EDITORIAL.

The American people have come to the conclusion that schoolmasters are not half bad.

Everybody will now be a member of Woodrow Wilson's big school. He will be the only man with the real Big Stick.

Hunting Bull Moose is now out of season. So many were slaughtered on Tuesday that it is feared they will become extinct.

All good citizens will now co-operate with the new president in bringing about some of the needed reforms. Be boosters, not kickers.

When a person thinks over it, there was an awful amount of political rot palmed off on the American people in the past campaign, that was supposed to be argument.

Thousands of officials over the country are mighty thankful just now for the institution of Civil Service in the various departments of the government.

It is to be hoped that Teddy will show that he still is an apostle of the Square Deal by aiding Woodrow Wilson to bring about the progressive measures that both advocated.

After four years of insolent service to the interests and the privileged classes, William H. Taft reaped a reward that he justly deserved.

The troubles of the Democracy will now begin. First will be the mad scramble to reach the "pie counter."

Next the re-actionary element of the party will try to check the efforts of the new president to inaugurate the promised reforms.

The presidential campaign that closed on Tuesday will pass into history as one of the most unique on record.

It also marks an awakening of the public conscience to a new order of things. In the future the man will receive more recognition and the almighty dollar will have to take a rear seat.

Commercialism in government must stand aside while human rights receive more consideration. The people still rule, and the nation will live—there is abundance of hope.

The Democratic party deserves full credit for nominating Woodrow Wilson, and the Democracy of Pennsylvania played a most important part in bringing that about at the famous Baltimore convention.

The people deserve the greater credit for endorsing the nomination of the party. The time now is at hand for all good citizens to give their loyal support as true Americans to the newly elected president.

May peace and prosperity prevail over the land, despite the difference in political creeds and doctrines.

Y. M. C. A. C. Convention. An organizing convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of Centre county, will be held in the lecture room of the Presbyterian church, at Bellefonte, on Saturday morning, November 9, 1912.

Teachers' Monthly Meetings. In several districts the teachers meet monthly to consider professional questions and to confer on the amount and character of the work done, during the month, by the corresponding classes or grades, thus bringing all the schools of the district, as nearly as possible, to work to a common schedule.

It is urged that the teachers of all districts in the county thus organize and meet regularly for the mutual helpfulness and professional interest which such meetings afford.

Certificates, 1913. Examination dates for State, Professional, and Provisional certificates will be announced later. The policy of giving credit for work done in the Teachers' Reading Course will be continued by the Superintendent.

On Wednesday, during Institute, the High School Principals will be addressed by Prof. C. D. Koch, State High School Inspector, and Prof. Thos. I. Maers, of the Department of Agriculture, State College. The meeting will convene in the Grand Jury Room at 10 a. m.

The day instructors are men of note in their several lines, and the evening numbers are especially attractive. Monday evening Albert E. Wigam will lecture on "Dollars and Sense." This lecture is said to be chock full of wit and telling points—a big talk intended to give the week a fine start.

Tuesday evening Dr. Byron W. King will lecture on "Modern Learns and Macbeths." This will be an evening with Shakespeare, by one who knows Shakespeare and knows how to introduce him to others.

All who have ever heard Dr. King will want to hear him again, and if you have never heard him you cannot afford to miss this opportunity to hear a great talk by one of the finest Shakespearean scholars in the country.

Wednesday evening Dr. John M. Driver will deliver his great lecture on "Young America, His Mission." Dr. Driver is considered by many, one of the very best platform orators before the American public, and this is one of his favorite themes.

Dr. Driver lectured before the Clinton County Institute a few days ago, and captivated his audience. Thursday evening, The Weatherwax Brothers, a noted quartette of Iowa, who have been making the big musical hit of the season, will give a concert.

PINE GROVE MILLS. Most of the hunters report poor luck. Mr. and Mrs. Linn Musser were in Bellefonte on Saturday on a shopping expedition.

Miss Maud Rudy flitted last week to the Dale home on Main street. Miss Leoda Decker left Tuesday morning to spend the winter in Altoona.

Geo. Porter spent Sunday at the home of N. O. Neidigh. J. A. Decker has a force of men at work cutting out the breakers on the state road between our town and State College.

Literary exercises will be held in the High school room on Friday evening, Nov. 8. The subject for debate is, "Resolved, that labor unions are a benefit to the working class."

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Lutheran church will hold an autumn fair in the L. O. O. F. hall on the evenings of Nov. 15 and 16.

The Hunting Season Opens. The hunting season opened on November 1st and although the woods are full of hunters we have not heard of any large amount of game being bagged so far.

Turkeys are said to be plenty as well as smaller game. The following is a partial list of the Bellefonte hunters and the game they captured: Milan Walker, one turkey; Charles Smith, one turkey; Milton Kerns, one turkey; Calvin Smith, one turkey; Frank Davis and John McGinley, 4 pheasants and two quail; Edward Robb, two quail; John Nightbart, four rabbits and one pheasant; Charles Barnes and sister, Daisy, two pheasants and two rabbits; Dr. Kilpatrick, five pheasants; James McCulley and Charles Brachbill, each two squirrels; James C. Furst, three pheasants; John Curtin, two pheasants and one rabbit; Dr. H. M. Hillier and party three pheasants and five rabbits; Joe Thall and Charles Moersbacher, six rabbits.

Sunday Services. Preaching and sacramental services on the Pleasant Gap charge next Sunday as follows: Pleasant Gap—Love feast at 9:30, preaching at 10:30, followed by Holy Communion. Coleville—Preaching and Holy Communion at 1:30. Weaver—Preaching and Holy Communion at 2:30. Axemann—Love feast at 7 o'clock, preaching at 7:30, followed with Holy Communion. All are cordially invited to attend these services.

It is better to beg for bread in this life than to cry for water in the next. Nothing pleases a woman more than to have a man coax her to do something which she really wants to do.

The famous old "Black Barn" farm, located along the turnpike near Axe Mann has been sold by Edmund Hayes to Thomas Jodon, of Pleasant Gap. The price he paid was $57,50 per acre.

It is indeed remarkable what reports are circulated relative to certain individuals. For instance, it is now circulated that when they sing the Long Meter Dohology in John D. Rockefeller's church those holding a pew near him always notice that the old gentleman sings it "Praise God from whom oil blessings flow."

TO PIANO CONTESTANTS. We are unable to show the standing of the contestants in the Piano Contest at Gilliam's store this week, for the reason that it failed to reach us. Watch for it in next week's issue.

UNIONVILLE. Mont. Musser, of Duquesne, Pa., who has been in the employ of the Carnegie Steel Works for many years, has recently been elevated to the superintendency of the plant. Mont. is spending a week at his old home here visiting friends, hunting wild turkeys—mind you I said "hunting"—and to take in the election, and with him came a handsome, prepossessing young man of hometown, who answers to the name—Clifford H. Shoop.

Harry Musser has beautified his residence by giving it several coats of paint. Mr. A. T. Rowan was laid up several days with a severe attack of lumbago. He is better, we're glad to say.

And now its "Squire Earon," W. H. Earon was recently appointed Justice of the peace to fill a vacancy of long standing. "Squire Earon" sounds "good."

Roy Adams, son of our good friend Robt. Adams, of Union township, met with a serious accident on the railroad a few days ago which necessitated the amputation of his foot just above the ankle. We failed to get full particulars.

Clayton Stover and his father-in-law, Richard Atheron, of DuBois, came in from that mountain village for a few days hunt at the opening of the season. Success not reported. Mrs. Julia L. Bell, of West Clearfield, is a pleasant visitor among friends in this town. She expects to spend a month visiting Centre county friends. She left her little boy, Johnnie, at home to keep house during her absence.

Lewis E. Biddle, one of P. J. McDonnell's track hands, slipped away and was quietly married to Miss Pearl Musser, of Zion. On his arrival home he was accorded the usual welcome greeting by the calathumpians. Well done, Lewis, here's our

The Ladies' Aid realized about $18 from their oyster supper on election day. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Taylor, of Altoona, are enjoying the welcome hospitality of Mrs. Taylor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Peters. At the same home is also, the prettiest and most charming young lass of Altoona. Her name, until she was married, is Eleanor Hoover, daughter of the late Willis Hoover, and is a grand daughter of Landford Peters.

The joke is on Sam. Holt. The other morning before old Sol had illuminated the horizon, Sammy struck out over the hill back of Mrs. Peters' residence to pick "off" a few stray rabbits that might be incidentally perambulating over the hills.

He hadn't got out of the borough limits till he espied a fine fat bunnie coughing in the grass. Bang! went his old carbine. With visions of a big dish of rabbit potpie, he went to get his prize when he and behold! he found he had shot Mrs. David Keatley's valuable maltese cat. Suffice to say, there was no bunnie potpie at the Holt home that day.

Among those who were fortunate in securing a wild turkey on the first day of the season are the following: John Askin, 1 turkey, 3 rabbits 2 grey squirrels; John Woilsalage, Boyd Stere, George Stere, Sam. Holt, W. H. Barton, Boyd Lucas, Joseph Spick, John Resides, Ed. Hall, Charley Brusa, Clarence Conkling, Floyd Sanderson, Elwood Way and Lloyd Spotts, each got one turkey, 14 in all. Joe Spotts got one on the second day. Besides these quite a number of turkeys and small-er game was shot by persons from a distance. Doc. Van Valin got "skunked."

Harry Lindemuth and Joe Resides very nearly had a fatal auto accident. They started down the road towards Bellefonte on Lindy's auto and on going down Fisher's hill his breaks wouldn't work and just opposite Fisher's barn the measly thing turned turtle, throwing both the occupants out on the road, but fortunately neither one was seriously injured. Lindy had a few scratches and cuts but I think they will heal nicely before the next presidential election.

Andy Rowan killed a fine large grey fox on turkey day, but it was a poor substitute for turkey roast. Mr. and Mrs. Elias Dunkle, of Pittsburg, have moved to Unionville and are domiciled in a part of Joe Reside's residence. Mrs. Alice Bosworth and pretty little daughter, Loraine, of Buffalo, are visitors at the home of Mrs. Bosworth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Buck.

HUUBLERSBURG. Some of the hunters of this vicinity were out Friday and Saturday and reported good results. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Williams, of Kryders Siding, visited the latter's mother in this place last Sunday. Frank Carner and Jacob Dietz, of Altoona, and L. H. McCauley, of Lewistown, visited their homes in this place over Sunday. Mrs. Calvin Hoy and children, of Yeagertown, visited her parents here over Sunday. A social was held at the Evangelical church in Jacksonsville, Saturday evening, Nov. 9th. The masquerade party at the home of J. H. Beck was well attended. Mrs. Elizabeth Bartholomew returned from a visit with friends in Centre Hall. Mrs. Elizabeth Bitner, of Mill Hall, and W. O. Hubler, of Centre Hall, were visitors at Hotel Hubler last week. Ward Markle, who is a senior at State College, was home to cast his vote for president. Ezra Rathmell, Edmund Baird and Clair King, of Island, visited the former's home last week and spent a day out hunting. Lew Swartz, who is attending State College, visited his home over Sunday. Mrs. G. F. Hoy is visiting friends in Lock Haven. Miss Grace Beck left for Pittsburg on Saturday. Mrs. S. S. McCormick and Mrs. D. H. McCauley visited friends in Howard last week. Dr. S. S. McCormick returned home from State College Friday. Mrs. Susan Dannelly, of State College, returned to her home after spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. S. S. McCormick. The Halloween party given at the home of F. W. Dunkle was well attended. After a midnight supper they all departed for their homes. MILESBURG. Mrs. Joe Thomas and Elizabeth Fisher were Sunday visitors at Adam Fisher's, of this place. Methodist—Rev. Ash preached an excellent sermon on last Sunday evening. Next Sunday they will hold their third quarterly communion service at 10:30, and an old fashioned love feast; Ephworth League at 6:30 p. m. Presbyterian—Rev. Wilks preached a very interesting sermon last Sunday evening on temperance. Arthur Grover, from Galeton, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wagner last week. He returned home on Sunday.

WOODWARD. The members of the Woodward Gun Club are busily engaged erecting their new cabin on the timber tract that was purchased from N. W. Ely along the old turnpike in the narrows, about 3 miles east of this place.

Clayton Vonada reported the first wild turkey killed in this community, having shot a nice gobbler on Saturday afternoon. A number of pheasants, rabbits and grey squirrels were also killed on Friday and Saturday.

Miss Minnie Grenoble, of Bellefonte, visited her parents at this place during last week. The public schools will all be closed during next week on account of the Teachers' Institute.

C. E. Kreamer, a student of Pierce's Business College at Philadelphia, is spending a short time with his father at this place. Anyone wishing to help the members of the United Evangelical Sunday school of Bellefonte to secure the piano to be given away in the Piano contest by the Centre Democrat can do so by cutting out the coupon which entitles them to 100 votes and presenting same to L. D. Orndorf's store not later than Saturday night of each week.

Communion services will be held in the Evangelical church at this place on Sunday morning by the Presiding Elder, Rev. T. L. Wentz.

Pianos Tuned and Repaired. J. J. Lafae, expert piano tuner and repairer from Erie, Pa., will arrive on about November 25th, 1912. Orders left at Beezer's Meat Market or Brockert's Store will receive prompt attention. x45
