize how much of the permanent wealth of a community is contained in the forest land. You are surrounded by large areas of land that is good only for the growing of trees. The loss caused by forest fires in much of this land is immense. Thousands of acres of land, worth millions of dollars, is rapidly becoming denuded of forests, and now is rapidly becoming worthless waste land. Many acres of this land is good for nothing now except a young crop of rattlesnakes. You all are cordially invited to attend this meeting, which will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the public school building at Unionville. Mr. Linn Harris and others will speak. Show by your presence your interest in this public spirited cause.

Miss Sadie Burns, of Logan, Pa., would like to know the present address of Mrs. Houtz, formerly of Madisonburg, who left there about four weeks ago.

Sugar Valley Grange, No. 1470, Patrons of Husbandry, have selected Saturday, July 27, as the date on which the order will hold its second annual picnic and festival, in Jameson's grove, near Logan. Hon. Leonard Rhone, of Centre Hall, will be one of the speakers. An elaborate program of exercises is being arranged for the occasion.

Walker township will have the following teachers for the ensuing year: Zion, Wilbur Dunkle; Forest, L. H. Yocum; Hecla, Cyrus Hoy; Hubbersburg primary, Mary Deltrich; Hubbersburg grammar, William Markle; Hubbersburg high school, B. F. Swartz; Franklin, Albert Zimmerman; Crawford, W. H. Minnich. Centre and Snydertown was held over for next meeting.
