HOWARD.

What shall I do, an heir of endless life?
Discharge aright.
The simple dues with which each day is rife,
Yea, with thy might!

In Our Churches Next Sabbath.

Methodist Episcopal—This will be Anti-Saloon League Day at Curtin at half past ten, and at Kennedy at half past two. D. Lloyd Claycomb, Esq., of Altoona, will speak at both of these places. There will be no service in Howard because of the absence of the pastor on vacation.

Presbyterian—Rev. James Wilkes, of Stevensville, Bradford county, Pa., will preach at Jouserville at half past ten, and in Howard at half past seven. It is understood that Mr. Wilkes is a candidate for this pulpit.

Miss Elfreda Confer spent Sunday with her family here.

Mr. Isaac R. Williams has put down an excellent brick sidewalk in place of the worn out one.

P. P. Rittman and wife, of Lock Haven were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Ritsman.

Charles V. DeLong, now a citizen of Homestead, was at home here among his friends last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Sergius Pletcher, of Washington, D. C., are vacationing with Miss A. A. Pletcher and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mickle and family spent the week end among their relatives in the Jouserville region.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Johnson, son Dean and daughter Vonda, enjoyed a Saturday and Sunday vacation at Watkins Glen.

Miss Hilda Walizer went to Nanty Glo, Cambria Co., last Friday where she will spend the rest of the summer with her aunt, Mrs. Smith.

Sixty-seven of our citizens took the Gettysburg trip Sunday, despite early hour of starting, and the hard thunder storm which raged at the time.

Editor F. S. Dunham is on the sick list, and the "Hustler" is being organized this week, both editorially and mechanically, by our young friend Walter H. Holter.

Mr. and Mrs. James Roush, sister and brother-in-law, and Mrs. Sarah Condo, the eighty-six-year-old mother, of Jonathan F. Condo, all of Aaronsburg, were his week end guests.

Miss Kathryn Stewart, after a two weeks' visit with Miss Yearick and Mrs. Jordan, and making many friends among our young people, returned to her home in Wilmerding, last Saturday.

Mrs. J. Sumner Wolf, with her three children, Kline, Elizabeth and Bertha, drove over to her old home neighborhood, Aaronsburg, enjoyed the week end with friends and relatives and returned Monday.

Mr. A. C. Bowers, who died at State College on Wednesday last, and was buried at Eagleville on Friday was formerly a well known and well liked citizen of our township, and a brother of Thomas Bowers.

Clara and Violet Breiter came up from their down creek farm home and spent last week with their proud grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Butler—the first visit since they moved into Liberty township in the spring.

The Misses Maud and Nellie Confer are visiting their brother Charles M. and family at Niagara, intending to remain a month and take in the Niagara County Fair, where they will see more fine apples than they have ever dreamed of.

Mrs. Ira C. Johnson had, as her Sunday guests, her brother, Wm. R. Shaffer, and daughter Mildred, of Flemington, Pa., and Mr. George A. Beck, now of New York City, and well known here in her girlhood as Miss Mollie Speering.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Heckman, of Lamar, Mr. and Mrs. John Harter, of Clintondale, Mrs. James Rishell and son, of Johnstown, and Miss Elsie Haagen, of Beech Creek, constituted the week end party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Yearick.

Miss Lovene Heverly, of Johnsonburg, now visiting her grandma Winslow at Beech Creek, and Miss Margaret Schenck, of that burg, drove up with their handsome pony outfit last Thursday, and spent the day with their friend, Miss Edythe Butler.

J. S. Bathurst, of Philadelphia, is spending the late summer with his sister, Mrs. Etta R. Leathers, of the west end, Mrs. Leathers also entertained last week, her friends, Mrs. Colson, of Bellefonte and Mrs. Morgan, of Vintondale, Cambria Co., Pa.

Mrs. Ira C. Leathers sells all her household goods at public sale next Saturday, Aug. 24th, at one o'clock, preparatory to a breaking up of the old home, and will hereafter have several homes with her children, all of whom gladly hold their doors open to her.

Miss Ada Bowers, who has been spending a vacation at home, left last Sunday for Philadelphia where she will spend two weeks in looking up the latest styles of ladies head gear, and buying a large stock of goods. Then she will go on to Jenkins, Kentucky, where she holds the position of Chief of Millinery in the large store there conducted by the great coal company which owns Jenkins.

Our young teachers are popular abroad: Miss Josephine Muffly has been chosen to take charge of the first primary in Clearfield. Miss Margaret M. DeHaas goes to the second primary in Swedesboro, N. J., about twenty miles from Philadelphia. Steuart Taylor has been chosen to teach the district school at Chariton, Clinton county, and the older brother Edwards has been appointed assistant principal of the Northumberland schools, where they pay well and have a nine-months term.

J. D. Gledhill, the first trick man at the tower here for several years, has been promoted to the place of copyist at the dispatcher at Madera in Clearfield county, and his place here has been assigned to Mr. Shaver, until now occupying the third place. This is a desirable move for Mr. Gledhill as it places him in direct line for the dispatcher's office, which, by reason of his careful attention to duty and close study of train movement and general railroad service, is easily within his reach in the not very distant future. His long-time neighbors here will regret his absence, and that of his family.

UNIONVILLE.

On the Wing.
Miss Rebekah Calhoun, after three or four weeks visit to friends in New Castle, Pittsburg and other place west, returned home recently smiling, as ever.

Ray Parsons, operator at Rockwood, Pa., on the B. & O. railroad, is home on his annual vacation.

Miss Mary Turner, stenographer for the Phillipsburg Hardware Co., who attended her mother's birthday party, returned to her post on Monday.

Wm. A. Morrison, of Altoona, was a Sunday visitor at his father's home. Bend your neck to the yoke, Billy and become a benedict. The sea is full of as good fish as ever was caught. Don't be a "batch."

Mrs. Holderman, of State College, is visiting at the home of her son, F. A. Holderman.

Samuel H. Rhoads, of Lansing, Michigan, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tolbert. Mr. Rhoads was born and raised in this vicinity. He is now a prominent lawyer of Lansing. He is an enthusiastic Odd Fellow and on Saturday evening he visited Lumen Lodge at this place and favored the lodge with a fine address which for logic and good common sense exceeded any we have ever heard in our lodge room. All were delighted and encouraged.

If the two young ladies who edited the last weeks' Howard items are as pretty as their items were interesting and well written, it surely won't be long till the prefix Mrs. will replace that of Miss.

Misses Rhoda and Dorothy Leiblich, pretty and accomplished young ladies of Williamsport, were the guests of Misses Mary and Eloise Buck at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Buck.

Mrs. W. R. Potter, who has been very critically ill for the past week, is, we are glad to say, convalescing.

Mr. I. G. Alexander is not improving as much as his many friends desire, though he is no worse, Mrs. Carrie Rowan is a decided success. She presented the writer with a few of the other day, one of which weighed one and a quarter pounds.

The greatest event of the season will take place in Mr. D. Hall's grove on Saturday, Aug. 31st. The "event" will be a basket picnic under the auspices of Lumen Lodge, No. 639, I. O. O. F., but everybody in the world is invited.

Of course, neither Wilson, Taft nor Roosevelt will be present on account of pressing business obligations, but that will not hinder the other million people who will be there to have the happiest time of their lives. The curtain will rise at 1 o'clock of that day when the first 5,000 people are expected to be on the ground. The coming amusements are busily planning entertainments for the young. The big lunch will be spread immediately after the 5 o'clock train goes up and a fine of 3 cents will be imposed on any party or parties who will empty their baskets before that time.

Everybody cordially invited. "It is pleasant to dwell together in unity" come and have a nice sociable chat with your neighbors and fill up that inner aching void with the good things that will be provided by our fair ladies.

Some half dozen of our representative lady housekeepers, packed their lunch baskets and went to Snow Shoe for a day's outing one day last week. While I am not informed as to where they picnicked but was told that they joined, voluntarily, by a number of the best ladies of Snow Shoe, who had learned of their arrival and who conspired to make them welcome and to make their visit a pleasant one. Our good women came highly pleased with their trip and with the royal reception they received at the hands of the Snow Shoe ladies.

A very delightful home gathering of children and grandchildren took place at the home of Mrs. George Finch on Sunday at which the following children with their entire families were present, to wit: Mrs. H. I. Stere, Mrs. Wm. Summers, Mrs. William Bauder, Mrs. Lincoln Miller and Mr. Herbert Finch. One daughter, Mrs. Dora Stonebreaker of Sandy Ridge for some cause failed to be present. It was a happy day for the old grandmother Finch, the five children and 18 grandchildren. The day was spent in social chat, feasting on the good things that had been provided and singing. Hassel Stere, the oldest grandson, took a photograph of the happy group. Before separating for their respective homes, all gathered into the parlor and sang the hymn, "God be with you 'till we meet again." Like an oasis in the desert, this happy day will ever remain a green spot in the memory of all that were present.

Another delightful birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Turner on last Thursday, Aug. 16th. This was in honor of the 72nd anniversary of Mrs. Turner's birthday. Mrs. Turner has been an invalid for a number of years and the ingathering of children and grandchildren in Israel very happy. Those who participated in this celebration were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Snoko and little daughter Loretta; and the following children: Mrs. Susan Askin, of Ridge View Park, Harry Turner, of Bellefonte, Miss Mary, of Phillipsburg, Harriet and Louisa at home and the following grandchildren: Dolly, Francis, Mannie and Raymond Snoko and Fordy Snoko and wife and their little child which is a great-grandchild. Mrs. Ruth Harris and son, of Portage, Hugh and Clarence Turner, of Bellefonte. Others who were present were Mrs. Harriet Miller, of Bellefonte, Mrs. Woodring, of Phillipsburg, Mrs. Sue McKinney and her granddaughter Bertha McKinney of Port Matilda.

Another birthday party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Abednego Williams on Saturday evening, 17th. This was in honor of John C. H. Stevenson's 21st anniversary of his birthday. John's birthday really was on the 18th but as that date was Sunday, Mrs. Williams concluded to have it on the day before. You see John is third towerman and boards at the Williams home which is just across the railroad from the tower and on Sunday morning he called across to Williams and said "Hello Abednego get up there's a man in the tower" of course Mr. Williams got up hurriedly, went over to find only John there. "Well" said Mr. Williams, "where's the man?" "Why here I am" said John, "don't you see me. I'm 21 years old today ain't I a man?" Then Abednego "tumbled." The invited guests were George Heberling, first towerman and family, Oscar Friday, second towerman and family, Mrs. A. T. Rowan and daughter, Maggie, Mrs. Melissa Bing, Miss Sarah Cowher and Miss Beattie Lansberry, especially the latter.

A delightful birthday party was pulled off at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Haugh on last Friday evening in honor of Ed. Haugh's 21st anniversary of his birthday. It was a surprise party and Ed. was surprised "good." The following popular citizens participated in the joyous occasion: Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Spotts and children, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Holt and son, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barton and daughter, Mrs. Cora Kreps and children, Mrs. Wm. McEwen, Mrs. A. J. St. Clair, Mrs. W. G. Bullock, Mrs. Howard Pratt and son of Baltimore, Miss Bess Pratt, Miss Hannah Holt, Mrs. Ed. Iddings, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Holt, Mrs. Lena Lansberry, Mrs. Harry Lindemuth, Sherman Geist, Mrs. Maggie Morrison, and Miss Sarah Cowher. The usual car load of good things had been provided by his good wife which was enjoyed to the limit by all the guests.

Besides these parties Miss Bess Pratt entertained at dinner quite a number of guests among whom were D. B. Pratt and children of Tyrone, Howard Pratt, wife and son of Baltimore, and others whose names I did not learn.

Three or four other families gave "big eats" under different dates. So many there's been something going in our town during the past week.

AARONSBURG.

Cornelius Kerstetter and his wife, from Loganton, spent a few days with their uncle, Cornelius and William Bower where they were heartily welcomed.

Curtis Winkleblech, of Rebersburg, is paying his uncle Warren a visit. He and his cousin John are having a fine time.

Harry Crouse and his uncle Harvey are busy huckstering. They are spending a few days in Lock Haven and Renovo. Harry is the guest of his grandmother, Mrs. McClintic.

Mrs. Chestle Wert, from Rebersburg, is among her many friends here, who are always glad to see her.

Miss Ida Wert and her niece, Martha Smith, from Texas, were the welcome guests of Mrs. Alice Eisenhaure.

Walter Orwig, who is employed in the Altoona shops, is paying his monthly visit to his family here.

This grand rain that we have had for the last few weeks makes the housewives quite busy in their gardens. How the corn and potatoes are growing, so the sneak thieves can get plenty of potatoes out of the fields! C. G. Britz's field was visited by thieves and a good many rows taken out.

Phillip Eisenhaure and Lowell Acken are employed at State College for the present.

Thomas Hull, one of our expert carpenters from State College was home over Sunday.

Earl Wert, with his new wife, his father and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Baker, all from Philadelphia, Mrs. Jessie Wert from Rebersburg, at present, are spending a month with the former's mother, Mrs. Luther Wert, where they all enjoy her excellent meals.

Steward Anderson, from Altoona, returned home after spending a few days at Charles Stover's, a course Miss Helen can tell you all about it.

The company that Mrs. E. J. Deshler and Mary Stahl entertained were, Mrs. Charles Faust and her bright little girl, Dorothy and the lady's sister, Nedie Stahl, all from Watsonstown, Pa.

Dr. W. C. Rogers and family, from Bellefonte, spent a day with his aunt here, Mrs. J. P. Coburn.

Mrs. Mabel Wetherhold, nee Mase, her daughter, Margaret and son, of Allentown, are the welcome guests of her mother, Mrs. Caroline Mase.

Clymer Stover, his wife and two children, Paul and Ellsworth, from Lewistown, came over in their auto Sunday evening to see his area.

Rev. J. C. Stover, at the home of his brother-in-law, George J. Weaver, those visiting at Will Wolfes over Sunday were, Mrs. S. J. Wolfe and three children, Kline, Bertha and Elizabeth from Howard, Eva Feldler from Feldler, Helen Vongenten, from Albany, N. Y.

Mrs. Fred Limbert and son Carl, of Altoona, who arrived on Friday received word on Saturday that her husband is sick. Monday morning she went back to her home.

BOALSBURG.

Mrs. Robert Morrow and daughter Grace, of Arch Springs, were guests at the J. M. Welland home last week.

Mrs. John Stuart, of State College, was visiting with friends here several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mothersbaugh, of Beech Creek, spent a few days at the Mothersbaugh home the past week.

William Kuhn, of Williamsport, spent several days last week with his father and brother, Nevin.

Rev. Stonecipher and family are spending their vacation with friends at Williamsport.

Mrs. Ella Stare, of Ohio, is visiting with relatives at this place.

Mrs. John Hess and daughter Mary, of DuBois, are guests at the Charles Segner home.

Mrs. Margaret Lytle and grand daughter Salome Rentschler, of State College, spent Sunday at the Miller home.

Miss Ruth Miller spent from Thursday till Monday with her sister, Mrs. Clem. Kuhn, of Rock View.

Edward Moug and family, of State College, spent Sunday at the J. M. Fortney home.

Miss Annie Lorch is spending some time in Centre Hall at the home of J. H. Weber.

LIVONIA.
We are informed that the village of Greenburr, four miles from here was visited by a cyclone on Monday last, causing considerable damage, unroofing buildings, uprooting trees, destroying windows, fruit, etc. The peculiar funnel shaped cloud was observed by L. M. Stover, one mile from here.

Mrs. Will Conser and her three boys, formerly of this place, are paying a visit to the old home and friends in our valley.

Mrs. Harry Martin and daughter, Miss Marian, of Linden Hall, spent a few days among friends at this place.

Mrs. J. H. Wirth was kindly remembered by her friends on her birthday by a postcard shower. She received 95 and certainly was deeply touched at being remembered by such a host of friends.

ZION.

Visitors are still coming to this beautiful summer resort. The following were among those who registered at the "Centennial House" the past few days: Hon. John P. Harris, J. S. McCarger, Chas. P. Garbrick, Mrs. C. P. Garbrick, Basie Mott, of Bellefonte; Samuel Sproul, of Mingo; Rev. Hoover, Hubersburg; Mr. and Mrs. Willis Wian, P. Wilbur Wian, Bellefonte; W. W. Rupert, H. Nevin Robb, State College; Nevin Cole, Bellefonte; William Sproul, Hecla Park; John Love, Altoona; Miss Cora Stover and niece.

Miss Emma Baumgardner took advantage of the excursion to Gettysburg last Sunday. She reports having a very interesting trip. She visited the spot where grandfather received a wound through the chest in the cavity of which the bullet still exists.

War Scenes Too Much for Veteran.
Overcome by emotion while seated in a moving picture show reviewing the scenes of the memorable Pickett's charge at Gettysburg, where he himself had worn a uniform and had been seriously wounded, Harvey S. Geiger, a 72-year-old Civil war veteran of Milton, bowed his head and pitched forward in the Bijou theatre at that place on Friday night and expired.
