Digestibility of Food Made with different Baking Powders From a Series of Elaborate Chemical Tests:

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powdercream of tartar, phosphate, and alum-and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

The relative percentage of the food digested is shown as follows:

673/4 Per Cent. Digested

These tests, which are absolutely reliable and unprejudiced, make plain a fact of great importance to everyone: Food raised with Royal, a cream of tartar Baking Powder, is shown to be entirely digestible, while the alum and phosphate powders are found to largely retard the digestion of the food made from them.

Undigested food is not only wasted food, but it is the source of very many bodily ailments.

HAINES :- The many friends of David C. Haines were grieved to learn of his sudden demise on Sunday night at 9:50, at his home in Beaver & Hoy row, at this place. Mr. Haines was on the streets in apparently his usual health on Saturday, and gave no evi-dence of illness until Sunday when he was seized with an attack of acute in-digestion from which he was unable to rally. Mr. Haines was a familiar figure in Bellefonte for the past 37 years, having come here in 1876 to work at his trade as forgeman for the Valentine Iron Company. During the greater period of his residence in Bellefonte, Mr. Haines and his fam-ily lived on south Thomas street, and for fifteen consecutive years served the citizens of the West ward as their representative on the school board. He was appointed to the police force a number of years ago, and served faithfully and efficiently, until his ad-vancing years prompted his retirement from active work. Deceased was the son of Daniel and Elizabeth Haines, who resided at Hatfield Forge, Pa., at the time of his birth, June 8, 1839. His age at time of departing this life was 73 years, 8 months and 15 days. July 5, 1863, he was united in marriage with Miss Mary E. Barry, who sur-vives, together with three children: Mrs. E. C. King, of Sunbury; William, Mrs. E. C. King, of Sunbury; William, of Bellefonte, and Charles, of Beaver Falls.
