

OVER THE COUNTY.

A son was born to Rev. and Mrs. S. S. Samsam, of State College, on August 21.

The hike over Nittany mountain and on to Bellefonte was never in better condition than it is now.

John L. Holmes, of State College, has bought the Hamill Holmes property in Ferguson township.

The annual reunion of the Duck family was held at the Union County Fair grounds on Saturday.

Miss Grace Switzer, of Phillipsburg, attended the State Convention of the Christian Alliance at Lancaster last week.

James P. Aiken, manager of the Nittany Inn at State College, has returned home from a two months tour of Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Guelich, well known residents, of Phillipsburg, are visiting friends in Buffalo and Silver Creek, N. Y.

Frank H. Harrison, of Mt. Union, the father of the wife of Rev. H. K. Bower, is visiting Rev. Bower's home at Phillipsburg.

Dr. E. E. Sparks, president of State College, was one of the speakers at the campfire held at Boalsburg Wednesday night at Boal hall.

The dwelling house on the farm occupied by J. J. Tressler, between Linden Hall and Oak Hill is being remodeled and will present a very attractive appearance when finished.

John Noll, of Pleasant Gap, is spending several weeks in Tyrone papering and painting the interior of several homes. Mr. Noll is an artist at the business, his services always being in demand.—Herald.

William Weaver, who is employed in Phillipsburg, had the misfortune to fracture the bone in one of his arms, and not being able to work came to Rebersburg in company with his family. They are at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Weaver.

While plowing a field near Shingletown last Friday John Klingner was somewhat surprised to see his horse suddenly swallowed up by Mother Earth. With rope and tackle he was able to extricate the animal.

The Centre County Oil and Gas Company, which leased several thousand acres of land in Miles township, will this week begin to prospect for oil on the Jacob Kephart farm situated a short distance north west of town.

F. J. Tibbetts, the Centre Hall furniture dealer, who had been quite ill since he is home from the hospital where he underwent an operation for appendicitis, is able to be out of the house a part of the time. He is gradually regaining his strength.

B. J. La Porte, Esq., has returned to his old home in Phillipsburg after two or three months at Pennsylvania Furnace. He was for many years Justice of the Peace and one of the best known and most popular men in that section of the county.

The Cyrus Phillips farm, north of Yearling church, Brush Valley, was sold to George Weaver, of near Sober at the price of $7,000 according to reports. The farm contains one hundred and twenty acres. Mr. Weaver will move onto the farm in the spring.

Charles H. Foster, representing the fire company, J. E. Heberling, representing the citizens and Samuel E. Kimpert, representing the council, have been appointed a building committee for the new fire house of the Alpha Fire Company at State College.

Dr. Walter Stewart, of Wilkesbarre, Dr. DeLaune Stewart, of their sister, Miss Margaret, of Bellefonte, accompanied by their nephew, Walter Miller, of Hagerstown, Md., autored to Phillipsburg one day recently in the former's touring car and spent the day at the home of W. F. Holt.

While driving through Centre Hall, the other part of last week, a son of David K. Keller got his horse and buggy badly mixed up. The nag was an old family horse, and not being as nimble as she used to be, stumbled and when she came to a rest was lying under the buggy, having turned a complete somersault.

The following teachers were elected at a recent meeting of the Potter township school board, Miss Iona Tibbetts of Centre Hall to the Plum Grove school; Miss Mary Neff, daughter of W. R. Neff, of Tusseyville, the Cross Lane school at the head of Georges Valley. All the schools in this district are now supplied.

Richard Harry Bower, a graduate this year of the State College High school, has been awarded the State College scholarship in the Pennsylvania State College. The award was made by President M. Dowell, of the School Board, Superintendent Bottenhorn and the registrar of the College, representing Dr. Sparks.

On Sunday Robert Broom, of Millheim, while running his automobile near the Grimes place in Brush Valley upset on the road. The steering gear did not work right and the car ran alongside of the road and turned over. The occupants of the car were not injured, nor was the car wrecked as Mr. Broom was running slowly when the accident happened.

Corn, young clover, and the second growth on the meadows, during the past two weeks, made remarkable growth. The rains came in time to save the corn, and from present indications there will be many farmers who will have from fair to an average yield of the golden ears. Of course, there are some farms on which the corn was so late that no crop can be expected.

Three generations of Kuhns harvested oats on Charles Kuhn's farm, near Boalsburg. Two brothers, David and John Kuhn, the latter's son, Charles, and grandson, Harry composed the quartette. David Kuhn, well on in the eighties, and John, almost eighty, cradled and bound, and the younger generations operated a binder, the modern method of cutting grain, and also shocked the oats in the same way it was done when the elder Kuhns were boys.

On Monday of last week, 599 students had been admitted to the freshman class of the college. At this date last year 364 had been admitted. In addition, nearly 60 have been registered for the two-year course in agriculture. These advance figures show that fully 700 new students will be here at the opening in September to take the place of the 300 who completed courses last year. Evidently the capacity of the college and village will be reached.—State College Times.

A four-horse team, belonging to Robert Hettinger, was left standing at the saw mill near Penn Hall on Monday, and the "blow-off" of the boiler frightened the horses, causing them to run away. After running some distance, the horses broke loose from the wagon. When caught, one of the horses had severed an artery above the foot of a front leg and bled very profusely. Dr. M. P. Fiedler, of Millheim, was called and stopped the flow of blood and treated the wound.—Millheim Journal.

The Lutheran Club of Grace Church, State College, spent ten days in camp at New Berlin recently.

Rev. W. J. Dice has consented to lead and instruct the Millheim band. Rev. Dice is an accomplished musician on the cornet, and will be of great assistance to the band.

A small fire occurred in the house of Simon King, at Millheim, Thursday of last week. The inside of the building was considerably damaged. The building was insured.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Shaffer, of Flemington, are sending out cards announcing the wedding of their daughter, Miss Mildred Sperring Shaffer, and Stuart William Kay, of Morristown, N. J. The ceremony was performed by Rev. P. O. Tompkinson, at Harrisburg, Pa., at high noon on Wednesday of last week.

"Ye Districk Skule at Blueberry Corners," is the title of a farcial entertainment to be given by the young people of the Milesburg Baptist church. The public is most cordially invited to attend and help financially the worthy project. Admission, adults 25; children, 10 cents. Ice cream will be for sale.

Miss Maude Harper, of State College, Pa., returned home on Wednesday from the St. Margaret's Memorial hospital, Pittsburg, Pa., where she has been for the last few weeks receiving treatment and where she also underwent a serious operation for her hearing. We are very glad to state at this writing that she is very much improved.

Farmer Harry Relsh, near Centre Hall, has a turkey hen that is outdoing the average hen of her kind. The bird has a brood of eight turkeys, about one-fourth grown, and is now hatching, having stolen her nest in the woods. When discovered the other evening, the hen was sitting on the nest and the eight young birds were grouped about her.

The Tressler reunion, that was held at the fair ground on August 6th, was a largely attended gathering and proved a delightful social event for all present. The exercises were of an informal nature and the day was largely spent in renewing family ties and acquaintances. Among those in attendance from a distance were the following: Ellis Swartz, Mrs. Wm. Corbin and two children, Mrs. Mary Hickey and son Charles, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Tressler and daughter, all of Altoona.

The Markle home at State College was the scene of a very pleasant gathering Thursday evening of last week in honor of the fifty-eighth anniversary of the birth of Mrs. J. Calvin Markle. She was completely surprised for her friends had persuaded her to go shopping that afternoon. During her absence everything was made ready and on her return she found her many friends gathered together. Mrs. Markle was born at Julian and her maiden name was Flick. The party spent a delightful evening.

A number of interesting discussions were features of the second annual convention of the Pennsylvania branch of the National League of Postmasters held at Huntingdon on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. Among the themes were "Postal Savings Banks," and "The Fourth-class Postmaster," by Inspector Arthur A. Nichols of Scranton, the latter subject dealing with compensation, duties and supervision of rural routes and minor details of the office. At the business session C. A. Krape, of Spring Mills, was elected vice-president, and Bellefonte was chosen for next year's meeting.

The annual picnic of St. Mary's church was held in the Snow Shoe Park on Saturday, the 17th, and proved a very delightful affair. Aside from the large number present from Snow Shoe and vicinity many were there from Bellefonte, Clearfield, DuBois, Lock Haven, Williamsport and other points. Two ball games were features of the day, the one in the forenoon between Karthaus and Snow Shoe, resulting in favor of the latter team by a 11 to 4 score, while the afternoon game between Winburne and Snow Shoe resulted in another victory for the home team by the close ending of 3 to 2. Refreshments and dancing all added to the pleasures of the picnickers, and when the day ended the happy crowd wended their ways homeward, feeling that they had spent a most profitable day.

SPRING MILLS. Mrs. R. B. Gentzel and children, of Altoona, are visiting relatives and friends in this place.

Mrs. C. J. Finkle and daughter Mabel are visiting at Glen Iron and Millburg this week.

Mrs. C. A. Krape and Mr. J. K. Bitter attended the burial of Mrs. Hoffman at McClure last Friday. They were accompanied home by their niece Miss Helen Fetterolf, of Selmsgrove, who expects to spend some time with her aunt.

W. C. Gramley and wife and John Smith autored to Jersey Shore last Saturday, returning Sunday.

Dr. Fisher, of Shamokin and Rev. J. M. Rearick, of Williamsburg, former pastors of the Centre Hall Lutheran church, were here to attend the Sunday school picnic at Georges Valley last Thursday.

Mrs. Clarence Heim and children, of Harrisburg, spent several days at Philip Heims.

Miss Carrie Osman and brother William are at present visiting their brother Harry, at Harrisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Segal are rejoicing over the arrival of a new son.

D. F. Poorman was a State College caller over Sunday.

A big time at Milesburg.—The L. O. R. M., No. 495 of that place had what might be called a royal treat for their wives, families and friends. A very pleasant and social evening was spent in singing, playing games and, last but not least, the feast of ice cream, cake, candy and cigars. Mr. Ebbs furnished five gallon of cream and owing to the large turn out finding this not near enough, Mr. Doll, of Bellefonte was called on to furnish six more gallons which was soon delivered.

The Indians are a class of people that believe in not half doing things and much credit should be given them after a feast. All returned to their homes wishing for many more such evenings. Next will be their annual picnic, Sept. 14th.
