HOWARD.

"The boy who is going to develop into a worth-while man is the boy who is usually a little ahead of his starting time, and a little behind his quitting time."

In Our Churches Next Sabbath. Reformed—Pastor Edward H. Zechman will preach at Mt. Bethel at half past ten, and at Salona at half past two.

Methodist Episcopal—In the absence of pastor James Edwin Dunning, in attendance upon the conference there will be no preaching service at any of the appointments.

Presbyterian—Pastor W. F. Carson will preach at Jacksonville at half past ten o'clock, and in Howard at half past seven.

Sons of Veterans. The first annual banquet of Grove Brothers Camp, No. 262, which was organized Feb. 9, 1912, was held in the high school rooms Saturday evening, and proved a fine success.

The position of Assistant Secretary of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. at Juniata, a large and important section of this good work, was tendered to H. Walter Holter, and he has accepted it, leaving here on Thursday last to begin his work.

The Stockman and Farmer published at 117 Shady Avenue in Pittsburg, lays claim to being "the world's greatest farm paper," and then proceeds to make its claim good by securing such an experienced and able man as E. S. Byard as its editor in chief.

The opening of the forty-fifth session of the Central Pennsylvania Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in Altoona on Wednesday of this week marked the close of the church year for the local churches.

Miss Ella Johnson, of Beech Creek, visited her sister, Miss Mary, who teaches our third grade school, last week.

Mrs. S. Cameron Burnside, of Bellefonte, looked after business matters here between afternoon trains on Monday.

Mrs. Austin Kunkle, of Williamsport, was an over Sunday visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Robb.

Dr. O. W. McEntire is having the plastering put on his new house, south of the railroad, by William Young of Boalsburg.

Walter J. Jenkins, formerly connected with the Howard Tool & Iron Co., here, died at his mother's home in Milton, Wednesday afternoon.

Among the preliminary movements of the season was that of John Lyons, who came from his woods camp near Beech Creek, to his own home here.

Capt. H. C. Holter left Friday morning for a week's visit at Miner's Mills, near Wilkes-Barre, with C. F. Quigley, an old comrade of the 4th P. V.

Miss Elfrida Confer, sprightly as always, left on No. 50, last Friday for Portland, Me., to spend the spring and summer with her sister, Mr. H. A. Randall and family.

Wednesday last the venerable Geo. Armstrong Jacobs enjoyed a visit from his daughter, Mrs. Resides, of Bellefonte, who was accompanied by her nephew and niece Mr. and Mrs. Hastings, of Tyrone.

The steam is now being flying daily from the portable saw mill Clayton Gardner has just set up on the north side of the mountain just above the town, where it is preparing for market the small timber on the tract of W. H. Long.

A spanking fine new boy arrived at the Methodist Episcopal parsonage last Sunday morning. This was addition to the day's services as announced in last week's letter, but did not interfere in the program there promulgated.

President of council A. A. Schenck entertained his son Malcolm, and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Snyder last week, as they were on their way to their home in Niagara, after having seen president Wilson inaugurated.

Our assessor's list shows but thirty-eight dogs in the borough. To judge from the congregations of them in the streets, and vacant lots sometimes, and the ungodly racket they make, one would have guessed that there are three hundred and eighty.

One of the reasons that the Chalmers-Detroit auto is so popular is that three of our Howard boys are helping to make them. They are George E. Long, Horace C. Schenck and Herbert R. Fletcher, and each of them would assay at about thirty-five horse power.

George D. Johnson, a careful and appreciative reader, observes that in president Wilson's inaugural he used the pronoun I but four times; and that when Mr. Roosevelt's inaugural was put in type the printers were obliged to send around to the type-foundry for a new supply of I's!

Rev. Charles T. Dunning, pastor of Grace M. E. church in Williamsport, brought Mrs. Dunning with him early in the week to visit with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. James Edwin Dunning while the two gentlemen, father and son, are spending the week at the annual conference at Altoona.

Ward Schenck will move into the old David Lucas house, now owned by Abraham Weber, next the post office, about April 1, and Mrs. Schenck will open a millinery establishment in the store room attached thereto.

Mrs. Schenck has engaged a competent trimmer, will have a large and fresh stock, and means to do business.

Prof. George P. Bible will deliver his lecture in the M. E. church at Howard on Tuesday evening, March 18th. His subject will be "Life and Opportunity." This lecture Mr. Bible has delivered from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Last year he was all through British Columbia and the Northwest. He has lectured in thirty-eight states and territories. His lecture while humorous is also well supplied with food for solid thought.

The position of Assistant Secretary of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. at Juniata, a large and important section of this good work, was tendered to H. Walter Holter, and he has accepted it, leaving here on Thursday last to begin his work.

Mr. Holter's religious and moral character, added to his general intelligence and musical abilities, admirably fit him for the duties of this place, and his success and advancement are confidently predicted.

As some of the visiting ministers will be obliged to leave by train on Friday, passing here at nine o'clock, service at the Reformed church this evening must begin at 7:30 sharp. This service is held for the purpose of ordaining and installing the newly elected young pastor, E. H. Zechman, and as several ministers from other churches will be present to take part, the service will be of an interesting character.

Be promptly on time, that the meeting may not be disturbed by late arrivals.

The Stockman and Farmer published at 117 Shady Avenue in Pittsburg, lays claim to being "the world's greatest farm paper," and then proceeds to make its claim good by securing such an experienced and able man as E. S. Byard as its editor in chief.

UNIONVILLE.

I am authorized to state that the heirs of the late John Bing now offer the corner lot of the Bing estate in the borough of Unionville, for sale. It is situated in the centre of the town and is one of the most desirable lots in the city.

Caution—When you are away from home and have occasion to call your wife on the telephone, do not change your voice. Neglect of this notice might result in a divorce suit! What-cher know about that, Newton?

A very pleasant surprise party was held at the home of Mrs. Mame Fisher at her home on south Walnut St. Mrs. Fisher will move in the near future to State College, where she has purchased a fine home, and it was because of this, that the Ladies' Aid society of which she is a member, secretly conspired to surprise her and also to express their sincere regrets at her departure from their midst.

Twenty-seven guests were present, and, aside from the regret at her departure, a most enjoyable time was had. The guests were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. John F. Holt, Mrs. John W. Biddle, Mrs. James R. Holt, Mrs. Wm. J. Eckenroth and daughters, Annie and Laura, Mrs. E. J. Williams and daughter Mildred, Mrs. Thos J. Eckenroth, Mrs. D. Buck, Mrs. Samuel W. Holt, Mrs. Wm. Hoover, Mrs. Ed. Hough and Margaret Hough, Mrs. Maggie Morrison, Mrs. Edward Iddings, Mrs. Jos. E. Brugger, G. W. Rumberger and wife, Mrs. William Summers, Mrs. Amanda Moran, Miss Ruth Parsons, Miss Hannah Holt, Miss Mary Lansberry, Miss Ruth Summers, and Miss Margaret Brugger.

A month or more ago, Ellery Spotts cut his foot so badly that he has since been unable to do any work. He had a car load of props cut, ready to be shipped. His neighbors "laid their heads together" and soon had the props loaded on the car for shipment.

What an exemplification of the "Golden Rule!" Truly this is the right christian spirit!

At the request of A. R. Alexander I took a trip on my air ship to his farm near Charlotte, Michigan, and was royally entertained by that gentleman and his daughter. The wonderful crops he raises on his fertile farm, I found he had not exaggerated in the least. He took me out to his corn field. While I was gazing on the luxuriant growing corn I thought I had seen a cornfield in heaven.

"Why Amos, that corn looks as if it was moving upward." "Oh yes," said he, "it's growing." We watched for ten minutes and the stalks actually grew about 20 inches. The ears started, and the stalks began to show white, we were looking at it. "Oh, yes," I asked "how tall will that be in the fall?" "Oh well," he replied, "the stalks get as thick as a man's leg and the ears are about 40 feet from the ground. We have to chop them down to get the stalks, and the stalks grow about 150 feet high." I looked to the west end of his farm and inquired, "What is in that field way over there? It looks like cords of wood; you don't make charcoal out here, do you?" "Oh no, those are the stalks of corn that I raised yesterday and ranked them up to dry off before we store them for the winter." "I'm sorry I can't stay with you longer. Good bye, old boy, good bye! You certainly raise big crops or big yarn!"

Charley, Bob Hunter is "mad at me" because I would not swap my air ship for his measly automobile. Why, Gee! Bob, I can go to Chicago and back while you are "cranking" your auto.

Miss Lizzie Weaver, of Milesburg, was a pleasant visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Harper and also at the home of Mrs. Sarah Fredericks, last week.

Mrs. Rev. Victor L. Wagner, of near Bloomsburg, arrived home a few days ago and will spend a week or more at the home of her parents while her husband is attending the M. E. conference, now in session at Altoona.

Mrs. Clara Iddings, of Winzate, spent Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Chas. Eckenroth.

Mrs. Sowers, of State College, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Biddle, over Sunday.

Rev. H. K. Ash, our esteemed pastor, will attend the M. E. conference at Altoona, now in session, and in consequence thereof, there will be no preaching services here on next Sunday.

The Free Methodists are holding a series of meetings in the church at Bush Hollow.

Two of Bellefonte's most highly respected young men, Ed. Long, clerk in Meese's store, and R. H. Weaver, a high school student and son of Rev. A. F. Weaver, of the Evangelical church, spent Sunday at the home of A. F. Holderman. Both gentlemen are fine singers. Mr. Long especially has an exceptionally rich, rolund, musical voice and as a soloist, is simply fine.

Charley Holtzworth, the railroad magnate and "butler" of John Rowan, came home on last Friday to get some thing good to eat and enjoy the company of his parents over Sunday. John Rowan is hungry, too, for he sent word to his mamma to send him a pumpkin pie.

Change Was Necessary. As an illustration of carrying military discipline too far, this story is told by General Miles: "There was a certain colonel, who, in the middle of a campaign, was seized with a sudden ardor about hygiene. He ordered that all men change their shirts at once. This order was duly carried out, except in the case of one company where the privates' wardrobes had been pitifully depleted. The captain of this company was informed that none of his men could change their shirts, since they had only one apiece. The colonel hesitated a moment, said firmly: "Orders must be obeyed. Let the men change shirts with each other."

Millinery Opening at State College. Miss Myra Kimpfort, of State College, announces the opening of her spring and summer millinery display on Friday and Saturday, March 14th and 15th.

NEW RAILROAD RULING.

Ladies and Gentlemen: This train has been stopped because of a wreck ahead in which a man lost a foot in a switch. We likely will be stalled here a half-hour exactly, perhaps an hour. Any passenger who wishes to calm fears of waiting relatives at his destination is requested kindly to write telegrams and this railroad will forward them instantly by its own wires. Another train will stop here, going in the opposite direction, in 19 1/2 minutes. We will allow any one wishing to return home to do so on that train. All inquiries as to connections at the next junction will be answered on my return through this coach.

Much irritation and "cussing" has been caused in the past by the fact that passengers' queries as to delay of trains enroute were ignored by trainmen.

The railroad officials have issued orders to all conductors that trainmen must pass through all the cars, announcing without reservation the reasons for any delays enroute, and, if necessary, the best way to proceed. When a train is stalled near a station, the trainmen will offer to send telegrams to waiting relatives ahead, and also offer the use of telephones. Station agents have been ordered to post bulletins, telling what has obstructed traffic and the length of the delay likely.

A Farewell Party. The home of Mr. and Mrs. George Emenhizer, near Romola, was on Tuesday evening, March 4, the scene of a delightful farewell party given in honor of their daughter, Mrs. Claude Lucas and family, prior to their departure for Nittany valley, Wednesday morning. There were some thirty-five guests present. The evening was spent very pleasantly in playing cards and social intercourse. Excellent refreshments were served at a late hour after which the guests bade farewell to Mrs. Lucas and family and departed for their homes with pleasant recollections of the event. Those present are as follows: Mrs. Claude Lucas and five children, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Brickley, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Miller, Mrs. J. N. Oylar, Mrs. Edward Confer, Mr. and Mrs. John Fritz, Mrs. Harry Long and daughter, Mrs. Frank Daley and two daughters, Mrs. Wm. Packer, George Long, Misses Lulu Yeager and Maude Daley, Messrs. Leonard and Raymond Long, Ward, Elmer, and Harold Yeager, William and Blair Mann, Charles Heverly.

Smallpox Among Government Employees. Ten surgeons from the public health service on Tuesday invaded the state, war and navy building at Washington and vaccinated several hundred men and women employees of the war department as a precaution against smallpox, two cases of which have broken out there.

Smallpox first appeared in the war department last week when one of the clerks in the quartermaster's department was taken ill and rushed to quarantine. It was reported that he had been infected by operating a typewriter which had been repaired by a mechanic infected with the disease. The second case, was discovered Monday afternoon.

A close surveillance has been established over the employees to prevent spread of the disease throughout the great building which houses approximately 3,000 employees, including Secretary of State Bryan, Secretary of the Navy Daniel and Secretary of War Garrison.

THE BEST TONIC.

Cocaine users are not the only drug fiends. People who are horrified by the tales of opium eaters are often bound to some habit which is almost as bad. The man who is constantly taking medicine to "tone up his system" is just as much a victim of the drug habit as if he were taking cocaine.

The best man, like the best horse, is the one who works without the whip. Unless a doctor prescribes, avoid all tonics. If you use coffee and tea as stimulants instead of beverages you had better give up both. If you are tired and sleepy it is because nature needs a rest, not the whip. Stimulants should be used only in great emergencies occur rarely—not every other day.

Insanity is increasing at a fearful rate. Tuberculosis kills more than ten thousand people in Pennsylvania every year. Both diseases readily take hold of systems which have been overworked by the use of drugs and stimulants. If you feel in need of an impetus to help you work, turn to nature. Make this your motto:

"The best tonic is fresh air. The best restorative is sleep. The best stimulant is exercise. Fatigue calls for rest, not the spur." To this add a cheerful optimistic mind and you will need no stimulants. "Hope and success make a finer tonic than medicine."

The Means of Grace. Most of those who read what I am writing have read and heard not a little about the necessity and privilege of using the means of grace. This is what all of us should do. There is no "growth in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ," no progress in Christian living; no regeneration, sanctification or salvation without a faithful and diligent use of the means of grace.

One of these means, plainly and repeatedly taught by the Christ in his gospel, is that of "prayer and fasting;" and that is what pastor Hawes has appointed for us to do this present week. In our family we are trying to do so faithfully as we can according to Scripture. We take a wee light lunch at noon and no supper, much less a big dinner at supper time. Such an indulgence obstructs "an abundant entrance into the kingdom of God." Wrong eating on the part of our first parents brought all the troubles, sins and suffering into this world. The same is true today and will be the sad history continued to the end of the world. "When they had prayed with fasting, they commended them unto the Lord." Acts 14:23.

MISSIONER. Your Home Paper. Your home newspaper heralded to the world your birth. It told of your entry into school when you were sweet sixteen. Applauded your graduation from the high school, started you to college, and when you returned mentioned the first job you secured. Told of your marriage to the sweetest girl in town and also mentioned the advent (or event) of your firstborn. Told of the visits of pa and ma, sympathized with you in your sorrow, laughed with you in your joy, and when you die it will do its best to get you through the pearly gates at only one dollar a year.—Warrenton Banner.

Want State Road. Geo. H. Smull, of Smullton, was in town the latter part of last week attending to some important business matters. Mr. Smull is interested at present in a movement to apply to the State Highway Department to have their approval of a petition to have a stretch of road taken over from Coburn to Lamar, which would be a connecting link that is much used, between the lines of road that pass through the two counties. The idea is a splendid one and would prove a great convenience to the general public. The road fund could not be used for a better purpose.

We have the circulation and that is why the Bellefonte merchants patronize this paper.

Dundee, Ill. March 4, 1913.

Dear Editor:—As this is the first day for the Democrats to rule the country again, I thought I would let you know that I was among the living, and hope Wilson will cause things to move along still more nicely.

I am working in a prosperous dairy country and enjoy the business. We take our milk to the condensary and receive $1.75 a hundred lbs.

Most farmers have the silos here now. Land is good and high in price. The nationality of the people here mostly is German.

We have had a mild winter up to this time, but now we have about a foot of snow. If anybody wishes to come to work here, will find good wages, from 30 to 40 dollars a month for good men. You will find me one-fourth mile west of Dundee at John Campbell's, a Scotchman. Come to see me and I will see that you will get plenty of work. Wish you all a good Democratic year.
