

Correspondents' Department Continued.

REBERSBURG. R. O. Diehl, who has spent the past three years in Texas, is visiting his family at this place. Leo Shull, of Pittsburg, who spent a few weeks with his mother, Jane Shull, has again returned to his work. Mr. and Mrs. Myles Breen, of Coburn, spent Sunday in our burk. Charles Waite and Clarence Diehl left on Monday morning for Pittsburg in search of employment. H. G. Hubler has again gone to Selinsgrove to resume his studies. Prof. E. M. Brungard and family, who spent the summer in our town have again gone to their home in Selinsgrove. They were accompanied by their niece, Ethel Harter, who will take a course in music and elocution at Susquehanna University. Rev. J. I. Stauffer and wife, of Philadelphia, spent a few days with his brother, Rev. J. A. Stauffer, pastor of the Reformed church. On Sunday morning he delivered a German sermon in the Reformed church. The church was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves in comparison with the old people who fade as the leaves. The people as they passed into the church were presented with a purple flower which was to be worn during the service which was largely attended. The Union Christian Endeavor meeting was held on Sunday evening in the Reformed church, led by Mrs. Libbie Gramly. The attendance was not so large owing to the inclemency of the weather but the subject, "Profits from Prayer" was very ably discussed. Earl Weber left last week to attend the Commercial college at Williamsport. Mrs. C. E. Long is confined to her bed with an abscess in her side. Charles Faxon and wife, Ammon Hazel and wife, Wallace Blerly and wife and Jacob Gephart and wife are among the tenters at Granger's picnic from our town. Warren Blerly, our former mail carrier has given his route to Victor Walker who will carry it with his automobile which adds another to our town.

BLANCHARD. Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Berlin were callers at Mill Hall on Sunday. Franklin Stover, who has been spending his vacation with his grandmother, returned to Bellefonte Academy Sunday evening to take up his studies for another term. Mr. and Mrs. Alvy Miller spent Sunday at Mill Hall. Norris Harter spent Sunday with his lady friend at Howard. Miss Julia Kline gave a number of her friends a corn roast reception on Friday evening. Those present were: Roy Confer, Samuel Poorman, Wm. Holter, Raymond Lucas, Harry and Earl Confer, Ronald Coder, William Batschelet, Luther Gardner, Charles and Lewis Bolopue, Harold Shenck, Harry Muffley, Beula Holter, Anna and Esther Plecher, Nancy, Bertha, Eva and Ruth Shenck, Anna Haines, Zelma Snellenberger, Ruby Holter, Lydia Shenck, Clara, Cilla and Elsie Thompson, Hazel Crider, Esther Gardner, Gertrude Confer, Lulu Bechdel, Margaret Heiser, Marilla Bolopue, Mary Davy, Julia Kline, Charles Shenck, Melvin Winslow, Milton Kunes, Harris Bechdel, Albert Coder, Oscar Fletcher, Frank Howard, Alvin, Milford, Joseph, Perry and Dallas Kline, Mudler Thomas, Wilber Lannen and Mr. and Mrs. Kline. All present had a fine time and all they could eat. John Wagner, of Big Run, after spending a week with his brother George of this place, returned to his home Saturday. Richard Quigley, of Lock Haven, spent Sunday with his father, Capt. James Quigley. George Page and wife spent last week with relatives at Boalsburg. The barn belonging to C. A. Williams was burned to the ground, Sept. 10th, by lightning. The live stock was saved but all the year's crops were burned; the loss is partly covered by insurance. Mrs. Fred Paeker, after spending a month with her parents of Johnsonburg, has returned home.

CURTIN. Miss Estella Barger, who has been visiting her brother John who resides in Williamsport, returned home on Saturday, bringing her little niece, Thelma Barger, with her. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heaton and children, of Hayes Run, were called home on Monday by the death of Mrs. Heaton's little nephew, Frank Reeder, who died on Sunday morning. Funeral took place on Wednesday at 1 o'clock; interment in the Curtin cemetery. Mrs. Wm. Prince and Mrs. Henry Shultz visited the former's brother of Summit Hill on Thursday. Beatrice Blerly, of Altoona, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Barger over Sunday. Mrs. Miles Doughman, who is recovering from her recent illness, is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Howard Martin, of Coleville. Mrs. Wm. Kline and son, of Milesburg, visited her son Edward, of this place, over Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Ciphert and son, of Orviston, are visiting the former's brother, Harvey Barnhart. Our schools have opened with a good attendance of pupils. Wilber Leathers is teacher of grammar and Miss Nancy Kelly of primary. Mrs. Edward Bryan and children visited at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Yeager, of Brookville. Mrs. Emma Bathurst and Mrs. D. E. Shultz visited friends in Milesburg on Tuesday. The men are busy repairing the furnace which will soon resume work again. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Yeager, of the Ridges, visited Wm. Prince and wife on Sunday. Mrs. M. D. Garman is still quite ill at the Bellefonte hospital; her many friends hope for her a speedy recovery. AARONSBURG. Chas. Ackers and sister, Mrs. Theo. Heisel and children, of Holsoppe, are visiting their parents, Howard Ackers. Mrs. Mary Ardery, of Bellefonte, spent a few days at the home of Geo. Weaver's, helping to nurse her aged father, J. C. Stover. Mrs. Gillard Eisenhouer and son Philip attended the funeral of her granddaughter at Beavertown; they returned home on Friday. C. A. Weaver, of Freeport, Pa., sent a few days at the home of Mrs. (Continued at bottom of next Col.)

A PLEA AGAINST PROFANITY.

Bad English is bad words, as well as bad grammar. Words unworthy, words unchaste, words profane. So common among children and grown-ups have all these forms of bad English become, that for their cure a crusade against them is the only recourse by parents in their homes, teachers in the schools, preachers in the churches, men on the streets, mainly boys on their playgrounds, and women everywhere. Words unworthy proceed from minds untrained, tempers ungoverned, tongues unbridled. They are words used thoughtlessly, nastily, hotly; expressive of momentary feeling that were better not to express; begotten in the home, there indulged in first by parents, then adopted by children unchecked and afterwards communicated to companions outside. If you want to know what the character of the home is, you don't have to go inside. Just watch the ways and listen to the words of the children outside. Unchaste words proceed from unclear thoughts. Thoughts which reflect the lower, sensual, nasty side of human nature, degenerate mental morals, dissipate high motives, encourage lewd conversation, lead to lewd habits, unfit for association with decent fellow beings. True, such thoughts are seldom bred in homes. The worst of parents keep them under cover there. Far more frequently they find expression in loafing places, in groups of careless, females, or street corners, in saloons, in low-grade theatres, in unlicensed picture shows, in palaces of vice—wherever a naughty suggestion or an unkept circumstance will provoke a lively laugh or please the lower tastes. Unchaste words dragged from the slums poured into the ears of eavesdropping youths by the laggards or society, are thus transmitted from generation to generation. So wrong thoughts in the minds of neighbors' children, which one will not propagate in the home. Why coin and give currency to words and phrases that pollute the stream of conversation, as it flows through the streets and runs over into the children's playgrounds to create a Dead Sea of moral filth in the heart of the community? Words profane proceed from irreverence and disrespect for the human self, and dishonor for the Divine Being. Words not meet for the human temple, which is disclosed to be the temple of God. Both go together. Hence, primarily, words profane denote a lack of self-respect. And if one may gauge the degree of self-respect, by the extent to which profanity prevails among the men and the boys of Bellefonte, the deficiency in self-respect will seem appalling. Boys do not borrow profanity from their mothers and sisters; but from their fathers and brothers and boy companions. Why must self-respectful mothers bring forth boys to be trained in irreverence and in religion by profane fathers? Is wife-hood and mother-hood honored then?

Two laws stand against profanity, one human and one divine—a borough ordinance and the third commandment. Puritan measures are not adequate for such general violation as darkens the speech of the day in both private and public places. Our chief dependence for the cure of the plague lies in precept and example. So the members of the Civic Club earnestly plead with the men and boys of Bellefonte to put from them all words profane and by precept and example to prove that they are neither devoid of self-respect in themselves, nor lacking in respect for their homes, their country and their God, remembering that each generation lives more or less on the reputation of its predecessor. PUBLICITY COMMITTEE OF THE BELLEFONTE WOMAN'S CLUB.

Ellie Weaver. Miss Minerva Rheinart, of Woodward, has come to spend an indefinite time at the home of Foster Bower. Mrs. Sara Meyer and baby, of Boalsburg, spent a few days with her parents, Benj. Hatley's. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. King, of Minn. have come to spend sometime with Mrs. King's father, Henry Bower. Miss Mabelle Crouse, our up-to-date milliner, has decided to take a position in Sunbury instead of running a shop here; we are sorry to see her go, as that will leave our town without a milliner. Mrs. David Dorman, of Woodward, spent a few days at the home of Wm. Wolfe's. Warren Winkler and family spent the Sabbath with friends living near Rebersburg. John Hartman and wife, of Millheim, and daughter, Mrs. Mary Swarm, of Baltimore, Md., visited at the home of Mrs. Emma Wert and at James Wert's.

$3.50 RECEIPT FREE FOR WEAK KIDNEYS

Relieves Urinary and Kidney Troubles, Backache, Straining, Swelling, Etc. Stops Pain in the Bladder, Kidneys and Back.

Wouldn't it be nice within a week or so to begin to say goodbye forever to the scalding, dribbling, straining, or too frequent passage of urine; the forehead and the back-of-the-head aches; the stitching and pains in the back; the growing muscular weakness; spots before the eyes; yellow skin, sluggish bowels; swollen eyelids or ankles; leg cramps; unnatural short breath; sleeplessness and the despondency?

I have a recipe for these troubles that you can depend on, and if you want to make a quick recovery you ought to write and get a copy of it. Many a doctor would charge you $3.50 just for writing this prescription, but I have it and will be glad to send it to you entirely free. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 3219 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send it by return mail in a plain envelope. As you will see when you get it, this recipe contains only pure, harmless remedies, but it has great healing and pain-conquering power. It will quickly show its power once you see it, so I think you had better see what it is without delay. I will send you a copy free—you can use it and cure yourself at home.

TIMELY WARNING.

Chestnut Trees Killed by Blight in Centre County. The Chestnut Tree Blight Commission's county representative, Mr. Jacob M. Hoffman with his scouts, have been inspecting the chestnut trees in various parts of the county, and have found several infections recently in the vicinity of Unionville. Previously infections have been found near Howard, Snow Shoe, and Phillipsburg. The Clearfield county men working near the Moshannon Creek, near the boundary between Centre and Clearfield counties, south of Houtzdale, have also found several infections, and in Elk county infections have recently been found in the southern portion of the county. In Huntingdon county, near the Centre county line, there are very extensive and serious infections, of several hundred trees. It is likely that other isolated infections will be found from time to time by Mr. Hoffman and his scouts in various parts of Centre county.

To all owners of chestnut trees, as well as to all public spirited persons interested in the conservation of our forests and water supply, the importance of locating and destroying every infected tree is readily apparent, and cannot be too strongly emphasized. Anyone who will take the time to look over some of the chestnut trees in eastern New York, New Jersey, or eastern New York, will fully appreciate the damage done where the blight has become prevalent, as in many sections all of the chestnut trees are either dead or dying, including fine trees two or three feet in diameter, as well as the smaller trees. Even in Huntingdon county the damage done already is considerable. It is estimated that the total damage done in the eastern part of the United States by the chestnut tree blight since 1905 is in excess of $25,000,000.

Due to countless spores or germs on every tree infected with the blight, the disease spreads very rapidly, being carried from one tree to the other often many miles, by the wind, by birds, squirrels, and insects and it has been working steadily westward. Notwithstanding this, the means taken by the Commission are proving very effective so that with the co-operation of lumbermen and landowners, and all public-spirited persons, the blight can yet be held in check and eventually eradicated.

In addition to the scouting done by the employees of the Commission, the purpose is to interest the public with the characteristics of the disease, and it is earnestly desired that anyone who by careful examination of his own chestnut trees, or in any way, should find trees infected with the blight, that they will immediately notify the county representative Mr. Jacob M. Hoffman. Mr. Hoffman and his men are at present working in the vicinity of Julian, and will continue scouting until eventually all of the county has been inspected.

Chestnut trees are scattered all over Centre county and in many places the trees have become large and valuable for the nuts, for lumber, railroad ties, poles, mine props and ties, posts, tannic acid wood, etc. The necessity of keeping the blight from spreading in this district and westward is readily seen from the above facts, and it is hoped the public will co-operate in every possible way in this worthy purpose.

Anyone desiring to examine disinfectant specimens of the blight, or to receive literature regarding the same, can do so by communicating with county representative Jacob M. Hoffman, at Bellefonte, or at present at Julian, or with Thos. N. Kurtz, district supervisor at Clearfield.

IDENTIFIED BY FINGER PRINTS.

The system of identification by thumb prints which has been in use for a number of years in detective circles in Europe and America, has been modified as a means of protection to depositors in banks, and has been adopted by a number of financial institutions. One of the first of these institutions to adopt this latest factor of safety is the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings, which now uses an improved system of finger-prints for the identification of depositors who cannot write, thus affording to them an individual signature obtainable in no other way. A person who merely "makes his mark" as a signature, with some one else writing the name, runs much risk because he cannot always write, thus depending on any one near at hand. It is easy, also, for some one to impersonate him. Now, however, when making an initial deposit, instead of writing his name on a signature card, or rather "making his mark" he gives the bank an impression of the first three fingers of his right hand, thus providing a record which cannot possibly be imitated by any forger. Years may elapse after a deposit has been made, but the whorls and curves remain the same, and it would be fruitless for anyone else to try to reproduce those marks. Hence his money is safe. The operation of taking the finger prints is simple. A slab is rolled with printers ink. The three fingers are pressed on the slab and then on a card, and the card is filed away for reference. A little gasoline instantly removes the ink from the depositor's fingers, and the transaction is completed.

There was an old woman who lived in a shoe. She had so many children she didn't know what to do. She had so much trouble to keep their clothes clean, Till she got Fels-Naptha, with the wrapper red and green, Now her washing's easy, clothes are cleaner, too, Isn't it a good thing, she found out what to do?

Here's an arithmetic problem that's worth figuring out. How many hours do you spend each week in washing clothes? Multiply the number by 52. Then divide the total into two parts and one of those parts is how much time you would save in a year by using Fels-Naptha Soap. You would likely save more. Most women who use Fels-Naptha Soap do their washing in less than half the time it would take in the old way. And with one-fourth the work. And without any extra expense for fuel because Fels-Naptha Soap cleanses clothes in cool or lukewarm water. No boiling; no scalding; no steaming suds. Summer or Winter. Don't spend more of your life than's necessary in washing clothes. Do them the quicker, better way—the Fels-Naptha way. Just follow directions on the red and green wrapper.

NEW IMPROVED BAGGAGE CHECK. A new baggage check, embodying a number of unique features which are expected to lessen the number of errors and complaints, has just been placed in service by the Pennsylvania Railroad. The duplicate portion of the new check is provided with spaces in which are printed a number of the principal "bad order" conditions in which baggage is frequently received for checking. A check, on being delivered to a passenger, will be perforated to show whether the piece of baggage is a trunk, suit case or valise, fibre case, or tool chest. Another perforation will show the condition in which it was received, whether the bottom, side, top or end is broken, lock or handle broken, hinges loose, old or worn, or whether the piece of baggage is open. In this way the duplicate check will contain a full description of the condition of the baggage when received for shipment. The number on the tag portion of the check is placed at the bottom, while the duplicate portion it is printed on the top, so that the two can be readily matched when making delivery of baggage.

It is expected that with the use of this new form of check the liability of mismatching numbers will be minimized, the delivery of baggage expedited, and the number of claims greatly reduced. The Men Who Succeed as heads of large enterprises are men of great energy. Success, to-day, demands health. To all is to fall. It's utter folly for a man to endure a weak, run-down, half alive condition when Electric Bitters will put him right on his feet in short order. "Four bottles did me more real good than any other medicine I ever took," writes Chas. B. Allen, Sylvania, Ga. "After years of suffering with rheumatism, liver trouble, stomach disorders and deranged kidneys, I am again thanks to Electric Bitters, sound and well." Try them. Only 50 cents at C. M. Parrish, Ph. Your Lungs and Throat. The preparation mentioned by the Rev. Chas. Sager has been for over sixty years of incalculable worth to sufferers from consumption, asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, grippe, coughs, colds and all lung and throat diseases, and is a household remedy in many, many homes to which it has brought health and happiness. Mr. C. A. ABBOTT, August 11, 1905. 60 Ann St., New York City. Dear Sir: I have known for over 40 years of the effects of Wilson's Remedy (Wilson's Preparation of Hypophosphites and Biogettin) in cases of pulmonary troubles. At this point I will say to you what you have not before known of, that 40 years since, while I was a resident of N. Y. City, I was severely ill with lung trouble. Physicians said I was a consumptive and my family physician told my wife that he thought I could not recover. My attention was directed to the Wilson Remedy, which I used with splendid effect. I have been on my feet and at work ever since my cure. Yours truly, REV. CHAS. SAGER, Pastor M. E. Church, Hunter, (Greene Co.) N. Y.
