HOWARD.

Whichever way
The wind doth blow,
Some heart is glad
To have it so;
Then blow it east,
Or blow it west,
The wind that blows,
That wind is best.

In Our Churches Next Sabbath.

United Evangelical—Pastor M. J. Snyder will preach in Howard at half past ten, and at Jacksonville at half past seven.

Presbyterian—Pastor W. F. Carson will preach at Jacksonville at half past ten, and in Howard at half past seven.

Methodist Episcopal—Pastor James Edwin Dunning will preach at Curtin at half past ten, at Kennedy at half past two, and in Howard at half past seven.

Reformed—Pastor E. H. Zechman will preach at Mt. Bethel at half past ten, and at Salona at half past two.

Special Services.

The series of Evangelistic meetings inaugurated last (Wednesday) evening in the Methodist Episcopal church will be continued throughout the coming week, the minister, the Reverend James Edwin Dunning, preaching each evening except Saturday. The following themes are announced for next week: Sunday, "Weighed and Found Wanting." Monday, "Steps to Salvation." Tuesday, "Human Driftwood." Wednesday, "The Fate of a Fool." Thursday, "The Sin of Unbelief." Friday, "A Wise Resolve." The Reverend M. J. Snyder will preach this (Thursday) evening. Service begins each evening promptly at 7:30 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to the people of the community to attend these services.

"The general offices of the Emporium Lumber Company will be removed from Monday Summit, where they have been for 15 years, to Utica, N. Y., in the vicinity of which the company has secured large tracts of hardwood timber and has many years of business in sight. William Callesich is the general manager and W. T. Turner, secretary-treasurer of the company."

The Mr. Turner referred to in the above item, clipped from the news column of Sunday's Philadelphia Record, is "our Will," born and raised on a hill farm in the township, where he learned the lessons of industry and endurance, and acquired the sterling qualities of character which have made him the successful, prosperous man he now is. He is a brother of Miss Martha and John Turner, now among the good citizens of our borough.

Miss Lulu Johnson was a Bellefonte visitor Tuesday.

Mrs. Ward Schenck was a Lock Haven visitor on Wednesday.

Miss Marge Hooker, of Tyrone, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick.

Clarence Daley, of Tyrone, was a home visitor, Saturday and Sunday.

Harry Wetzel, now of Lock Haven, spent an hour or two at home Sunday.

Mrs. J. D. Giedhill looked after business matters in Bellefonte Wednesday.

Mrs. J. Williams, of W. Va., is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. August Johnson.

George Fletcher left his school work at Williamsport for a day or two at home last week.

Mrs. John G. Love, of Bellefonte, spent a few hours of last Wednesday with her relatives here.

Mrs. Lester Bowes, with her pretty little daughter Kathleen, paid a week end visit to her friends here.

Mrs. George M. Robb, of Altoona, spent Saturday with her parents, Squire and Mrs. S. F. Kline.

John M. Meyers has moved to Avis where he expects to take employment on the N. Y. Central railroad.

Miss Mollie Daughenbaugh and Mrs. Lincoln Crook were eastward bound passengers on No. 52 Saturday.

Mrs. Townsend, of Berwick, was a guest at the L. H. Neff home Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

Miss Reble Calhoun, of Unionville, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Bulkey several days of last week.

Harry Williams and son, and "Mac" Williams and wife, of Altoona, were Sunday guests of the Isaac R. Williams family.

Mrs. Bart, of Maple street, is enjoying a visit from her father, Mr. A. J. Klare, and her sister, Mrs. Wynne, of Phillipsburg.

Mrs. W. I. Harvey and brother, Oscar Lucas, with their niece, Miss Rebecca, were business travelers to Bellefonte Saturday.

Joseph Leder spent a day or two at the Pennsylvania State College last week and is enthusiastic over the fine farm stock he saw there.

The pupils of our High School are arranging for a reception to their parents and friends and the directors, in the evening of Friday, February 21st.

John J. Maggs, of the engineer corps which has been so largely in evidence during the past few months, and who had his family here with him, has moved to Mill Hill.

Daniel W. Hall, one of "Domino's" good neighbors, came down Wednesday to call upon his many friends here. He was greatly interested in the railroad improvements.

Eugene Willard Cornwell, of Northumberland, who is taking an engineering course at Cornell, took advantage of the short interval between terms to visit his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. Kline.

E. P. Stewart, of Altoona, who made many friends during his few weeks residence here last summer as a clerk for the contractors Anderson, is temporarily among us again, assisting in closing up the affairs of the contract.

George L. Williams who is devoting his energies to helping the Curtis Publishing Company increase the circulation of the Ladies Home Journal, Saturday Evening Post and Country Gentleman, spent Sunday here with his family.

About twenty or twenty-five of the laborers who have been working on the railroad improvements here, moved to Bellefonte Saturday, where they have found work in the three stone quarries until the Anderson's start on one or the other of their new contracts when they will again take up their favorite work of railroad building.

Mrs. Lydia McKinney, born Lydia Butler, and relict of James McKinney, a well known former resident of Howard, died in Danville last Thursday, at an extreme old age, and was buried in Lock Haven, Saturday afternoon. John Butler, of Nittany, and Mr. and Mrs. Burdine Butler, and Mrs. William Rossman, of Howard were present at the funeral.

Friday, February 28th, will be "corn day" at the Pennsylvania State College, and there are very few corn growers in the state who might not get valuable hints and helps by being present at that meeting. Just at that time most good farmers are carefully arranging their plans for next season's work and the corn crop will be uppermost in their thoughts and plans. It is to be wished that every farmer in Howard and adjoining townships, who wants to improve his corn production should arrange to attend that meeting.

A rather slight, delicate woman, leading by a chain, what at first looked like a small lion, attracted the attention of those at the railroad station as she stepped from No. 52 Saturday afternoon. The lion proved to be a tawny dog of the Great Dane breed, and his mistress Miss Mary Kane, one of our efficient Howard women, whose home is now in Philadelphia. The dog is but eleven months old, thin in flesh and weighs one hundred and fifty pounds, and is intended as a present for his mistress' sister, Miss Annie Kane.

The groundhog began business in a half hearted sort of way on the day after his appearance and has been keeping it up fairly well. While the weather has not been severely cold, reasonable weather has been the vogue for ten days, the first of the winter. The ground is frozen hard enough to make good roads, and with a little more snow sleighing would be possible. The first load of ice noticed passing through our streets and sidewalks, the thickness averaging about six inches. The pool of the dam in the creek is frozen hard enough for good skating and our youngsters are enjoying it to the full. Though it is some six weeks behind time, winter weather is fairly here.

Miss Sarah Ella Hall passed into the beyond at seven o'clock Sunday morning. Miss Hall was the third of the four daughters of Joseph B. and Sarah Hall, and was born May 10, 1851 in the house about three miles east of town, now occupied by Barney Corder.

In early girlhood she entered the M. E. church at Hunter's Run, and in the days before the present neat building was erected, and the services were held in the school house, and during all her subsequent life has been a faithful attendant upon all its ordinances, a consistent follower of its teachings and an earnest worker in its interests. For some months her health has failed, and six weeks ago she took her bed and slowly, peacefully, quietly, slipped away "across the bar," sure of meeting her pilot there. For some eight or ten years she was a successful teacher in the public schools, and for several of the last years of her life was the assistant of her brother Wilbur F. Hall in the duties of the post office. The funeral service took place at her late home, Tuesday afternoon, conducted by her pastor, Rev. James Edwin Dunning, and interment was made in Schenck cemetery. The family, consisting now of three sisters, Miss Susan, Mrs. Rudolph Fletcher, Mrs. Theophilus Fletcher and one brother, William F., desire to tender their deepest appreciation of the sympathy and attention of friends and neighbors during their time of trial.

VALLEY VIEW.

It was a grand surprise on Monday evening, February 3rd, about 8 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. James Kelly were engaged in family talk and, as the door opened they saw the mob outside. The crowd went in and asked James and Lula to take a back seat. The neighbors and friends took possession. All the fun and so many plays, anyone going by would have thought it was Fourth of July. 12 o'clock all were invited to the dining room where Mrs. Kelly and others had a sumptuous meal prepared. The following named persons were present: Mr. and Mrs. Roland Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Heckman, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Garbrick, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Garbrick, Mrs. Foster House, Mrs. Samuel Miller and daughter Louise, Mrs. Clara Robb, Mrs. Jessie Stover, Mrs. Morsell Robb, Mrs. Samuel Justice, Mrs. Sallie Eminhizer and daughter, Willard Eminhizer, Mrs. Wm. Cox, Barry Stover, Guy House, Mrs. Ammon Gramley, Miss Fernice Reed, Miss Carry Temple, Miss Mabel Daughenbaugh, Miss Helen Poorman, Frye sisters, Harry Haber, Harry Poorman, Clair Loose and Herb McClellan. At early dawn they all returned to their homes, all having a good time, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Kelly many such gatherings.

Ernest Corman's little boy Bruce is at present very ill with pneumonia.

We have some people in our community who, if they would attend to their own business, would have enough to keep them busy.

My friend, Scribe No. 2, says he has a fox in the hole and when he comes out he will be in a trap. Good for you, Pall, wish you good luck.

The funeral of Mr. Sennett, who was buried from the home of Edward Reesner on last Saturday morning, was largely attended.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. John Kelly's health is not improving.

Archie says the cold weather last week was just right; but he says "rough dawn the ground hog, anyway."

Pinex is drunk in our town because everybody has a cold.

George Rider is at present housed up on account of grip.

Foster House has returned to his work after being ill with the grip.

Our school teacher, Mrs. Dr. Swope, is having an entertainment on Friday afternoon, February 21st, in memory of George Washington's birthday. Everybody is invited.

George Eckley went to work again. Paul Eckley has gone to work again after nursing a smashed finger for a few weeks.

SENNETT:—Michael Sennett died February 5th, at 7:20 p. m., at his late residence on the Burns side farm in Benner township. He was an old soldier and member of the Post were pallbearers. He was a member of the Runville U. B. church and was 72 years, 8 months and 6 days old. The deceased had been blind for seven long years. He is survived by a widow whose maiden name was Catherine Reesner, also two sons and one daughter as follows: Charles J., at Chicago, Ill.; Martin M., at school, at Scotland, Pa.; Azalea, at home. The remains were laid to rest in the Advent cemetery on the Divide.

HOWARD, No. 2.

Bert Morget and Paul Shaffner, of Orviston, were pleasant callers at the home of John Mann's on Sunday.

John Mann was an Orviston caller on Monday.

Miss Bessie Walker, of Beech Creek, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Harry Long, of this place.

John Daley, of Mahaffey, called at the home of Mrs. Mary J. Daley on Saturday.

Master John Gray, who has been suffering with severe sore mouth, is slowly improving.

UNIONVILLE.

There will be quite a number of changes in residences in this town in the spring. A complete "schedule" given later.

Our sick people, so far as I can learn, are all improving.

Now I've got you sure. Listen! The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church will give a chicken and waffle supper in the New Grange Hall on Friday evening and Saturday evening, February 21st and 22nd and will have on sale many useful articles together with cakes and ice cream. Oh! Yum! Yum! do not miss it. The Hall has been enlarged to twice its former size and is an ideal place for a big feast. The price of the "big fill" will be announced next week, and will be cheap.

Say, does any of the readers of the Centre Democrat want to buy a dandy second hand range? As good as new—not been in use long—will be sold cheap. I'll tell you, but don't give me away. Daniel Hall has one for sale. See him about it, but don't tell him that I told you.

See the "Eye Glasses and Co-operative buying" ad in the penny a word column. Mr. Peters is a specialist in fitting eye glasses. As an evidence of his skill, he has fitted a man with glasses here, here are a few of the many prominent people whose eyes he tested and fitted with glasses while plying his profession in Washington city: Four secretaries of Chinese Legation, the late Prof. Langley, Mrs. Fresham, Senators Cameron and moving in Mrs. John A. Logan, Claus Spreckles, Hon. John A. Logan, Mr. Singler, editor of the Record and many navy and army men, and congressmen.

Elery Spotts, in dressing a sled sole with a very sharp axe, very severely cut his foot severing the leaders on the top of his foot and it may cause him to be a cripple for life.

That smiling, popular preacher, the Rev. Dr. M. Piper and wife, of Huntingdon, recently passed through our town on the morning train, their destination being Milesburg here, where he is now residing in the winter. Just one mistake, brother, you should have moved to Unionville.

Charley Griest, a former Unionvillian, but now a prosperous merchant of Barnabro, spent Sunday at his old home.

Henry Spotts who lives at Troy, Pa. and is employed somewhere in this vicinity and whose wife had been visiting at her home here, became so dependent and homesick, after his wife left for their home, that he lost his appetite and struck for Troy, where he soon regained his appetite and former vivacity after rejoining his better half.

G. D. Morrison, a "branch" of the Penna. R. R. at Altoona, is home on a prolonged visit for the purpose of recuperating his wasted energies. "Derb" is soon expected under the weather. During that big storm that occurred a couple weeks ago, 45 large trees in a strip of woods on Mrs. Alice Alexander's farm, were blown down.

We would very earnestly and respectfully request each of the following young ladies and gentlemen to contribute one item for publication in next week's list of Unionville items, to be handed to me not later than Monday the 17th, as follows: Misses Ruth Parsons, Margaret McDonnell, Margaret, Eckenroth, Ruth Summers, Margaret Brugger, Mary Lansberry, Hannah Holt, Millie Kerchner, Beatrice Stere, Mammie Smoke, Jennie Parsons, Boyd Irwin, Paul Clancy, Harry McElwain, Herman Fisher, Clarence Barton, Raymond Smoke, Irvin Holt, Laird Morrison, James McDonnell and Hassell Stere.

Now listen, boys and girls, I propose to publish them verbatim et literatim, so see to it that your spelling, grammatical construction of sentences, punctuation and capitalization are as near faultless as possible. Write on any subject that may appeal to you—News items, dippy dills, pokes on your friends or whatever. Now this will do you good. Do not disappoint me. The whole world will be looking forward with pleasing anticipations of this great feast of items. Any other young folks whom I may have overlooked may consider themselves in the list of contributors. Do not make your items too long. Use your own judgment. Now keep a thinkin'.

The greatest, biggest, gumboot party that ever grew in this section of this mundane sphere, will be "pulled off" at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Holt on next Friday night, February 14th. It is in honor of the 19th anniversary of their eldest son Irvin Holt's birthday. There will be at least half a hundred hungry people there, but you can betcher last cent they won't be hungry when they leave.

MOSHANNON.

Milford Yaudes, who has been on the sick list for a few months, is not much improved.

On Saturday evening there was quite a little gathering at the home of Roland Bartsch, at Gordon and had a nice little time. They were from Moshannon and other places.

Jennie Walker has returned home to Frog Hollow, after spending a couple of weeks at Axeman and Pleasant Gap with friends.

Simon Walker, of Snow Shoe, who has been sick a long time, has improved very much. He was visiting at his friends, A. J. Walker's, of Frog Hollow on Monday afternoon.

KATZ & COMPANY

A Wise Western Merchant

used to say "I would rather see a woman go out of my store empty handed, but smiling, than to see her leave with a purchase in her hands, but a frown on her face."

You see, that man had learned that in the long run it's satisfaction that counts, and not the immediate sale.

We aim to, and hope we will, always be able to meet your wants when you come to us. But, if in any particular we cannot suit you, we'd prefer to keep our merchandise and retain your good will.

Please feel free to tell us frankly whenever we fail, and to bring back any unsatisfactory purchase. Your money will be returned gladly, and with all possible dispatch.
