SMULLTON.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Greeninger, of Missouri, are visiting friends and relatives in Smullton.

Ida Rachau was visiting a couple of days with her parents at Madisonburg.

There's a certain man in our town went to Hecla with the baseball team and lost his umbrella and declares he could not find it. I wonder who the man is. Do you know anything about it, Jacob?

Miss Carrie Beck was visiting at Tylersville with her uncle, Henry Beck.

Emma Wallzer was visiting with her cousin Newton Wallzer, at Greenburg and also attending campmeeting and reports having a good time.

Those who went for huckleberries on Thursday are as follows: Miss Florence Crouse, Bernice Crouse, Louisa Smull, Eva Wallzer, Mary Smull, Mary Hartman and quite a number of others, and the best of all, something stung Bernice and she hollered snakes, snakes; and although it was no snake I wonder how her lips are, and what kind of a snake it was that stung her. All got stung but Florence.

Miss Mary Smull, of Rebersburg, was visiting at George Crouse's on Sunday.

Lowell Bierly, who was on the sick list, we are glad to say is able to be out again.

Lynn Emerick and also his brother Charles are visiting under the parental roof.

A fellow fom Tylersville came to Rebersburg to see his best lady friend and as he could not find the right house, he got to a neighbor's house where Mr. and Mrs. Heller were sitting on the porch and asked Mr. Heller who was sitting beside him, and he replied "my wife," and then he said, "excuse me, I see I am wrong," and then Mr. Heller showed him where his lady friend lived.

A dog owned by Lee Weber, while hunting in the woods above Smullton, the other day, got on a rabbit track and was chasing a rabbit; the rabbit running to get out of danger ran in a hollow log and the dog ran also in to the log and could not get out and kept on barking. Oh, say, we pity the poor dog but it would be good if some of our people would get in such a log and could not bark so about their neighbors; perhaps they would mind their own business then. I hope whoever this shoe will fit, will put it on and let your neighbors alone; please remember this. The poor dog was in almost a week and his master went and cut him out, but I can tell you if some of our people would get in a log I would not help them out.

Well, a delicacy is merely something the doctor forbids us to eat.

No work is so hard a man can't get some fun out of it unless he is paid for it.

GOOD ROAD BONDS.

An Explanation That is Entirely Satisfactory.

Notwithstanding the undoubted popularity of the good roads movement in this State, the officials of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation and others active in the cause are impressed with the importance of all friends of good roads taking advantage of every opportunity to emphasize this sentiment.

Careful investigation convinces the officers of the Motor Federation that the proposition to amend the Constitution so as to permit the State to borrow money up to $50,000,000 for road construction is immensely popular with people of all classes, but they have also learned that efforts are being made to lead the farmers of the State to believe that their interests are not paramount in this matter, and that somehow or other there would be more money for the dirt roads of the townships if the bond issue were not to go through.

Attention is directed to the recent statement of an officer of the State Grange to the effect that the proposed bond issue would require the setting aside of $3,500,000 annually for interest and sinking fund, which amount, if expended direct, would do a lot of road building. In answer to this it is pointed out that no such amount would be required for carrying the bond issue as proposed. The bonds would not be issued all at once, but only from time to time in such amounts as were needed for the work in hand. It would be altogether impracticable to have 8,000 miles of highway under construction at the same time. Furthermore, instead of permitting all the bonds to run for the full 30-year period, the State would be in a position to retire some of them in a few years and others at frequent intervals so that at no time would the full issue be outstanding.

The Grange official says that on two occasions the Governor cut large amounts out of the appropriations for dirt roads, but it is significant that on both these occasions the appropriations for State roads also were cut. It is hard to sweep a room without raising dust. If you can afford it, buy a vacuum cleaner. The next best thing in sweeping a carpet is to moisten a newspaper, tear it into scraps and scatter these upon the floor. The damp pieces of paper will catch the dust. Sprinkle moist sawdust on bare floors. This will prevent the stirring up of much dust when you sweep. Neither paper nor sawdust should be dripping wet—only moist.

Remember that the idea is sweeping and dusting is to remove the dust—not to stir it up—and act accordingly. No nice girl will ever let a man kiss her after he has done it.

The advocates of the bond issue believe that when the farmers come to study the matter they will see that the proposed bonds will provide a way for relieving the current revenues of the burden of supplying money for the main highway construction, and that this will leave more money for distribution among the townships for making and maintaining the dirt roads that are so important to the occupants of the farms.

It is pointed out that as long as the State roads and the township roads are competitors for a share of the current cash of the State, the worst end of the bargain is likely to go to the township roads, and that therefore the farmer, even if he had no vital interest in the building of fine State roads between the market towns and cities has the best of reason for supporting the bond issue.

HAND LORE AND SYMBOLISMS.

How To Tell When a Man is Telling a Lie.

When a man is not telling the truth he is apt to clench his hands as few men can lie with their hands open.

A man who holds his thumb tightly within his hand has weak will power. Strong-willed persons hold their thumbs outside when shutting their hands.

Shaking hands when greeting was originally an evidence that each person was unarmed.

Among savage tribes when a man holds up his hands it is a sign of peace, an evidence that he is unarmed or does not intend to use weapons.

An outlaw says, "Hold up your hands," meaning thereby to make its victim powerless to resist attack.

When a man kisses the hands of a woman he expresses his submission. This is also the idea when kissing the hands of kings. By this act their superiority is acknowledged.

When the oath is taken it is done by raising the right hand or laying it upon a Bible.

In the consecration of bishops, priests and deacons and also in confirmation the laying of hands is the essence of the sacramental rite.

A bishop gives his blessing with the thumb and first and second fingers. In this the thumb represents God, the Father; the first finger is the emblem of God, the Son, and the second finger stands for God the Holy Ghost, the three together symbolizing the Holy Trinity.

The wedding ring is placed upon the third finger of the woman's hand to show that after the Trinity man's love, honor and duty are given to his wife.

Besides the deaf and dumb there are many people, notably of Latin and Semetic races, who talk with their hands.—Mt.aukee Sentinel.

A woman can look ten times cooler than she is and a man one hundred times warmer than he is.

A house where you live is always a great deal hotter in summer than it would be if you didn't live in it.

Your Lungs and Throat.

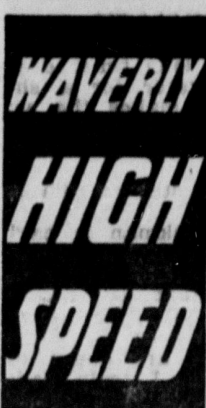

The preparation mentioned by the Rev. Chas. Sager has been for over sixty years of incalculable worth to sufferers from consumption, asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, gripe, coughs, colds and all lung and throat diseases, and is a household remedy in many, many homes to which it has brought health and happiness.

Ms. C. A. ABBOTT, August 11, 1905, 65 Ann St., New York City.

Dear Sir: I have known for over 40 years of the effects of Wilson's Remedy (Wilson's Preparation of Hypophosphites and Biogelatin) in cases of pulmonary troubles. At this point I will say to you what you have not before known of, that at years since, while I was a resident of N. Y. City, I was severely ill with lung trouble. Physicians said I was a consumptive and my family physician told my wife that he thought I could not recover. My attention was directed to the Wilson Remedy, which I used with splendid effect. I have been on my feet and at work ever since my cure. Yours truly,

REV. CHAS. SAGER, Pastor M. E. Church, Hunter, (Greene Co.) N. Y.

The above letter shows what a great boon the Wilson Remedy was to Mr. Sager, but it is but one of thousands received testifying to the curative powers of this wonderful remedy. Write at once to Mr. Abbott at the above address and he will furnish you convincing proof of the great worth to humanity of this preparation.

HOW TO DUST.

When you clean a room, it is not enough to stir up the dust. You must remove it. When you brush a feather duster over a desk or a chair, you merely scatter the dust. Soon it settles and you have your work to do over again. In the meantime, while the dust is in the air, you are probably breathing it into your lungs, irritating your nose and throat and putting yourself in danger of catarrh.

Don't use a feather duster. Take a soft, dry cloth when you dust and shake it frequently out of the window. Another method is to use slightly moistened cloths, rinsing them out in water when you have finished.

It is hard to sweep a room without raising dust. If you can afford it, buy a vacuum cleaner. The next best thing in sweeping a carpet is to moisten a newspaper, tear it into scraps and scatter these upon the floor. The damp pieces of paper will catch the dust. Sprinkle moist sawdust on bare floors. This will prevent the stirring up of much dust when you sweep. Neither paper nor sawdust should be dripping wet—only moist.

Remember that the idea is sweeping and dusting is to remove the dust—not to stir it up—and act accordingly.

No nice girl will ever let a man kiss her after he has done it.

"HUNGRY SAM" AGAIN.

"Hungry Sam" Miller, of Columbia county, drifted into Milton, says the Standard, and got about half of what he considers a square meal. H. Sam breezed into the Gresh House and while there met a man who offered to pay for five loaves of bread and five quarts of milk if Sam would devour the same, which Sam agreed to do. The milk and bread were ordered, but Sam said, "wait a minute." He then ate two loaves of cabbage and one of the regular House meals and announced that he was then ready to start on the bread and milk.

Five loaves were broken up and put in five quarts of milk which had been poured into a bucket, and H. Sam went at it. Sopping, eating and gulping alternately, he swallowed the bread and milk, strongly reminding beholders of a cave man gorging himself on a dinosaur. He said he was still hungry when he got through and could eat ten pounds of ham in the next ten hours.

It seems as if it would be shocking for women even to go to bed in some of the evening clothes they wear to be dressed up.

As soon as a girl marries a man she finds out he's very human; as soon as she finds that out she gets lofty opinions of her mother.

"Stains? They're Easily Taken Out," says Anty Drudge.

Mrs. Fidget—"Do you know, Anty, I am getting to be a regular crank. I watch every egg-mark or stain that the children make on the napkins and table cloth, and I get so nervous I can't enjoy my meals."

Anty Drudge—"Don't mind the stains and above all don't get nervous. Just rub Fels-Naptha soap on the spots, soak in cool or lukewarm water and rub lightly, and your napkins and table-cloths will be spotless."

The housewife is quite likely to be judged by the appearance of the wash as it hangs on the line. It is the one part of the housework that is all out of doors; all in the eye of your neighbors.

"How nice that wash looks" is a coveted washday saying. If you knew—it was either Fels-Naptha soap or too much work that gave the nice look. Drudgery may give it; Fels-Naptha soap will give it without drudgery.

Fels-Naptha makes the clothes clean and pure, because it DISSOLVES every particle of dirt.

You first soap the clothes, roll and place them in cool or lukewarm water for half an hour. You then find that only light rubbing is needed to make them pure as driven snow.

And it's as good for every other part of the household work as for the wash. A trial will convince you. Follow directions on the red and green wrapper.
