Gov. Wilson will not have smooth sailing after March 4th. The fight is on as to whether the progressive or the re-actionary forces in the party shall be in control of the next congress and senate. By virtue of seniority certain Democratic members who are re-actionaries hope to gain control. Brysupport of the new president. It means fight to a finish.

The coming meeting of the next legislature, January 7th, has aroused more than the usual interest. Penrose is making a desperate effort to about him; encouraged by the Roosevelt sweep in Pennsylvania last fall, Flinn and his Bull Moose aggregation fondly hope to name the next speaker, fill up the committees, and dictate 24th. the legislation and appropriations. Neither of these elements have a majority and the democrats hold the balance of power. For that reason the outcome is uncertain and is attracting more than usual attention. Where Hon. C. L. Gramley, of Centre county, will stand at the critical moment remains to be seen. We also are anxious to see where he will be when liquor legislation comes up-as that is Interment was made on the 15th. his time for disappearing.

MAY STAND BY WILSON.

"If Wilson tries to serve interests of the people, I'm going to support him," declared Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, to a teachers' convention at Indianapolis, which "heckled"

senator until shortly after midnight. "I am confident the other progressive Republicans will stand with me. When the strain comes, when the rectionary Democrats try to block Wilson's efforts, if Wilson breaks down or yields, or compromises, I, for one, and the pro-gressive Republicans will aid, will turn and hammer him into the ground." Some one shouted three cheers for Bryan.

La Follette said Indiana was not pro-gressive until it could run its own leg-islature, hinting broadly at Democratic Boss Tom Taggart's control.

"Democratic Success."

Congressman J. Thomas Heflin, of the Fifth Alabama district, will be the principal speaker at the Jackson day banquet of the Young Men's Democratic club to be held at the Park hotel, Williamsport, the night of January 8, according to a telegram to the committee on speakers, from Congressman William B. Wilson. Mr. Heffin is widely known as a political orator who spoke in Bellefonte during the campaign. His subject is
