Funeral services were held Friday forenoon and interment was made in St. Paul cemetery.

Surviving are two sons and two daughters, namely: Allen Miller, of Mill Hall; William Miller, of Lewistown; Mrs. Frank Mitchell, of Flemington, and Mrs. Joseph Hollingsworth, of Mill Hall. She also leaves six brothers and sisters and a number of grandchildren. The body was taken to Spring Mills for burial in the Georges Valley cemetery, services having been held in the Lutheran church.

McELHATTAN.—William McElhattan, a well known and long time resident of Bellefonte, died at his home on Beaver street, Wednesday morning of last week, aged about 76 years. He had been a sufferer from asthma for a number of years, and of late had been in failing health due to an ailment breaking down of the system. Born at Lemont, he spent practically his entire life in Centre county. He headed the call of his country at the outbreak of the Civil War, and enlisted in Company G, 49th Regt., P. V. L., later being transferred to Company G, 133rd Cavalry. At the close of the war he returned to Bellefonte, and for many years was employed at the Crider planing mill and with McCalmont & Co. in their time quarries. He was a member of St. Johns Episcopal church, and of the Cress Post No. 95, G. A. R. His wife, formerly Miss Emma Wagner, survives, together with the following children: George and Mrs. John L. Knisely, of Bellefonte; Mrs. William Watson, of Brookline, N. Y.; Joseph, of Pittsburgh; Edward, of Chicago; Ollie DeVictor, of Lock Haven, and William at home. The funeral was held on Friday afternoon, services being conducted by Rev. John Hewitt.

McLAUGHLIN.—Died in Boggs township, Centre county, Pa., on the morning of Nov. 4th, 1912, from derangement of the stomach: Charles Alexander McLaughlin, aged 72 years, 1 month and 21 days. He was born in Union township, Sept. 13, 1840, about one mile from where he resided at the day of his death. In his early life he was employed by the firm of Jas. L. Somerville & Co., as a tanner and later as foreman in the mining industry, altogether for a period of 45 years, retiring from active service about 3 years ago, since which time he resided with his daughter Bessie and family, at his home at Snow Shoe Inter-section; becoming suddenly ill on the 20th ult., he suffered intensely till the day he died. His funeral took place on the 4th inst., conducted by Revs. Zeigler and Winey, the latter of whom also acted as chaplain of the I. O. O. F. of which order deceased had been a member since A. D. 1870. He was an industrious, peaceable citizen, honest and upright in all his dealings; a good neighbor and a kind husband and father, providing well for his household. He married Ellen S. Taylor, June 4, 1867, who died Dec. 24, 1903; four daughters and one son are his immediate survivors, viz.—Mrs. Mary E. McKee, of Swissvale, Pa.; Mrs. Martha Ethel Murray and Mrs. Bessie Smith, of S. S. Mt., Pa.; Mrs. Susan A. Fisher, of Clinton, Iowa, with their families and Ralph Maxwell at home. Deceased had enlisted in the army during our late Civil War, and served 18 months in Comp. E, 5th Regt. Penna. Reserv. Corps, and afterwards re-enlisted Nov. 29, 1862 in Battery C, 5th Regt., U. S. Artillery, for three years which time he served in full, being discharged at Fortress Monroe, Nov. 29, 1865. The lodge of Odd Fellows to which he belonged, contributed largely to the last sad rites—in twelve of its members being present, in a handsome floral token, acting as pall-bearers as leaders in music and the commitment of the remains, in the presence of a large, sympathizing gathering of neighbors and acquaintances. His children and children-in-law did all in their power to render him comfortable during his illness, showing all the attachment and devotion, that could be asked of any. He professed faith in Christ. May he rest in peace.

News to Autoists.

Application blanks for automobile licenses, for next year, have been received in Bellefonte. Several changes have been made on the blank. One is that the year the machine was built must be stated. The most important change affects the reporting of the horse-power of the machine. The cost of a license is based on the horse-power of the car and in past years the owner simply stated the power of his automobile and that settled it. Many owners throughout the state have given their car a low rating in order to reduce the cost of the license. To eliminate this the new blank requires the diameter of the bore and the number of cylinders, and the authorities can then determine the horse-power of the engine by the following formula: Bore of cylinder squared, multiplied by number of cylinders, divided by 2.5, equals the power of the engine.

Standard Barrel For Apples.

After next July a standard barrel for apples must be twenty-six inches between the heads, sixty-four inches in circumference, outside measurement round the middle, and the heads must be seventeen and one-eighth inches in diameter, in accordance with a recent act of Congress, such a barrel, if the apples in it are hand-picked and free from blemishes, may be labeled "Standard." But a fine of one dollar and costs will be exacted for every barrel that is marked "Standard" and does not conform to the requirements. The law was passed at the urgent solicitation of those who believe that a purchaser has a right to know what he is getting when he buys a barrel of apples.

$10 to Conscience Fund.

The following has been sent out from the Treasury department at Harrisburg as a news item, without explanation as to who the author may be: "A Centre County man who owns $2500 worth of bonds upon which no State tax was paid, sent a $10 bill to the State Treasury Friday and asked that the money be placed in the conscience fund. He said that he had made no statement regarding the bonds he held, and signed the sheet of paper to which the bills were affixed with a pin "Owner."

The man in the moon must feel uncomfortable, for everybody knows before hand just when he's going to get full.

TRAGEDY AT WILLIAMSPORT.

Married Man Shoots Girl With Whom He Was Infatuated. Grace Stidfole, a young Newberry girl, was shot and fatally wounded on Friday morning last, by John Erble, a steel worker, who had been paying her attention. The tragedy occurred in a house of unsavory repute at Williamsport, the particulars of which are as follows: John Erble and Grace Stidfole have been lovers for several years, regardless of the fact that Erble has a wife and two children living in Syracuse, N. Y. They had spent the night at a house on East Canal street, Williamsport, and it was about 8:30 o'clock Friday morning when they started for the house kept by Mame Irvin, where Miss Stidfole was an inmate. As they walked up the railroad track they were noticed by some workmen to be quarreling. They passed around to the rear of the Irvin house, and not being able to gain admittance, went to the front door. The only eyewitness of the shooting was Mrs. Annie Klump, whose residence is an extension of the Irvin house. She did not see the first shot fired, but being at work in the kitchen, heard it. Before the second shot was fired, the door of the kitchen was thrust open and Grace Stidfole, bleeding from a wound in her breast, burst into the room and like a hunted thing sought refuge in its far corner. Erble entered after her, with his smoking revolver still leveled, and without a word of reply to the plea of the girl for mercy, shot her again as she staggered through the door. To Mrs. Klump he paid no attention. Mrs. Klump says Erble's face was white and drawn and there was a glare in his eyes. Otherwise he appeared perfectly cool, not even evidencing any excitement when the girl lay moaning in the canal bed. When she burst into the kitchen the Stidfole girl cried out that she was shot and pleaded for aid from Mrs. Klump. Mrs. Klump is an old lady and before she realized what was happening the second shot had been fired and the gunman was sauntering down the tracks with never a backward glance. Erble was captured a short time later and lodged in jail. Miss Stidfole, the victim of his passion, is in the Williamsport hospital, in a critical condition.

LEMONT.

Green Grove Oak family enjoyed a visit of a few days among friends in and around town this last week. Things are booming in town now and everyone wishing to work need not be idle, as the state wishes hands to work at 20c per hour, and Mr. Martin is paying 17 1/2c per hour; besides the work among the farmers at good wages. Herman Baird circulated among old friends a week or so recently. Cyrus Solt, of Bellefonte, was seen in town last Wednesday. The teachers are all spending this week in Bellefonte attending institute and it is hoped that they will gain much useful knowledge from the instruction given them. So far the hunters have bagged two fine turkeys this season, but other game seems scarce. Corn is selling at 60c per bushel here in town, but the quality is the best. The farmers along the branch formed a company and purchased a large corn husker and intend doing their own husking at the rate of 900 to 1000 bushels per day. The farmers will soon be through with their fall work. The wheat looks fair to good.

The affair was planned while Miss Dale was spending a week with friends in State College and the Branch. David F. He is said to have withstood the ordeal remarkably well, but the physicians were somewhat alarmed owing to his general weakened condition. Specimens of native fruit as well as exhibits from the northwest will be shown. Paul Musser, the Millheim young man who is rapidly gaining an enviable reputation as a base ball pitcher, is visiting at his home in Millheim. The young man has been playing with the Washington club during the past season, and the last several weeks he spent in Los Angeles, California. While crossing Nittany Mountain on his motor cycle the latter part of last week Clayton Homan discovered a flock of wild turkeys lounging on the side of the old picnic grounds. They stayed right to the ground until he got within easy gun shot range, but he was not prepared for such a lucky find.—Reporter. Engineer John Chronister went to Hannah Furnace on Wednesday and while he was waiting for daylight, he sat down and in a few moments was fast asleep. When he awoke a nice fat turkey was standing near by. Bang! went the gun, and Mr. Barker dropped. The bird tipped the scales at 14 1/2 pounds.—Tyrone Herald. One of the biggest prices paid in the transfer of a farm property in Central Pennsylvania in some years was turned over by James H. Neese, his son, John W. Neese, and Robert Treasurer, of the large Crider farm, near Eagleville. The land was purchased from F. W. Crider at the sum of $27,000. The farm comprises 400 acres and is one of the finest in this section of the state. It is the intention of the new owners to divide it into three parts and each one farm a portion separately. M. B. Williams, one of Tyrone's esteemed young citizens, celebrated his twenty-fifth birthday anniversary on Friday last in an enjoyable manner. His wife planned a surprise party for

What has become of the dirt? That's the first question you ask when you rinse out the clothes after they've been soaped with Fels-Naptha and soaked in cool or lukewarm water. The clothes are white and clean. The dirt's gone. What became of it? Here's the answer. Fels-Naptha Soap acts on dirt like water does sugar; dissolves it; separates it into tiny particles that are carried away by the rinsing water. Fels-Naptha Soap takes the place of boiling. Makes the clothes whiter and cleaner without it. Dirt doesn't need to be rubbed out when it's dissolved. Do you wonder that women who use Fels-Naptha Soap in Winter or Summer are able to do their washing in one-half the time with one-fourth the work required by the old way? When you try it yourself, follow directions printed on the red and green wrapper.

"PENNSYLVANIA DAY."

Will Be Observed at State College, on November 22nd. Pennsylvania Day has become an important occasion at The Pennsylvania State College, second only to Commencement. It brings together from all parts of the state persons interested in public affairs who want to visit their state college and to inquire intelligently into its work and its needs. Many members-elect of the Senate and House take advantage of this opportunity of examining the institution. Similar celebrations in privately endowed colleges and universities are known as "Founder's Day," in honor of the founder of the institution. Friday, November 22, 1912, has been set aside as the date for the celebration this year. The exercises of the day will consist of the dedication of the new Mechanic Arts building; an address by Hon John C. Bell, Attorney-General of Pennsylvania, who will be introduced by Governor John K. Tener; a review of the regiment of 1200 college cadets by Major General Thomas J. Stewart, Adjutant General of the National Guard of Pennsylvania; an inspection of the buildings, laboratories, shops and campus; and a game of football between the teams of the Sophomore and Freshman classes. By this varied program it is hoped to give visitors a glimpse of the life of the nineteen hundred students now enjoying the benefits of an education provided largely by the munificence of the state. Special provision will be made to care for representatives of the press, if notification of arrival is sent in advance.
