

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

The trout fishing season will close next Wednesday. There will be a rummage sale for the Bellefonte hospital for October. Repairs are now being made on the interior of the Presbyterian church at this place. Miss Gertha Murphy, of this place, is the guest of friends in Lock Haven this week. Mrs. Nancy Confer and daughter, Bella, are enjoying a visit with friends at Marsh Creek this week. Rev. Geo. Collidge, of the Runville charge, United Brethren church, was a visitor in town on Saturday. The Tresslers will hold their annual family reunion on the fair grounds Thursday, August 6th. It will be a basket picnic. Mrs. Harry Otto and two children, of Johnstown, were arrivals in Bellefonte on Wednesday for a visit with her mother and other relatives. Miss Myra Long, of Altoona, formerly of this place, accompanied by her friend Mr. Zeigler, spent Sunday with friends in Bellefonte. The dwelling houses of Edward K. Rhoads, on east Lamb street, are being beautified this week by the application of paint to their exteriors. The fourth quarterly conference will be held in the United Brethren church of 30th place on Tuesday evening, July 30th. Rev. J. S. Pulte, presiding elder, will be present and preach to the congregation. Miss Lillian Smith, stenographer in H. F. Fenlon's insurance office, is spending her vacation in Punxsutawney, as the guest of Miss Mamie Grim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Grim, formerly of this place. Mrs. James A. Wood, of Pittsburg, is in Bellefonte as a guest of her father, Joshua Folk, on east High street. She will be joined by her husband the latter part of the week, and they expect to remain here for at least a month. Glenn, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barton, of Coleville, fell from the back porch of the residence on Monday afternoon, and cut quite a gash in his head. A physician's services were required to dress the little fellow's wound. Mr. F. W. Topelt, who had been spending a few days with his wife and little son in this place, returned to his home in Brooklyn on Saturday. Mrs. Topelt, who has been at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Brouse, for some time past, will remain the balance of the summer. Baggage master Emanuel Noll did the graceful thing on Monday by leaving a package on our desk with the compliments of a church. It proved to be two boxes of honey from his apiary that for rich flavor can not be surpassed. It is a hobby with Mr. Noll to handle bees and from what we learn he has it on a profitable basis. Thanks, brother Noll. The new auto ordered from the International Harvester company for the Brockhoff House arrived on Monday and how is doing the work of the old bus and team of horses. The outfit will haul more passengers and furnish the hills easily with a load. It is claimed that the new auto will prove cheaper and give better service than the old bus with a team of horses. Harry Toner, the Bellefonte young man who forged his employer's name to a check last week at Howard and was later brought to jail, at once pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced by Judge Orvis to a term of twenty-six months. On Monday morning, Toner, who is only twenty years of age, was taken to that institution by Sheriff Lee. During the vacation of Rev. G. E. Hawes, pastor of the Presbyterian church, the pulpit will be occupied by visiting ministers. Sabbath, July 25, the Rev. W. K. Foster, a well-known product of Centre county, and Bellefonte Academy, will preach. The next Sabbath Dr. J. E. Irving, of Altoona, will be the preacher. Dr. Hawes expects to return for the last Sunday of August. Company L, of this place, departed on the 6:35 morning train over the Lewisburg railroad on Monday for the annual ten-day encampment at Gettysburg. The men were in command of Captain William H. Brown, assisted by Lieutenants Richard Taylor and Linn Blackford. Every man in the company was in fine shape, and looked forward to the outing with considerable pleasure. A special meeting of West Susquehanna Classis will be held in the Reformed church at Hubersburg, Tuesday July 30th, at 6:20 p. m. The same evening the Rev. Wellington M. Hoover will be ordained and installed the pastor of the Hubersburg charge. The following day the Reformed reunion will be held at Hecla Park. The address at 10:30 a. m. will be made by the Rev. Wm. F. Curtis, President of the Allentown College for Women. Special train leaves Bellefonte at 8:15 a. m. Barney Shillings, who resides on what is known as "Molasses Hill," north Allegheny street, is an enthusiastic pigeon fancier, and up until a few days ago had a flock of nearly fifty fine specimens of this tribe of "birds" on hand. On Sunday, however, while Mr. Shillings was away from home, some miscreant opened the pens and allowed all his pigeons to escape. The owner feels his loss keenly, and is anxious to get on the trail of the fellow who played him the low-down trick. There is one less mule at the McCoy & Linn works; all because it attempted to dispute the right-of-way of a large automobile on the state road leading from Bellefonte to Milesburg on Saturday evening. Samuel Lucas, who lives in the vicinity of Point McCoy, was astride the animal's back at the time of the accident and was considerably bruised up when it was knocked out from under by the car. Mr. Lucas was riding a distance of fifteen feet. Mr. Lucas was taking the mules to the works shortly after six o'clock, and had turned to the right side of the road to allow Kelly Bros' large automobile to pass him from the rear. As the car drew near, the mule upon which Mr. Lucas was riding, swerved around in the road and the auto struck it with great force. Mr. Lucas might easily have been killed, but his escape with out broken bones is timely for congratulations.

Morris Baum spent the past three weeks in Philadelphia and New York, making selections for the fall season, for the "Suits" stores in Bellefonte and State College. H. W. Salladay, representing a large Brooklyn shirt manufacturing concern, is at the Bellefonte Shirt Factory this week demonstrating the latest modes in shirt making. William Walker, of "Cracker-jack" fame, left for Lock Haven this week, accompanied by his wife, and for the next week will keep the confection-loving crowds at the carnival busy. On Tuesday a gang of workmen left Bellefonte for Washington, Pa., to be employed by R. B. Taylor in constructing several miles of state road of which the latter has the contract. John Martin, the genial young clerk in Parrish's drug store, accompanied by his brother, Pat Martin, departed on Monday for Steubenville, Ohio, where they will visit friends for the next few weeks. A package containing a shirt and lot of stockings last Saturday was put in the wrong buggy on Allegheny street by mistake of a woman. The owner can secure same by calling at this office. On Wednesday Mrs. Barnes, of Bishop street, entertained at dinner in honor of Mrs. F. W. Topelt. This evening Mrs. Topelt will be entertained by Mrs. Luther Smith, of Bishop street, and covers will be laid for several dinner guests. Mrs. Thomas Smith, of State College, is spending the week in Bellefonte as the guest of her husband's mother, Mrs. Mary J. Smith, on Bishop street, while her husband is attending the encampment at Gettysburg as a member of Company L. Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Corman, of Renovo, came down to Bellefonte last week, and while the former is doing soldier duty at the Gettysburg encampment, his wife will remain in Bellefonte as a guest of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Corman, on Bishop street. The Misses Lela and Verna Ardy departed on Wednesday for a visit with friends in Bellwood and Altoona. On Saturday they will be joined by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Ardy, and the family will spend a week or ten days among friends in Blair county. Harrison Huff, who is employed at the Armor Gap quarries, met with an accident on Wednesday morning while loading a car with stone. A fall of rock struck him on the back and hips, badly bruising his body in general. He was at once taken to the Bellefonte hospital. Mr. and Mrs. B. S. McKean, of Lima, Ohio, have been visiting at the Presbyterian Manse during the past week. Mr. McKean is a brother of Mrs. Hawes. He is one of the employees of the Sun Oil Company, an independent company. They left here on Tuesday for Erie. R. B. Taylor, the Bellefonte contractor who is engaged in building State road in Washington county, was an arrival in Bellefonte on Wednesday afternoon. He is compelled to use a cane while perambulating, by reason of having stepped upon a rusty nail a few days ago which penetrated his foot. Joe Bryant, the veteran glass-blower, and all-round friend of everybody, was taken to the Bellefonte hospital on Tuesday with a fractured hip, received by a fall. He makes his home with his son-in-law, Ernest Felme, on Penn street, and it was there the accident occurred while he was ascending the porch steps. You'll find that the Lyric is showing some of the finest pictures just now ever seen at that theatre. The patron's comfort is closely looked after at all times. Two 24-inch velvet seats, recently placed in the ceiling that caused a circulation of fresh air continually. And then you see four big reels every night for cents. George T. Bush, the well known stationer, entered the Bellefonte hospital this week and on Wednesday underwent an operation for gall stones. He has been troubled by this ailment for some time, and recently decided that if he was not cured, he would submit to a surgical operation. His condition since then has been very encouraging. Special nights at the Scenic are being looked forward to with pleasure by its patrons, and while every evening has its own good program the special features of two and three reels are a little different and greatly enjoyed. This week special comes on Friday when a two-reel play entitled "The Adopted Child" will be shown, in addition to the other pictures. Mr. Brown has many good features coming, so keep your eye on the Scenic. Pork raisers in Bellefonte are becoming alarmed over a disease resembling cholera that is carrying off their next winter's supply of side-meats and hams, and which seems to show signs of abating. In several cases the losses have been quite severe and the disease has cleaned out a number of pens. Among the heaviest losers is William McElhattan for whom seven hogs have died, and William Adams, who lost four nice ones. Quite a number of other citizens will be shy pork chops and sausage this fall. STOP MAILS ON BAD ROADS. Government Forces Neglect Upon Attention of York County. Road supervisors in York county who have paid no attention to appeals from the post office authorities to keep the highways in a passable condition for the rural carriers will be brought to a swift accounting, following the action of the Government today in suspending the service in York township on account of bad roads. While the Government's authority in the matter extends no further than this suspension, the farmers, who will be compelled to go to the general delivery window in York or to their nearest postoffice for newspapers and mail, are in arms and the neglect of the supervisors will be forcibly impressed upon the Court. The order from the Post office Department announces that the suspension will be removed after 30 days if the roads are repaired. While there is complaint of neglect of York county roads in all seasons, conditions have been particularly bad recently, owing to the heavy rains, which have caused washouts. Miss Lula Cronister, of Marthas, left Monday for Rodos, N. Y., being a graduate nurse of the Erie county hospital, N. Y., where she will be constantly employed, as she is a very efficient nurse.
